In accessing the Exchange Offer Memorandum, you agree to be bound by the following terms and conditions, including any modifications to them from time to time, each time you receive any information from us as a result of such access.

NOTHING IN THE EXCHANGE OFFER MEMORANDUM OR ANY DISTRIBUTION THEREOF CONSTITUTES AN OFFER OF, OR THE SOLICITATION OF AN OFFER TO BUY OR SUBSCRIBE FOR, SECURITIES TO ANY PERSON IN ANY JURISDICTION WHERE IT IS UNLAWFUL TO DO SO.

THE EXCHANGE OFFER MEMORANDUM MAY NOT BE FORWARDED OR DISTRIBUTED TO ANY OTHER PERSON AND MAY NOT BE REPRODUCED IN ANY MANNER WHATSOEVER. ANY FORWARDING, DISTRIBUTION OR REPRODUCTION OF THIS DOCUMENT IN WHOLE OR IN PART IS UNAUTHORIZED. FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE MAY RESULT IN A VIOLATION OF THE SECURITIES ACT OR THE APPLICABLE LAWS OF OTHER JURISDICTIONS.

The New Notes and the related Note Guarantees have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction and are being offered only to persons (“Eligible Offerees”) who satisfy all of the following criteria: (A) non-U.S. persons located outside the United States or dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting only on a discretionary basis for the benefit or account of non-U.S. persons located outside the United States, in each case, in offshore transactions conducted in accordance with Regulation S (B) persons other than retail investors in the European Economic Area, defined as a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive 2002/92/EC (as amended, the “Insurance Mediation Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended, the “Prospectus Directive”), (C) persons (i) who are beneficial owners that are, for Japanese tax purposes, neither individual residents of Japan or Japanese corporations, nor individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations that in either case are specially related persons of the Company as described in Article 6, Paragraph (4) of the Special Taxation Measures Act; and (ii) who are not residents in Japan for Japanese securities law purposes (including a natural person having his/her place of domicile or residence in Japan, a legal person having its main office in Japan or any branch, agency or other office in Japan of a non-resident (irrespective of whether it is legally authorized to represent its principal or not and even if its main office is located in a country other than Japan)), (D) non-residents of Canada, provided that a discretionary account held for the benefit or account of a person or company resident in Canada by an investment manager or similar fiduciary outside Canada is not a resident of Canada for this purpose, and (E) persons into whose possession the Exchange Offer Memorandum may be lawfully delivered in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which they are located. Accordingly, the New Notes will be subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold (i) in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S), except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act, and (ii) in any other jurisdiction except as permitted under the applicable securities laws of such jurisdiction.

The Exchange Offer is being made, and the Exchange Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to Eligible Offerees who hold Existing Notes through the Clearing Systems (“Eligible Holders”) and who have certified to the Company that they are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer. Only Eligible Holders are authorized to receive or review this Exchange Offer Memorandum or to participate in the Exchange Offer. The Exchange Offer and the Concurrent New Money Issuance are not being made to any U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) or within the United States, other than pursuant to offshore transactions with non-U.S. persons conducted in accordance with Regulation S.

Solely for the purposes of the product approval process of each Dealer Manager (each, a “manufacturer”), the target market assessment in respect of the New Notes described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for such New Notes is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); and (ii) all channels for distribution of such New Notes to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. The target market and distribution channel(s) may vary in relation to sales outside the EEA in light of local regulatory regimes in force in the relevant jurisdiction. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending such New Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturers’ target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of such New Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers’ target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

You are reminded that the Exchange Offer Memorandum has been delivered to you on the basis that you are a person into whose possession the Exchange Offer Memorandum may be lawfully delivered in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which you are located and you may not, nor are you authorized to, deliver the Exchange Offer Memorandum to any other person. SoftBank Group Corp. (the "Company") is hereby offering to Eligible Holders (as defined below), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this exchange offer memorandum (this "Exchange Offer Memorandum"), (i) to exchange any and all outstanding 2022 Dollar Notes and 2025 Dollar Notes (collectively, the "Existing Dollar Notes") for newly issued USD-denominated fixed-rate senior notes to be issued by the Company (the "Dollar Exchange Notes") at the relevant Exchange Ratio and (ii) to exchange any and all outstanding 2022 Euro Notes, 2025 Euro Notes and 2027 Euro Notes for newly issued Euro-denominated fixed-rate senior notes to be issued by the Company at the relevant Exchange Ratio (the "Euro Exchange Notes", and collectively with the Dollar Exchange Notes, the "Exchange Notes"). The offer to exchange Existing Notes for the Exchange Notes is referred to as the "Exchange Offer." All Eligible Holders whose Existing Notes are validly tendered and accepted will also receive a cash payment equal to the Consent Fee (as defined below) and the accrued and unpaid interest on their Existing Notes accepted for exchange from January 30, 2018, the last applicable interest payment date of the Existing Notes, up to but excluding the Settlement Date (as defined below).

Concurrent with the Exchange Offer, the Company is soliciting (the "Consent Solicitation") consents ("Consents") from all Holders to amend the terms of the indenture governing the Existing Notes (the "Existing Notes Indenture"). The proposed amendments (the "Proposed Amendments") would amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the indenture governing our senior notes issued on September 19, 2017. The Proposed Amendments together constitute a single proposal and a consenting Holder must consent to the Proposed Amendments as an entirety and may not consent selectively with respect to certain of the Proposed Amendments, but not others. The Consents of the Holders of at least a majority of the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes voting as a single class is required in order for the Proposed Amendments to be adopted. For a description of the Proposed Amendments, see "Description of the Proposed Amendments." Eligible Holders who tender their Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have provided their consent to the Proposed Amendments ("Deemed Consent"). All Holders (including non-Eligible Holders (as defined below) to whom no Exchange Offer is made) have the option with respect to any particular holding of Existing Notes to participate in the Consent Solicitation without participating in the Exchange Offer, but Eligible Holders may not participate in the Exchange Offer without consenting to the Proposed Amendments. Holders who are not Eligible Holders may not participate in the Exchange Offer or otherwise rely on the information provided in the Exchange Offer Memorandum. Such non-Eligible Holders should find information with respect to the terms of the Consent Solicitation at the Information Agent's Consent Only Website: <https://sites.dfkingltd.com/softbank/consent/>.

Concurrent with the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation, the Company may offer for cash consideration (the "Concurrent New Money Issuance") (i) additional U.S. dollar-denominated fixed-rate senior notes under the indenture governing the Exchange Notes (the "New Notes Indenture"), having the same terms as and constituting a single class of debt securities with the Dollar Exchange Notes for all purposes under the New Notes Indenture (the "New Money Dollar Notes"), and (ii) additional Euro-denominated fixed-rate senior notes under the New Notes Indenture, having the same terms as the Euro Exchange Notes and constituting a single class of debt securities with the Euro Exchange Notes for all purposes under the New Notes Indenture (the "New Money Euro Notes"). The Company retains the right in its sole discretion to increase the aggregate principal amount of each series of New Money Notes which may be offered in the Concurrent New Money Issuance. The Company intends to apply the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance to fund the payment of the consent fee and other related transaction costs in connection with the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation and the Concurrent New Money Issuance and to use any remaining proceeds for general corporate purposes. References in this Exchange Offer Memorandum to (i) "New Money Notes" shall mean, collectively, the New Money Dollar Notes and the New Money Euro Notes; (ii) "Exchange Notes" shall mean, collectively, the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes; and (iii) "New Notes" shall mean, collectively, the New Money Notes and the Exchange Notes.

The table above sets out the amount of Exchange Notes ("Exchange Price") offered in exchange for each US$1,000 or €1,000 in principal amount of Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange, as applicable, and the amount of consent fee, to be paid in cash, (the "Consent Fee") for each US$1,000 or €1,000 in principal amount of Existing Notes, as applicable, for which the Eligible Holder validly delivers (and does not validly revoke) a consent on or prior to the Expiration Date. It is expected that any Exchange Price and Consent Fee due will be paid after the Expiration Date and the conditions precedent described under "Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation" are met (the "Settlement Date"). The Company will not be obligated to pay any Exchange Price or Consent Fee if the conditions precedent described under "Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation" are not met (or not waived by the Company).

The New Notes and the related Note Guarantees have not been and will not be registered under the securities laws of any jurisdiction. The Exchange Offer is being made, and the New Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to eligible offerees to whom debt securities may be lawfully offered and sold without any such registration in accordance with the securities laws of the jurisdiction in which they are located. Accordingly, the New Notes will be subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold (i) in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S), except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act, or (ii) in any other jurisdiction except as permitted under the applicable securities laws of such jurisdiction.

The Exchange Offer is being made, and the Exchange Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to Eligible Offerees who hold Existing Notes through the Clearing Systems (“Eligible Holders”) and who have represented to the Company pursuant to the deemed representations described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Representations, Warranties and Covenants of Eligible Holders Tendering Existing Notes” that they are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer. Only Eligible Holders are authorized to receive or review this Exchange Offer Memorandum or to participate in the Exchange Offer. The Exchange Offer and the Concurrent New Money Issuance are not being made to any U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) or within the United States, other than pursuant to offshore transactions with non-U.S. persons conducted in accordance with Regulation S. See “Notice to Investors” and “Offer and Distribution Restrictions” for additional information about eligibility requirements and transfer restrictions.

Investing in the New Notes involves a high degree of risk. See “Risk Factors” beginning on page 27.

The Exchange Notes and the New Money Notes will be represented on issuance by one or more global notes, which we expect will be delivered in book-entry form through Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) or Clearstream S.A. (“Clearstream”) on or about April 3, 2018 (the “Settlement Date”). Upon issuance, we expect the New Money Dollar Notes to be fungible with the Dollar Exchange Notes and the New Money Euro Notes to be fungible with the Euro Exchange Notes, in each case, to the extent held in book-entry form through Euroclear and Clearstream.

The Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation are conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation”. Among others conditions precedent, the Exchange Offer is conditioned upon, (i) with respect to the exchange of Existing Dollar Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date being no less than $350,000,000 (the “Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition”), and, (ii) with respect to the exchange of Existing Euro Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date being no less than €350,000,000 (the “Euro Notes Minimum Notes Condition” and, together with the Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition, the “Minimum Notes Condition”). Among other conditions precedent, the Consent Solicitation is conditioned upon (i) there being validly delivered (and not validly revoked) Consents from the Holders (with the Existing Dollar Notes and Existing Euro Notes voting together as a single class) of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Existing Notes (the “Requisite Consents”), and (ii) the consummation of the Exchange Offer, unless the Exchange Offer with respect to any or any series of Existing Notes is not consummated due to failure to satisfy the Minimum Notes Condition (the “Exchange Consummation Condition”). These conditions are for the Company’s benefit and may be asserted or waived by the Company at any time and in its sole discretion without extending the Expiration Date or granting withdrawal rights (except as required by law), except that the Company may not waive the Exchange Consummation Condition with respect to the Consent Solicitation. In addition, the Company has the right to terminate or withdraw the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation at any time and for any reason.

The New Notes will mature on April 15, 2028. The Company will pay interest on the New Dollar Notes and the New Euro Notes semi-annually on each April 15 and October 15, commencing October 15, 2018 at a rate of no less than 6.000% per annum and no less than 4.625% per annum, respectively. Interest on the New Notes will accrue from the Settlement Date. The New Notes will be guaranteed (the “Note Guarantee”) by SoftBank Corp. (the “Initial Note Guarantor”). The Note Guarantee by SoftBank Corp. will be a general unsecured obligation of SoftBank Corp. The Note Guarantee will rank equally in right of payment with all existing and future debt of SoftBank Corp. that is not contractually subordinated to its Note Guarantee or preferred by operation of law and will be senior in right of payment to any future debt of SoftBank Corp. that is contractually subordinated to its Note Guarantee. The New Notes will be structurally subordinated to all existing and future debt or other obligations of any Subsidiary of the Company that does not guarantee the New Notes, including SoftBank Corp. if its Note Guarantee is released in future. The New Notes will be general unsecured obligations of the Company. They will rank equally in right of payment with all existing and future debt of the Company that is not contractually subordinated to the New Notes or preferred by operation of law and will be senior in right of payment to any future debt of the Company that is contractually subordinated to the New Notes. The New Notes will effectively be subordinated to any existing and future secured debt of the Company and its subsidiaries, to the extent of the value of the property and assets securing such debt.

At any time prior to the date that is 90 days prior to their respective maturities, we may on any one or more occasions, at our option, redeem all or part of any series of New Notes by paying a “make-whole” premium. At any time on or after the date that is 90 days prior to their respective maturities, we may on any one or more occasions redeem all or a part of any series of New Notes at par. We may also redeem the New Notes, in whole but not in part, at any time upon certain changes in tax laws. In the case of a change of control triggering event, we may be required to make an offer to purchase the New Notes at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. See “Description of the New Notes.” Approval in-principle has been received for the listing and quotation of the New Notes on the Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited (the “SGX-ST”). The SGX-ST assumes no responsibility for the correctness of any of the statements made or opinions expressed or information contained in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Approval in-principle for the listing and quotation of the New Notes on the SGX-ST is not to be taken as an indication of the merits of the offering, us, our subsidiaries or associated companies (if any) or the New Notes. Currently, there is no public market for the New Notes.

As soon as practicable following the receipt of the Requisite Consents by the Information Agent, who will then certify to the Existing Notes Trustee and us that the Requisite Consents have been received and not validly revoked as of such time, and in compliance with the conditions contained in the Existing Notes Indenture, we will execute and deliver to the Existing Notes Trustee a supplemental indenture (the “Supplemental Indenture”) giving effect to the Proposed Amendments (such time, the “Consent Effective Time”). The Consent Effective Time may fall before or on the Expiration Date. We will make a public announcement of the Consent Effective Time as soon as possible after the Consent Effective Time. The Supplemental Indenture will provide that the Proposed Amendments shall not become operative unless and until we pay the Consent Fee pursuant to the Consent Solicitation. From and after the Consent Effective Time, each present and future Holder of the Existing Notes will be bound by the terms of the Existing Notes Indenture, as amended by the Supplemental Indenture, whether or not such Holder delivered a Consent.

Eligible Holders may not withdraw valid tenders of Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer, or revoke their Deemed Consents in connection with such tenders, except under the limited circumstances set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Holders who are participating in the Consent Solicitation only may revoke valid Consents at any time prior to the earlier of the Consent Effective Time and the Expiration Date. Any notice of revocation of Consents received on or after such date will not be valid.

Unless otherwise indicated, all information in this Exchange Offer Memorandum is given as of the date hereof. The Company does not undertake any obligation to update or review this Exchange Offer Memorandum, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

This Exchange Offer Memorandum may not be used for, or in connection with, any offer to, or solicitation by, anyone in any jurisdiction or under any circumstances in which such offer or solicitation is not authorized or is unlawful.

We expressly reserve the absolute right, in our sole discretion, from time to time to purchase or redeem any Existing Notes that remain outstanding after the Expiration Date, or any other outstanding debt, through open market or privately negotiated transactions, one or more additional tender or exchange offers or otherwise, on terms that may differ from those of this Exchange Offer Memorandum and could be for cash or other consideration, or to exercise any of our rights under the indenture of the Existing Notes.

This Exchange Offer Memorandum is not an offer of securities for sale in the United States or to U.S. persons. The Exchange Offer and the Concurrent New Money Issuance is not being made to any U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S) or within the United States, other than pursuant to offshore transactions with non-U.S. persons conducted in accordance with Regulation S. Accordingly, the New Notes and the related Note Guarantees are only being offered and sold to non-U.S. persons outside the United States or certain dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting only on a discretionary basis for the benefit or account of non-U.S. persons located outside the United States in each case, in offshore transactions conducted in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act. The purpose of this Exchange Offer Memorandum is limited to the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation and the Concurrent New Money Issuance, and this Exchange Offer Memorandum may not be sent or given other than in an offshore transaction in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act. Each Eligible Holder of Existing Notes participating in the Exchange Offer will represent that it is offering its Existing Notes in an offshore transaction in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act and that it is not a U.S. person or an agent, fiduciary or other intermediary acting on a non-discretionary basis for a principal giving instructions from within the United States or for a U.S. person.

The New Notes and the related Note Guarantees are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (“EEA”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Insurance Mediation Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive. Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

The New Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act of Japan (Act No. 25 of 1948, as amended) (the “FIEA”), and are subject to the Act on Special Measures Concerning Taxation of Japan (Act No. 26 of 1957, as amended) (the “Special Taxation Measures Act”). The New Notes may not be offered or sold in Japan, to any person resident in Japan, or to others for reoffering or resale directly or indirectly in Japan, or to a person resident in Japan, for Japanese securities law purposes (including a natural person having his/her place of domicile or residence in Japan, a legal person having its main office in Japan or any branch, agency or other office in Japan of a non-resident (irrespective of whether it is legally authorized to represent its principal or not and even if its main office is located in a country other than Japan)), except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of, and otherwise in compliance with, the FIEA and any other applicable laws, regulations and governmental guidelines of Japan.

In addition, the New Notes are not, as part of the initial distribution at any time, to be directly or indirectly offered or sold in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any person other than a gross recipient, except as specifically permitted under the Special Taxation Measures Act. A “gross recipient” for this purpose is (i) a beneficial owner that is, for Japanese tax purposes, neither an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a person having a special relationship with the issuer of the New Notes as described in Article 6, Paragraph 4 of the Special Taxation Measures Act, (ii) a Japanese financial institution or financial instruments business operator as designated in Article 3-2-2, Paragraph 28 of the Cabinet Order (Cabinet Order No. 43 of 1957, as amended) relating to the Special Taxation Measures Act that will hold New Notes for its own proprietary account or (iii) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation whose receipt of interest on the New Notes will be made through a payment-handling agent in Japan as defined in Article 2-2, Paragraph 2 of the Cabinet Order. By exchanging the Existing Notes with the New Notes, an investor will be deemed to have represented that it is (i) a beneficial owner that is, for Japanese tax purposes, neither an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a person having a special relationship with us as described in Article 6, Paragraph 4 of the Special Taxation Measures Act, or a specially-related person of ours and (ii) not a resident in Japan for Japanese securities law purposes (including a natural person having his/her place of domicile or residence in Japan, a legal person having its main office in Japan or any branch, agency or other office in Japan of a non-resident (irrespective of whether it is legally authorized to represent its principal or not and even if its main office is located in a country other than Japan)).

Interest payments on the New Notes will be subject to Japanese withholding tax unless the holder establishes that the New Note is held by or for the account of a holder that is (1) for Japanese tax purposes, neither (a) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor (b) an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours, and in compliance with certain requirements for tax exemption under the Special Taxation Measures Act, or (2) a Japanese designated financial institution or financial instruments business operator as described in Article 6, Paragraph 9 of the Special Taxation Measures Act which complies with the requirement for tax exemption under that Paragraph.

Each person who may acquire the Exchange Notes issued pursuant to the Exchange Offer must comply with all applicable laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction in which it acquires, purchases, offers or sells the Exchange Notes and must obtain any consent, approval or permission required of it for the acquisition, purchase, offer or sale by it of the Exchange Notes under the laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction to which it is subject or in which it makes such acquisitions, purchases, offers or sales, and none of the Company, the Dealer Managers, the Trustees and the Information Agent or any of their respective affiliates or agents shall have any responsibility therefor.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the Dealer Managers and the Information Agent accepts any responsibility for the contents of this Exchange Offer Memorandum or for any statement made or purported to be made therein. The Dealer Managers, the Trustees and the Information Agent accordingly disclaim all and any liability, whether arising in tort or contract or otherwise which they might otherwise have in respect of this Exchange Offer Memorandum or any such statement. Neither the Dealer Managers, nor any of their affiliates, agents, directors, officers and employees accepts any responsibility to any person for any acts or omissions of the Company, the Initial Note Guarantor or any of their affiliates, agents, directors, officers or employees relating to the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the New Notes Indenture, the New Notes or any other document executed in connection with the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation or the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any.

The Dealer Managers are only acting for the Company and the Initial Note Guarantor in connection with the Transactions referred to in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and no one else and will not be responsible to anyone other than the Company and the Initial Note Guarantor for providing the protections offered to clients of the Dealer Managers or for providing advice in relation to the Transactions, this Exchange Offer Memorandum or any arrangement or other matter referred to herein.

This Exchange Offer Memorandum contains summaries intended to be accurate with respect to certain terms of the New Notes and the indenture relating to such New Notes, but reference is made to the actual documents, certain of which will be made available free of charge to Holders upon request to us or at the office of the Information Agent, for complete information with respect thereto, and all summaries are qualified in their entirety by such reference.

OFFER AND DISTRIBUTION RESTRICTIONS

PROHIBITION OF OFFERS TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS

The New Notes and the related Note Guarantees have not been and will not be registered under the laws of any member state of the European Economic Area (“EEA”). The Exchange Offer is being made, and the New Notes and the related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to persons other than retail investors in the EEA, each defined as a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Insurance Mediation Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive. No key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation for offering or selling the New Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared. Offering or selling the notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

PROFESSIONAL INVESTORS AND ECPS ONLY TARGET MARKET

Solely for the purposes of the product approval process of each Dealer Manager (each, a “manufacturer”), the target market assessment in respect of the New Notes described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for such New Notes is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) all channels for distribution of such New Notes to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. The target market and distribution channel(s) may vary in relation to sales outside the EEA in light of local regulatory regimes in force in the relevant jurisdiction. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending such New Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturers’ target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of such New Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers’ target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

The purpose of the Consent Solicitation is to streamline and align the obligations of the Company and the Initial Note Guarantor under the Existing Notes Indenture to the 2017 Notes Indenture and to provide the Company with the corresponding flexibility to pursue its strategic objectives under the Existing Notes Indenture.

The coupon rate for the New Money Dollar Notes and the New Money Euro Notes, determined upon the pricing of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, will be the same as the final coupon rate set for the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes, respectively.

We regularly monitor debt capital markets and continually evaluate the financing options available to us with a view to actively managing our capital structure. We may decide to enter into new credit facilities, access the debt capital markets or incur other indebtedness from time to time (including prior to, or within a short time period following, the pricing of the Exchange Notes and the Concurrent New Money Issuance) to refinance certain of our existing indebtedness, including the 2013 Notes.

To the extent the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, are insufficient, we expect to pay the consent fee and related transaction costs for the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation using cash on hand.

SUMMARY OF THE EXCHANGE OFFER

The summary below describes the principal terms of the Exchange Offer. The terms and conditions described below are subject to important limitations and exceptions. We urge you to read the detailed descriptions in the sections of this Exchange Offer Memorandum entitled “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation”, “Description of the New Notes” and “Description of the Proposed Amendments”, which include the definitions of certain terms used in this summary.

The Exchange Offer Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, the Company is offering to exchange the outstanding Existing Dollar Notes for Dollar Exchange Notes and the outstanding Existing Euro Notes for Euro Exchange Notes.

Eligible Holders who tender their Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have provided their consent to the Proposed Amendments (“Deemed Consents”).

Exchange Notes The Exchange Notes will consist of either or both of (i) the Dollar Exchange Notes or (ii) the Euro Exchange Notes. The Exchange Notes will accrue interest from the Settlement Date.

Dollar Exchange Notes Fixed-rate senior notes denominated in U.S. dollars to be issued by the Company under the New Notes Indenture on the same terms and form a single class of notes with any New Money Dollar Notes issued as part of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any. The Dollar Exchange Notes will mature on April 15, 2028. For a detailed description of the Dollar Exchange Notes, refer to “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Description of the Notes.”

Euro Exchange Notes Fixed-rate senior notes denominated in Euro to be issued by the Company under the New Notes Indenture on the same terms and form a single class of notes with any New Money Euro Notes issued as part of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any. The Euro Exchange Notes will mature on April 15, 2028. For a detailed description of the Euro Exchange Notes, refer to “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Description of the Notes.”

Coupon Rate of the Exchange

Notes The coupon rate for the Euro Exchange Notes, paid semi-annually, will be, no less than 4.625% per year.

The coupon rate for the Dollar Exchange Notes, paid semi-annually, will be no less than 6.000% per year.

The final coupon rate of each of the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes will be set forth in an announcement to be released promptly after the Time of Pricing. If the Concurrent New Money Issuance is consummated, the final coupon rate of each of the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes will be equal to the coupon rate set for the New Money Dollar Notes or the New Money Euro Notes, as applicable. If the Concurrent New Money Issuance is not consummated with respect to any or both of the New Money Dollar Notes and the New Money Euro Notes, the final coupon rate of the Dollar Exchange Notes and/or the Euro Exchange Notes, as the case may be, will be determined by the Company at the Time of Pricing and will be equal to or greater than the applicable minimum coupon rate indicated above.

We expect to announce the pricing terms of the Concurrent New Money Issuance on the business day following the Expiration Date and, if we decide not to proceed with the Concurrent New Money Issuance (or any portion thereof), we will announce such decision as soon as practicable following such decision being made. However, there can be no assurance that the Concurrent New Money Issuance will price at all, and, if it does price, whether it will price with respect to the New Money Dollar Notes or the New Money Euro Notes or both.

Exchange Consideration For each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount, as the case may be, of outstanding Existing Notes that are validly tendered and accepted for exchange, Eligible Holders will receive consideration (the “Exchange Consideration”) comprised of the following:

- (i) Dollar Exchange Notes (for Existing Dollar Notes tendered) or Euro Exchange Notes (for Existing Euro Notes tendered), as the case may be, in a principal amount equal to the exchange price (the “Exchange Price”) set forth on the cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum. References to the “Exchange Ratio” in this Exchange Offer Memorandum are to the ratio of the applicable Exchange Price to each $1,000 or €1,000, as the case may be, of principal amount of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange, expressed as a percentage and rounded to three decimal places. Eligible Holders of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange will receive Exchange Notes in a principal amount (rounded down to the nearest $1,000 or €1,000, as applicable) equal to the product of (x) the aggregate principal amount of each series of such Existing Notes and (y) the Exchange Ratio for the relevant series of Existing Notes.
- (ii) if, as a result of the application of the relevant Exchange Ratio, a Holder would be entitled to receive an aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes that is not an integral multiple of $1,000 or €1,000, as applicable, the Company will pay in cash (in the currency of the relevant Exchange Notes) to that Holder on the Settlement Date an amount (the “Fractional Note Cash Payment”) equal to the fractional portion of such aggregate principal amount that is not such an integral multiple;
- (iii) a Consent Fee (the “Deemed Consent Payment”) of $10 or €10, for each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount of Existing Notes tendered, paid in cash. The Company will make the Deemed Consent Payment in respect of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange even if the Company does not obtain the Requisite Consents or otherwise terminates the Consent Solicitation; and
- (iv) a cash payment (the “Accrued Interest Cash Payment”) equal to the accrued and unpaid interest on the Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange from January 30, 2018, the last applicable interest payment date of the Existing Notes, up to but excluding the Settlement Date.

If the Company terminates the Exchange Offer for failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition, the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will nonetheless be retained by the Company and counted toward the Requisite Consents for the purposes of the Consent Solicitation. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive the Deemed Consent Payment upon the settlement of the Consent Solicitation, but will not receive any other part of the Exchange Consideration.

If the Company terminates the Exchange Offer for any other reason, the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will lapse and be deemed revoked. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive no Exchange Consideration at all and the Company will no longer be able to settle the Consent Solicitation owing to failure to satisfy the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition.

Holders Eligible to Participate in the Exchange Offer

The Exchange Offer is being made, and the Exchange Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to Eligible Offerees who hold Existing Notes through the Clearing Systems (“Eligible Holders”) and who have represented to the Company pursuant to the deemed representations described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Representations, Warranties and Covenants of Eligible Holders Tendering Existing Notes” that they are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer. “Eligible Offerees” are defined as persons who satisfy all of the following criteria:

- (iv) non-residents of Canada; provided that a discretionary account held for the benefit or account of a person or company resident in Canada by an investment manager or similar fiduciary outside Canada is not a resident of Canada for this purpose; and

Conditions to the Exchange

Offer.

The Exchange Offer is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions described in "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer."

Among other conditions precedent, the Exchange Offer is conditioned upon:

- (i) with respect to the exchange of Existing Dollar Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date (including Dollar Exchange Notes issuable in exchange for Existing Dollar Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Dollar Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than $350,000,000 (the "Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition");
- (ii) with respect to the exchange of Existing Euro Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date (including Euro Exchange Notes issuable in exchange for Existing Euro Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Euro Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than €350,000,000 (the "Euro Notes Minimum Notes Condition" and, together with the Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition, the "Minimum Notes Condition"); and
- (iii) certain other conditions described in "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer."

The foregoing conditions precedent are for the Company's sole benefit and may be asserted or waived by the Company, in whole or in part, at any time and in its absolute discretion without extending the Expiration Date or granting withdrawal rights (except as required by law).

If the Supplemental Indenture is executed prior to the Expiration Date at a time when the Exchange Offer has not been terminated, all conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer other than the Minimum Notes Condition will be deemed irrevocably waived by the Company and the Company will be deemed to have foregone its right to terminate the Exchange Offer for any reason other than failure to satisfy the Minimum Notes Condition with respect to either the Existing Dollar Notes or the Existing Euro Notes.

The Exchange Offer is not conditioned upon the consummation of the Consent Solicitation. As such, the Company may consummate the Exchange Offer even if the Requisite Consents are not obtained or if the Consent Solicitation is otherwise terminated for any reason.

Minimum Denominations for Exchange Any Tender Instruction to tender Existing Dollar Notes for exchange must be given with respect to Existing Dollar Notes in a minimum principal amount of $200,000 or integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. Any Tender Instruction to tender Existing Euro Notes for exchange must be given with respect to Existing Euro Notes in a minimum principal amount of €100,000 or integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof.

Consequences of Failure to Expiration Date 4:00 p.m. London time, on March 21, 2018, unless extended at the Company’s sole discretion. The Company may at its sole discretion extend the Expiration Date with respect to the Consent Solicitation without extending the Expiration Date with respect to the Exchange Offer, and vice versa.

Settlement Subject to the terms and conditions described herein, the Company will accept any and all Existing Notes that are validly tendered prior to the Expiration Date. Upon the Company’s determination that the conditions to the Exchange Offer have been satisfied or waived, the Exchange Offer will be settled as follows: (i) Exchange Notes will be issued and delivered to the Eligible Holders of Existing Notes that have been validly tendered for exchange and accepted by the Company, (ii) the remainder of the Exchange Consideration (other than the Deemed Consent Payment, to the extent already made upon the settlement of the concurrent Consent Solicitation) is delivered to such Eligible Holders, (iii) Existing Notes exchanged in the Exchange Offer will be delivered to the Existing Notes Trustee for cancellation and both the Company and the Initial Note Guarantor will be released and discharged from any and all claims of such Eligible Holders that may arise out of, or be related to, such Existing Notes.

Settlement will occur on the Settlement Date, expected to be on or around April 3, 2018 or the seventh business day following the Expiration Date (according to the calendar of public and bank holidays of England & Wales).

Amendment of Exchange Offer

Terms; Termination Subject to applicable law, the Company may terminate or withdraw the Exchange Offer in its sole discretion at any time and for any reason, including if the conditions precedent are not met or waived by the Expiration Date. In any such event, any Existing Notes previously tendered pursuant to the Exchange Offer will be promptly returned to the tendering Eligible Holders.

The Company reserves the right subject to applicable law to waive any or all of the conditions precedent at any time or amend any terms of the Exchange Offer.

The Company will notify Eligible Holders of any amendment to the terms of the Exchange Offer, waiver of conditions precedent or termination of the Exchange Offer.

The Company will grant withdrawal rights to Eligible Holders who have validly tendered their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer only to the extent (i) required by applicable law or (ii) that any amendments to the terms of the Exchange Offer are materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders in the Company's opinion (following consultation with the Dealer Managers). The Company will not grant withdrawal rights in the event that the Company, among other things, (a) extends the Expiration Date of the Exchange Offer with respect to all or some of the Existing Notes, (b) terminates all or any part of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, (c) waives any conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer, (d) waives any conditions precedent to the Consent Solicitation, other than the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition or (e) makes any other change to the terms of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation set out in this Exchange Offer Memorandum which are not materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders or Holders, as applicable, in the Company's opinion after consultation with the Dealer Managers.

The valid withdrawal of tendered Existing Notes from the Exchange Offer will be deemed a valid revocation of the related Deemed Consents. Eligible Holders may not validly revoke Deemed Consents unless they validly withdraw their previously tendered Existing Notes.

Procedures for Tendering

Existing Notes

To participate in the Exchange Offer, an Eligible Holder must validly tender its Existing Notes prior to the Expiration Date pursuant to the procedures described herein.

An Eligible Holder that validly tenders its Existing Notes will be deemed to have delivered a Deemed Consent with respect to such Existing Notes in the Consent Solicitation.

("Clearstream", and, together with Euroclear, the "Clearing Systems"), authorizing delivery of their Existing Notes for exchange and their Deemed Consent attributable to such Existing Notes. See "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Existing Notes."

No guaranteed delivery procedures are being offered in connection with the Exchange Offer. Eligible Holders must tender their Existing Notes for exchange on or prior to the Expiration Date in order to participate and receive the Exchange Consideration.

Only direct participants in Euroclear or Clearstream may submit Tender Instructions. Eligible Holders who are not direct participants in Euroclear or Clearstream, must contact their broker, dealer, bank, custodian, trust company or other nominee to arrange for their direct participant through which they hold Existing Notes to submit a Tender Instruction on their behalf to the relevant Clearing System prior to the deadline specified by the relevant Clearing System.

Eligible Holders that give Tender Instructions on behalf of beneficial holders must provide separate Tender Instructions with respect to each such beneficial holder.

Eligible Holders who intend to make different elections with respect to different portions of their holding of Existing Notes must deliver separate Tender Instructions with respect to each such portion.

For further information, Eligible Holders should contact the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent at their respective telephone numbers and addresses set forth on the back cover page of this Exchange Offer

SUMMARY OF THE CONSENT SOLICITATION

The summary below describes the principal terms of the Consent Solicitation. The terms and conditions described below are subject to important limitations and exceptions. We urge you to read the detailed descriptions in the sections of this Exchange Offer Memorandum entitled “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation”, and “Description of the Proposed Amendments”, which include the definitions of certain terms used in this summary.

The Consent Solicitation Concurrently with the Exchange Offer, the Company is soliciting consents (“Consents”), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, from Holders of a majority of the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes to amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture (the “Proposed Amendments”). The Consents of the Holders of at least a majority of the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes voting as a single class is required in order for the Proposed Amendments to be adopted.

Eligible Holders who validly tender any Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have delivered a Consent (“Deemed Consent”) to the Proposed Amendments with respect to such Existing Notes. Eligible Holders may not tender Existing Notes without delivering Deemed Consents with respect to such Existing Notes. All Holders (including non-Eligible Holders to whom no Exchange Offer is made) have the option with respect to any particular holding of Existing Notes to participate in the Consent Solicitation without participating in the Exchange Offer, but no Eligible Holder may participate in the Exchange Offer without being deemed to have delivered its Deemed Consent to the Proposed Amendments.

If the Company terminates the Exchange Offer for failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition, the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will nonetheless be retained by the Company and counted toward the Requisite Consents for the purposes of the Consent Solicitation. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive the Deemed Consent Payment upon the settlement of the Consent Solicitation, but will not receive any other part of the Exchange Consideration.

All Consents delivered (or Deemed Consents deemed to have been delivered in connection with the Exchange Offer) will be deemed to be consents to the Proposed Amendments as a whole.

The Proposed Amendments will become effective upon the execution of a supplemental indenture (the “Supplemental Indenture”) to the Existing Notes Indenture but will not become operative until the Consent Fee is paid in accordance with the terms of the Consent Solicitation. The Proposed Amendments will become operative immediately prior to the settlement of the Exchange Offer. The Company may enter into such Supplemental Indenture and the Proposed Amendments may become effective even if the Exchange Offer is not consummated with respect to the Existing Dollar Notes or the Existing Euro Notes due to failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition.

Requisite Consents Properly delivered Consents by Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes outstanding, voting as a single class, are required to approve the Proposed Amendments. For the purposes of determining whether the Holders of the requisite principal amount of Existing Notes have consented to the Proposed Amendments, the principal amount of Existing Euro Notes shall be deemed to be the Dollar

Equivalent of such principal amount of the Existing Euro Notes, calculated at a spot rate for the purchase of U.S. dollars with euro as published by Bloomberg two business days prior to the Consent Effective Time.

Existing Notes Indenture Indenture, dated July 28, 2015, among, inter alia, the Company, the Initial Note Guarantor and Deutsche Trustee Company Limited as Trustee governing Existing Notes (as amended by the supplemental indenture thereto dated December 9, 2016).

2017 Notes The Company’s $1,350,000,000 4.75% Senior Notes due 2024, $2,000,000,000 5.125% Senior Notes due 2027, €1,500,000,000 3.125% Senior Notes due 2025, and €750,000,000 4.00% Senior Notes due 2029.

2017 Notes Indenture Indenture, dated September 19, 2017, among, inter alia, the Company, the Initial Note Guarantor, and The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch as Trustee and Paying Agent, governing the 2017 Notes.

Dollar Consent Fee Holders of the Existing Dollar Notes who (i) validly tender Existing Dollar Notes in the Exchange Offer, and are thereby deemed to have delivered a Deemed Consent, or (ii) validly deliver a Consent in the Consent Solicitation, in each case, prior to the Expiration Date, will receive, as consideration for providing such Consent, $10 (the “Dollar Consent Fee”) for each $1,000 in principal amount of outstanding Existing Dollar Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer or for which a Consent is delivered by such Holder, subject to the conditions referred to in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Consent Solicitation—Conditions to the Consent Solicitation.”

Euro Consent Fee Holders of the Existing Euro Notes who (i) validly tender Existing Euro Notes in the Exchange Offer, and thereby deliver a Deemed Consent, or (ii) validly deliver a Consent in the Consent Solicitation, in each case, prior to the Expiration Date, will receive, as consideration for providing such Consent, €10 (the “Euro Consent Fee”, and, together with the Dollar Consent Fee, the “Consent Fee”) for each €1,000 in principal amount of outstanding Existing Euro Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer or for which a Consent is delivered by such Holder, subject to the conditions referred to in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Consent Solicitation—Conditions to the Consent Solicitation.”

Proposed Amendments The Company is seeking the consent of the Holders to, among other things:

- (i) amend the “Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and New Notes Indenture;
- (ii) amend the “Negative Pledge” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture;

OVERVIEW OF SOFTBANK GROUP CORP.

The following summary is provided simply as a convenient reference for the Holders and is not intended to be complete.

We are a leading global technology company that aspires to drive the Information Revolution. We are a holding company, SoftBank Group Corp., and its global portfolio of subsidiaries and associates, which include advanced telecommunications, internet services, robotics, Internet of Things and clean energy technology providers.

We helped transform the Japanese smartphone market when we were the first to offer the iPhone in Japan in 2008 and built a brand centered on the mobile internet—data-intensive, highly connected and reliable. Our unique brand and outperformance have also been supported by high quality LTE network infrastructure, well developed over a recently completed cycle of significant capital expenditure, which covers nearly all of the population of Japan, with robust and reliable connectivity. We have two mobile service brands, SoftBank and Y!mobile. Our flagship SoftBank brand focuses on the high-end of the market, including the most profitable segment of the mobile market, which we believe to be data-intensive smartphone users (mostly from the latest iPhones). We also offer the Y!mobile brand, targeting the budget-conscious market to capture first-time, younger customers.

We combine our stable and profitable domestic telecommunications operations in Japan with selected strategic investments in global internet, technology and communications companies, differentiating us from other mobile operators and providing opportunities for mutually advantageous growth among our group companies. We control SoftBank Corp., one of the largest telecommunications operators in Japan and the main contributor to our Domestic Telecommunications business, which comprises 35.3% of our consolidated net sales, and 46.9% of our consolidated Adjusted EBITDA and a primary source of our cash flow, in each case for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, and it is one of Japan's leading mobile communications providers with approximately 42.5 million subscribers, as of December 31, 2017, and approximately 25% subscriber market share, according to TCA and Company data.

We completed the final closing of Delta Fund on September 27, 2017 with $6.0 billion in committed capital.

We hold a significant minority stake in one of the world's largest e-commerce companies, Alibaba Group Holding Limited ("Alibaba"), with a market value of our owned shares of ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract) as of December 31, 2017.

We are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange with a market capitalization of ¥9,718 billion ($86,003 million) as of December 31, 2017.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Investment in Uber. In January 2018, we invested $7.7 billion to acquire a 15% ownership interest in Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides, making us the single largest shareholder. We may offer all or a portion of this investment to the SoftBank Vision Fund in the future (subject to approval requirements at the SoftBank Vision Fund level and certain other necessary conditions).

Further Investments in DiDi. In January and February 2018, we made further investments in an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion in Xiaoju Kuaizhi Inc. (“DiDi”), one of the largest ride sharing operators in China by number of daily rides. In addition, we have announced a partnership with DiDi to provide trial platform services for the taxi industry in major cities in Japan to improve ride hailing for taxis, which such platform would be available to each of Japan’s taxi operators. We further expect to form a joint venture with DiDi in Japan.

Potential listing of SoftBank Corp. In February 2018, the Company and SoftBank Corp. jointly announced that they have commenced preparations for listing of SoftBank Corp.’s shares. Through the listing of SoftBank Corp. shares, we expect that the respective roles of the Company and SoftBank Corp. will become clearer, with the Company pursuing a growth strategy based on accelerating investments on a global scale, and SoftBank Corp. as the core operating company in our telecommunications business. Through a listing, SoftBank Corp. intends to pursue growth in a wide range of sectors and pursue synergies with SoftBank Group companies in Japan and abroad, as well as further strengthen its management foundations as an operating company. We expect that a monetization of a portion of our holding of SoftBank Corp. would contribute to our overall financial soundness and enable us to pursue our strategy of growth through investments. There is a possibility that a decision not to list SoftBank Corp. shares could be made following reviews and studies conducted during the preparation process. For further information on this and other related matters, see “Risk Factors—The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations.”

Capital Calls for SoftBank Vision Fund. As of December 31, 2017, we were in the process of delivering 276 million shares of Arm, representing 19.29% of the total outstanding shares, to satisfy Capital Calls through such date. Such shares have been pledged in favor of the SoftBank Vision Fund pending delivery upon completion of regulatory approvals. Upon completion of such contribution of Arm shares and assuming no additional contributions by us, based on our relative pro rata commitment to the SoftBank Vision Fund, we would expect that the SoftBank Vision Fund would have aggregate contributed investor capital in excess of $26.8 billion out of the total committed amount of $91.7 billion. The outstanding Capital Calls to other investors have been or will be settled by cash pursuant to the terms of the definitive documentation for the SoftBank Vision Fund. The SoftBank Vision Fund has made additional Capital Calls since January 2018, the proceeds of which have been or will be applied towards investments in Ping An Good Doctor, Ping An HealthKonnnect, Compass, Auto1.com, Wag! and Katterra and other future investments. With respect to future Capital Calls, we expect to contribute shares of Arm up to an aggregate of 24.99% of the total outstanding shares (representing an aggregate of approximately $8.2 billion of capital contributions).

Consolidation of Japan Net Bank. Since April 2014, Yahoo Japan and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation have each held 41.16% of the voting rights in Japan Net Bank. Under a modified agreement with Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, while Yahoo Japan’s voting rights will remain unchanged, it has obtained majority representation on the board of directors of Japan Net Bank. As a result, on February 1, 2018 we completed the consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment, with such consolidation reflected in Yahoo Japan’s financial statements commencing the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018. The consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment was due to the aforementioned change in effective control of the board of directors of Japan Net Bank, and involved no cash outlays or other change in the voting rights held by Yahoo Japan in such entity. As of December 31, 2017, Japan Net Bank reported total assets of ¥825 billion ($7,300 million), including ¥296 billion ($2,616 million) of cash and due from banks and ¥130 billion ($1,150 million) of call loans, and total liabilities of ¥764 billion ($6,763 million), including ¥747 billion ($6,613 million) of deposits.

Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba. On or around March 7, 2018, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Borrower”) is expected to enter into a margin loan agreement (the “Margin Loan Agreement”) with lenders (collectively referred to, along with other financial institutions that may become party to the Margin Loan Agreement as lenders from time to time, the “Lenders”). The Lenders are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility (the “Term Margin Loan Facility”) and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Margin Loan Facility”), each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. The Borrower's obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement are not guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or the Initial Note Guarantor. Loans under the Term Margin Loan Facility and the Revolving Margin Loan Facility will have a maturity of three years. The Borrower expects to loan the proceeds of the loans under the Margin Loan Agreement to the Company, which expects to apply such proceeds for general corporate purposes including improving its liquidity. The loans under the Margin Loan Agreement will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares ("ADS") and cash pledged to the Lenders. In connection with the initial drawdown under the Margin Loan Agreement, we expect to pledge ADS representing approximately 6% of Alibaba's outstanding share capital for the benefit of the Lenders.

RISK FACTORS

Before deciding whether to participate in the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, you should read carefully this Exchange Offer Memorandum and, in particular, the risks described below, prior to making an investment decision with respect to the Existing Notes and the New Notes. The risks described below are not the only ones that may affect you, the Company, the Existing Notes or the New Notes. For further risks, among others, see “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Risk Factors.” Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also impair our business operations. If any of the risks described below occurs, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. The risks described below also include forward-looking statements and our actual results may differ substantially from those discussed in these forward-looking statements. See “Forward-Looking Statements.”

Risks Related to the Transactions Generally

There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Existing Notes and the New Notes.

Our long-term corporate credit rating is BB+ (negative outlook) from S&P, Ba1 (stable outlook) from Moody’s and A- (stable outlook) from JCR. The ratings assigned to the Existing Notes and the New Notes as well as the instrument ratings assigned to the Existing Notes or the New Notes may be lowered or withdrawn entirely in the future. Specifically, we cannot assure you that, as a result of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, the rating agencies will not downgrade or negatively comment upon the ratings for Existing Notes which are not exchanged and cannot predict the effect of any of the Proposed Amendments or any of our future actions on our credit ratings.

In the event that SoftBank Corp. is released from its guarantees of our Indebtedness in connection with its listing (should any such listing take place in future) and incurs substantial amounts of additional Indebtedness, the structurally junior position of our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness (including, in this case, the Existing Notes and the New Notes) relative to SoftBank Corp.’s own Indebtedness and our other subsidiaries’ Indebtedness would be exacerbated, which could lead one or more rating agencies to assign our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness a lower instrument rating than our long-term issuer credit rating. We could also be susceptible to future credit downgrades if our net leverage increases or otherwise if we pursue an aggressive investment strategy at the expense of key financial metrics, if we experience a significant decline in the value of our investments or if we suffer negative impacts from the acquisition of other companies, businesses or technologies. On February 26, 2018, S&P revised its outlook on our long term issuer corporate credit rating from stable to negative.

A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time. No assurances can be given that a rating will remain for any given period of time or that a rating will not be lowered or withdrawn entirely by the relevant rating agency if in its judgment circumstances in the future so warrant. We have no obligation to inform the Holders of any such revision, downgrade or withdrawal. A suspension, reduction, notching down from our long-term issuer credit rating or withdrawal at any time of the ratings assigned to the Existing Notes and the New Notes may adversely affect the market price of the Existing Notes and the New Notes and may cause us to lose our ability to access bank lending or the capital markets, renew bank credit facilities and access other sources of financing. Downgrades could also increase our costs of borrowing and affect our ability to make payments on outstanding debt instruments and to comply with other existing obligations. Such events could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation may be cancelled, delayed or amended.

We are not obligated to complete the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation under certain circumstances and unless and until certain conditions are satisfied, as described more fully below in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.” We may terminate or withdraw the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation if any of the applicable conditions precedent are not satisfied or waived by the Expiration Date or Effective Date, as applicable.

In addition, subject to certain limitations, we have the right to amend the terms of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation prior to the Expiration Date. We may choose to terminate or amend certain parts of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, but retain other aspects unchanged. In particular, we may terminate the Consent Solicitation or amend terms affecting the Consent Solicitation while retaining the current terms for the Exchange Offer or we may terminate the Exchange Offer or amend the terms of the Exchange Offer while retaining the current terms of the Consent Solicitation, including the relevant timing of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation. Depending on the materiality of the change, we may not be required to extend withdrawal or revocation rights following the announcement of such change.

Even if the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation are completed, they may not be completed on the schedule described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Accordingly, Eligible Holders who tender Existing Notes for exchange may not withdraw such tenders later and may have to wait longer than expected to receive their Exchange Notes or other Exchange Consideration (or to have their Existing Notes returned to them in the event that we terminate the Exchange Offer), during which time those Eligible Holders will not be able to effect transfers of their Existing Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer. Similarly, during the period between the Consent Effective Time and the Settlement Date, Holders who deliver Consents in respect of Existing Notes will not be able to revoke such Consents or effect transfers in such Existing Notes.

Your Existing Notes will be blocked from the date of instruction until the earlier of (i) consummation and (ii) termination.

When considering whether to tender the Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer or deliver a consent in the Consent Solicitation, Holders should take into account that restrictions on the transfer of the Existing Notes by Holders will apply from the time of such tender or delivery. A Holder will, on tendering the Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer or delivering consents in the Consent Solicitation, agree that the relevant Existing Notes will be blocked in the relevant account at the relevant Clearing System, from the date the tender of Existing Notes is made, or the consent is delivered, until such Instructions are validly withdrawn or the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation are modified or terminated so as to result in a cancellation of such Instructions. Upon blocking of the securities account where Existing Notes are held, Holders should be aware that they may not transfer title to such Existing Notes to other persons and may suffer losses if the market price of the Existing Notes changes and the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, in respect of that Holder or generally, is not completed for whatever reason. See “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.”

You are responsible for complying with the procedures and applicable restrictions of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation.

Holders of the Existing Notes are responsible for complying with all of the procedures to exchange the Existing Notes. None of us, the Initial Note Guarantor, the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent assume any responsibility for informing the Holders of the Existing Notes of any agent’s message or with respect to the acceptance of offers to exchange. Prior to the Settlement Date, no assurance can be given that the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation will be completed. This may depend upon the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.

Beneficial owners of Existing Notes who hold such Existing Notes through Euroclear or Clearstream should note the particular practices and policies of the relevant Clearing System regarding their communications deadlines, which will determine the latest time at which tenders of the Existing Notes for exchange and consents may be delivered to the relevant Clearing System (which may be earlier than the deadlines set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum) so that they are received by the Information Agent in respect of Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation within the deadlines set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Additionally it is important to note that all references in this Exchange Offer Memorandum to times, are to London time unless we state otherwise.

Each Holder is referred to the offer restrictions herein. Non-compliance with these could result in, among other things, the unwinding of trades and/or heavy penalties. See “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.”

Risks Related to Tendering in the Exchange Offer

We are not under any obligation to accept offers to exchange.

We are not under any obligation to accept, and shall have no liability to any person for any non-acceptance of, any offer of Existing Notes for exchange pursuant to the Exchange Offer.

Offers of Existing Notes for exchange may be rejected in our sole discretion for any reason and we are not under any obligation to Eligible Holders to furnish any reason or justification for refusing to accept an offer of Existing Notes for exchange. For example, offers of Existing Notes for exchange may be rejected if the Exchange Offer is terminated, if the Exchange Offer does not comply with the relevant requirements of a particular jurisdiction or for any other reason.

The Exchange Consideration to be received in the Exchange Offer does not reflect any market valuation of the Existing Notes or the New Notes.

We have made no determination that the consideration to be received in the Exchange Offer represents a fair valuation of either the Existing Notes or the Exchange Notes. The Exchange Ratios should not be construed as assurance or an indication of, and may not accurately reflect, the current or future market value of the relevant Existing Notes or the Exchange Notes. We have not obtained a fairness opinion from any financial advisor about the fairness to us or to you of the consideration to be received by Holders. Accordingly, none of us, our board of directors, the Initial Note Guarantor, the Dealer Managers and the Information Agent or any other person is making any recommendation as to whether you should tender Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer or deliver a Consent pursuant to the Consent Solicitation.

Your decision to tender your Existing Notes for Exchange Notes exposes you to the risk of non-payment for a longer period of time.

The Existing Notes will mature on July 30, 2022, 2025 or 2027, depending on the tranche. The New Notes will mature on April 15, 2028. If, following the maturity date of a tranche of the Existing Notes but prior to the maturity date of the Exchange Notes, we were to become subject to a bankruptcy or similar proceeding, the Holders who did not exchange such Existing Notes for Exchange Notes could have been paid in full and there would exist a risk that Holders of such Existing Notes who exchanged their Existing Notes for Exchange Notes would not be paid in full, if at all. Your decision to tender your Existing Notes of any such tranche should be made with the understanding that the lengthened maturity of the Exchange Notes exposes you to the risk of non-payment for a longer period of time.

There are material differences between the Existing Notes and the New Notes which could expose you to additional risks if you tender your Existing Notes.

There are material differences between the terms of the Existing Notes and the New Notes, in addition to the later maturity date of the New Notes as discussed above. For example, the 2022 Dollar Notes accrue interest at a rate of 5.375%, the 2025 Dollar Notes accrue interest at a rate of 6%, the 2022 Euro Notes accrue interest at a rate of 4%, the 2025 Euro Notes accrue interest at a rate of 4.75% and the 2027 Euro Notes accrue interest at a rate of 5.25%, whereas the New Money Dollar Notes and Exchange Dollar Notes will accrue interest at a coupon rate of no less than 6.000% per year and the New Money Euro Notes and Exchange Euro Notes will accrue interest at a coupon rate of no less than 4.625% per year. Additionally, if the Proposed Amendments do not become operative, the Existing Notes and New Notes will differ materially in respect of certain covenants. Among such differences, in connection with the “Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness” covenant, unlike the Existing Notes, the Exchange Notes (i) do not require that the Exchange Notes be rated Investment Grade as a prerequisite to releasing the guarantee of the Exchange Notes provided by the Initial Note Guarantor where the Initial Note Guarantor will thereafter guarantee no other Indebtedness of the Company or any Note Guarantor and (ii) do not require the Initial Note Guarantor to execute a supplemental indenture guaranteeing the Exchange Notes if, after releasing its guarantee, such notes are no longer rated Investment Grade.

These and other material differences could expose you to additional risks if you tender your Existing Notes. For further information on the New Notes and Proposed Amendments see “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Description of the Notes” and “Description of the Proposed Amendments.” See “—If the Proposed Amendments become operative, Holders will no longer benefit from the protections provided by certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture.”

You may generally not withdraw any Existing Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer.

Eligible Holders of Existing Notes may not withdraw their Instructions with respect to tenders of Existing Dollar Notes or Existing Euro Notes except in certain limited circumstances. See “Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation.” Therefore, Eligible Holders that tender Existing Notes may be required to wait for an extended period of time before receiving payment and may not have the ability to withdraw or trade such tendered Existing Notes during that time. As a result, there may be a significant period of time during which participating Eligible Holders may be unable to effect transfers or sales of their Existing Notes.

You may not receive Exchange Notes in the Exchange Offer if the procedures for the Exchange Offer are not followed.

We will issue Exchange Notes in exchange for your Existing Notes only if you tender the Existing Notes pursuant to the procedures and requirements of the relevant Clearing System. You should allow sufficient time to ensure timely delivery of the necessary documents. None of the Dealer Managers, the Information Agent nor we are under any duty to give notification of defects or irregularities with respect to the tenders of Existing Notes for exchange. If you are the beneficial owner of Existing Notes that are registered in the name of your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee, and you wish to tender in the Exchange Offer, you should promptly contact the person in whose name your Existing Notes are registered and instruct that person to tender on your behalf.

To participate in the Exchange Offer, Eligible Holders must tender Existing Dollar Notes or Existing Euro Notes in an aggregate amount of at least $200,000 and €100,000, respectively.

The Dollar Exchange Notes will be issued with a minimum denomination of $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof and the Euro Exchange Notes will be issued with a minimum denomination of €100,000 and integral multiples of €1,000. Accordingly, to participate in the Exchange Offer, Eligible Holders must validly offer for exchange Existing Dollar Notes and Existing Euro Notes with an aggregate principal amount of at least $200,000 and €100,000, respectively. In order to be able to participate in the Exchange Offer, a Holder that holds fewer Existing Dollar Notes or Existing Euro Notes than $200,000 or €100,000, respectively, must first acquire such further number of Existing Dollar Notes or Existing Euro Notes, as applicable, as is necessary for that Eligible Holder to be able to offer for exchange its Existing Notes.

There may be a less liquid market for the Existing Notes.

The trading market for Existing Notes that are not exchanged could become more limited than the existing trading market for the Existing Notes and could cease to exist altogether due to the reduction in the principal amount of the Existing Notes outstanding upon consummation of the Exchange Offer. A more limited trading market might adversely affect the liquidity, market price and price volatility of the Existing Notes. If a market for Existing Notes that are not exchanged exists or develops, the Existing Notes may trade at a discount to the price at which they would trade if the principal amount outstanding were not reduced. There can be, however, no assurance that an active market in the Existing Notes will exist, develop or be maintained, or as to the prices at which the Existing Notes may trade, after the Exchange Offer is consummated.

Holders of Existing Notes should consult their own tax, accounting, financial and legal advisers regarding their specific tax or accounting consequences of participating or declining to participate in the Exchange Offer and an investment in the Exchange Notes.

Holders of Existing Notes should consult their own tax, accounting, financial and legal advisers regarding their specific tax or accounting consequences of participating or declining to participate in the Exchange Offer or an investment in the Exchange Notes. None of the Issuer, the Dealer Managers or the Exchange Agent makes any recommendation to any Eligible Holder of Existing Notes as to whether such Eligible Holder should tender its Existing Notes or refrain from tendering in the Exchange Offer, and none of the aforementioned parties has authorized any person to make any such recommendation on their behalf.

Holders are notified that we have not provided any tax analysis in the Exchange Offer Memorandum that is intended or written to be used or relied upon or that can be used or relied upon by any taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding penalties. Holders should seek advice based on their particular circumstances in connection with any decision to tender their Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer from a tax advisor.

We may repurchase any Existing Notes that are not tendered in the Exchange Offer on terms that are more favorable to the Holders than the terms of the Exchange Offer.

We may, to the extent permitted by applicable law, purchase or redeem Existing Notes from time to time in the open market, in privately negotiated transactions, through subsequent tender or exchange offers, through the exercise of our optional redemption rights under the Existing Notes Indenture or otherwise. These other purchases or redemptions may be made on the same terms or on terms that are more or less favorable to Holders than the terms of this Exchange Offer. We also reserve the right to repurchase or redeem any Existing Notes not tendered in the Exchange Offer. If we decide to repurchase or redeem Existing Notes on terms that are more favorable than the terms of the Exchange Offer, those Holders who decide not to participate in the Exchange Offer could ultimately receive consideration in cash or other form that represents greater value for their respective Existing Notes than the value received by Eligible Holders that participate in the Exchange Offer.

The Exchange Offer is subject to conditions and certain parts thereof are subject to separate conditions.

The Exchange Offer is subject to the conditions specified herein and if such conditions are not satisfied or waived, the Exchange Offer will be terminated.

Additionally, certain parts of the Exchange Offer are subject to separate, specific conditions. If those specific conditions are not satisfied or waived, certain parts of the Exchange Offer may be consummated, while other parts are not consummated, in particular (i) if the Dollar Minimum Notes Condition is not met, we may accept tendered Existing Euro Notes in exchange for Euro Exchange Notes but not accept any tendered Existing Dollar Notes in exchange for Dollar Exchange Notes and (ii) if the Euro Minimum Notes Condition is not met, we may accept tendered Existing Dollar Notes in exchange for Dollar Exchange Notes but not accept any tendered Existing Euro Notes in exchange for Euro Exchange Notes.

Risks Related to the Consent Solicitation

If the Proposed Amendments become operative, Holders will no longer benefit from the protections provided by certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture.

The Proposed Amendments would amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture and New Notes Indenture. If the Proposed Amendments become operative, Holders of Existing Notes that remain outstanding after the completion of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation will no longer be entitled to the benefit of those covenants and certain other provisions.

The modifications contemplated by the Proposed Amendments of certain of the covenants and other provisions contained in the Indenture may be adverse to the interests of Holders of the Existing Notes generally and to the interest of individual Holders. The principal effect of these amendments is (1) to provide greater flexibility for us to release the guarantee of the Existing Notes provided by the Initial Note Guarantor while such Existing Notes are not rated Investment Grade (if we are able to satisfy the other conditions for such release); (2) to provide greater flexibility for us in making Asset Sales and making restricted payments with the proceeds thereof, including with respect to the SoftBank Vision Fund and its assets; (3) to provide greater flexibility for us and Note Guarantors to guarantee the Indebtedness of Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries and to provide security in respect of certain Indebtedness.

The modification of these provisions and others will permit us to take certain actions previously prohibited without needing to obtain the consent of any Holder, which could be materially adverse to the interest of the Holders generally and to the interest of the individual Holders. Those actions could increase the credit risks associated with an investment in the Existing Notes, as well as adversely affect the market price and credit rating of the Existing Notes that remain outstanding. See “Description of the Proposed Amendments.”

If the Proposed Amendments sought in the Consent Solicitation become effective and operative, all Notes issued under the Existing Notes Indenture will be subject to the terms of, and bound by, all such Proposed Amendments.

If the Proposed Amendments become effective and operative, all Holders of the Existing Notes will be bound by the Proposed Amendments in respect of which the Supplemental Indenture has been executed, whether or not such Holder delivered a Consent or otherwise affirmatively objected to the Proposed Amendments. Non-consenting Holders, although bound by the Proposed Amendments in respect of which the Supplemental Indenture has been executed, will not be entitled to any Consent Fee. Non-consenting Holders (whether or not they affirmatively objected to the Proposed Amendments) will not be entitled to any rights of appraisal or similar rights of dissenters (whether pursuant to the Indenture or the Company’s or the Initial Note Guarantor’s organizational instruments) with respect to the adoption of the Proposed Amendments and the execution of the Supplemental Indenture.

The ability of Holders to revoke Consents in the Consent Solicitation is limited.

Consents in respect of Existing Notes not tendered for exchange in the Exchange Offer may be validly revoked only prior to the earlier of the Consent Effective Time and the Expiration Date as in effect at the time the Holder provided a valid Consent, and thereafter may not be withdrawn, unless required by applicable law. Deemed Consents in respect of Existing Notes tendered for exchange in the Exchange Offer may not be withdrawn, except under certain limited circumstances described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders.”

Certain Risks Related to the Company and the Existing Notes

The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In February 2018, we and SoftBank Corp. announced we had commenced preparations to list the shares of SoftBank Corp. However, neither we nor SoftBank Corp.’s board of directors have made any formal decision to pursue a listing, and the listing may or may not occur in the near term or at all depending on various factors affecting the favorability of any such listing, many of which are outside of our control. For instance, we may determine that the current market for the shares would not permit us to obtain sufficient value for them. In addition, we are currently reviewing the potential effects of a listing on our cash flows and creditworthiness. These and other such factors may cause us to temporarily or indefinitely postpone listing preparations.

While we expect SoftBank Corp. would remain consolidated on our balance sheet after any such listing, SoftBank Corp. is currently our most significant source of cash flows, and our potential cash flows via the future dividends we expect to receive from SoftBank Corp., as well as our share of SoftBank Corp.'s future earnings, would be directly reduced to the extent of any such disposal and listing. Such dilution of our share of SoftBank Corp.'s future earnings and dividends could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we decide to pursue a listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. in the future, we may release all of SoftBank Corp.'s outstanding guarantees of the Company's Indebtedness.

Currently, no formal decision to pursue a listing has been made, and the listing may or may not occur depending on various factors affecting the favorability of any such listing, many of which are outside of our control. Should we decide to go forward with such a listing, and subject to the satisfaction of the requisite conditions, we may release all of SoftBank Corp.'s outstanding guarantees of the Company's Indebtedness (including our Existing Notes, the New Notes, the 2013 Notes, the 2017 Notes, our Yen-denominated Senior Bonds, the Commitment Line and our Senior Term Loan) prior to launching a listing of SoftBank Corp. The indentures governing the 2013 Notes and the Existing Notes would permit us to release SoftBank Corp.'s guarantees of such notes upon (or substantially concurrently with) the release of SoftBank Corp.'s other guarantees of the Company's Indebtedness only if the 2013 Notes and the 2015 Notes have an investment grade rating at the time of release. We are hereby soliciting the Consents of holders of the Existing Notes to the Proposed Amendments, which include, among other conforming changes, aligning the guarantee release provisions of the Existing Notes to the guarantee provisions of the 2017 Notes and thus allowing us to release SoftBank Corp.'s guarantee of the Existing Notes regardless of whether the Existing Notes have an investment grade rating at the time of release. In future, we may also consider seeking the requisite consents of lenders under the Senior Term Loan to release SoftBank Corp.'s guarantee of such loan pursuant to the applicable provisions thereof in the event of a listing of SoftBank Corp. See “—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Existing Notes and the New Notes under which the respective Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the relevant Trustee.”

The Existing Notes, the New Notes and the respective Note Guarantees thereof will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries.

As of December 31, 2017, structurally senior total interest-bearing debt of Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries of the Company was ¥5,025 billion ($44,468 million) or 33% of the total interest-bearing debt of the Company on a consolidated basis, excluding financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract, which, however, also constitute structurally senior Indebtedness of the Company on a consolidated basis. Our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries include Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Arm, Brightstar, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as of the issue date, among others, and our structurally senior debt as of the same date is expected to include the loans made to our relevant subsidiary upon the funding of the expected Margin Loan Agreement.

The holders of the Existing Notes and the New Notes will not have any direct right to claim against any of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries, and may only participate in the assets of such subsidiaries through the distribution of the remaining assets to us as a common equity interest holder of such subsidiaries or the limited repayment to us as a creditor of such subsidiaries (if we have a claim against such subsidiaries) under bankruptcy or other insolvency procedures. As a result, the Existing Notes and the New Notes and the respective Note Guarantees thereof are structurally subordinated to the preferred securities, outstanding debt and other obligations of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries and the amount of such preferred securities, debt and obligations and may be significant.

The Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor may be released under certain circumstances, as well, at which point any Indebtedness of such former Note Guarantor would also be structurally senior to the obligations of the Company under the Existing Notes and the New Notes. See “—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Existing Notes and the New Notes under which the respective Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the relevant Trustee” and “—Risks Related to the Transactions Generally—There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Existing Notes and the New Notes.”

There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Existing Notes and the New Notes under which the respective Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the relevant Trustee.

Under various circumstances, the Note Guarantees of the Existing Notes and the New Notes may be released, including automatically in connection with any sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets or capital stock of such Note Guarantor (including by way of merger or consolidation) to a person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or a subsidiary of the Company or, at the option of the Company but subject to certain conditions, upon the release of any guarantee of any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor which results in such Note Guarantor no longer guaranteeing any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor (other than pursuant to the Note Guarantees to be released).

Should we decide to proceed with a listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp., we may release all of SoftBank Corp.’s outstanding guarantees of our Indebtedness. Furthermore, we cannot assure you that SoftBank Corp.’s guarantee or guarantees of other Note Guarantors will not be discharged due to other reasons, including future refinancings or amendments of the underlying indebtedness or pursuant to automatic release provisions such as those contained in the Existing Notes Indenture.

Once the guarantee of a subsidiary has been released, such a subsidiary would not be subject to any restriction on the incurrence of additional debt that is non-recourse to the Company pursuant to the terms of the Existing Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture and would cease to be subject to the covenants of the Existing Notes Indenture or the New Notes Indenture that apply to Note Guarantors only in their capacity as such, including the “Anti-Layering” covenant, the “Permitted Third Party Guarantees” covenant, “Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event” covenant and the “Negative Pledge” covenant. As a result, there would be no covenant in the Existing Notes Indenture or the New Notes Indenture that would restrict such a subsidiary from incurring Indebtedness ranking structurally senior to the Existing Notes or the New Notes, incurring secured Indebtedness ranking effectively senior to the Existing Notes or the New Notes or pledging its creditworthiness to other of our subsidiaries by guaranteeing such other subsidiaries’ Indebtedness.

We may raise additional debt against our holdings in our listed and unlisted subsidiaries, strategic associates or other investment assets or otherwise be adversely affected by declines in their respective valuations.

As part of our long-term strategy to become a strategic holding company, we expect to rely increasingly on the value of our investments in listed and unlisted subsidiaries and strategic associates to meet our financing requirements and support our growth. We concentrate a high percentage of our investments in a relatively small number of listed and unlisted subsidiaries and strategic associates, including SoftBank Corp. Sprint, Arm, Yahoo Japan and Alibaba, especially in the telecommunications and technology industries. The equity value of these investments may be affected by fluctuations in general market conditions, the industries in which they operate, their specific operating performance, and extrinsic events such as significant resales by other major shareholders. Similarly, we have a large number of portfolio investments in unlisted companies, which can be illiquid and subject to substantial uncertainty and instability regarding valuation.

In the past, we have on several occasions sought to monetize the value of portions of our strategic investments by raising significant amounts of Indebtedness directly or indirectly secured over these assets and may continue to do so in future. Similarly, we expect one of our wholly-owned subsidiaries to enter into the Margin Loan Agreement with Lenders to borrow on or around March 13, 2018, $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility. The borrower’s obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement will not be guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or SoftBank Corp., will have a maturity of three years and will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares and cash pledged to the lenders. See “Recent Developments—Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba”.

Additionally, loans under our expected Margin Loan Agreement secured by ADSs of Alibaba are subject to customary collateral valuation requirements, some of which could be triggered by a significant decline in the trading price of Alibaba ADSs. Failure to satisfy such requirements could result in additional collateral being pledged by the borrower of the Margin Loan Agreement or the maturity of the loans under the Margin Loan Agreement being accelerated and the lenders exercising foreclosure remedies against such collateral. Any sustained, precipitous decline in the value of our key listed subsidiaries or other portfolio assets, or in the valuations of global equity markets generally, could also substantially reduce the overall value of our investment portfolio, which could in turn impair our ability to monetize those investments to repay or refinance our outstanding indebtedness or meet our financing requirements for future growth.

The acquisition of other companies, businesses or technologies, such as the acquisition of Arm, and the making of large concentrated investments, such as our investment in Uber Technologies, Inc., could result in operating difficulties, dilution or other harmful consequences.

In order to set up new businesses, or expand our existing businesses, we have made and may pursue further acquisitions and investments, including through the establishment of joint ventures and subsidiaries, as well as investments in operating or holding companies (including companies that we effectively control through various contracts) and funds, and we may also in certain instances provide subsequent financial assistance in the form of loans, securities or otherwise to such investees. We also may acquire other assets which we believe are strategic, any of which could be material to our business, financial condition and results of operations. In particular, we have made a number of strategic investments in companies in emerging markets and in businesses we view to be in growth industries, such as e-commerce and taxi booking platforms for mobile devices. In September 2016, we acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Arm, a British microprocessor intellectual property design firm, for approximately £24.0 billion. See “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Risk Factors—Our business development may be significantly affected by risks relating to Arm’s operations.” In December 2017, we completed the acquisition of 100% of the outstanding shares of Fortress for approximately $3.3 billion. Also, in May 2017, we completed the first closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund with a diverse group of institutional investors, and as of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion. In January 2018, we made a total investment of $7.7 billion pursuant to which we acquired a 15% ownership interest in Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides. As part of our SoftBank Synergy Group strategy, we expect to continue to make minority investments in a large number of investees with the aim of fostering synergies between and among them, but we will have limited ability to control the management of any investees in which we take a minority position, and accordingly, such investees may not necessarily pursue the strategic initiatives that would be most beneficial to us. Furthermore, even if such investees do pursue our preferred strategic initiatives, there can be no assurance that the synergies we expect will ever be realized. See “Recent Developments” and “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Business—Strategies—Strategic Investments: Continue to make growth investments and manage portfolio strategically with the aim to realize our SoftBank Synergy Group vision.” If an investee is included in our scope of consolidation in conjunction with these investment activities, this could positively or negatively affect our consolidated results of operations and financial position.

In addition, we carry significant amounts of goodwill and other intangible assets on our balance sheet as a result of our corporate acquisitions and investments. If a company in which we invest is unable to conduct its business as anticipated at the time of investment, our results of operations and financial position could be impacted, for example, through write-downs on assets recognized in conjunction with the investment activities including goodwill, property, plant and equipment, intangible assets or financial assets such as shares. In addition, any decline in the value of assets that were obtained through these investment activities, including investment equities, could cause us to recognize a valuation loss which could have an attendant impact on our results of operations and distributable amounts in our non-consolidated financial statements. Under IFRS, goodwill is tested for impairment whenever there is any indication of potential impairment, and at least annually, while intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over their estimated useful lives and are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication of potential impairment. We also have a number of equity-method associates, for which the impairment test is used. For example, we recorded a loss from financial instruments carried at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL,” the fair value of which is required to be measured at the end of each quarter under IFRS, with changes to be recognized as net income or loss) of ¥160 billion in our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 and a gain from financial instruments carried at FVTPL of ¥8 billion for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Financial instruments at FVTPL includes preferred shares of Jasper Infotech Private Limited, which operates “snapdeal.com,” an e-commerce site in India, and ANI Technologies Private Limited, which operates Ola, a taxi booking platform also in India. Furthermore, we recognized a loss on valuation of shares of subsidiaries and associates of ¥114 billion as special losses in our non-consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. The losses represented impairments of our investments in subsidiaries and associates, including STARFISH I PTE LTD, an intermediate holding company that owns preferred shares in Jasper Infotech Private Limited. In addition, our debt burden may increase if we borrow funds to finance any future acquisition or investment, which could have a negative impact on our cash flows and our ability to finance our overall operations. An acquired company may also be subject to an increased interest burden. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in completing business acquisitions or investments or fully integrating previously acquired companies.

If the companies we acquire or in which we invest fail to maintain adequate internal controls or sustain legal or regulatory compliance, we could suffer reputational harm and otherwise suffer adverse effects to our business, financial condition and results of operations. Although we conduct due diligence investigations of those companies, businesses or technologies which we seek to acquire, our assessments are subject to a number of assumptions concerning profitability, growth, interest rates and company valuations. Our inquiries may fail to uncover all material issues before an acquisition and we may experience unexpected losses arising from such issues after an acquisition. There can be no assurance that our assessments or due diligence of, and assumptions regarding, acquisition targets will prove to be correct, and actual developments may differ significantly from our expectations.

In certain cases we may consolidate or de-consolidate these investments from our consolidated financial results and doing so may affect our results negatively. As a result, period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations are not necessarily meaningful or indicative of future performance in this regard. Furthermore, proposed acquisitions may require approval by government authorities, which can block, impose conditions, or delay the process, which could result in a failure on our part to proceed with announced transactions on a timely basis or at all, thus hampering our opportunities for growth. In the event that conditions are imposed and we fail to meet them in a timely manner, the relevant government authority may impose fines and, if in connection with a merger transaction, may require restorative measures, such as a mandatory disposition of assets or divestiture of operations. Finally, we could be susceptible to future credit downgrades if we pursue an aggressive investment strategy at the expense of key financial metrics. See “—Risks Related to the Transactions Generally—There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Existing Notes and the New Notes.”

Any of the above factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, credit ratings and results of operations or prevent us from achieving improvements in our financial condition and operating margins that could have otherwise been achieved by us without any particular investment.

We face intense competition, including from other large and established competitors and well-funded entrants, and such competition may intensify.

One of our primary business domains is the information industry, particularly the Japanese mobile communications industry, where we compete for consumer spending with other domestic communications companies such as NTT DOCOMO, Inc. (“NTT DOCOMO”) and KDDI Corporation (“KDDI”). We have substantial competitors in the markets in which we operate, and, in certain instances, we may face competitors (including but not limited to mobile communications operators and mobile virtual network operators (“MVNOs”)) that have larger operations than we do, or otherwise have a competitive advantage over us in terms of, for example, capital, services and products, price competitiveness, customer base, sales capability, brand awareness or public recognition.

As of the date hereof, the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications is evaluating applications for additional spectrum allocation of 1.7 GHz and 3.4 GHz bands, and the outcome is expected to be made public by or around the end of March 2018. It is reported that Rakuten, Inc., an existing MVNO, has applied for allocation to become a new MNO, so it is possible that the new radio frequency bands will be allocated to them. See “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Regulation—Radio Act of Japan—Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum. Going forward, the competition among existing operators and new entrants may further intensify, as a result of which we may revise our billing plans, offer discounts or take other steps to capture new subscriptions and maintain existing subscriptions, that could adversely affect our profitability. For example, in September 2017, we introduced the Half Price Support program, which enables customers to purchase eligible smartphones in 48 monthly installments, with the remaining monthly payments waived if the customer trades in their used handset to upgrade to a designated new model after 24 monthly installments. However, we cannot be certain that this program will enable us to acquire new and maintain existing subscribers. Additionally, the participation rate for this program may exceed our expectations and may thus result in a larger decline in revenues than expected.

If our competitors were to sell services or products that harness their competitive advantages to a greater extent than they currently do, we may be placed at a disadvantage in sales competition or may be unable to provide services and products or acquire or retain customers as anticipated. Moreover, even if we introduce highly competitive services, products or sales methods ahead of our competitors, our competitive advantages may lessen if our competitors deploy equivalent or better services, products or sales methods.

In addition, the Japanese population, which represents the primary market of our domestic telecommunications products and services, is both aging and declining. According to Ovum, the total number of domestic mobile communications service subscribers in Japan reached 168 million, as of December, 2017, and according to BMI Research the penetration rate for mobile phones in Japan is estimated to have reached approximately 131%, as of December, 2017, indicating ownership of more than one handset per person. This suggests that the market may be approaching saturation, which could result in a lower number of customer additions.

Any of the above consequences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our financial results may be significantly affected by risks relating to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment, its operations and financial performance.

The SoftBank Vision Fund, which was established outside of Japan, started its operations in May 2017. The SoftBank Vision Fund seeks to acquire minority interests in many cases in both private and public companies, ranging from emerging technology businesses to established companies requiring substantial growth funding across a wide range of technology sectors, as long as the investments fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy. Investment opportunities of the Company of $100 million or more that fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy are generally required to be carried out through the SoftBank Vision Fund or its associated vehicles. Subject to certain circumstances, the Company can make certain other investments, including (but not limited to) investments not meeting the $100 million threshold, strategic investments at the operating company level, and/or other investments that do not fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy and criteria. We subsequently established the Delta Fund as a separate and distinct fund from the SoftBank Vision Fund in order to make investments in DiDi with one of the other limited partners of the SoftBank Vision Fund, and its final closing was completed on September 27, 2017. SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are each separately managed by SBIA which is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority. Investment decisions for the various entities comprising SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are each separately made by their respective Investment Committees established as committees of SBIA. SBIA is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. Furthermore, we invest in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as a limited partner of each. Total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion as of December 31, 2017, with total committed capital from us of $28.1 billion, including contribution of shares of Arm by in-kind contribution in satisfaction of approximately $8.2 billion. Subject to certain consents, the final closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund is anticipated to occur no later than the three months ending June 30, 2018. Total committed capital to the Delta Fund is $6.0 billion, with total committed capital from us of $4.4 billion, including contribution of shares of DiDi. For further information, including the current status of our contributions to each fund, see "Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Business—SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund." The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment may not realize the anticipated return on its investments, which may negatively affect our performance or financial condition.

As the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are controlled by us for accounting purposes, the results of operations, assets and liabilities of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are included in our consolidated financial statements. The portfolio companies of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund that we are deemed to control from an IFRS perspective are treated as our subsidiaries and their results of operations, assets and liabilities are included in our consolidated financial statements. Therefore, the poor financial performance of companies in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund may negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. In particular, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund may seek to incur Indebtedness to fund their investments in whole or in part, which would add to our overall consolidated leverage. Also, in the event that the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund's targets for investment do not become subsidiaries on our consolidated financial statements, as a basic rule, they are measured at fair value at the end of every quarter, and changes in the value are recognized as a net gain or loss. In the event that the fair value of these investments decreases, it may negatively affect our group's performance or financial condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE EXCHANGE OFFER AND THE CONSENT SOLICITATION

The following are some of the questions that Holders may have, and answers to those questions. These questions and answers, as well as the following summary, are not a substitute for the information contained elsewhere in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, and this information is qualified in its entirety by the more detailed descriptions and explanations contained elsewhere in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. You are urged to read the Exchange Offer Memorandum in its entirety prior to making any decision.

Why is the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation being made?

The purpose of the Exchange Offer is to extend the average maturity of our obligations under the Existing Notes by refinancing those obligations with Exchange Notes having a longer tenor.

The purpose of the Consent Solicitation is to streamline and align our obligations under the Existing Notes Indenture to the 2017 Notes Indenture and to obtain the corresponding flexibility to pursue our strategic objectives under the Existing Notes Indenture.

Who may participate in the Exchange Offer?

The Exchange Offer is being made, and the Exchange Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to Eligible Offerees who hold Existing Notes through the Clearing Systems (“Eligible Holders”) and who have represented to the Company pursuant to the deemed representations described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Representations, Warranties and Covenants of Eligible Holders Tendering Existing Notes” that they are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer. “Eligible Offerees” are defined as persons who satisfy all the following criteria:

- i. non-U.S. persons located outside the United States or dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting on a discretionary basis for the benefit or account of non-U.S. persons located outside the United States, as those terms are defined in Regulation S,
- ii. persons other than retail investors in the European Economic Area, defined as a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Insurance Mediation Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive,
- iii. persons (i) who are beneficial owners that are, for Japanese tax purposes, neither individual residents of Japan or Japanese corporations, nor individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations that in either case are specially related persons of the Company as described in Article 6, Paragraph (4) of the Special Taxation Measures Act; and (ii) who are not residents in Japan for Japanese securities law purposes (including a natural person having his/her place of domicile or residence in Japan, a legal person having its main office in Japan or any branch, agency or other office in Japan of a non-resident (irrespective of whether it is legally authorized to represent its principal or not and even if its main office is located in a country other than Japan)),
- iv. non-residents of Canada; provided that a discretionary account held for the benefit or account of a person or company resident in Canada by an investment manager or similar fiduciary outside Canada is not a resident of Canada for this purpose; and
- v. persons into whose possession the Exchange Offer Memorandum may be lawfully delivered in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which they are located.

Only Eligible Holders who have, or on whose behalf their brokers, dealers, custodians, trust companies or other nominees have, completed the procedures described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer.

Who may participate in the Consent Solicitation?

Any Holder is eligible to participate in the Consent Solicitation with respect to Existing Notes that such Holder has not tendered in the Exchange Offer.

Both Eligible Holders who choose not to participate in the Exchange Offer and Non-eligible Holders are eligible to participate in the Consent Solicitation and receive the applicable Consent Fee by providing their Consents with respect to Existing Notes held by them without tendering such Existing Notes for exchange.

What will I receive if I tender my Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer?

Subject to the minimum denomination requirements for tendering Existing Notes and the terms of conditions of this Exchange Offer Memorandum, for each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount, as the case may be, of outstanding Existing Notes that are validly tendered and accepted for exchange, Eligible Holders will receive Exchange Consideration comprised of the following:

- i. Dollar Exchange Notes (for Existing Dollar Notes tendered) or Euro Exchange Notes (for Existing Euro Notes tendered), as the case may be, in a principal amount equal to the Exchange Price set forth on the cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum.
- ii. if, as a result of the application of the relevant Exchange Ratio, a Holder would be entitled to receive an aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes that is not an integral multiple of $1,000 or €1,000, as applicable, we will make to that Holder on the Settlement Date a Fractional Note Cash Payment equal to the fractional portion of such aggregate principal amount that is not such an integral multiple;
- iii. a Deemed Consent Payment of $10 or €10, for each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount of Existing Notes tendered, paid in cash. We will make the Deemed Consent Payment in respect of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange even if we do not obtain the Requisite Consents or otherwise terminate the Consent Solicitation; and
- iv. an Accrued Interest Cash Payment equal to the accrued and unpaid interest on the Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange from January 30, 2018, the last applicable interest payment date of the Existing Notes, up to but excluding the Settlement Date.

If we terminate the Exchange Offer for failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition, we will nonetheless retain Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will nonetheless be retained by the Company and counted toward the Requisite Consents for the purposes of the Consent Solicitation. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive the Deemed Consent Payment upon the settlement of the Consent Solicitation, but will not receive any other part of the Exchange Consideration.

If the Company terminates the Exchange Offer for any other reason, the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will lapse and be deemed revoked. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive no Exchange Consideration at all and the Company will no longer be able to settle the Consent Solicitation owing to failure to satisfy the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition.

What will I receive if I deliver consents in the Consent Solicitation?

Holders of the Existing Dollar Notes who (i) validly tender Existing Dollar Notes in the Exchange Offer, and are thereby deemed to have delivered a Deemed Consent, or (ii) validly deliver a Consent in the Consent Solicitation, in each case, prior to the Expiration Date, will receive, as consideration for providing such Consent, $10 for each $1,000 in principal amount of outstanding Existing Dollar Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer or for which a Consent is delivered by such Holder.

Holders of the Existing Euro Notes who (i) validly tender Existing Euro Notes in the Exchange Offer, and thereby deliver a Deemed Consent, or (ii) validly deliver a Consent in the Consent Solicitation, in each case, prior to the Expiration Date, will receive, as consideration for providing such Consent, €10 for each €1,000 in principal amount of outstanding Existing Euro Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer or for which a Consent is delivered by such Holder.

The Company will pay the Deemed Consent Payment in respect of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange even if the Company does not obtain the Requisite Consents or otherwise terminates the Consent Solicitation.

Your right to receive the Consent Fee or a Deemed Consent Payment as described above is subject to all the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum.

What amendments to the Indenture is the Company seeking?

- We are seeking the consent of the Holders to, among other things:
- amend the “Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and New Notes Indenture;
- amend the “Negative Pledge” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture;

- amend the “Permitted Third Party Guarantees” covenant and related definitions to conform it to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture;
- amend the “Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture;
- amend the “Distribution of Proceeds of Asset Sales” covenant and related definitions to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture;
- amend the “Merger or Consolidation” covenant to conform to the terms of the corresponding covenant in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture; and
- make certain other amendments to conform certain language in the Existing Notes Indenture with the corresponding language in the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture.

The Proposed Amendments will not alter the interest rate or maturity date of the Existing Notes, our obligation to make principal and interest payments on the Existing Notes or, except as described in “Description of the Proposed Amendments,” the substantive effect of any other covenant or provision of the Existing Notes. For further details, see “Description of the Proposed Amendments.”

What consents are required to effect the Proposed Amendments to the Existing Notes Indenture?

For the Proposed Amendments to the Existing Notes to be adopted, we must receive valid consents from valid consents from Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes, voting as a single class. For the purposes of determining whether the Holders of the requisite principal amount of Existing Notes have consented to the Proposed Amendments, the principal amount of Existing Euro Notes shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of such principal amount of the Existing Euro Notes, calculated at a spot rate for the purchase of U.S. dollars with euro as published by Bloomberg two business days prior to the Consent Effective Time.

As of the date of this Exchange Offer Memorandum, the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Existing Dollar Notes is $2,000,000,000 and the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Existing Euro Notes is €2,250,000,000. The Dollar Equivalent of the Existing Euro Notes as of March 5, 2018 is $2,775,150,000, calculated at an exchange rate of $1.2334 = €1.00, the spot rate for the purchase of U.S. dollars with euro as published by Bloomberg two business days prior to the date hereof.

What are the consequences of not tendering in the Exchange Offer or delivering Consents in the Consent Solicitation?

Consummation of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation may have adverse consequences to you if you elect not to participate. In particular, the trading market for Existing Notes that are not exchanged could become more limited than the existing trading market for the Existing Notes and could cease to exist altogether due to the reduction in the amount of the Existing Notes outstanding upon consummation of the Exchange Offer. A more limited trading market might adversely affect the liquidity, market price and price volatility of your Existing Notes.

The Proposed Amendments would amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture. If you do not consent to the Proposed Amendments or tender your Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer, revoke your Consents or withdraw your tenders before the Consent Effective Time or the Expiration Date, you will not receive the Consent Fee or the Deemed Consent Payment even though the Proposed Amendments, if they become effective and operative, will be binding on you. Failure to deliver a Consent or a Deemed Consent will have the same effect as if you had voted “No” to the Proposed Amendments. If the Proposed Amendments become operative, Holders of Existing Notes that remain outstanding after the completion of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation will no longer be entitled to the benefits of the previously effective and operative provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture that are modified by the Proposed Amendments. The amendment of these provisions will permit us to take certain actions previously prohibited without needing to obtain the consent of any Holder, which could be materially adverse to your interests. Those actions could increase the credit risks associated with us, as well as adversely affect the market price and credit rating of the Existing Notes that remain outstanding.

What if the Requisite Consents are not obtained?

If the Requisite Consents are not received on or prior to the Expiration Date or if we have not accepted any Consents, (i) none of the Proposed Amendments will be effected and (ii) no Consent Fee will be paid to any Holder.

Are there any conditions to the consummation of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation?

Among other conditions precedent, the Exchange Offer is conditioned upon:

- i. with respect to the exchange of Existing Dollar Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date (including Dollar Exchange Notes issuable in exchange for Existing Dollar Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Dollar Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than $350,000,000;
- ii. with respect to the exchange of Existing Euro Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date (including Euro Exchange Notes issuable in exchange for Existing Euro Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Euro Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than €350,000,000; and
- iii. certain other conditions described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer.”

The foregoing conditions precedent are for our sole benefit and may be asserted or waived by us, in whole or in part, at any time and in our absolute discretion without extending the Expiration Date or granting withdrawal rights (except as required by law).

In particular, our obligation to consummate the Consent Solicitation is conditioned upon:

- i. the receipt of valid Consents from Holders of at least a majority of the outstanding principal amount of the Existing Notes, voting as a single class;
- ii. the consummation of the Exchange Offer, unless the Company terminates the Exchange Offer with respect to the Existing Dollar Notes or the Existing Euro Notes due to failure to satisfy the Minimum Notes Condition to the Exchange Offer, in which case the Exchange Consummation Condition will not apply; and
- iii. certain other conditions described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Consent Solicitation—Conditions to the Consent Solicitation.”

The foregoing conditions precedent are for our sole benefit and may be asserted or waived by us, in whole or in part, at any time and in our absolute discretion without extending the Expiration Date, except for the Exchange Consummation Condition, which cannot be waived by the Company.

Subject to applicable law, we may terminate or withdraw the Exchange Offer if any of the conditions are not satisfied or waived on or prior to the earlier of the Expiration Date. We may also extend the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation from time to time until the conditions are satisfied or waived.

When will the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation expire?

The Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation will expire at 4:00 p.m., London time, on March 21, 2018, subject to our right to extend that time and date in our absolute discretion or terminate earlier. We may at our sole discretion extend the Expiration Date with respect to the Consent Solicitation without extending the Expiration Date with respect to the Exchange Offer, and vice versa.

When will the interest on the New Notes be determined?

The coupon rate for the New Money Dollar Notes, paid semi-annually, will be no less than 6.000% per year.

The coupon rate for the New Money Euro Notes, paid semi-annually, will be no less than 4.625% per year.

The New Money Dollar Notes and the New Money Euro Notes will be sold at or above par. The final coupon rate of each of the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes will be set forth in an announcement to be released promptly after the Time of Pricing. If the Concurrent New Money Issuance is consummated, the final coupon rate of each of the Dollar Exchange Notes and the Euro Exchange Notes will be equal to the coupon rate set for the New Money Dollar Notes or the New Money Euro Notes, as applicable, at the Time of Pricing. If the Concurrent New Money Issuance is not consummated with respect to any or both of the New Money Dollar Notes or the New Money Euro Notes, the final coupon rate of the Dollar Exchange Notes and/or the Euro Exchange Notes, as the case may be, will be determined by the Company at the Time of Pricing and will be equal to or greater than the minimum coupon rate set forth on the cover page of this Exchange Offer Memorandum with respect to the relevant Exchange Notes.

We expect to price and announce the pricing terms of the Concurrent New Money Issuance on the business day following the Expiration Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter or, if we decide not to proceed with the Concurrent New Money Issuance (or any portion thereof), we will announce such decision as soon as practicable following such decision being made. There can be no assurance that the Concurrent New Money Issuance will price at all, and, if it does price, whether it will price with respect to the New Money Dollar Notes or the New Money Euro Notes or both.

Under what circumstances can the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation be extended, amended or terminated?

We reserve the right to extend the Expiration Date in our absolute discretion and regardless of whether any events preventing satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation shall have occurred or shall have been determined by us to have occurred, in which case the Expiration Date will be the latest time and date to which such time and date is extended. During any extension of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, all Existing Notes previously validly tendered and not validly withdrawn, and Consents previously validly delivered and not validly revoked, will remain subject to the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.

We will announce any extension of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation (a) by posting a press release on our website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants, no later than 9:00 a.m., London time, on the first business day after the previously scheduled Expiration Date, as applicable. Each of these means shall be deemed to constitute effective notice to the Holders of extension of the Expiration Date as described in such announcement. We reserve the right, in our absolute discretion to:

- i. terminate the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, including if a condition to our obligation to exchange Existing Notes for Exchange Notes or to accept the related Deemed Consents is not satisfied or waived prior to the Expiration Date; and
- ii. amend or modify the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, or waive any condition precedent to the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, except for the Exchange Consummation Condition to the Consent Solicitation, which we cannot waive.

Any waiver, amendment or modification of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, including any change in the consideration, will apply to all Existing Notes previously validly tendered and to all consents previously validly delivered.

We will announce any extension of, termination of, amendment of or waiver of a condition precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation (a) by posting a press release on our website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants, no later than 9:00 a.m., London time, on the first business day after the our decision to extend, terminate, amend or waive, as applicable. Each of these means shall be deemed to constitute effective notice to the Holders of extension, the termination, amendment or waived described in such announcement.

If we amend the terms of or waive conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation or change the information concerning the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, in ways that are materially prejudicial to Holders in the Company's opinion (following consultation with the Dealer Managers), or as otherwise required by law, we will promptly disseminate disclosure regarding such amendment, waiver or change in information and extend the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation to the extent described in "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders" or "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Consent Solicitation—Revocation of Consents".

When will the Company issue the Exchange Notes?

Assuming the conditions to the Exchange Offer are satisfied or waived, we will issue the Exchange Notes on the Settlement Date. We expect that the settlement of the Exchange Offer, including the delivery and payment of the Exchange Consideration, will occur will occur on or about the seventh business day following the Expiration Date (according to the calendar of public and bank holidays of England & Wales), such Settlement Date being April 3, 2018, unless the Exchange Offer is extended or terminated earlier. The Settlement Date may be modified at our sole discretion after the Expiration Date.

What happens if some or all of my Existing Notes and the related Consents are rejected?

We will return any Existing Notes that we do not accept for exchange for any reason without expense to their tendering Eligible Holder promptly after the expiration or termination of the Exchange Offer.

Will I have to pay any fees or commissions if I tender my Existing Notes and deliver related consents in the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation?

If your Existing Notes are held through a broker or other nominee who tenders the Existing Notes on your behalf, your broker may charge you a commission for doing so. You should consult with your broker or nominee to determine whether any charges apply. Otherwise, you will not be required to pay any fees or commissions to us, the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent in connection with the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.

How do I tender my Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer?

If you are an Eligible Holder holding the Existing Notes through Euroclear and Clearstream or through fiduciary holding accounts and you wish to participate in the Exchange Offer, you must tender your Existing Notes pursuant to the procedures described herein by way of an electronic instruction, which must be submitted or delivered through the relevant Clearing System by each Eligible Holder of the Existing Notes who is shown in the records of such Clearing System as a Holder of an interest in the Existing Notes, authorizing delivery of your tender to exchange the Existing Notes that are the subject of such electronic instruction (the "Tender Instruction").

Only direct participants in Euroclear or Clearstream may submit Tender Instructions. If you are not a direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream, you must contact your broker, dealer, bank, custodian, trust company or other nominee to arrange for its direct participant through which you hold Existing Notes to submit a Tender Instruction on your behalf to the relevant Clearing System prior to the deadline specified by the relevant Clearing System.

Eligible Holders are advised to check with any broker, dealer, bank, custodian, trust company or other nominee or other intermediary through which they hold Existing Notes whether such intermediary needs to receive instructions from an Eligible Holder before the deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum in order for that Eligible Holder to be able to participate in, or withdraw Tender Instruction to participate in, the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation before the deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. The deadlines set by each Clearing System for the submission and withdrawal of Tender Instructions will be earlier than the relevant deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum.

Any Eligible Holder that gives Tender Instructions on behalf of a beneficial holder must give separate Tender Instructions with respect to each of its beneficial holders. Eligible Holders who intend to make different elections with respect to portions of their or their beneficial holder's holding of Existing Notes must deliver separate Tender Instructions with respect to each such portion.

Any Tender Instruction must be given with respect to Existing Dollar Notes in a minimum principal amount of $200,000 or integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. Any Tender Instruction must be given with respect to Existing Euro Notes in a minimum principal amount of €100,000 or integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof.

Upon giving Tender Instructions with respect to any Existing Notes, those Existing Notes will be blocked and may not be transferred until such Instructions are validly withdrawn or the Exchange Offer is modified or terminated so as to result in a cancellation of such Instructions.

Each Tender Instruction, by which Eligible Holders are to effect the tender of their Existing Notes and thereby deliver Deemed Consents with respect to such Existing Notes, should include (a) the name of the direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream and the securities account number for the Euroclear or Clearstream in which the tendered Existing Notes are held, as the case may be, (b) the aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes which the Eligible Holder wishes to tender and thereby deliver Deemed Consents with respect to, (c) an authorization of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, to block the Existing Notes properly tendered so that no transfers may be effected in relation to such Existing Notes at any time from and including the date on which such Eligible Holder submits its Tender Instruction until the earlier of the termination or withdrawal of the Exchange Offer and the settlement of the Exchange Offer on the Settlement Date, all in accordance with the normal procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream and after taking into account the deadlines imposed by Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, and (e) the Existing Notes (including international securities identification number ("ISIN") to which the Tender Instruction refers.

The tendering of Existing Notes, and delivery thereby of the Deemed Consents with respect to such Existing Notes, in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have occurred upon receipt by the Information Agent from Euroclear or Clearstream of a valid Tender Instruction submitted in accordance with the requirements of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be. The receipt of such Tender Instruction by Euroclear or Clearstream may be acknowledged in accordance with the standard practices of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be.

How do I deliver Consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation?

If you are a Holder (including Eligible Holders who do not elect to tender their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer) and you wish to deliver consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation, you must validly deliver a Consent Instruction on or prior to the Expiration Date and before the deadlines set by Euroclear and Clearstream (unless this Consent Solicitation is terminated earlier). Holders must indicate the aggregate principal amount of such Existing Notes to which the Consent relates. The Holder will receive the applicable Consent Fee for only that portion of such Existing Notes to which the Consent relates. Holders must also indicate (i) whether the Holder wishes to consent to the Proposed Amendments, and (ii) the name and securities account number for Euroclear or Clearstream in which the Existing Notes are held.

Notwithstanding that the Consents are delivered by each Holder by means of a Consent Instruction, each Holder thereby agrees that such Consent Instruction constitutes a written consent to the Proposed Amendments.

The receipt of such Consent Instruction by Euroclear or Clearstream may be acknowledged in accordance with the standard practices of Euroclear or Clearstream. For the avoidance of doubt, any such acknowledgement does not constitute an acceptance of the Consent by or on behalf of the Company. A Holder may consent by submitting a valid Instruction to the relevant Clearing System in accordance with the requirements of the relevant Clearing System.

The Consent by a Holder will, on acceptance of the Consent by the Company, constitute a binding agreement between such Holder and the Company in accordance with the terms, and subject to the conditions, set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and in the Consent Instruction, as the case may be.

All Consents will be made on the basis of the terms set out in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and, once made in the manner described above, will be irrevocable and binding on the relevant Holder at or after the Consent Effective Time. Consents may only be made by submission of a valid Consent Instruction to the relevant Clearing System no later than the Expiration Date. The Consent Instruction must contain:

- the aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes with respect to which the Holder wishes to deliver a Consent, such amount of Existing Notes, in order to be valid, being in minimum denominations of $200,000 and multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof or €100,000 and multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, as applicable; and
- the name of the direct participant, the securities account number for Euroclear or Clearstream in which the Existing Notes are held.

All of this information in the Consent Instruction will be disclosed to us, the Solicitation Agents, the Existing Notes Trustee and the Information Agent.

Upon giving Consent Instructions with respect to any Existing Notes, those Existing Notes will be blocked and may not be transferred until such Consent Instructions are validly withdrawn or the Consent Solicitation is modified or terminated so as to result in a cancellation of such Consent Instructions.

Will the Exchange Notes be freely tradable?

The transfer of the Exchange Notes is restricted. The Exchange Notes will not be registered under, and the Company is not obligated to register the Exchange Notes under, the Securities Act or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction and, unless so registered, may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any other applicable laws. See “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Notice to Investors.” We have not agreed to or otherwise undertaken to register the New Notes, and we have no intention to do so. Furthermore, During the 40-day “distribution compliance period” (as such term is defined in Rule 902 of Regulation S under the Securities Act) following the Settlement Date, book-entry interests in the Notes may be transferred only to non-U.S. persons as defined under Regulation S. There can be no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any market for the New Notes. See “Risk Factors.”

May I withdraw my tender of, and revoke my Deemed Consent with respect to, Existing Notes?

All Exchange Offer Instructions will be irrevocable except under certain limited circumstances described below. Tenders of Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer may not be withdrawn, and the Deemed Consents in connection with such tenders may not be revoked, except under certain limited circumstances below.

We will grant withdrawal rights to Eligible Holders who have validly tendered their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer only to the extent (i) required by applicable law or (ii) that any amendments to the terms of the Exchange Offer are materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders in our opinion (following consultation with the Dealer Managers). We will not grant withdrawal rights in the event that we, among other things, (a) extend the Expiration Date of the Exchange Offer with respect to all or some of the Existing Notes, (b) terminate all or any part of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, (c) waive any conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer, (d) waive any conditions precedent to the Consent Solicitation, other than the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition or (e) make any other change to the terms of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation set out in this Exchange Offer Memorandum which are not materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders or Holders, as applicable, in our opinion after consultation with the Dealer Managers.

The valid withdrawal of tendered Existing Notes from the Exchange Offer will be deemed valid revocation of the related Deemed Consents. Eligible Holders may not validly revoke Deemed Consents unless such they validly withdraw their previously tendered Existing Notes.

Eligible Holders may not validly revoke Deemed Consents unless such Holders validly withdraw such Holders' previously tendered Existing Notes. The valid withdrawal of Eligible Holders' tenders of Existing Notes will constitute the concurrent valid revocation of such Holders' Deemed Consents. As result, Eligible Holders who validly withdraw previously tendered Existing Notes will not receive any part of the Exchange Consideration Any withdrawal of previously tendered Existing Notes otherwise than in accordance with the provisions described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum will not constitute valid revocation of such Eligible Holders' Deemed Consents.

May I revoke my consent with respect to Existing Notes?

Consents may be revoked by a Holder participating in the Consent Solicitation at any time prior to, but not after, the earlier of the Consent Effective Time and the Expiration Date.

Deemed Consents provided in connection with Existing Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer may not be withdrawn at any time, except under certain limited circumstances described in "Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders."

If I am not an Eligible Holder, may I participate in the Consent Solicitation based on this Exchange Offer Memorandum?

No. All documentation relating to the Consent Solicitation and any updates is available via the following Consent Only Website: <https://sites.dfkingltd.com/softbank/consent/>.

To whom should I direct any questions?

Questions about the terms of the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation should be directed to the Dealer Managers and the Information Agent. If you have questions regarding tender or consent procedures or require additional copies of this Exchange Offer Memorandum, please contact the Information Agent. Contact information for Dealer Managers and the Information Agent is set forth on the back cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Beneficial owners may also contact their brokers, dealers, commercial banks, trust companies or other nominee for assistance concerning the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any cash proceeds from the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation. Any Existing Notes exchanged in connection with the Exchange Offer will be delivered to the Existing Notes Trustee for cancellation.

We intend to apply the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, to fund the payment of the consent fee and other related transaction costs in connection with the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation and the Concurrent New Money Issuance and to use any remaining proceeds for general corporate purposes. To the extent the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, are insufficient, we expect to pay the consent fee and related transaction costs for the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation using cash on hand.

DESCRIPTION OF THE EXCHANGE OFFER AND THE CONSENT SOLICITATION

General

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, we are offering to Eligible Holders (i) to exchange any and all outstanding Existing Dollar Notes for newly issued Dollar Exchange Notes at the relevant Exchange Ratio and (ii) to exchange any and all outstanding Existing Euro Notes for newly issued Euro Exchange Notes at the relevant Exchange Ratio. All Eligible Holders whose Existing Notes are validly tendered and accepted will (if applicable) also receive a Fractional Note Cash Payment equal to the fractional portion of the aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes that each such Holder would be entitled to receive as a result of the application of the relevant Exchange Ratio that is not an integral multiple of $1,000 or €1,000, a Deemed Consent Payment of $10 or €10, for each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount of Existing Notes tendered and an Accrued Interest Cash Payment equal to the accrued and unpaid interest on the Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange from January 30, 2018, the last applicable interest payment date of the Existing Notes, up to but excluding the Settlement Date.

Concurrent with the Exchange Offer, we are soliciting consents from all Holders to amend the terms of the Existing Notes Indenture. The Proposed Amendments would amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the indenture governing our senior notes issued on September 19, 2017. The Proposed Amendments together constitute a single proposal and a consenting Holder must consent to the Proposed Amendments as an entirety and may not consent selectively with respect to certain of the Proposed Amendments, but not others. For a description of the Proposed Amendments, see “Description of the Proposed Amendments.” Eligible Holders who tender their Existing Notes for exchange in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have provided their Deemed Consent to the Proposed Amendments. All Holders (including non-Eligible Holders (as defined below) to whom no Exchange Offer is made) have the option with respect to any particular holding of Existing Notes to participate in the Consent Solicitation without participating in the Exchange Offer, but Eligible Holders may not participate in the Exchange Offer without consenting to the Proposed Amendments.

Concurrent with the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, we may offer New Notes in the Concurrent New Money Issuance, consisting of (i) New Money Dollar Notes, having the same terms as and constituting a single class of debt securities with the Dollar Exchange Notes for all purposes under the New Notes Indenture, and (ii) New Money Euro Notes, having the same terms as the Euro Exchange Notes and constituting a single class of debt securities with the Euro Exchange Notes for all purposes under the New Notes Indenture. We retain the right in its sole discretion to increase the aggregate principal amount of each series of New Money Notes offered in the Concurrent New Money Issuance. We intend to apply the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, to fund the payment of the consent fee and other related transaction costs in connection with the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation and the Concurrent New Money Issuance and to use any remaining proceeds for general corporate purposes. To the extent the proceeds of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any, are insufficient, we expect to pay the consent fee and related transaction costs for the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation using cash on hand.

The table below sets out the Exchange Price offered in exchange for each US$1,000 or €1,000 in principal amount of Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange, as applicable, and the amount of Consent Fee offered for each US$1,000 or €1,000 in principal amount of Existing Notes, as applicable, for which the Eligible Holder validly delivers (and does not validly revoke) a Consent or Deemed Consent on or prior to the Expiration Date. It is expected that any Exchange Price and Consent Fee due will be paid on the Settlement Date if the conditions precedent described below are met or waived. We will not be obligated to pay any Exchange Price or Consent Fee if the conditions precedent below are not met (or not waived by us).

Purpose of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation

The purpose of the Exchange Offer is to extend the average maturity of our obligations under the Existing Notes by refinancing those obligations with Exchange Notes having a longer tenor.

The purpose of the Consent Solicitation is to streamline and align our and the Initial Note Guarantor's obligations under the Existing Notes Indenture to the 2017 Notes Indenture and to provide ourselves with the corresponding flexibility to pursue our strategic objectives under the Existing Notes Indenture.

Terms of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, we are offering to exchange the outstanding Existing Dollar Notes for Exchange Dollar Notes, and the outstanding Existing Euro Notes for Exchange Euro Notes. Exchange Dollar Notes will be issued on the same terms and form a single class of notes under the New Notes Indenture with any New Money Dollar Notes issued as part of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any. Exchange Euro Notes will be issued on the same terms and form a single class of notes under the New Notes Indenture with any New Money Euro Notes issued as part of the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any. For a detailed description of the Exchange Notes, refer to "Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Description of the Notes." Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, we will accept all Existing Notes validly tendered in accordance with the procedures set forth under "—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Procedures for Tendering Existing Notes" and not properly withdrawn in accordance with the procedures set forth under "—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders". The settlement of the Exchange Offer and our acceptance of Existing Notes that are so tendered is subject to, among other things, the conditions precedent described under "—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Conditions to the Exchange Offer".

Tenders of Existing Dollar Notes will be accepted only in principal amounts equal to a minimum of $200,000 and whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof and tenders of Existing Euro Notes will be accepted only in principal amounts equal to a minimum of €100,000 and whole multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof. Exchange Dollar Notes will be issued in minimum denominations of $200,000 and whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof and Exchange Euro Notes will be issued in minimum denominations of €100,000 and whole multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof. We will not accept any tender that would result in the issuance of Exchange Dollar Notes having a principal amount of less than $200,000 or of Exchange Euro Notes having a principal amount of less than €100,000. The principal amount of Exchange Notes issued to each tendering Eligible Holder for all Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange will be rounded down, if necessary, to $200,000 or the nearest whole multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof or €100,000 or the nearest whole multiple of €1,000 in excess thereof, as applicable.

Eligible Holders of Existing Notes validly tendered in the Exchange Offer and accepted by us will waive any and all rights with respect to such Existing Notes (other than the right to receive all of the relevant components of the Exchange Consideration) and will release and discharge us from any and all claims such Holder may have, now or in the future, arising out of or related to such Existing Notes.

Concurrently with the Exchange Offer, we are soliciting the consent (each, a "Consent") of Holders of the Existing Notes to amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture (the "Proposed Amendments"). For a description of the Proposed Amendments, see "Description of the Proposed Amendments." Consents of Holders of at least a majority of the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes voting as a single class is required in order for the Proposed Amendments to be adopted (the "Requisite Consents"). Eligible Holders who validly tender any Existing Notes prior to the Expiration Date will be deemed to have delivered a Consent (each, a "Deemed Consent") in respect of such Existing Notes.

In order to receive the Consent Fee (including any Deemed Consent Payment), (i) Eligible Holders must validly tender their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer or (ii) Holders must validly deliver their Consents to the Proposed Amendments, in each case, prior to the Expiration Date. Any Eligible Holder of Existing Notes who tenders Existing Notes prior to the Expiration Date will be deemed to have consented to the Proposed Amendments with respect to such tendered Existing Notes. Eligible Holders, however, may deliver Consents to the Proposed Amendments in the Consent Solicitation without tendering their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer prior to the Expiration Date. Eligible Holders who deliver Consents only in respect of the Consent Solicitation are unable to subsequently tender their Existing Notes for exchange, unless such Consent Instruction is first withdrawn and tender is provided prior to the Expiration Date.

The Proposed Amendments will become effective upon receipt of the Requisite Consents and the execution of a supplemental indenture (the “Supplemental Indenture”), but will not become operative until the Consent Fee (including any Deemed Consent Payment) is paid in accordance with the terms of the Consent Solicitation. The Proposed Amendments constitute a single proposal. A consenting Holder must deliver a Consent to the Proposed Amendments in their entirety, a tendering Eligible Holder will be deemed to have delivered a Deemed Consent to the Proposed Amendments in their entirety and they may not deliver a Consent or Deemed Consent selectively with respect to certain portions of the Proposed Amendments, but not others. If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture and satisfaction of the other conditions described herein, the Proposed Amendments will bind all Holders, including those that did not give their Consent or Deemed Consent. If the Consent Solicitation is terminated for any reason, or if the Requisite Consents have not been delivered prior to the Expiration Date, all Consents and Deemed Consents will be voided and the Proposed Amendments will not be effective.

Upon receipt of the Requisite Consents, we intend to (a) deliver an Officers’ Certificate to the Existing Notes Trustee confirming that we have obtained the Requisite Consents; (b) instruct the Information Agent to deliver written confirmation of the Requisite Consents to the Existing Notes Trustee as soon as practicable after the Expiration Date; and (c) direct the Existing Notes Trustee to execute and deliver a supplemental indenture to the Existing Notes Indenture to give effect to the Proposed Amendments and to do all other things necessary or desirable in order to give effect thereto.

Expiration Date; Extensions; Settlement Date

The Expiration Date, being the deadline for the receipt of all valid tenders of Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer and the receipt of all valid Consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation, will be 4:00 p.m., London time, on March 21, 2018. We reserve the right to extend that time and date with respect to either or both of the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation in our absolute discretion and regardless of whether any events preventing satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation shall have occurred or shall have been determined by us to have occurred, in which case the Expiration Date will be the latest time and date to which such time and date is extended. During any extension of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, all Existing Notes previously validly tendered and not validly withdrawn, and Consents previously validly delivered and not validly revoked, will remain subject to the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation.

We will announce any extension of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation (a) by posting a press release on our website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants, no later than 9:00 a.m., London time, on the first business day after the previously scheduled Expiration Date, as applicable. Each of these means shall be deemed to constitute effective notice to the Holders of extension of the Expiration Date as described in such announcement.

To the extent not previously executed, and subject to the receipt of the Requisite Consents, we, the Initial Note Guarantor and the Existing Notes Trustee will execute the Supplemental Indenture on the Expiration Date.

We expect that the Settlement Date will be the seventh business day following the Expiration Date (according to the calendar of public and bank holidays of England & Wales), being April 3, 2018, unless the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation are extended or terminated earlier. The Settlement Date may be modified at our sole discretion after the Expiration Date.

Amendments; Waivers; Termination

We reserve the right, in our absolute discretion to:

- terminate the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, including if a condition to our obligation to exchange Existing Notes for Exchange Notes or to accept the related Deemed Consents is not satisfied or waived prior to the Expiration Date; and
- amend or modify the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, or waive any condition precedent to the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation, except for the Exchange Consummation Condition to the Consent Solicitation, which we cannot waive.

Any waiver, amendment or modification of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, including any change in the consideration, will apply to all Existing Notes previously validly tendered and to all consents previously validly delivered.

We will announce any termination of, amendment of or waiver of a condition precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation (a) by posting a press release on our website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants, no later than 9:00 a.m., London time, on the first business day after the our decision to terminate, amend or waive, as applicable. Each of these means shall be deemed to constitute effective notice to the Holders of the termination, amendment or waived described in such announcement.

If we amend the terms of or waive conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation or change the information concerning the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, in ways that are materially prejudicial to Holders in the Company's opinion (following consultation with the Dealer Managers), or as otherwise required by law, we will promptly disseminate disclosure regarding such amendment, waiver or change in information and extend the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation to the extent described in "—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders" or "—Additional Terms of the Consent Solicitation—Revocation of Consents".

We will return any Existing Notes that we do not accept for exchange for any reason without expense to their tendering Eligible Holder promptly after the expiration or termination of the Exchange Offer.

Determination of Validity

All questions as to the validity, form, eligibility (including time of receipt) and acceptance for exchange of any tendered Existing Notes or of Consents delivered pursuant to any of the procedures described below, and the form and validity (including time of receipt of notices of withdrawal) of all documents will be determined by us in our sole discretion, which determination will be final and binding. We reserve the absolute right to reject any or all such tenders of any Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer and delivery thereby of Deemed Consents or any or all such Consents delivered pursuant to the Consent Solicitation, as we determine in our opinion not to be in proper form or to be unlawful.

Tenders of Existing Notes or Consents delivered will not be deemed to have been validly made until we have cured or waived all defects or irregularities in such tenders or Consents. Neither we, the Dealer Managers, the Information Agent or any other person or entity is under any duty to give notification of any defects or irregularities in any tender or withdrawal of any Existing Notes or delivery or revocation of any Consent, or will incur any liability for failure to give any such notification.

Information Agent

D.F. King Ltd. has been appointed as the Information Agent for the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation. Questions concerning tender procedures and requests for additional copies of this Exchange Offer Memorandum should be directed to the Information Agent at the address and telephone numbers listed on the back cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Holders of Existing Notes may also contact their broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee for assistance concerning the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation. We will pay the Information Agent reasonable and customary fees for its services and will reimburse it for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. We have agreed to indemnify the Information Agent against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the federal securities laws.

Dealer Managers

We have retained Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, Merrill Lynch International and Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc to act as the Dealer Managers for the Exchange Offer and Solicitation Agents for the Consent Solicitation. We will pay a fee to the Dealer Managers for soliciting acceptances of the Exchange Offer. We will reimburse the Dealer Managers for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses, including the reasonable expenses and disbursements of their legal counsel. The obligations of the Dealer Managers to perform their functions are subject to various conditions. We have agreed to indemnify the Dealer Managers against various liabilities, including various liabilities under the federal securities laws. Questions regarding the terms of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation may be directed to Dealer Managers at their applicable address and telephone number listed on the back cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum.

Some of the Dealer Managers and their affiliates have from time to time performed, and may in the future perform, various investment banking, financial advisory, commercial banking, agency and trustee and other commercial services for us or our affiliates. They have received, or may in the future receive, customary fees and commissions for these services. Some of the Dealer Managers and their respective affiliates are lenders under the Senior Term Loan, expect to be lenders under the Margin Loan Agreement, have made loans to certain of our affiliates and have entered into various hedging arrangements with us or our affiliates.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the Dealer Managers and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of ours or our affiliates. The Dealer Managers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with us routinely hedge their credit exposure to us consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such Dealer Managers and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in our securities, including potentially the New Notes. Any such short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the New Notes. The Dealer Managers and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

Solely for the purposes of the product approval process of each Dealer Manager (each, a “manufacturer”), the target market assessment in respect of the New Notes described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for such New Notes is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) all channels for distribution of such New Notes to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. The target market and distribution channel(s) may vary in relation to sales outside the EEA in light of local regulatory regimes in force in the relevant jurisdiction. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending such New Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturers’ target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of such New Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers’ target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

None of the Dealer Managers makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of any of the information in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. Furthermore, none of the Dealer Managers is making any recommendation as to whether or not you should tender your Existing Notes or deliver a Consent in connection with the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation. Each person receiving this Exchange Offer Memorandum acknowledges that such person has not relied on the Dealer Managers in connection with its investigation of the accuracy of such information or its investment decision. Each person contemplating accepting the Exchange Offer as providing its consent and making an investment in the New Notes must make its own investigation and analysis of the creditworthiness of the Company and its own determination of the suitability of such investment, with particular reference to its own investment objectives and experience, and any other factors that may be relevant to it in connection with such investment.

None of the Dealer Managers or any of their respective affiliates or agents makes any representation about the legality of the acceptance of the Exchange Offer or the acquisition of the New Notes by an investor under applicable investment or similar laws. None of the Dealer Managers or any of their respective affiliates or agents makes any recommendation as to whether Eligible Holders of Existing Notes should tender Existing Notes pursuant to the Exchange Offer and, if given or made, any such recommendation may not be relied upon as authorized by the Dealer Managers or any of their respective affiliates or agents. Each prospective investor is advised to consult its own counsel and business adviser as to legal, business and related matters concerning the acceptance of the Exchange Offer and the New Notes. The contents of this Exchange Offer Memorandum are not to be construed as legal, business or tax advice.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the Dealer Managers accepts any responsibility for the contents of this Exchange Offer Memorandum or for any statement made or purported to be made therein. The Dealer Managers accordingly disclaim all and any liability, whether arising in tort or contract or otherwise which they might otherwise have in respect of this Exchange Offer Memorandum or any such statement. Neither the Dealer Managers, nor any of their affiliates, agents, directors, officers and employees accepts any responsibility to any person for any acts or omissions of the Company, the Initial Note Guarantor or any of their affiliates, agents, directors, officers or employees relating to the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the New Notes Indenture, the New Notes or any other document executed in connection with the Exchange Offer, the Consent Solicitation or the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any.

The Dealer Managers are only acting for SoftBank Group Corp. and SoftBank Corp. in connection with the Transactions referred to in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and no one else and will not be responsible to anyone other than SoftBank Group Corp. and SoftBank Corp. for providing the protections offered to clients of the Dealer Managers or for providing advice in relation to the Transactions, this document or any arrangement or other matter referred to herein.

Certain Consequences to Holders of Existing Notes Not Participating in the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation

Consummation of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation may have adverse consequences to Holders who elect not to participate. In particular, the trading market for Existing Notes that are not exchanged could become more limited than the existing trading market for the Existing Notes and could cease to exist altogether due to the reduction in the amount of the Existing Notes outstanding upon consummation of the Exchange Offer. A more limited trading market might adversely affect the liquidity, market price and price volatility of the Existing Notes. We cannot assure you that ratings on the Existing Notes will be maintained.

The Proposed Amendments would amend certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to conform them to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture. Holders who do not consent to the Proposed Amendments or tender their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer and the Holders whose Consents or tenders are validly revoked or withdrawn before the Consent Effective Time or the Expiration Date will not receive a Consent Fee or a Deemed Consent Payment even though the Proposed Amendments, if they become effective and operative, will be binding on them and any transferee of the Existing Notes. Failure to deliver a Consent or a Deemed Consent will have the same effect as if a Holder had voted “No” to the Proposed Amendments. If the Proposed Amendments become operative, holders of Existing Notes that remain outstanding after the completion of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation will no longer be entitled to the benefits of the previously effective and operative provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture that are modified by the Proposed Amendments. The amendment of these provisions will permit us to take certain actions previously prohibited without needing to obtain the consent of any Holder, which could be materially adverse to the interest of the Holders. Those actions could increase the credit risks associated with us, as well as adversely affect the market price and credit rating of the Existing Notes that remain outstanding. See “Risk Factors.”

Future Purchases and Exchanges of Existing Notes by the Company

Following the consummation of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, we may acquire additional Existing Notes that remain outstanding in the open market, or any other outstanding debt, in privately negotiated transactions, in new exchange offers, by optional redemption under the terms of the Existing Notes Indenture or otherwise. Future purchases, exchanges or redemptions of Existing Notes that remain outstanding after the Exchange Offer may be on terms that are more or less favorable than the Exchange Offer. Future purchases, exchanges and redemptions, if any, will depend on many factors, which include market conditions and the condition of our business.

Announcements

The announcement of the commencement of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, the final aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange, the final aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes with respect to which the Holders have given Consents, the final total aggregate principal amount of the Exchange Notes to be issued, and the settlement of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation and all other announcements in connection with the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation may be made (a) by posting a press release on the Company’s website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants. Each of these means shall be deemed to constitute effective notice to the Holders of the events described in such announcement. Significant delays may be experienced in publishing notices through the Clearing Systems and the Holders are urged therefore to contact the Information Agent for the relevant announcements.

The Company and the Information Agent will announce the outcome of the Exchange Offer and the Company and the Information Agent will announce the outcome of the Consent Solicitation on the dates set out above and in “Timetable.”

Other Fees and Expenses

We will bear the fees and expenses of soliciting tenders and consents for the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation. Tendering Holders will not be required to pay any fee or commission to the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent. If, however, a tendering Holder handles the transaction through its broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee, that Holder may be required to pay brokerage fees or commissions. No brokerage commissions are payable by Holders to the Company, the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent.

Transfer Taxes

We will pay all transfer taxes, if any, applicable to the exchange of Existing Notes pursuant to the Exchange Offer. The tendering Holder, however, will be required to pay any transfer taxes, whether imposed on the registered Holder or any other person, if:

- certificates representing Existing Notes for principal amounts not tendered or accepted for exchange are to be delivered to, or are to be issued in the name of, any person other than the registered Holder of Existing Notes tendered;
- tendered Existing Notes are registered in the name of any person other than the person signing the consent; or
- a transfer tax is imposed for any reason other than the exchange of Existing Notes under the Exchange Offer.

If satisfactory evidence of payment of transfer taxes is not submitted with tendered Existing Notes or the consent, the amount of any transfer taxes will be billed to the tendering Eligible Holder.

Source of Funds for the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation

We intend to fund all cash payments to Holders pursuant to the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, represented by the Exchange Consideration and the Consent Fee, as well as any transaction costs associated with the Transactions, with net cash proceeds from the Concurrent New Money Issuance.

Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer

Eligibility to Participate in the Exchange Offer

The Exchange Offer is being made, and the Exchange Notes and related Note Guarantees are being offered and issued, only to Eligible Offerees who hold Existing Notes through the Clearing Systems (“Eligible Holders”) and who have represented to the Company pursuant to the deemed representations described in “—Representations, Warranties and Covenants of Eligible Holders Tendering Existing Notes” that they are eligible to participate in the Exchange Offer. “Eligible Offerees” are herein defined as persons who satisfy all of the following criteria:

- non-U.S. persons located outside the United States or dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting on a discretionary basis for the benefit or account of non-U.S. persons located outside the United States, as those terms are defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act (“Regulation S”),
- persons other than retail investors in the European Economic Area, defined as a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Insurance Mediation Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive,
- persons (i) who are beneficial owners that are, for Japanese tax purposes, neither individual residents of Japan or Japanese corporations, nor individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations that in either case are specially related persons of the Company as described in Article 6, Paragraph (4) of the Special Taxation Measures Act; and (ii) who are not residents in Japan for Japanese securities law purposes (including a natural person having his/her place of domicile or residence in Japan, a legal person having its main office in Japan or any branch, agency or other office in Japan of a non-resident (irrespective of whether it is legally authorized to represent its principal or not and even if its main office is located in a country other than Japan)),
- non-residents of Canada; provided that a discretionary account held for the benefit or account of a person or company resident in Canada by an investment manager or similar fiduciary outside Canada is not a resident of Canada for this purpose; and
- persons into whose possession the Exchange Offer Memorandum may be lawfully delivered in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which they are located.

By giving Tender Instructions, Holders will be deemed to make a series of representations, warranties and undertakings, which are set out in “—Representations, Warranties and Covenants of Eligible Holders Tendering Existing Notes.” Only Eligible Holders who have, or on whose behalf their brokers, dealers, custodians, trust companies or other nominees have, completed the procedures described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum are eligible to participate in the offers.

For a description of restrictions on resale or transfer of the New Notes, see “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Notice to Investors.”

Exchange Consideration

For each $1,000 or €1,000 principal amount, as the case may be, of outstanding Existing Notes that is validly tendered and accepted for exchange, Eligible Holders will receive consideration (the “Exchange Consideration”) comprised of:

- Dollar Exchange Notes (for Existing Dollar Notes tendered) or Euro Exchange Notes (for Existing Euro Notes tendered), as the case may be, in a principal amount equal to the exchange price (the “Exchange Price”) set forth on the cover of this Exchange Offer Memorandum. References to the “Exchange Ratio” in this Exchange Offer Memorandum are to the ratio of the applicable Exchange Price for each $1,000 or €1,000, as the case may be, of principal amount of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange, expressed as a percentage and rounded to three decimal places. Eligible Holders of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange will receive Exchange Notes in a principal amount (rounded down to the nearest $1,000 or €1,000, as applicable) equal to the product of (x) the aggregate principal amount of each series of such Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted and (y) the Exchange Ratio for the relevant series of Existing Notes.
- if, as a result of the application of the relevant Exchange Ratio, a Holder would be entitled to receive an aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes that is not an integral multiple of $1,000 or €1,000, as applicable, the Company will pay in cash (in the currency of the relevant Exchange Notes) to that Holder on the Settlement Date an amount (the “Fractional Note Cash Payment”) equal to the fractional portion of such aggregate principal amount that is not such an integral multiple;
- a Consent Fee (the “Deemed Consent Payment”) of $10 or €10, for each $1,000 or €1,000 of principal amount of Existing Notes tendered, paid in cash. The Company will make the Deemed Consent Payment in respect of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange even if the Company does not obtain the Requisite Consents or otherwise terminates the Consent Solicitation; and
- a cash payment (the “Accrued Interest Cash Payment”) equal to the accrued and unpaid interest on the Existing Notes tendered and accepted for exchange from January 30, 2018, the last applicable interest payment date of the Existing Notes, up to but excluding the Settlement Date.

If we terminate the Exchange Offer for failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition, we will nonetheless retain the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes and will count such Deemed Consents toward the Requisite Consents for the purposes of the Consent Solicitation. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive the Deemed Consent Payment upon the settlement of the Consent Solicitation, but will not receive any other part of the Exchange Consideration.

If we terminate the Exchange Offer for any other reason, the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes will lapse and be deemed revoked. In this case, such Eligible Holders will receive no Exchange Consideration at all and the Company will no longer be able to settle the Consent Solicitation owing to failure to satisfy the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition.

No other Holders will be entitled to receive the Exchange Consideration.

Conditions to the Exchange Offer

Notwithstanding any other provisions of the Exchange Offer, or any extension of the Exchange Offer, and without limiting our right to otherwise extend, terminate or amend the Exchange Offer in our sole discretion and at any time, we will not be required to accept for exchange or to exchange any Existing Notes validly tendered (and not validly withdrawn) or to deliver any Exchange Consideration if any of the following conditions precedent, which we refer to as the “exchange offer conditions”, is not satisfied or waived by us prior to our acceptance for exchange of Existing Notes validly tendered in the Exchange Offer (and not validly withdrawn):

- (1) with respect to the exchange of Existing Dollar Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by us on the Settlement Date (including Dollar Exchange Notes issuable in exchange for Existing Dollar Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Dollar Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than $350,000,000 (the “Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition”);
- (2) with respect to the exchange of Existing Euro Notes, the aggregate principal amount of New Notes to be issued by the Company on the Settlement Date (including Euro Exchange Notes issuable in

- exchange for Existing Euro Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer and New Money Euro Notes to be issued pursuant to the Concurrent New Money Issuance, if any) being no less than €350,000,000 (the “Euro Notes Minimum Notes Condition” and, together with the Dollar Notes Minimum Notes Condition, the “Minimum Notes Condition”);
- (3) no action or event shall have occurred or been threatened (including a default under any agreement or obligation to which we or any of our affiliates is a party or by which we or any of our affiliates is bound), nor shall any action, proceeding, claim or investigation (whether formal or informal) be pending or have been taken or threatened, nor shall any statute, rule, regulation, judgment, order, stay, decree or injunction have been proposed, promulgated, enacted, entered, enforced or deemed to be applicable to the Exchange Offer or the exchange of Existing Notes under the Exchange Offer by or before any court or governmental, regulatory or administrative agency or instrumentality, domestic or foreign, authority or tribunal, or by any other person, domestic or foreign, that either:
 - (a) challenges the Exchange Offer or might, directly or indirectly, prohibit, prevent, restrict or delay consummation of, or might otherwise adversely affect in any material manner, the Exchange Offer; or
 - (b) in our reasonable judgment, could materially affect the business, operations, condition (financial or otherwise) or prospects of the Company and our affiliates and subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or materially impair the contemplated benefits to us of the Exchange Offer or the exchange of Existing Notes under the Exchange Offer or might be material to Holders in deciding whether to accept the Exchange Offer;
 - (4) there shall not have occurred or be likely to occur any event affecting the business, operations, condition (financial or otherwise) or prospects of the Company, our affiliates or subsidiaries that, in our sole judgment, either (i) is, or is reasonably likely to be, materially adverse to the business, operations, condition (financial or otherwise) or prospects of the Company, our affiliates and subsidiaries, or (ii) would or might prohibit, prevent, restrict or delay consummation of the Exchange Offer;
 - (5) none of the following has occurred:
 - (a) trading generally shall have been suspended or materially limited on the Tokyo Stock Exchange, the New York Stock Exchange, the Nasdaq Global Market, The Hong Kong Stock Exchange, the London Stock Exchange, or the SGX-ST;
 - (b) trading of any securities issued or guaranteed by any of the Company or the Initial Note Guarantor shall have been suspended on any exchange or in any over-the-counter market;
 - (c) a general moratorium on commercial banking activities shall have been declared by U.S. Federal or New York State authorities or by the competent governmental or regulatory authorities in Singapore, Hong Kong, United Kingdom or Japan;
 - (d) a material disruption in securities settlement with respect to Clearstream or Euroclear;
 - (e) any outbreak or escalation of hostilities involving the United States, the United Kingdom, Hong Kong, any member of the European Economic Area or Japan or any other calamity, crisis, or emergency or any change in the financial markets either within or outside the United States that, in our judgment, is material and adverse and makes it impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the Exchange Offer on the terms and in the manner contemplated in this Exchange Offer Memorandum; or
 - (f) exchange controls shall have been imposed by the United States, United Kingdom any member of the European Economic Area, Hong Kong, Singapore or Japan;
 - (6) the Existing Notes Trustee shall not have objected in any respect to, nor have taken any action that could in our reasonable judgment adversely affect the consummation of, the Exchange Offer;
 - (7) approval in principle shall not have been received for the listing and quotation of the Exchange Notes on the SGX-ST;
 - (8) the Exchange Notes shall not be eligible for clearance and settlement through Euroclear and Clearstream; and
 - (9) there exists, in our sole judgment, any actual or threatened legal impediment to the acceptance for exchange of, or exchange of, the Existing Notes, or the consummation of the Exchange Offer.

These conditions precedent are for our benefit only and may be asserted or waived by us in our sole discretion (including any action or inaction by us giving rise to any such condition precedent in whole or in part at any time and from time to time in our sole discretion) without extending the Expiration Date, except as required by law. We have not made any decision as to what circumstances would lead us to waive any such condition precedent and any such waiver would depend on circumstances prevailing at the time of such waiver. We may additionally terminate the Exchange Offer if any of the exchange offer conditions described above are not satisfied at or prior to the Expiration Date. Any determination made by us concerning an event, development or circumstance described or referred to above will be conclusive and binding. Our failure at any time to exercise any of our rights will not be deemed a waiver of any other right, and each right will be deemed an ongoing right which may be asserted by us at any time and from time to time.

If the Supplemental Indenture is executed prior to the Expiration Date at a time when the Exchange Offer has not been terminated, all conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer other than the Minimum Notes Condition will be deemed irrevocably waived by us and we will be deemed to have foregone our right to terminate the Exchange Offer for any reason other than failure to satisfy the Minimum Notes Condition with respect to either the Existing Dollar Notes or the Existing Euro Notes.

If any of the exchange offer conditions are not satisfied, we may, at any time on or prior to the Settlement Date, subject to applicable law:

- terminate the Exchange Offer, return all tendered Existing Notes to participating Eligible Holders and consider all Deemed Consents delivered as part of such tenders as having been revoked; provided that, if we terminate the Exchange Offer for failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition, we will nonetheless retain the Deemed Consents of Eligible Holders who have validly tendered Existing Notes and will count such Deemed Consents toward the Requisite Consents for the purposes of the Consent Solicitation (in which case, such Eligible Holders will receive the Deemed Consent Payment upon the settlement of the Consent Solicitation, but will not receive any other part of the Exchange Consideration);
- modify, extend or otherwise amend the Exchange Offer and retain all tendered Existing Notes and the Deemed Consents delivered thereby until the Expiration Date; or
- waive any unsatisfied conditions precedent with respect to the Exchange Offer and accept all Existing Notes tendered.

Effect of decision to participate in the Exchange Offer

Any tender by an Eligible Holder of Existing Notes (and our subsequent acceptance of such tender) will constitute a binding agreement between that Eligible Holder and the Company, upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation described in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. The acceptance of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation by a tendering Eligible Holder will constitute the agreement by that Holder to the covenants and the making of the representations and warranties contained in the following section.

Each direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream, by tendering their Existing Notes, will be deemed to have given authority to the relevant Clearing System to provide details concerning such direct participant’s identity to the Information Agent.

Each Eligible Holder of Existing Notes that executes tenders pursuant to the procedures of the relevant Clearing System will also be deemed to represent, warrant and agree as set forth under “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Notice to Investors.”

The representations and warranties and agreements of an Eligible Holder tendering Existing Notes shall be deemed to be repeated and reconfirmed on and as of the Expiration Date and the Settlement Date. For the purposes of this Exchange Offer Memorandum, the “beneficial owner” of any Existing Notes shall mean any Holder that exercises sole investment discretion with respect to such Existing Notes.

Procedures for Tendering Existing Notes

To participate in the Exchange Offer, an Eligible Holder must validly tender its Existing Notes for exchange pursuant to the Exchange Offer prior to the Expiration Date pursuant to the procedures described herein. It is the Eligible Holder's responsibility to properly tender its Existing Notes. We have the right to waive any defects. However, we are not required to waive defects and are not required to notify any Eligible Holder of defects in its tender.

If you are an Eligible Holder holding the Existing Notes through Euroclear and Clearstream or through fiduciary holding accounts and you wish to participate in the Exchange Offer, you must tender your Existing Notes pursuant to the procedures described herein by way of an electronic instruction, which must be submitted or delivered through the relevant Clearing System by each Eligible Holder of the Existing Notes who is shown in the records of such Clearing System as a Holder of an interest in the Existing Notes, authorizing delivery of your tender to exchange the Existing Notes that are the subject of such electronic instruction (the "Tender Instruction").

Only direct participants in Euroclear or Clearstream may submit Tender Instructions. If you are not a direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream, you must contact your broker, dealer, bank, custodian, trust company or other nominee to arrange for its direct participant through which you hold Existing Notes to submit a Tender Instruction on your behalf to the relevant Clearing System prior to the deadline specified by the relevant Clearing System.

Eligible Holders are advised to check with any broker, dealer, bank, custodian, trust company or other nominee or other intermediary through which they hold Existing Notes whether such intermediary needs to receive instructions from an Eligible Holder before the deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum in order for that Eligible Holder to be able to participate in, or withdraw Tender Instruction to participate in, the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation before the deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. The deadlines set by each Clearing System for the submission and withdrawal of Tender Instructions will be earlier than the relevant deadlines specified in this Exchange Offer Memorandum.

Any Eligible Holder that gives Tender Instructions on behalf of a beneficial holder must give separate Tender Instructions with respect to each of its beneficial holders. Eligible Holders who intend to make different elections with respect to portions of their or their beneficial holder's holding of Existing Notes must deliver separate Tender Instructions with respect to each such portion.

Any Tender Instruction must be given with respect to Existing Dollar Notes in a minimum principal amount of $200,000 or integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. Any Tender Instruction must be given with respect to Existing Euro Notes in a minimum principal amount of €100,000 or integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof.

Upon giving Tender Instructions with respect to any Existing Notes, those Existing Notes will be blocked and may not be transferred until such Instructions are validly withdrawn or the Exchange Offer is modified or terminated so as to result in a cancellation of such Instructions.

Each Tender Instruction, by which Eligible Holders are to effect the tender of their Existing Notes and thereby deliver Deemed Consents with respect to such Existing Notes, should include (a) the name of the direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream and the securities account number for the Euroclear or Clearstream in which the tendered Existing Notes are held, as the case may be, (b) the aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes which the Eligible Holder wishes to tender and thereby deliver Deemed Consents with respect to, (c) an authorization of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, to block the Existing Notes properly tendered so that no transfers may be effected in relation to such Existing Notes at any time from and including the date on which such Eligible Holder submits its Tender Instruction until the earlier of the termination or withdrawal of the Exchange Offer and the settlement of the Exchange Offer on the Settlement Date, all in accordance with the normal procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream and after taking into account the deadlines imposed by Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, and (e) the Existing Notes (including international securities identification number ("ISIN") to which the Tender Instruction refers.

The tendering of Existing Notes, and delivery thereby of the Deemed Consents with respect to such Existing Notes, in the Exchange Offer will be deemed to have occurred upon receipt by the Information Agent from Euroclear or Clearstream of a valid Tender Instruction submitted in accordance with the requirements of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be. The receipt of such Tender Instruction by Euroclear or Clearstream may be acknowledged in accordance with the standard practices of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be.

No Letter of Transmittal or Consent for Existing Notes

No letter of transmittal or consent need be executed in relation to this Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation with respect to Existing Notes.

Withdrawal of Tenders

All Exchange Offer Instructions will be irrevocable except under certain limited circumstances described below. Tenders of Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer may not be withdrawn, and the Deemed Consents in connection with such tenders may not be revoked, except under certain limited circumstances below.

We will grant withdrawal rights to Eligible Holders who have validly tendered their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer only to the extent (i) required by applicable law or (ii) that any amendments to the terms of the Exchange Offer are materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders in our opinion (following consultation with the Dealer Managers). We will not grant withdrawal rights in the event that we, among other things, (a) extend the Expiration Date of the Exchange Offer with respect to all or some of the Existing Notes, (b) terminate all or any part of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation, (c) waive any conditions precedent to the Exchange Offer, (d) waive any conditions precedent to the Consent Solicitation, other than the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition, or (e) make any other change to the terms of the Exchange Offer or the Consent Solicitation set out in this Exchange Offer Memorandum which are not materially prejudicial to Eligible Holders or Holders, as applicable, in our opinion after consultation with the Dealer Managers.

The valid withdrawal of tendered Existing Notes from the Exchange Offer will be deemed valid revocation of the related Deemed Consents. Eligible Holders may not validly revoke Deemed Consents unless such they validly withdraw their previously tendered Existing Notes.

Eligible Holders may not validly revoke Deemed Consents unless such Holders validly withdraw such Holders' previously tendered Existing Notes. The valid withdrawal of Eligible Holders' tenders of Existing Notes will constitute the concurrent valid revocation of such Holders' Deemed Consents. As result, Eligible Holders who validly withdraw previously tendered Existing Notes will not receive any part of the Exchange Consideration Any withdrawal of previously tendered Existing Notes otherwise than in accordance with the provisions described below will not constitute valid revocation of such Eligible Holders' Deemed Consents.

We will announce the availability of withdrawal rights to Eligible Holders who have submitted Tender Instructions (a) by posting a press release on our website, (b) through publication of a notice on Bloomberg, (c) via SGXNET and/or (d) by the delivery of notices to the Clearing Systems for communication to direct participants, no later than 9:00 a.m., London time, on the first business day after our decision to grant withdrawal rights. In such announcement, we will specify the deadline by which valid withdrawal instructions must be received, which we will determine in our discretion and expect to be 4:00 p.m., London time, on the business day following the date of such announcement.

To be effective, a Tender Instruction validly submitted may only be withdrawn by an Eligible Holder, or the relevant direct participant of the relevant Clearing System on its behalf, by submitting a valid electronic withdrawal instruction in accordance with the requirements of the relevant Clearing System. To be valid, such instruction must specify the Existing Notes to which the original Tender Instruction related, the securities account to which such Existing Notes are credited and any other information required by the relevant Clearing System. A withdrawal of previously properly tendered Existing Notes and a revocation of related Deemed Consents can be accomplished only in accordance with the foregoing procedures. We reserve the right, which may be waived, to reject the defective withdrawal of Existing Notes and revocation of related Deemed Consents as invalid and ineffective.

If an Eligible Holder withdraws tendered Existing Notes, such Eligible Holder may re-tender Existing Notes or deliver Consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation at or prior to the Expiration Time in accordance with the procedures described above for tendering Existing Notes or below for delivering Consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation.

Acceptance of Existing Notes

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Exchange Offer, and assuming we do not otherwise terminate the Exchange Offer, we will accept validly tendered Existing Notes on or prior to the Expiration Date will accept for exchange as soon as practicable after the Expiration Date (and in any event prior to the Settlement Date), any and all of the Existing Notes validly tendered in the Exchange Offer and not validly withdrawn, by notifying the Exchange Agent of our acceptance. We will give such notice in writing.

If any tendered Existing Notes are not accepted for any reason described in the terms and conditions of the Exchange Offer, such rejected Existing Notes will be returned to the tendering Holder at our expense promptly after the expiration or termination of the Exchange Offer. Under no circumstances will we be required to accept Existing Notes for exchange that have not been validly tendered on or prior to the Expiration Date in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. We reserve the absolute right to reject any and all tenders of Existing Notes and deliveries of related consents not in proper form or any Existing Notes the acceptance for exchange of which may, in the opinion of counsel, be unlawful. See “—Procedures for Tendering Existing Notes.”

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation, and assuming that the Exchange Offer or Consent Solicitation are not otherwise terminated by us, on the Settlement Date Eligible Holders of Existing Notes validly tendered in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum prior to the Expiration Date that are accepted by us will receive the Exchange Consideration.

Exchange Notes issued in exchange for Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer will be delivered in book-entry form through the Clearing Systems. The Deemed Consent Payment, the Accrued Interest Cash Payment and the Fractional Note Cash Payment will be made by deposit of funds with the Clearing Systems. Depositing funds with the Clearing Systems will fulfil our obligation. Any delay from the Clearing Systems in crediting these amounts to Eligible Holders will not result in Eligible Holders being eligible for any additional amounts. The Clearing Systems will credit on their respective book-entry registration and transfer systems the relevant participants’ accounts with the interest in the Exchange Notes beneficially owned by such participant on behalf of the tendering Eligible Holders. The Clearing Systems will transmit the cash payments to Eligible Holders.

Consent Fee

The Company will pay the Deemed Consent Payment in respect of Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange even if the Company does not obtain the Requisite Consents or otherwise terminates the Consent Solicitation.

The Consent Fees (including any Deemed Consent Payment) will be paid on the Settlement Date by deposit of funds with the Clearing Systems. Depositing funds with the Clearing Systems will fulfil our obligation. Any delay from the Clearing Systems in crediting these amounts to Holders will not result in Holders being eligible for any additional amounts. The Clearing Systems will credit on their respective book-entry registration and transfer systems the relevant participants' accounts with the interest in the Exchange Notes beneficially owned by such participant on behalf of the tendering Holders. The Clearing Systems will transmit the cash payments to Holders.

Your right to receive the Consent Fee described above is subject to all the conditions precedent set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum. For details of such conditions, see “—Conditions to the Consent Solicitation.”

Conditions to the Consent Solicitation

The settlement of the Consent Solicitation is conditioned on the satisfaction or waiver by us, to the extent permitted, of the following conditions precedent, which we refer to as the “consent solicitation conditions”:

- (1) our receipt of valid consents from Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of Existing Notes, voting as a single class, which is the consent required to effect the Proposed Amendments to the Existing Notes Indenture (the “Requisite Consents”). For the purposes of determining whether the Holders of the requisite principal amount of Existing Notes have consented to the Proposed Amendments, the principal amount of Existing Euro Notes shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of such principal amount of the Existing Euro Notes, calculated at a spot rate for the purchase of U.S. dollars with euro as published by Bloomberg two business days prior to the Consent Effective Time;
- (2) the consummation of the Exchange Offer (the “Exchange Consummation Condition”), unless we terminate the Exchange Offer with respect to the Existing Dollar Notes and/or the Existing Euro Notes due to failure to satisfy the applicable Minimum Notes Condition to the Exchange Offer, in which case the Exchange Consummation Condition will not apply;
- (3) no action or event shall have occurred or been threatened (including a default under any agreement or obligation to which we or any of our affiliates is a party or by which we or any of our affiliates is bound), nor shall any action, proceeding, claim or investigation (whether formal or informal) be pending or have been taken or threatened, nor shall any statute, rule, regulation, judgment, order, stay, decree or injunction have been proposed, promulgated, enacted, entered, enforced or deemed to be applicable to the Consent Solicitation, the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture by or before any court or governmental, regulatory or administrative agency or instrumentality, domestic or foreign, authority or tribunal, or by any other person, domestic or foreign, that either:
 - (a) challenges the Consent Solicitation, the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture or might, directly or indirectly, prohibit, prevent, restrict or delay consummation of, or might otherwise adversely affect in any material manner, the Consent Solicitation, the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture; or
 - (b) in our reasonable judgment, could materially affect the business, operations, condition (financial or otherwise) or prospects of the Company and our affiliates and subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or materially impair the contemplated benefits to us of the Consent Solicitation, the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture or might be material to Holders in deciding whether to deliver their Consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation;
- (4) the Existing Notes Trustee shall have executed and delivered the Supplemental Indenture relating to the Proposed Amendments;
- (5) the Existing Notes Trustee shall not have objected in any respect to, nor have taken any action that could in our reasonable judgment adversely affect, the consummation of the Consent Solicitation the operation of the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, nor shall the Existing Notes Trustee have taken any action that challenges the validity or effectiveness of the procedures used by us in soliciting Consents (including the form thereof) or in making the Consent Solicitation; and
- (6) there exists, in our sole judgment, any actual or threatened legal impediment to the Consent Solicitation, the Proposed Amendments or the execution of the Supplemental Indenture.

These conditions precedent are for our benefit only and may be asserted or waived by us in our sole discretion (including any action or inaction by us giving rise to any such condition precedent in whole or in part at any time and from time to time in our sole discretion) without extending the Expiration Date, except as required by law and except for the Exchange Consummation Condition, which we cannot waive. We have not made any decision as to what circumstances would lead us to waive any such condition precedent and any such waiver would depend on circumstances prevailing at the time of such waiver. We may additionally terminate the Consent Solicitation if any of the consent solicitation conditions described above are not satisfied at or prior to the Expiration Date. Any determination made by us concerning an event, development or circumstance described or referred to above will be conclusive and binding. Our failure at any time to exercise any of our rights will not be deemed a waiver of any other right, and each right will be deemed an ongoing right which may be asserted by us at any time and from time to time.

If any of the consent solicitation conditions are not satisfied, we may, at any time on or prior to the date on which the Supplemental Indenture is operative:

- terminate the Consent Solicitation, in which case the delivered Consents will be of no further force or effect; or
- waive the unsatisfied conditions with respect to the Consent Solicitation, except for the non-waivable Exchange Consummation Condition, in which case the Supplemental Indenture setting forth the Proposed Amendments to the Existing Notes Indenture will be executed on the Consent Effective Time and become operative on the Settlement Date.

In the event that the Required Consents are not obtained prior to the Expiration Date, any other condition set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum is not satisfied and/or waived, or the Consent Solicitation is terminated, none of the Proposed Amendments will become operative and no Consent Fee will be paid to Holders of such Notes. However, if we terminate the Consent Solicitation but consummate the Exchange Offer, the Exchange Consideration received by tendering Eligible Holders in the Exchange Offer will not be reduced or otherwise affected.

It is expected that the Supplemental Indenture will be executed by us, the Initial Note Guarantor and the Existing Notes Trustee promptly following receipt of the Requisite Consents and on or prior to the Expiration Date. The Proposed Amendments will become operative with respect to the Existing Notes Indenture upon payment in full of the Consent Fee (including any Deemed Consent Payment) in accordance with the terms of the Consent Solicitation. The Proposed Amendments will become operative with respect to Existing Notes validly tendered and accepted for exchange immediately prior to the settlement in full of the Exchange Offer.

- (4) the Holder empowers, authorizes, and requests the Existing Notes Trustee to do all such other things as may be necessary or expedient to carry out and give effect to the Consent, the Deemed Consent or the Consent Solicitation Statement; extent applicable in law) upon the successors, assigns, heirs, executors, administrators, trustees in bankruptcy and legal representatives of the consenting or tendering Holder of the Existing Notes and shall not be affected by, and shall survive, the death or incapacity of the consenting or tendering Holder of the Existing Notes;

- (7) the consenting or tendering Holder of the Existing Notes acknowledges that the consenting or tendering holder of the Existing Notes reviewed the offering restrictions set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and that such consenting or tendering Holder of the Existing Notes' participation in the Consent Solicitation does not conflict with such restrictions;

- (9) it is not a Sanctioned Person;
- (10) none of the Company, the Dealer Managers, the Information Agent or the Trustees has given the holder of the Existing Notes any information with respect to the Consent Solicitation save as expressly set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum, nor has any of them made any recommendation to it as to whether it should participate in the Consent Solicitation and the Holder of the Existing Notes has made its own decision with regard to participating in the Consent Solicitation based on any legal, tax or financial advice it has deemed necessary to seek;
- (11) the Holder does hereby release and forever discharge the Existing Notes Trustee, the Dealer Managers, their respective employees, officers, directors, affiliates, and agents, predecessors and successors, of and from any and all manner of actions, causes of actions, suits, debts, dues, accounts, bonds, covenants, contracts, agreements, judgments, claims and demands whatsoever in law or in equity arising from and relating to the execution of the Supplemental Indenture to give effect to the Proposed Amendments and any transactions contemplated in connection with the Consent Solicitation;
- (12) the Holder declares and acknowledges that the Existing Notes Trustee will not be held responsible for any liabilities or consequences arising as a result of acts taken by it or pursuant to the terms of the Consent, the Deemed Consent or the Consent Solicitation Statement and the Holder further declares that the Existing Notes Trustee has no responsibility for the terms of the Consent or the Consent Solicitation Statement nor the payment of any Consent Fee or Deemed Consent Payment; and
- (13) the Holder of the Existing Notes has not distributed or forwarded this Exchange Offer Memorandum or any other documents or materials relating to the Consent Solicitation to any person(s), and it has complied with all laws and regulations applicable to it for the purposes of its participation in the Consent Solicitation.

If the relevant Holder is unable to give the representations and warranties described above, such Holder of any of the Existing Notes should contact the Information Agent.

Each direct participant in Euroclear or Clearstream, by delivering the consents, will be deemed to have given authority to the relevant Clearing System to provide details concerning such direct participant's identity to the Information Agent.

Procedures for Delivering Consent

If you are a Holder (including Eligible Holders who do not elect to tender their Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer) and you wish to deliver consents pursuant to the Consent Solicitation, you must validly deliver a Consent Instruction on or prior to the Expiration Date and before the deadlines set by Euroclear and Clearstream (unless this Consent Solicitation is terminated earlier). Holders must indicate the aggregate principal amount of such Existing Notes to which the Consent relates. The Holder will receive the applicable Consent Fee for only that portion of such Existing Notes to which the Consent relates. Holders must also indicate (i) whether the Holder wishes to consent to the Proposed Amendments, and (ii) the name and securities account number for Euroclear or Clearstream in which the Existing Notes are held.

Notwithstanding that the Consents are delivered by each Holder by means of a Consent Instruction, each Holder thereby agrees that such Consent Instruction constitutes a written consent to the Proposed Amendments.

The receipt of such Consent Instruction by Euroclear or Clearstream may be acknowledged in accordance with the standard practices of Euroclear or Clearstream. For the avoidance of doubt, any such acknowledgement does not constitute an acceptance of the Consent by or on behalf of the Company. A Holder may consent by submitting a valid Instruction to the relevant Clearing System in accordance with the requirements of the relevant Clearing System.

The Consent by a Holder will, on acceptance of the Consent by the Company, constitute a binding agreement between such Holder and the Company in accordance with the terms, and subject to the conditions, set forth in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and in the Consent Instruction, as the case may be.

All Consents will be made on the basis of the terms set out in this Exchange Offer Memorandum and, once made in the manner described above, will be irrevocable and binding on the relevant Holder at or after the Consent Effective Time. Consents may only be made by submission of a valid Consent Instruction to the relevant Clearing System no later than the Expiration Date. The Consent Instruction must contain:

- the aggregate principal amount of the Existing Notes with respect to which the Holder wishes to deliver a Consent, such amount of Existing Notes, in order to be valid, being in minimum denominations of $200,000 and multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof or €100,000 and multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, as applicable; and
- the name of the direct participant, the securities account number for Euroclear or Clearstream in which the Existing Notes are held.

All of this information in the Consent Instruction will be disclosed to us, the Solicitation Agents, the Existing Notes Trustee and the Information Agent.

Upon giving Consent Instructions with respect to any Existing Notes, those Existing Notes will be blocked and may not be transferred until such Consent Instructions are validly withdrawn or the Consent Solicitation is modified or terminated so as to result in a cancellation of such Consent Instructions.

No Letter of Transmittal or Consent for Existing Notes

No letter of transmittal or consent need be executed in relation to this Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation with respect to Existing Notes.

Revocation of Consents

Consents may be revoked by a Holder participating in the Consent Solicitation at any time prior to, but not after, the earlier of the Consent Effective Time and the Expiration Date.

Deemed Consents provided in connection with Existing Notes tendered in the Exchange Offer may not be withdrawn at any time, except under certain limited circumstances described in “Description of the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation—Additional Terms of the Exchange Offer—Withdrawal of Tenders.”

No Guaranteed Delivery

There are no guaranteed delivery procedures provided by us or any other entity making payments on behalf of the Company in connection with the in connection with the Consent Solicitation. Holders must deliver consents in accordance with the procedures set forth herein.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The description of the terms of the Existing Notes Indenture and the Proposed Amendments set forth below is only a summary and is qualified in its entirety by reference to (i) the terms and conditions of the Existing Notes Indenture and the Existing Notes as currently in effect and (ii) the relevant terms of the Existing Notes as proposed to be amended by the Supplemental Indenture. Each Holder should carefully review this entire Exchange Offer Memorandum before providing a consent. Holders may obtain copies of the Existing Notes Indenture without charge from the Information Agent.

Set forth below is a description of the Proposed Amendments. The Proposed Amendments will become effective upon receipt of the Requisite Consents and the execution of a supplemental indenture (the "Supplemental Indenture"), but will not become operative until the Consent Fee (including any Deemed Consent Payment) is paid in accordance with the terms of the Consent Solicitation. The Proposed Amendments constitute a single proposal. A consenting Holder must deliver a Consent to the Proposed Amendments in their entirety, a tendering Eligible Holder will be deemed to have delivered a Deemed Consent to the Proposed Amendments in their entirety and they may not deliver a Consent or Deemed Consent selectively with respect to certain portions of the Proposed Amendments, but not others. If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture and satisfaction of the other conditions described herein, the Proposed Amendments will bind all Holders, including those that did not give their Consent or Deemed Consent. If the Consent Solicitation is terminated for any reason, or if the Requisite Consents have not been delivered prior to the Expiration Date, all Consents and Deemed Consents will be voided and the Proposed Amendments will not be effective.

The Company is soliciting consents from the Holders to conform certain provisions of the Existing Notes Indenture to the corresponding provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture. The Existing Notes Indenture provides that the Company may amend the Existing Notes Indenture with the consent of a majority of the Holders in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Existing Notes, voting as a single class, with certain exceptions not relevant to this Consent Solicitation.

The Proposed Amendments will not alter the maturity date of the Notes or the Company's obligation to make principal and interest payments on the Notes.

The Company is seeking the following amendments to the Existing Notes Indenture (deletions are marked in ~~strike through~~ and additions are underlined). Capitalized terms used herein, unless otherwise defined, shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Existing Notes Indenture.

Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event

The Proposed Amendments would conform the terms of the Existing Notes to those of the 2017 Notes by:

- (1) adding a clarifying exclusion providing that, for the purposes of the Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event covenant, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of (i) interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund limited partnerships or any portfolio assets thereof; or (ii) any investment assets controlled by the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund, in each case, will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor, and accordingly, would not trigger a "Change of Control" potentially obligating the Company and the Note Guarantors to offer to repurchase Existing Notes; and
- (2) amending clause (3) of the definition of "Change of Control" to increase the beneficial ownership threshold at which non-Permitted Holders cause a "Change of Control" by acquiring Voting Stock of the Company to 50.0% under the Proposed Amendments, whereas the Existing Notes Indenture currently requires that such non-Permitted Holders acquire both (i) 33⅓% of the Voting Stock of the Company and (ii) more Voting Stock of the Company than held at such time by the Permitted Holders before triggering the occurrence of a "Change of Control" under such clause.

The Company believes the changes in 1. above are appropriate to accommodate the nature of the investment business conducted by the SoftBank Vision Fund, which is a fixed-term fund that may involve the potential future monetization of significant investment assets. The Company believes the changes in 2. above are consistent with the terms of bonds issued by other comparable issuers, in addition to being consistent with the terms of our 2017 Notes Indenture.

If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, Section 4.11(j) will provide as follows:

(j) The sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of (i) any Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any member of the Alibaba Group; (ii) interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund limited partnerships or any portfolio assets thereof; or (iii) any investment assets controlled by the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund, in each case, will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor.

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the following definitions will be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, in alphabetical order into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

“Change of Control” means the occurrence of any of the following:

 - (a) no Person other than the Permitted Holders or such other Person Beneficially Owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50.0% of the Voting Stock of the Company (or its Successor Entity), and
 - (b) no Person other than the Permitted Holders Beneficially Owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50.0% of the Voting Stock of such other Person, in each case, than is Beneficially Owned by the Permitted Holders (measured by voting power rather than number of shares).

~~For the avoidance of doubt, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of any Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any member of the Alibaba Group will not be deemed to be a Change of Control.~~

capitalized with respect to any capital contribution made by the Company with the proceeds of liquidation of the foregoing funds or the rollover of investment portfolio assets therefrom, in each case, other than from Fund Asset Disposal Gains (and any successor fund to a fund as described in this clause (ii)).

“SoftBank Vision Fund Original Commitment” means the aggregate capital contribution amount committed by the Company as described in the Offering Memorandum of the Company dated September 12, 2017 under “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Cash and Capital Requirements—Commitment to the SVF.”

Negative Pledge

The Proposed Amendments would conform the terms of the Existing Notes to those of the 2017 Notes by:

- (1) expanding the definition of “Permitted Lien” to include an additional category of Permitted Lien not present in the terms of the Existing Notes for Liens on the Capital Stock or other Equity Interests issued by certain project companies that secure Project Finance Indebtedness or Designated Project Finance Indebtedness;
- (2) expanding the definition of “Project Finance Indebtedness” to include, among other things, (i) equity contribution undertakings or similar arrangements providing for the injection of capital or similar support by the Company, a Note Guarantor or a Sponsor to facilitate the achievement of designated project milestones and (ii) certain guarantees by Company or a Note Guarantor that are intended to be released or discharged if completion of the relevant construction or development occurs in accordance with the terms thereof, in each case where such Indebtedness provides for only limited recourse against the Company, such Note Guarantor or such Sponsor, as applicable, and does not expressly obligate such party to make or procure direct payments of principal or interest in respect of such Indebtedness; and
- (3) implementing a new definition for “Designated Project Finance Indebtedness” which means up to $2.0 billion of Indebtedness that (i) is incurred with respect to the ownership, acquisition, construction, development, operation and/or improvement of tangible assets related to renewable electricity generation projects and (ii) allows for no greater recourse to the Company or any Note Guarantor for the payment of any sum relating to such Indebtedness than would, in the good faith determination of the Company, be customary for financings of a similar nature in the jurisdiction where such assets are located.

The Company believes that the amendments in 1.—3. above will increase our financial flexibility and facilitate value creation for investors through the expansion with funding from customary project financings of our energy and telecommunications businesses.

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the following definitions will be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, in alphabetical order into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

“Designated Project Finance Indebtedness” means Indebtedness incurred by a Person other than the Company or a Note Guarantor in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2.0 billion; provided that such Indebtedness (i) is incurred with respect to the ownership, acquisition, construction, development, operation and/or improvement of tangible assets related to renewable electricity generation projects; and (ii) allows for no greater recourse to the Company or any Note Guarantor for the payment of any sum relating to such Indebtedness than would, in the good faith determination of the Company, be customary for financings of a similar nature in the jurisdiction where such assets are located.

“Permitted Lien” means:

- (1) Liens on Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any Excluded Subsidiary or any Person other than a Subsidiary securing Non-Recourse Relevant Indebtedness;
- (2) Liens arising or already arisen automatically by operation of law which are promptly discharged or disputed in good faith by appropriate proceedings;
- (3) Liens created or outstanding in favor of the Company or any Note Guarantor;
- (4) Liens with respect to (a) Relevant Indebtedness that, when taken together with the aggregate principal amount of all other outstanding Relevant Indebtedness secured by Liens incurred pursuant to this clause (4) and any Permitted Refinancing Indebtedness thereof (expressed in the Account Currency), does not exceed 2.0% of the Company’s Consolidated Net Tangible Assets and (b) any Permitted Refinancing Indebtedness of Indebtedness described under sub-clause (a) above;

- (5) Liens on accounts receivables pledged, encumbered or otherwise disposed of pursuant to any receivables financing or asset-backed financing of the Company or any Note Guarantor that consists of Relevant Indebtedness and has a maturity no longer than 180 days from its funding date; ~~or~~
- (6) Liens on tangible assets incurred for the purpose of securing Relevant Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor incurred or assumed to finance the acquisition, construction, development or improvement of tangible assets in the ordinary course of business and any Permitted Refinancing Indebtedness thereof; provided that any such Lien may not extend to any assets or property of the Company or any Note Guarantor other than the tangible assets acquired, improved, developed or constructed with the proceeds of such Relevant Indebtedness and any improvements or accessions to such tangible assets; or
- (7) Liens on Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any Person that incurs Project Finance Indebtedness or Designated Project Finance Indebtedness, and shareholder loans made to such Person, securing such Project Finance Indebtedness or such Designated Project Finance Indebtedness, as applicable; provided that such Person has been established specifically for the purpose of ownership, acquisition, construction, development, operation and/or improvement of the relevant tangible assets and such Person owns no other significant assets and carries on no other business.

“Project Finance Indebtedness” means Indebtedness incurred by any Person (a “Debtor”) other than the Company or a Note Guarantor for the purpose of financing the ownership, acquisition, construction, development, operation and/or improvement of tangible assets in respect of which the creditors have no recourse whatsoever for the payment of any sum relating to such Indebtedness other than:

- (1) recourse to such Debtor or any Subsidiary of such Debtor for amounts limited to such assets and/or the cash flows from such assets;
- (2) recourse to such Debtor generally, or to the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company or any joint venture in which the Company or any its Subsidiaries participate (as applicable, the “Sponsor”), which recourse is limited to a claim for damages (other than liquidated damages and damages required to be calculated in a specific way) for breach of an obligation, representation or warranty (not being a payment obligation, representation or warranty or an obligation to procure payment by another, to comply or to procure compliance by another with any financial ratios or other test of financial condition only) by such Debtor or Sponsor or for gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud by such Debtor or Sponsor or similar cause on such Debtor’s or Sponsor’s side;
- (3) if such Debtor has been established specifically for the purpose of constructing, developing, owning and/or operating the relevant asset and such debtor owns no other significant assets and carries on no other business, recourse to all or any part of the assets and ~~undertaking~~ undertakings of such Debtor and the shares in the capital of such ~~debtor~~ Debtor and shareholder loans made to such Debtor;
- (4) recourse to the Company, any Subsidiary of the Company or any joint venture in which the Company or any its Subsidiaries participate (as applicable, the “Sponsor”) Sponsor pursuant to any form of assurance, undertaking or support, including a keepwell agreement or comfort letter or agreement (including a sponsor support agreement or a keiei shido nensho), entered into in respect of such Project Finance Indebtedness (a “Sponsor Keepwell”); Support Agreement”; provided that such Sponsor ~~Keepwell~~ Support Agreement (i) does not expressly provide for legal recourse to the Company or the Note Guarantors beyond seeking specific performance or damages in respect of obligations of the Sponsor to maintain the solvency or financial health of the Debtor (including after giving effect to the incurrence of such Indebtedness) or the overall soundness of the Debtor’s assets or business or to procure compliance by the Debtor with terms and conditions of such Indebtedness (other than express obligations to procure direct payments proscribed by sub-clause (ii) below) or for gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud by such Sponsor or similar cause on such Sponsor’s side, and (ii) does not expressly obligate the Sponsor to make or procure direct payments of principal or interest (or pay liquidated damages relating to non-payment defaults) in respect of such Indebtedness to the ~~Holders~~ holders thereof; ~~or~~
- (5) recourse to the Company or any Note Guarantor pursuant to any form of assurance, undertaking or support, including a keepwell agreement or comfort letter or agreement

(including a sponsor support agreement or a keiei shido nensho) entered into in respect of the obligations of a Sponsor pursuant to a Sponsor Keepwell Support Agreement as set forth in clause (4) of this definition; provided that such keepwell agreement or comfort letter or agreement (including a sponsor support agreement or a keiei shido nensho) (i) does not expressly provide for legal recourse to the Company or such Note Guarantor beyond seeking specific performance or damages in respect of obligations of the Company or such Note Guarantor to maintain the solvency or financial health of such Sponsor (including after giving effect to the incurrence of Indebtedness under such Sponsor Keepwell Support Agreement) or the overall soundness of such Sponsor's assets or business or to procure compliance by such Sponsor with terms and conditions of such Sponsor Keepwell Support Agreement (other than express obligations to procure direct payments proscribed by sub-clause (ii) below) or for gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud by the Company or such Note Guarantor or similar cause on the Company or such Note Guarantor's side, and (ii) does not expressly obligate the Company or such Note Guarantor to make or procure direct payments of principal or interest (or pay liquidated damages relating to non-payment defaults) in respect of such Indebtedness to the Holderholders thereof;

- (6) recourse to the Company or any Note Guarantor or any Sponsor pursuant to or in respect of an equity contribution undertaking or similar arrangement providing for the injection of capital or similar support by the Company or such Note Guarantor or Sponsor to facilitate the achievement of designated milestones (or contingent upon the failure to achieve such milestones) with respect to the tangible assets in respect of which the Project Finance Indebtedness is incurred; provided that such undertaking or arrangement (i) does not expressly provide for legal recourse to the Company or such Note Guarantor or Sponsor beyond seeking specific performance or damages in respect of obligations of the Company or such Note Guarantor or Sponsor to make such equity contribution or for gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud by the Company or such Note Guarantor or similar cause on the Company or such Note Guarantor or Sponsor's side, and (ii) does not expressly obligate the Company or such Note Guarantor or Sponsor to make or procure direct payments of principal or interest (or pay liquidated damages relating to non-payment defaults) in respect of such Indebtedness to the holders thereof; and/or
- (7) recourse under any guarantee and/or indemnity of such Indebtedness for completion of construction or development of an asset, provided that in any case the guarantee and/or indemnity is or is intended to be released or discharged if completion of the relevant construction or development occurs in accordance with the terms governing such Indebtedness and/or the guarantee and/or indemnity and/or any agreement relating thereto; provided that such guarantee and/or indemnity (i) does not expressly provide for legal recourse to the Company or such Note Guarantor beyond seeking specific performance or damages in respect of obligations of the Company or such Note Guarantor to complete construction or development of the relevant assets or for gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud by the Company or such Note Guarantor or similar cause on the Company or such Note Guarantor's side, and (ii) does not expressly obligate the Company or such Note Guarantor to make or procure direct payments of principal or interest (or pay liquidated damages relating to non-payment defaults) in respect of such Indebtedness to the holders thereof.

Permitted Third Party Guarantees

The Proposed Amendments would conform the terms of the Existing Notes to those of the 2017 Notes by:

- (1) establishing for the New Notes a floor of ¥800 billion for the limit on aggregate outstanding Third Party Guarantees under the covenant, in addition to the existing 10% of the Company's Net Tangible Assets threshold applicable for the Existing Notes;
- (2) expanding the existing carve-out for Guarantees of Project Finance Indebtedness, including to allow the Company or any Note Guarantor to undertake to contribute equity to project companies pursuant to such obligations;
- (3) establishing a $2 billion permitted Designated Project Finance Indebtedness basket for guarantees by the Company or any Note Guarantor of certain renewable energy-related project finance indebtedness; and

- (4) establishing a permitted Designated Satellite Capacity Offtake Obligations basket for certain guarantees by the Company or any Guarantor of certain obligations under satellite capacity offtake agreements undertaken to the OneWeb Group.

The Company believes the amendments in 1. above will enable it to obtain more diverse and competitive sources of capital, which would expand the Company's liquidity options and improve financial stability, each of which may benefit the Holders. The Company believes the amendments in 2.—4. above will facilitate value creation for investors through the expansion with funding from customary project financings of our energy and telecommunications businesses.

If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, Section 4.08(a) will provide as follows:

(a) ~~The None of the Company and the~~ any Note Guarantors ~~Guarantor~~ will ~~not~~ make any Third Party Guarantee if, on the date of incurrence of any Third Party Guarantee, after giving pro forma effect thereto, the aggregate principal amount (or deemed amount, in the case of Attributable Debt) of all Third Party Guarantees then outstanding (expressed in the Account Currency) exceeds the greater of ¥800 billion or 10.0% of the Company's Consolidated Net Tangible Assets.

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the respective definitions of "Designated Project Finance Indebtedness" and "Project Finance Indebtedness" under Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture will be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, as described under "Negative Pledge," and the following definitions will further be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, in alphabetical order into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

"Designated Satellite Capacity Offtake Obligations" means all conditional purchase obligations of the Company or a Note Guarantor relating to commitments between the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company to offtake, purchase or otherwise acquire satellite communication service capacity from the OneWeb Group in an aggregate amount not to exceed the aggregate amount of such commitments currently provided for pursuant to agreements between the Company and OneWeb Group in effect as of September 12, 2017 as described in the Company's offering memorandum dated September 12, 2017 in respect of the original offering of the 2017 Senior Notes under "Business—Strategically Important Companies—Other Strategically Important Associates and Investees" therein.

"OneWeb Group" means WorldVu Satellite Limited and its affiliates.

"Third Party Guarantee" means any Guarantee of Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock of any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary or any Affiliate or Associate of the Company other than the Note Guarantors; provided that the following will not be deemed to be Third Party Guarantees:

- (1) performance guarantees, completion guarantees, indemnities, sureties or other similar instruments provided by the Company or any Note Guarantor in respect of obligations incurred by any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary or any Affiliate or Associate of the Company other than the Note Guarantors in the ordinary course of business or in respect of any government requirement;
- (2) keepwell agreements or comfort letters or agreements (including guarantees, sponsor support agreements or keiei shido nensho and other agreements, in each case as specified in clauses (1) to (7) of the definition of "Project Finance Indebtedness") in respect of Project Finance Indebtedness incurred by any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary or any Affiliate or Associate of the Company other than the Note Guarantors;
- (3) Guarantees with respect to Designated Satellite Capacity Offtake Agreements;
- (4) Guarantees with respect to Designated Project Finance Indebtedness; and
- (4)(5) Guarantees by the Company or any Note Guarantor of Indebtedness issued by a Finance Subsidiary.

Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness covenant and related definitions

The Company is seeking an amendment to Section 4.10 of the Existing Notes Indenture to align the Existing Notes Indenture with the 2017 Notes Indenture and the New Notes Indenture with respect to the conditions for the release of guarantees of the Existing Notes provided by Note Guarantors. In particular, the Proposed Amendments would remove the requirement that the Existing Notes be rated Investment Grade as a precondition to releasing the guarantee of the Existing Notes provided by the Initial Note Guarantor. Subject to certain other conditions, this amendment would permit the release of the guarantee provided by the Initial Note Guarantor upon the Initial Note Guarantor ceasing to guarantee any other Indebtedness of the Company of any Note Guarantor. Upon such a release, SoftBank Corp. would cease to be subject to the covenants of the Existing Notes Indenture that apply to Note Guarantors only in their capacity as such, including Section 4.07 (Anti-Layering), Section 4.08 (Permitted Third Party Guarantees) and Section 4.09 (Negative Pledge). Additionally, the Proposed Amendments would remove the obligation for SoftBank Corp. to provide a new guarantee of the Existing Notes in the event that (its Note Guarantee having previously been released and the Existing Notes having previously achieved an Investment Grade rating) the Existing Notes cease to be rated Investment Grade, except as otherwise required under clauses (a) and (b) of Section 4.10 (Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness). We expect that, even following its potential listing, SoftBank Corp. would remain the core operating subsidiary in our telecommunications business, continue to support our creditworthiness through its earnings and pursue a financial policy broadly in line with that of other major listed telecommunications companies. In addition, we believe that monetizing a portion of our holding in SoftBank Corp. would enhance our flexibility to pursue our global growth through investments and improve our balance sheet. However, any future decision by SoftBank Corp., following its potential listing, to incur substantial amounts of additional Indebtedness may exacerbate the structurally junior position of our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness (including the Existing Notes) relative to SoftBank Corp.'s own and our other subsidiaries' Indebtedness and may result in the notching down of the ratings of our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness (including the Existing Notes). See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to the Transactions Generally—There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Existing Notes and the New Notes," and "Risk Factors—Certain Risks Related to the Company and the Existing Notes—The Existing Notes, the New Notes and the respective Note Guarantees thereof will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries."

In February 2018, we and SoftBank Corp. announced we had commenced preparations to list the shares of SoftBank Corp. However, neither our nor SoftBank Corp.'s board of directors has made any formal decision to pursue a listing, and the listing may or may not occur in the near term or at all depending on various factors affecting the favorability of any such listing, many of which are outside of our control. If we go ahead with such listing, we anticipate releasing SoftBank Corp.'s Note Guarantee of the 2015 Notes prior to launching the listing. The Existing Notes Indenture, as amended by the Proposed Amendments, and in keeping with the provisions of the 2017 Notes Indenture, would not allow us to release SoftBank Corp.'s guarantee of the 2015 Notes until all other guarantees provided by SoftBank Corp. in support of our other Indebtedness (including, among others, the 2013 Notes and the Senior Term Loan) remain outstanding. See "Risk Factors—Certain Risks Related to the Company and the Existing Notes—The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations."

If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, Section 4.10 will provide as follows:

(a) The Company will not permit any of its Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, to Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor unless such Non-Guarantor Subsidiary simultaneously executes and delivers a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee by such Subsidiary, which Note Guarantee will be senior to or pari passu with such Subsidiary's Guarantee of such other Indebtedness.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall not be obligated to cause such Subsidiary to Guarantee the Notes to the extent that such Guarantee by such Subsidiary would give rise to or result in a violation of applicable law or any liability for the officers, directors or shareholders of such Subsidiary which, in any case, cannot be prevented or otherwise avoided through measures available to the Company or the Subsidiary.

(c) The Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor will automatically and unconditionally be released:

- (1) other than in the case of the Note Guarantee provided by the Initial Note Guarantor, in connection with any sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of such Note Guarantor (including by way of merger or consolidation) to a Person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company;
- (2) in connection with any sale or other disposition of all of the Capital Stock of such Note Guarantor to a Person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or another Subsidiary of the Company;

- (3) upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture as provided in Article 8 and Article 11; or
- (4) as a result of a transaction permitted by Article 5.

(d) Except as provided below, the Company may at any time unconditionally release the Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor; provided that:

- (1) such release will not cause or result in a Default or an Event of Default;
- (2) (i) immediately after such release such Note Guarantor will no longer Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor or (ii) the Company delivers to the Trustee an Officers' Certificate stating (a) that such Note Guarantor's Guarantee of ~~the 2013~~any Existing Senior Notes outstanding at such time will be released in accordance with the ~~2013~~relevant Existing Senior Notes Indenture/Indentures substantially concurrently with the release of its Note Guarantee and (b) that, upon the release of such Note Guarantor's Guarantee of ~~the 2013~~any outstanding Existing Senior Notes and the Note Guarantee, such Note Guarantor ~~would~~will no longer Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or any Note Guarantor;
- (3) any Third Party Guarantees of Indebtedness of such Note Guarantor outstanding at the time of such release (which will be deemed to have been incurred at the time of such release) would be permitted to be incurred under Section 4.08; and
- (4) any assets or businesses previously transferred to such Note Guarantor by the Initial Note Guarantor and owned by such Note Guarantor at the time of such release (which transfers will be deemed to have been made to an Excluded Subsidiary at the time of such release) would be permitted to be transferred to an Excluded Subsidiary under Section 4.14;

provided further, that the Note Guarantee of the Initial Note Guarantor may be released only if, at the time of the release, the Notes have an Investment Grade Rating.

~~(e) If on any subsequent date the Notes cease to maintain an Investment Grade Rating, the Note Guarantee of the Initial Note Guarantor that has been released under this provision must be reinstated and the Initial Note Guarantor (or the Successor Entity thereof) must execute and deliver a supplemental indenture within 30 Business Days after such ratings decline.~~

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the following definitions will be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, in alphabetical order into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

"2017 Senior Notes" means the Company's $1,350,000,000 4¾% Senior Notes due 2024, $2,000,000,000 5⅛% Senior Notes due 2027, €1,500,000,000 3⅛% Senior Notes due 2025, and €750,000,000 4% Senior Notes due 2029.

"2017 Senior Notes Indenture" means that certain indenture, dated as of dated September 19, 2017, among the Company, the Initial Note Guarantor and The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch as Trustee and Paying Agent and The Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Luxembourg Branch, as transfer agent and registrar.

"Existing Senior Notes" means the 2013 Senior Notes and the 2017 Senior Notes.

"Existing Senior Notes Indentures" means the 2013 Senior Notes Indenture and the 2017 Senior Notes Indenture.

Distribution of Proceeds of Asset Sales

The Proposed Amendments would conform the terms of the Existing Notes to those of the 2017 Notes by:

- (1) increasing the basket for the distribution of the proceeds of Asset Sales from $15 billion to $20 billion;
- (2) amending the definitions of "Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio" and "Consolidated EBITDA" to be inclusive of the New Sprint Group, unlike in the Existing Notes which exclude these entities; and
- (3) creating a new carve-out from the definition of "Asset Sale" for distributions to shareholders with net proceeds from dispositions of assets of and interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund up to the amount of the Company's initial capital commitment plus pro rata gains on SoftBank Vision Fund investments.

The Company believes the amendment in 1. above will enhance its ability to monetize non-core assets and strategic investments and that this change is appropriate in light of the growth of the Company's business and due to the substantial increase in the value of the shares of its listed subsidiaries. The Company believes that the amendment in 2. above is consistent with the role of the New Sprint Group as an integrated entity within our business strategy on the same basis as our other core subsidiaries. The Company believes the amendments in 3. above are appropriate to accommodate the nature of the investment business conducted by the SoftBank Vision Fund, which is a fixed-term fund that may involve the potential future monetization of significant investment assets.

If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, Section 4.12 will be amended and restated as follows:

The Company will not, and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to:

- (1) pay any dividend or make any other payment or distribution on account of the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' Equity Interests or to the direct or indirect Holders of the Company's or any of its Subsidiaries' Equity Interests in their capacity as such (other than a payment or distribution by a Subsidiary of the Company to the Holders of its Equity Interests on a pro rata basis); or
- (2) purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire for value any Equity Interests of the Company or any direct or indirect parent of the Company, in each case using the Net Proceeds from any Asset Sale (each such payment, distribution, purchase, redemption or acquisition of value, a "Restricted Payment") unless, at the time of such Restricted Payment, no Default or Event of Default of the type specified in clauses (1) or (2) of Section 6.01 has occurred and is continuing and either:

(x) after giving pro forma effect to such Restricted Payment, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not exceed 4.0 to 1.0; or

(y) such Restricted Payment, individually or when aggregated with all other Restricted Payments made since the Issue Date under this clause (y), does not exceed the Dollar Equivalent of ~~$15.0~~20.0 billion.

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the respective definitions of "SoftBank Vision Fund" and "SoftBank Vision Fund Original Commitment" under Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture will be inserted as described under "—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event," above, and the following definitions will further be inserted or amended and restated, as applicable, in alphabetical order into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

"Asset Sale" means:

- (1) the sale, lease, conveyance or other disposition of any assets or rights by the Company or any of the Company's Subsidiaries; and
- (2) the issuance of Equity Interests by any of the Company's Subsidiaries or the sale by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of Equity Interests in any of the Company's Subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding the preceding, none of the following items will be deemed to be an Asset Sale:

- (1) the sale, lease, conveyance or other disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, which will be governed by Section 4.11 or Article 5 and not by Section 4.12;
- (2) any single transaction or series of related transactions that involves assets having a fair market value of less than ¥10.0 billion (or foreign currency equivalent);
- (3) a transfer of assets or Equity Interests between or among the Company and its Subsidiaries;
- (4) an issuance of Equity Interests by a Subsidiary of the Company to the Company or to a Subsidiary of the Company;
- (5) the sale, lease or other transfer of products, services or accounts receivable in the ordinary course of business and any sale, conveyance or other disposition of damaged, worn-out or obsolete assets in the ordinary course of business (including the abandonment or other disposition of intellectual property that is, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, no longer economically practicable to maintain or useful in the conduct of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as whole);
- (6) the grant of licenses and sublicenses by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of software or intellectual property in the ordinary course of business;

- (7) any surrender or waiver of contract rights or settlement, release, recovery on or surrender of contract, tort or other claims in the ordinary course of business;
- (8) the granting of Liens or Permitted Liens not prohibited by Section 4.09 and any disposition of Capital Stock, other Equity Interests, other securities, assets or other properties upon the enforcement of such Liens or Permitted Liens;
- (9) any issuance or disposition of Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any Excluded Subsidiary or any Person other than a Subsidiary pursuant to the conversion or exchange of any Non-Recourse Relevant Indebtedness that is permitted to be incurred under this Indenture;

Merger or Consolidation

The Proposed Amendments would conform the terms of the Existing Notes to those of the 2017 Notes by:

- (1) clarifying that sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of (i) interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund limited partnerships or any portfolio assets thereof or (ii) any investment assets controlled by the Company or its Subsidiary in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor, as applicable; and
- (2) clarifying that transactions involving (i) the Company consolidating with, merging into or selling, assigning, transferring, leasing, conveying or otherwise disposing of all or part of its properties and assets to any Subsidiary that is not an Excluded Subsidiary and (ii) the Company consolidating or otherwise combining with or merging into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing its legal domicile, reincorporating in another jurisdiction or changing its legal form are excluded from the requirement to deliver Officer’s Certificates or Opinions of Counsel pursuant to this covenant.

The Company believes the amendments in 1. above are appropriate to accommodate the nature of the investment business conducted by the SoftBank Vision Fund, which is a fixed-term fund that may involve the potential future monetization of significant investment assets. The Company believes the amendments in 2. above are appropriate clarifications that are not detrimental to the interests of Holders of the Existing Notes.

If the Requisite Consents are received, upon the execution of the Supplemental Indenture, Section 5.01 will be amended and restated as follows:

(a) The Company will not, directly or indirectly: (1) consolidate or merge with or into another Person (whether or not the Company is the surviving Person), or (2) sell, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, in one or more related transactions, to another Person, unless:

(3) immediately after such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists; and

~~(c) (d)~~ A Note Guarantor may not sell, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets to, or consolidate with or merge with or into (whether or not such Note Guarantor is the surviving Person) another Person, other than the Company or another Note Guarantor, unless:

(1) either (a) the Person acquiring the property in any such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or disposition or the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger becomes a Note Guarantor under this Indenture (pursuant to a supplemental indenture ~~satisfactory to the Trustee~~) and assumes all the obligations of the Note Guarantor under any security documents providing for Liens for the benefit of Holders of the Notes in accordance with Section 4.09 (pursuant to customary agreements reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee); or (b), except in the case of the Initial Note Guarantor (to which only sub-clause (a) above applies), the Net Proceeds of such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition are applied in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Indenture; and

(2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists.

~~(d) (e)~~ The provisions of this Section 5.01 shall not restrict (and shall not apply to): (x) any Subsidiary of the Company that is not a Note Guarantor from consolidating with, merging or liquidating into or transferring all or substantially all of its properties and assets to the Company, a Note Guarantor or any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary of the Company, so long as, immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists; (y) any Note Guarantor from liquidating into the Company or another Note Guarantor; or (z) any consolidation or merger of the Company into any Note Guarantor; provided that, if the Company is not the surviving Person of such consolidation or merger, the relevant Note Guarantor will assume all the obligations of the Company under the Notes and this Indenture pursuant to a supplemental indenture reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee.

(e) ~~(f)~~ For the avoidance of doubt, for all purposes under this Indenture, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of (a) any Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any member of the Alibaba Group, (b) interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund limited partnerships or any portfolio assets thereof or (c) any investment assets controlled by the Company or its Subsidiary in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor, as applicable.

Other Proposed Amendment

The Company is seeking certain technical and other conforming amendments in order to accommodate the aforementioned changes and to align the Existing Notes Indenture to the terms of the 2017 Notes. These changes include amending the definition of “GAAP” to provide that the impact of IFRS 16 (Leases) and any successor standard thereto (or any equivalent measure under JGAAP or US GAAP) shall be disregarded with respect to all ratios, calculations and determinations based upon IFRS under the Existing Notes Indenture.

Upon execution of the Supplemental Indenture, the following definition will be amended and restated into Section 1.01 of the Existing Notes Indenture:

“GAAP” means the accounting standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board and its predecessors as in effect from time to time; provided that the Company may (by notice to the Trustee and posting an announcement to that effect on its website) make one irrevocable election to establish that “GAAP” shall mean either (i) generally accepted accounting principles in Japan as in effect from time to time (“JGAAP”), or (ii) generally accepted accounting principles in the United States as in effect from time to time (“US GAAP”). Upon such election, references to GAAP will be construed to mean JGAAP or US GAAP for all purposes under this Indenture. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the impact of IFRS 16 (Leases) and any successor standard thereto (or any equivalent measure under JGAAP or US GAAP) shall be disregarded with respect to all ratios, calculations and determinations based upon IFRS to be calculated or made, as the case may be, pursuant to the Indenture and (without limitation) any lease, concession or license of property that would be considered an operating lease under IFRS (or, as applicable, JGAAP or US GAAP) as of the Issue Date shall be accounted for in accordance with IFRS (or, as applicable, JGAAP or US GAAP) as in effect on the Issue Date.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW NOTES

For information regarding the New Notes, see “Appendix A—Preliminary Offering Memorandum regarding the New Notes—Description of the Notes.”

TAXATION

Japanese Taxation

The following discussion summarizes certain Japanese tax consequences to Holders arising from the payments made pursuant to the Exchange Offer Memorandum and Consent Solicitation Statement, and certain Japanese tax consequences to Holders as a result of the Exchange Offer and the ownership and disposition of the New Notes. The summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all potential Japanese tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to give Consents and a decision to participate in the Exchange Offer, and is not intended as tax advice to any particular investor. This summary does not describe any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, locality or other taxing jurisdiction other than Japan or any Japanese consequences other than Japanese tax consequences.

Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the Japanese or other tax consequences, including, in particular, the application of the tax considerations discussed below to their particular situations, as well as the application of any state, local, foreign or other tax laws.

The statements regarding Japanese tax laws set out below are based on the laws in force and as interpreted by the Japanese taxation authorities as at the date hereof and are subject to changes in the applicable Japanese laws or tax treaties, conventions or agreements or in the interpretation thereof after such date. Holders should note that the following description of Japanese taxation is not exhaustive.

Japanese Taxation with Respect to the Consent Solicitation

Although Japanese tax treatment (limited to national taxes) of the Consent Fee is not entirely clear, the payment of the Consent Fee by the Company to Holders who are individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations, having no permanent establishment in Japan, should not be subject to tax in Japan.

Japanese Taxation with Respect to the Exchange Offers and the Ownership and Disposition of the New Notes

The following description is a summary of Japanese tax consequences (limited to national taxes) to the Holders as a result of the Exchange Offer and the ownership and disposition of the New Notes, principally relating to such holders that are individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations, having no permanent establishment in Japan, and applicable to interest and the Redemption Gains (as defined below) with respect to New Notes that we will issue outside Japan, as well as to certain aspects of capital gains, inheritance and gift taxes. It does not address the tax treatment of the original issue discount of the New Notes bearing no interest that fall under “discounted bonds” as prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act or any New Notes on which interest is calculated based on any indices, including the amount of our profits or assets or those of any specially-related person of ours (as defined below).

Exchange Offer

If the Holder is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation with no permanent establishment in Japan, the holder is not subject to any Japanese income tax or corporate tax with respect to exchange of Existing Notes in the Exchange Offer.

New Notes

Representation

The New Notes are not, as part of the initial distribution at any time, to be directly or indirectly offered or sold in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any person other than a gross recipient, except as specifically permitted under the Special Taxation Measures Act. By exchanging the Existing Notes with the New Notes, an investor will be deemed to have represented that it is a beneficial owner that is, for Japanese tax purposes, neither an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a person having a special relationship with us as described in Article 6, Paragraph 4 of the Special Taxation Measures Act, or a specially-related person of ours.

Interest and Redemption Gains

Interest payments on the New Notes will be subject to Japanese withholding tax unless the holder establishes that the New Note is held by or for the account of a holder that is (1) for Japanese tax purposes, neither (a) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor (b) an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours, and in compliance with certain requirements for tax exemption under the Special Taxation Measures Act, or (2) a Japanese designated financial institution or financial instruments business operator as described in Article 6, Paragraph 9 of the Special Taxation Measures Act which complies with the requirement for tax exemption under that Paragraph.

Interest payments on the New Notes to an individual resident of Japan, to a Japanese corporation not described in item (2) of the preceding paragraph, to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours, or to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours and does not comply with the requirements described in item (1) of the preceding paragraph will be subject to deduction in respect of Japanese income tax at a rate of 15.315% of the amount specified in subparagraphs (a) or (b) below, as applicable:

- (a) if interest is paid to an individual resident of Japan, to a Japanese corporation, or to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours (except as provided in subparagraph (b) below), the amount of such interest; or
- (b) if interest is paid to a public corporation, a financial institution, a financial instruments business operator or certain other entities through a Japanese payment-handling agent, as provided in Article 3-3, Paragraph 6 of the Special Taxation Measures Act in compliance with the requirement for tax exemption under that paragraph, the amount of such interest minus the amount accrued during the period held, without any cessation, by such entities as provided in the Cabinet Order relating to the said Paragraph 6.

A legend containing a statement to the same effect as set forth in the preceding paragraphs will be printed on the relevant New Notes or global note, as applicable, in compliance with the requirements of the Special Taxation Measures Act and regulations thereunder.

If the recipient of interest on the New Notes is a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, or having a permanent establishment in Japan but the receipt of the interest on the New Notes is not attributable to the business thereof carried on in Japan through such permanent establishment, that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours, no Japanese income tax or corporation tax will be payable with respect to such interest whether by way of withholding or otherwise, if such recipient complies with certain requirements, inter alia:

- (x) if the relevant New Notes are held through a participant in an international clearing organization, such as DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream or through a financial intermediary, in each case, as prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act (each such participant or financial intermediary being referred to as a “Participant”), the requirement to provide certain information prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act to enable the Participant to establish that the recipient is exempt from the requirement for Japanese tax to be withheld or deducted, and to advise the Participant if the holder of the New Notes ceases to be so exempted (including the case where the holder became a specially-related person of ours); and
- (y) if the relevant New Notes are not held through a Participant, the requirement to submit to the relevant paying agent that makes payment of interest on the New Notes a written application for tax exemption (hikazei tekiyo shinkokusho), together with certain documentary evidence, at or prior to each time interest is received.

If a recipient of interest on the New Notes is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, which is subject to Japanese withholding tax due to its status as a specially-related person of ours or for any other reason, (1) the rate of withholding tax may be reduced, generally to 10%, under the applicable tax treaty, convention or agreement, and (2) if such recipient is not subject to Japanese tax under the applicable tax treaty, convention or agreement due to its status as a financial institution in the relevant country, such as the United States and the United Kingdom, or for any other reason, no Japanese income tax or corporation tax will be payable with respect to such interest whether by way of withholding or otherwise; provided that, in either case (1) or (2) above, such recipient shall submit required documents and information (if any) to the relevant tax authority.

If the recipient of any difference between the acquisition cost of the New Notes and the redemption price of the New Notes as referred to in Article 41-13, Paragraph 3 and Article 67-17, Paragraph 3 of the Special Taxation Measures Act (the “Redemption Gains”) is a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours, no income tax or corporation tax will be withheld with respect to such Redemption Gains.

Capital Gains, Inheritance and Gift Taxes

Gains derived from the sale of the New Notes, whether within or outside Japan, by a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, will be, in general, not subject to Japanese income or corporation tax.

Japanese inheritance and gift taxes at progressive rates may be payable by an individual who has acquired the New Notes as a legatee, heir or donee, even if the individual is not a Japanese resident.

No stamp, issue, registration or similar taxes or duties will, under present Japanese law, be payable by holders of the New Notes in connection with the issue of the New Notes outside Japan.

DOCUMENTS AVAILABLE

The information relating to the Company contained in this Exchange Offer Memorandum should be read together with the Existing Notes Indenture. Copies of the Existing Notes Indenture are available at the corporate trust office of the Existing Notes Trustee at Winchester House, 1 Great Winchester Street, London EC2N 2DB.

We will bear the fees and expenses of soliciting tenders and consents for the Exchange Offer and the Consent Solicitation. Tendering and consenting Holders will not be required to pay any fee or commission to the Dealer Managers or the Information Agent. If, however, a tendering Holder handles the transaction through its broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee, that Holder may be required to pay brokerage fees or commissions.

We have agreed to pay the Dealer Managers customary fees for their services and will reimburse them for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in connection therewith. We have agreed to indemnify the Dealer Managers against certain liabilities.

By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. We caution you that forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and that our actual results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, and the development of the industries in which we operate may differ materially from those made in or suggested by the forward-looking statements contained in this offering memorandum. In addition, even if our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, and the development of the industries in which we

- The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial conditions and results of operations.

- We depend on the telecommunications lines and facilities of other companies in certain circumstances and could be materially and adversely affected if our access were restricted or terminated or if related utilization or connection fees were increased.
- We purchase and lease various equipment, products and services from suppliers and our inability to procure such equipment, products and services or defects therein could adversely affect our business.
- We rely on subcontractors and other third parties for certain of our operations.
- Our financial results may be significantly affected by cost of fund procurement and leasing.
- There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Notes.

- Other factors discussed in this offering memorandum.

ENFORCEMENT OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

We are a limited liability company (kabushiki kaisha) established under the laws of Japan. The majority of our directors and most of our management reside in Japan, and a substantial portion of our assets and the assets of such persons are located in Japan. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States upon us or such persons, or to enforce against us or such persons judgments obtained in U.S. courts in actions such as those predicated upon the civil liability provisions of U.S. federal or state securities laws. We have been advised by our Japanese counsel, Mori Hamada & Matsumoto, that there is doubt as to the enforceability in Japan, in original actions or in actions for enforcement of judgments of U.S. courts brought before Japanese courts, of liabilities predicated solely upon U.S. federal or state securities laws.

Segment Information

Our reportable segments are the components of our business activities for which separate resource allocation and performance assessments are made. We currently have six reportable segments: Domestic Telecommunications, Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Distribution, Arm and SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, as well as an “Other” categorization for other sources of revenue and costs not otherwise allocated.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016, we revised our segment classifications and changed our reportable segments to better align with our strategic goals. Following this revision, our segments included Domestic Telecommunications, Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Distribution and Other. The segment financial information for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 presented in this offering memorandum was extracted from the comparative segment financial information included in our consolidated financial report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. The segment information for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 appearing therein was revised to reflect the changes made to our reportable segments during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. For more information about the changes made to reportable segments in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016, see Section 1.1(b) “Results by Segment” of our consolidated financial report as of and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 presented elsewhere in this offering memorandum.

We acquired Arm on September 5, 2016 and began consolidating its financial results on September 6, 2016. Following Arm’s acquisition, we revised our segment classifications to include Arm as a reportable segment. See our consolidated financial report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 presented elsewhere in this offering memorandum for further discussion.

We completed the initial closing for the SoftBank Vision Fund on May 20, 2017 and revised our segment classifications to include SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as a reportable segment (then called the “SVF segment”). We completed the final closing of Delta Fund on September 27, 2017 and assigned it to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment. See our consolidated financial report for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 presented elsewhere in this offering memorandum for further discussion.

On February 1, 2018 we completed the consolidation of The Japan Net Bank Limited (“Japan Net Bank”) under the Yahoo Japan segment. Although each of Yahoo Japan and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation maintains 41.16% of the voting rights in Japan Net Bank, under a modified agreement with Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, Yahoo Japan has obtained majority representation on the board of directors of Japan Net Bank. Consolidation of Japan Net Bank will be reflected in Yahoo Japan’s financial statements commencing the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018. See “Summary—Recent Developments—Consolidation of Japan Net Bank.”

Adjusted Financial Data

We present in this offering memorandum certain unaudited adjusted financial data (on a consolidated basis) that reflects certain adjustments. Under IFRS, the yen-denominated hybrid bonds that we issued in September 2016 are considered debt and the Hybrid Notes that we issued in July 2017 are considered equity. With respect to the adjusted financial information presented in this offering memorandum, we have treated 50% of the carrying amount of our yen-denominated hybrid bonds issued in September 2016 and yen-denominated hybrid loan borrowed in November 2017 as equity and 50% of the carrying amount of the Hybrid Notes as debt for the purposes of consistency and to align with the treatment presently applied for such securities for ratings purposes by S&P and JCR. See “Summary—Adjusted Financial Data” and “Capitalization.” Such adjusted financial data has not been adjusted for (i) the investment of $7.7 billion in Uber Technologies, Inc. completed in January 2018; (ii) the further investment of an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion in DiDi completed in January and February 2018; (iii) the consolidation of Japan Net Bank from February 2018; (iv) Sprint’s issuance of ¥170 billion ($1,500 million) in senior unsecured notes on February 22, 2018; or (v) our subsidiary’s expected entry into a borrowings under a margin loan secured by ADS of Alibaba under the Margin Loan Agreement. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Recent Developments” and “Presentation of Financial Information.”

Our historical results may not be indicative of our future results following consummation of this offering. The adjusted financial data has not been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Regulation S-X of the Securities Act, the Prospectus Directive or any generally accepted accounting standards. Neither the assumptions underlying the pro forma adjustments nor the resulting adjusted financial data have been audited or reviewed in accordance with any generally accepted auditing standards.

Non-IFRS Financial Measures

In this offering memorandum we present certain financial measures that are not required by or presented in accordance with IFRS, including “Adjusted EBITDA,” “Capital Expenditure (acceptance basis),” “Cash Position,” “Free Cash Flow” and “Net Interest-Bearing Debt” because we believe they provide investors with useful additional information to measure our performance, liquidity or capital expenditures. The information presented by the non-IFRS financial measures included in this offering memorandum is unaudited and is not intended to and does not comply with the reporting requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the Prospectus Directive or generally accepted accounting standards.

Adjusted EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA is defined as operating income and loss after addition of depreciation and amortization, deduction of gain from remeasurement relating to business combination in our Yahoo Japan and Arm segments, excluding addition or deduction of unrealized gain and loss on valuation of investments in our SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment, and other adjustments (gains are deducted). Other adjustments are special items such as acquisition-related costs and impairment loss mainly included in other operating income and loss. These adjustments include gain on spectrum license exchange and loss on contract termination in our Sprint segment, loss on disaster in our Yahoo Japan segment, impairment loss on goodwill in the distribution segment and acquisition-related costs in our Arm segment. Pro Forma Adjusted EBITDA, which does not reflect the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment EBITDA, for the 12 months ended December 31, 2017 is calculated as the sum of Adjusted EBITDA for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 (¥2,564 billion) and Adjusted EBITDA for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 (¥2,056 billion), minus Adjusted EBITDA for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 (¥1,992 billion), minus SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment Adjusted EBITDA (negative ¥15 billion).

Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as substitutes for measures of our operating performance or liquidity reported in accordance with IFRS. Adjusted EBITDA has limitations as do any analytical tools, some of which are as follows:

- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect the significant interest expense on our debt or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments on our debt;
- although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements;
- Adjusted EBITDA excludes certain tax payments that may represent a reduction in cash available to us;
- other companies in the industry in which we operate may calculate Adjusted EBITDA differently than we do, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures; and
- our calculation and presentation of Adjusted EBITDA in this offering memorandum is similar to, but different from, the calculation of Adjusted EBITDA under certain of the agreements and instruments governing our indebtedness. Accordingly, Adjusted EBITDA does not provide precise indications as to the level of our adherence to the terms of such indebtedness.

Because of these limitations, we rely primarily on our IFRS financial information and use Adjusted EBITDA only to supplement such information. You are encouraged to evaluate each of the adjustments reflected in our presentation of Adjusted EBITDA and whether you consider each to be appropriate.

Capital Expenditure (Acceptance Basis)

Capital expenditure (cash flow basis) refers to the purchase of property and equipment and intangibles as reported in our audited or reviewed cash flow statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. Capital expenditure (acceptance basis) differs from Capital expenditure (cash flow basis) in that capital expenditures recorded on an acceptance basis are recognized on an inspection and acceptance basis to accurately reflect when we capitalize the purchase of property and equipment and intangibles. Capital expenditure (acceptance basis) should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for capital expenditure reported (cash flow basis) as reported in accordance with IFRS.

Cash Position

Cash position refers to cash and cash equivalents plus short-term investments. Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash, demand deposits and investments with maturities of three-month or less that are readily convertible to cash and subject to insignificant risk of change in value. Short-term investments consist of marketable securities and time deposits (maturities of over three months) and other recorded as current assets. Cash and cash equivalents of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, and short-term investments of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are excluded from cash position.

Note Guarantor Financial Information

This offering memorandum presents certain financial information presented under accounting principles generally accepted in Japan (“JGAAP”) for SoftBank Corp. JGAAP differs materially in certain respects from IFRS as applied in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements contained elsewhere in this offering memorandum, and line items under JGAAP cannot be compared to similar line items under IFRS. Certain differences include:

- Treatment of handset sales commissions. Under JGAAP, commission fees related to sales of mobile handsets that the Company pays to dealers of mobile handsets were expensed as incurred. Under IFRS, such commission fees are deducted from the related revenues; and
- Recording of certain accounts receivable securitizations on our balance sheet. Regarding certain securitization transactions that qualify for extinguishment of financial assets under JGAAP, securitized receivables are recognized and accompanying liabilities are recognized as interest-bearing debt under IFRS when they are not qualified for derecognition of financial assets under IFRS.

Due to the above and other differences, the JGAAP financial information of SoftBank Corp. included elsewhere in this offering memorandum is not comparable to our consolidated IFRS financial information, and we have made no attempt to identify or quantify the impact of these differences between JGAAP and IFRS. In making an investment decision, investors must rely upon their own examination of our business, the terms of the offerings and the financial information herein. Potential investors should consult with their own professional advisors for an understanding of the differences between JGAAP and IFRS, and how those differences might affect the financial information herein.

The results of the Domestic Telecommunications segment include contributions from entities other than the Note Guarantor, including Wireless City Planning. Material reconciliations and eliminations of intra-group transactions, which have not been applied, are necessary to calculate the Note Guarantor's historical financial information.

Net Interest-Bearing Debt

Net interest-bearing debt refers to interest-bearing debt (excluding SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund and financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract) minus cash position.

Free Cash Flow

Free cash flow for our Domestic Telecommunications segment refers to the sum of net cash provided by operating activities and net cash used in investing activities adjusted to exclude certain intra-group brand licensing fee payments and cash flows from intra-group financing transactions.

Additionally, certain market data contained in this offering memorandum is from Agoop Corp., our subsidiary that produces and operates a mobile application that aggregates data connectivity information.

Market Share Data

In this offering memorandum, we make reference to our market share and the market shares of our competitors. We measure our market share by number of subscribers. Our subscriber data comes from internal information and includes subscribers under both the SoftBank and Y!mobile brands (including PHS and Wireless Home Phones). Subscriber data for our competitors, NTT DOCOMO and KDDI, is derived from TCA.

Key Performance Indicators

Domestic Telecommunications Segment

We utilize number of subscribers, ARPU, churn rate and upgrade rate to analyze and develop strategies for our sales channels and mobile services. We believe these measures are important in understanding the performance of our mobile operations and facilitate operating performance comparisons.

Subscribers. The number of mobile service subscribers is based on the cumulative number of assigned telephone numbers, including telephone numbers assigned to tablets, modules, Wireless Home Phones (launched in July 2017) and PHS. The number of SoftBank Hikari subscribers is based on the cumulative number of users for which the physical connection of a fiber-optic line at the central office of Nippon Telegraph and Telephone East Corporation (“NTT East”) or Nippon Telegraph and Telephone West Corporation (“NTT West”) has been completed and includes the number of subscribers to SoftBank Air.

Main mobile subscribers. Subscribers of smartphones, feature phones, tablets, mobile data communications devices, Wireless Home Phones and others, such as voice call SIMs. These are all sources of revenue and profit and we have concentrated its efforts on acquiring and maintaining such subscribers.

ARPU. We measure the average monthly revenue generated per customer, or ARPU, in our Domestic Telecommunications segment. ARPU for our main mobile subscribers (excluding Wireless Home Phones) for a given month is calculated as (i) data-related revenue, basic monthly charge, voice-related revenues, device warranty services, content-related revenues and advertising revenues, etc., for the month, divided by (ii) the number of active main mobile subscribers at the beginning of the month, plus the number of active main mobile subscribers at the end of the month, divided by two and rounded to the nearest ¥10. The calculation of ARPU excludes revenues that are not representative of monthly average usage, such as initial activation charges, certain domestic in-roaming charges by overseas visitors and cancellation fees.

Churn. The number of main mobile subscribers (excluding Wireless Home Phones) who terminate their service in any particular period. Churn rate is a measure that tracks customer retention by showing the percentage of subscribers who terminate their service (excluding subscribers who switch between SoftBank and Y!mobile using mobile number portability (“MNP”)), or churn, relative to the total main mobile subscriber base for a given period. We calculate churn rate by dividing the total number of main mobile subscribers who terminated their service in the relevant period by the average number of main mobile subscribers for the same period. The average number of main mobile subscribers for a given month is the average of the number of main mobile subscribers at the beginning of the month and the number of main mobile subscribers at the end of the month. To calculate churn rate for multi-month periods, which is presented as a monthly average, we divide the total number of main mobile subscribers who terminated their service in the relevant months by the sum of the average number of main subscribers for each month in the period.

Sprint Segment

Sprint utilizes subscribers, ARPU, ABPU and churn rate to analyze and develop strategies for its sales channels and mobile services as these measures are important in understanding the performance of Sprint’s mobile operations and facilitate operating performance comparisons.

Subscribers. A subscriber is defined as an individual line of service associated with each device activated by a customer. Subscribers that transfer from their original service category classification to another platform, or another service line within the same platform, are reflected as a net loss to the original service category and a net addition to their new service category. There is no net effect for such subscriber changes to the total wireless net additions (losses) or end-of-period subscribers. Additionally, the number of subscribers may be affected by regulatory changes. For example, as a result of the recent tightening of restrictions on the Lifeline Program (which is a benefit program run by the U.S. government that provides discounts on monthly telephone service for eligible low-income subscribers to help ensure that they can connect to the nation’s communications networks), Sprint no longer reports Lifeline connections in its customer base. This resulted in the removal of 6.1 million connections at the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

ARPU. ARPU is calculated by dividing service revenue by the sum of the monthly average number of subscribers in the applicable service category. Changes in average monthly service revenue reflect subscribers for either the postpaid or prepaid service category who change rate plans, the level of voice and data usage, and the amount of service credits which are offered to subscribers, plus the net effect of average monthly revenue generated by new subscribers and deactivating subscribers.

ABPU. Sprint tracks and discloses average billings per customer (“ABPU”) in addition to ARPU. ABPU is calculated by dividing service revenue and equipment billings (representing installment billings under its installment billing programs and lease fees under our lease programs) by the sum of the monthly average number of subscribers in the applicable service category.

Churn. The number of customers who terminate their service in any particular period. Postpaid and prepaid churn consist of both voluntary churn, where the subscriber makes his or her own determination to cease being a subscriber, and involuntary churn, where the subscriber’s service is terminated due to a lack of payment or other reasons. Churn rate is a measure that tracks customer retention by showing the percentage of subscribers who terminate their service, or churn, relative to the total subscriber base for a given period. Churn rate is calculated by dividing net subscriber deactivations for the quarter by the sum of the average number of subscribers for each month in the quarter. For postpaid accounts comprising multiple subscribers, such as family plans and enterprise accounts, net deactivations are defined as deactivations in excess of subscriber activations in a particular account within 30 days. During the three months ended June 30, 2017, Sprint enhanced subscriber reporting to better align certain early-life gross activations and deactivations. Prior to this enhancement, a newly acquired customer who discontinued service shortly after activation would have contributed to both gross additions and deactivations. Following the enhancement, such a customer would be deducted from gross additions. This enhancement had no impact to net additions, but did result in reporting lower gross additions and lower deactivations as well as lower churn rates in the quarter. Without this enhancement, postpaid phone churn for the three months ended June 30, 2017 would have been 1.73% versus 1.65%.

The Company

Overview

We are a leading global technology company that aspires to drive the Information Revolution. We are a holding company, SoftBank Group Corp., and its global portfolio of subsidiaries and associates, which include advanced telecommunications, internet services, Internet of Things (“IoT”), robotics and clean energy technology providers.

We helped transform the Japanese smartphone market when we were the first to offer the iPhone in Japan in 2008 and built a brand centered on the mobile internet—data-intensive, highly connected and reliable. Our unique brand and outperformance have also been supported by high quality LTE network infrastructure, well developed over a recently completed cycle of significant capital expenditure, which covers nearly all of the population of Japan, with robust and reliable connectivity. We have two domestic mobile service brands, SoftBank and Y!mobile. Our flagship SoftBank brand focuses on the high-end of the market, including the most profitable segment of the mobile market, which we believe to be data-intensive smartphone users (mostly iPhones). We also offer the Y!mobile brand, targeting the budget-conscious market to capture first-time, younger customers.

We combine our stable and profitable domestic telecommunications operations in Japan with selected strategic investments in global internet, technology and communications companies, differentiating us from other mobile operators and providing opportunities for mutually advantageous growth among our group companies. Our leadership team is led by Japan’s technology and business innovator, Masayoshi Son, our founder, Chairman and CEO.

- We invest in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, unique investment funds intended to make investments in a wide range of technology sectors globally, managed by SB Investment Advisers (UK) Limited (“SBIA”), our wholly owned subsidiary in the U.K. As of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion. We completed the final closing of Delta Fund on September 27, 2017 with $6.0 billion in committed capital.

- We hold a 15% ownership interest in Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the world’s largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides.

- Further investments in DiDi. In January and February 2018, we made further investments in an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion in Xiaoju Kuaizhi Inc. (“DiDi”), one of the largest ride sharing operators in China by number of daily rides. In addition, we have announced a partnership with DiDi to provide trial platform services for the taxi industry in major cities in Japan to improve ride hailing for taxis, which such platform would be available to each of Japan’s taxi operators. We further expect to form a joint venture with DiDi in Japan.
- Potential listing of SoftBank Corp. In February 2018, the Company and SoftBank Corp. jointly announced that they have commenced preparations for listing of SoftBank Corp.’s shares. Through the listing of SoftBank Corp. shares, we expect that the respective roles of the Company and SoftBank Corp. will become clearer, with the Company pursuing a growth strategy based on accelerating investments on a global scale, and SoftBank Corp. as the core operating company in our telecommunications business. Through a listing, SoftBank Corp. intends to pursue growth in a wide range of sectors and pursue synergies with SoftBank Group companies in Japan and abroad, as well as further strengthen its management foundations as an operating company. We expect that a monetization of a portion of our holding of SoftBank Corp. would contribute to our overall financial soundness and enable us to pursue our strategy of growth through investments. There is a possibility that a decision not to list SoftBank Corp. shares could be made following reviews and studies conducted during the preparation process. For further information on this and other related matters, see “Risk Factors—The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations.”
- Capital Calls for SoftBank Vision Fund. As of December 31, 2017, we were in the process of delivering 276 million shares of Arm, representing 19.29% of the total outstanding shares, to satisfy Capital Calls through such date. Such shares have been pledged in favor of the SoftBank Vision Fund pending delivery upon completion of regulatory approvals. Upon completion of such contribution of Arm shares and assuming no additional contributions by us, based on our relative pro rata commitment to the SoftBank Vision Fund, we would expect that the SoftBank Vision Fund would have aggregate contributed investor capital in excess of $26.8 billion out of the total committed amount of $91.7 billion. The outstanding Capital Calls to other investors have been or will be settled by cash pursuant to the terms of the definitive documentation for the SoftBank Vision Fund. The SoftBank Vision Fund has made additional Capital Calls since January 2018, the proceeds of which have been or will be applied towards investments in Ping An Good Doctor, Ping An HealthKconnect, Compass, Auto1.com, Wag! and Katterra and other future investments. With respect to future Capital Calls, we expect to contribute shares of Arm up to an aggregate of 24.99% of the total outstanding shares (representing an aggregate of approximately $8.2 billion of capital contributions).
- Consolidation of Japan Net Bank. Since April 2014, Yahoo Japan and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation have each held 41.16% of the voting rights in Japan Net Bank. Under a modified agreement with Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, while Yahoo Japan’s voting rights will remain unchanged, it has obtained majority representation on the board of directors of Japan Net Bank. As a result, on February 1, 2018 we completed the consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment, with such consolidation reflected in Yahoo Japan’s financial statements commencing the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018. The consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment was due to the aforementioned change in effective control of the board of directors of Japan Net Bank, and involved no cash outlays or other change in the voting rights held by Yahoo Japan in such entity. As of December 31, 2017, Japan Net Bank reported total assets of ¥825 billion ($7,300 million), including ¥296 billion ($2,616 million) of cash and due from banks and ¥130 billion ($1,150 million) of call loans, and total liabilities of ¥764 billion ($6,763 million), including ¥747 billion ($6,613 million) of deposits.

- Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba. On or around March 7, 2018, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Borrower”) is expected to enter into a margin loan agreement (the “Margin Loan Agreement”) with lenders (collectively referred to, along with other financial institutions that may become party to the Margin Loan Agreement as lenders from time to time, the “Lenders”). The Lenders are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility (the “Term Margin Loan Facility”) and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Margin Loan Facility”), each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. The Borrower’s obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement are not guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or the Note Guarantor. Loans under the Term Margin Loan Facility and the Revolving Margin Loan Facility will have a maturity of three years. The Borrower expects to loan the proceeds of the loans under the Margin Loan Agreement to the Company, which expects to apply such proceeds for general corporate purposes including improving its liquidity. The loans under the Margin Loan Agreement will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares (“ADS”) and cash pledged to the Lenders. In connection with the initial drawdown under the Margin Loan Agreement, we expect to pledge ADS representing approximately 6% of Alibaba’s outstanding share capital for the benefit of the Lenders.

Organizational Structure as of December 31, 2017

The following is a simplified summary of the corporate and financing structure of the Company as of December 31, 2017, adjusted to reflect this offering. The chart does not include all of our subsidiaries or all of our financings and certain groups of subsidiaries are represented collectively, such as the entities comprising the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. For more detail on these segments, see “Business—Our Business Segments.” Unless otherwise indicated, the subsidiaries included in the simplified structure below are directly or indirectly owned by the Company.

- (1) The shares of the Company trade on the Tokyo Stock Exchange. As of September 30, 2017, our principal shareholder is our founder, Chairman, and CEO, Masayoshi Son (21%).
- (2) The Notes offered hereby will be general senior obligations of the Company and will rank pari passu in right of payment with any existing and future indebtedness of the Company that is not subordinated to the Notes (including the existing international senior notes, the Senior Term Loan and the Company’s unsubordinated yen-denominated bonds). See “Summary—The Offering.” As of the Issue Date, the Notes will be guaranteed on a senior basis by SoftBank Corp. and will not be secured.
- (3) The existing international hybrid notes comprise the Company’s $2.75 billion 6.000% Undated Subordinated NC6 Resettable Notes (the “NC6 Hybrid Notes”) and $1.75 billion 6.875% Undated Subordinated NC 10 Resettable Notes (the “NC10 Hybrid Notes”) and, together with the NC6 Hybrid Notes, the “Hybrid Notes”), in each case issued on July 19, 2017. The Hybrid Notes have no maturity date and interest payments under the Hybrid Notes may be deferred at the option of the Company. The obligations of the Company under the Hybrid Notes rank junior to the senior obligations of the Company, including the obligations of the Company under the Notes. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—Bonds.”
- (4) The existing international senior notes comprise (i) the 2013 Notes; (ii) the 2015 Notes; and (iii) the four series of senior notes in the form of $1,350 million 4¾% Senior Notes due 2024, $2,000 million 5⅛% Senior Notes due 2027, €1,500 million 3⅛% Senior Notes due 2025, and the €750 million 4% Senior Notes due 2029 (the “2017 Notes”). The existing international senior notes are guaranteed by SoftBank Corp. and are unsecured. Pursuant to the Exchange Offer, the Company expects to issue Dollar Exchange Notes in exchange for Existing Dollar Notes and Euro Exchange Notes in exchange for Existing Euro Notes. Any Exchange Notes issued will have the same terms and form a single class with the corresponding tranche of Notes issued in this offering.
- (5) The Company’s other debt consists principally of senior, subordinated and hybrid yen-denominated corporate bonds, and the Senior Term Loan. See “Description of Other Indebtedness.”
- (6) SoftBank Group International GK (“SBGK”), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, was established as a holding company for certain of the Company’s assets in 2016.

As of December 31, 2017, our share of Alibaba had a market value of ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract). We do not consolidate Alibaba's results.
- (12) On June 10, 2016, West Raptor Holdings, LLC ("WRH LLC"), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into a variable prepaid forward contract to sell Alibaba shares with a newly formed trust, which in turn issued mandatorily exchangeable securities to third-party investors. Alibaba shares held by WRH LLC are pledged as collateral for the forward contract. ¥729 billion ($6,453 million) is recognized as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract in interest-bearing debt (non-current liabilities) and ¥662 billion ($5,859 million) is recognized as derivative liabilities in other financial liabilities (non-current liabilities) in the consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2017. The Lenders are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility, each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. The loans under the Margin Loan Agreement will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares ("ADS") and cash pledged to the Lenders. In connection with the initial drawdown under the Margin Loan Agreement, we expect to pledge ADS representing approximately 6% of Alibaba's outstanding share capital for the benefit of the Lenders.
- (14) Following the investments in DiDi and Uber Technologies, Inc., our respective positions in DiDi and Uber Technologies, Inc. are expected to be recorded as investment securities on our consolidated balance sheet and DiDi and Uber Technologies, Inc. have not been and are not classified as a subsidiary or an associate of the Company.

Listing Approval-in-principle has been received for the listing and quotation of the Notes on the SGX-ST. The SGX-ST assumes no responsibility for the correctness of any of the statements made or opinions expressed or information contained in this offering memorandum. Currently, there is no public market for the Notes. The Notes will be traded on the SGX-ST in a minimum board lot size of (in the case of the Dollar Notes) $200,000 or (in the case of the Euro Notes) €200,000. The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold, distributed or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area. See “Notice to Investors” for additional information about eligible offerees and transfer restrictions. Use of Proceeds We expect to receive a total of approximately $ million (equivalent) in net proceeds from this offering, comprising approximately $ million from the Dollar Notes and € million from the Euro Notes, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions. We intend to apply the proceeds of the offering, to fund the payment of the consent fee and other related costs in connection with the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation and to use any remaining proceeds for general corporate purposes.

Additional Amounts All payments made by the Company or the Note Guarantor will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes in any taxing jurisdiction unless required by applicable law. If withholding or deduction for such taxes is required to be made in a relevant taxing jurisdiction with respect to a payment on the Notes or a Note Guarantee, subject to certain exceptions, the Company or the Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will pay the additional amounts necessary so that the net amount received after the withholding or deduction is not less than the amount that would have been received in the absence of the withholding or deduction. Risk Factors Investing in the Notes involves substantial risks. You should refer to the section entitled “Risk Factors” for an explanation of certain risks involved in investing in the Notes.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Notes involves significant risk and uncertainty. You should consider carefully the risk factors described below as well as other information contained in this offering memorandum, including our financial statements and the related notes included elsewhere in this offering memorandum, before making any investment decision. The risks and uncertainties discussed below, as well as additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial, could materially affect our business, financial condition and results of operations, affect our ability to make payments on the Notes or cause the market price of the Notes to decline. This could result in you losing all or part of your investment.

Risks Relating to Our Business

Any adverse conditions in the economy could adversely affect us.

Demand for the services and products that we provide, including, but not limited to, telecommunications services and internet advertising, depends on the performance of the Japanese, United States', Chinese and global economies, which involves factors beyond our control. Additionally, we procure the funds we require for developing new and existing businesses by borrowing from financial institutions, by issuing corporate bonds and from other sources. Therefore, disruptions in the economy that result in a deterioration of economic conditions in Japan, the United States, China or globally could adversely affect us or diminish our ability to procure funds. Our business and results of operations could be adversely affected under difficult economic or market conditions. In addition, the Japanese population, which represents the primary market of our domestic telecommunications products and services, is both aging and declining. As a result, the number of net new subscribers we acquire each month may decline in the future and we may not obtain the number of subscribers we expect.

Fluctuations in currency exchange rates may have a negative impact on our results of operations presented in Japanese yen.

We invest in overseas companies directly at the holding company level or through our subsidiaries outside of Japan, as well as through other means. Additionally, a material portion of our operations is conducted in currencies other than Japanese yen, most significantly, U.S. dollars. As we increase our non-yen revenues, the relative percentage of our non-yen business may increase. Our business is therefore sensitive to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, especially the yen-U.S. dollar exchange rate, and a foreign exchange loss may be recognized if we sell our equity interests when the yen is stronger than at the time of investment. Likewise, the presentation of our results of operations may be affected by the translation of foreign currencies into yen for the purpose of our consolidated financial statements. Also, a weak yen could have the effect of exacerbating losses incurred by our foreign subsidiaries as reflected in our consolidated results of operations. We may not be successful in managing our exposure to currency exchange risks and this may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In connection with the Notes offering and other debt obligations, should we choose to issue in currencies other than yen, we expect to be exposed to increased foreign exchange rate fluctuation risks. To the extent we are unable to successfully hedge our overall risks related to outstanding monetary assets and liabilities, we may record gains or losses in future periods solely attributable to the effects of fluctuations in relevant foreign exchange rates.

We face risks associated with operation and investment in multiple markets, and if we are unable to manage these risks effectively, it could impair our ability to expand our business.

We conduct business and invest in multiple regions including the United States, China, India, Europe and Central and South America as well as other regions and countries and may continue expanding our operations outside of Japan. We do not have a history of successfully operating in these regions, which in some cases have a different level of economic development or different economic structure from that of our traditional region of operations.

Operating and investing in multiple geographic markets exposes us to a number of risks, including:

- difficulties and costs relating to compliance with the different commercial and legal requirements of the markets in which we operate and the potential that such requirements could change to our disadvantage;
- difficulties in staffing and managing international operations;
- government regulations or restrictions on foreign investment, particularly any preventing us from repatriating internationally derived revenue, or foreign tax structures that make repatriation prohibitively expensive, which could affect our ability to effectively reinvest or utilize such revenues in our business; and

- other country risks, including the occurrence of political, social, or economic turbulence in such countries and regions, due to the outbreak of wars, conflicts, and terror attacks, the enactment of economic sanctions and the outbreak of communicable diseases.

Our failure to successfully manage or address any of the above-listed risks could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The loss of key senior management personnel, including Mr. Masayoshi Son in particular, could negatively affect our business.

Our performance is substantially dependent on our senior management and other key personnel. These individuals have acquired specialized knowledge and skills with respect to the companies that form the SoftBank Group and our businesses. This familiarity, in addition to the managerial and financial experience of these individuals as well as their decision-making abilities, makes them especially critical to our success. If one or more members of our key personnel were unable or unwilling to continue to remain in their positions with us, our business and operations could be disrupted and our growth potential could be impaired.

In particular, we depend in large part on the knowledge, expertise and services of Mr. Masayoshi Son, our founder, Chairman and CEO, especially for identifying new business and investment opportunities and creating new business models. Mr. Son's reputation and personal contacts in the industries in which we operate have provided us access to many opportunities which would not otherwise be available to us. There can be no assurance that the departure of Mr. Son would not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Fast-paced innovations in technology and business models, as well as alternative telecommunication technologies may make our services, technology or business models obsolete.

Our future success depends, in part, on our ability to anticipate and adapt in a timely manner to the fast-paced changes in technology and business models that characterize the industries in which we operate. We expect that new services, technologies and business models will emerge on a continuous basis and that existing services, technologies and business models will also further develop. We make significant capital expenditures in connection with the deployment of new or improved technologies. However, if we fail to adapt to the rapidly changing technological development characterized by the introduction and proliferation of new or improved high-speed wireless data technology, fail to upgrade or adapt our existing mobile and fixed-line telecommunications networks or other businesses in a timely and satisfactory manner, or fail to introduce new services based upon such technological innovations, our services may become less attractive to consumers. This could limit our ability to acquire new customers and cause us to lose existing customers to competitors, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, there can be no assurance that the new technologies we anticipate will be developed according to expected schedules, that they will perform according to expectations, that common standards and specifications will be achieved or that they will achieve commercial acceptance. Any failure of new technologies to meet our expectations, or the failure of any technology to achieve commercial acceptance, could place us behind our competitors in terms of technological development. Any such factors may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We face intense competition, including from other large and established competitors and well-funded entrants, and such competition may intensify.

One of our primary business domains is the information industry, particularly the Japanese mobile communications industry, where we compete for consumer spending with other domestic communications companies such as NTT DOCOMO, Inc. ("NTT DOCOMO") and KDDI Corporation ("KDDI"). We have substantial competitors in the markets in which we operate, and, in certain instances, we may face competitors (including but not limited to mobile communications operators and mobile virtual network operators ("MVNOs")) that have larger operations than we do, or otherwise have a competitive advantage over us in terms of, for example, capital, services and products, price competitiveness, customer base, sales capability, brand awareness or public recognition.

As of the date hereof, the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications is evaluating applications for additional spectrum allocation of 1.7 GHz and 3.4 GHz bands, and the outcome is expected to be made public by or around the end of March 2018. It is reported that Rakuten, Inc., an existing MVNO, has applied for allocation to become a new MNO, so it is possible that the new radio frequency bands will be allocated to them. See “Regulation—Radio Act of Japan—Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum. Going forward, the competition among existing operators and new entrants may further intensify, as a result of which we may revise our billing plans, offer discounts or take other steps to capture new subscriptions and maintain existing subscriptions, that could adversely affect our profitability. For example, in September 2017, we introduced the Half Price Support program, which enables customers to purchase eligible smartphones in 48 monthly installments, with the remaining monthly payments waived if the customer trades in their used handset to upgrade to a designated new model after 24 monthly installments. However, we cannot be certain that this program will enable us to acquire new and maintain existing subscribers. Additionally, the participation rate for this program may exceed our expectations and may thus result in a larger decline in revenues than expected.

If our competitors were to sell services or products that harness their competitive advantages to a greater extent than they currently do, we may be placed at a disadvantage in sales competition or may be unable to provide services and products or acquire or retain customers as anticipated. Moreover, even if we introduce highly competitive services, products or sales methods ahead of our competitors, our competitive advantages may lessen if our competitors deploy equivalent or better services, products or sales methods.

In addition, the Japanese population, which represents the primary market of our domestic telecommunications products and services, is both aging and declining. According to Ovum, the total number of domestic mobile communications service subscribers in Japan reached 168 million, as of December, 2017, and according to BMI Research the penetration rate for mobile phones in Japan is estimated to have reached approximately 131%, as of December, 2017, indicating ownership of more than one handset per person. This suggests that the market may be approaching saturation, which could result in a lower number of customer additions.

Any of the above consequences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In February 2018, we and SoftBank Corp. announced we had commenced preparations to list the shares of SoftBank Corp. However, neither we nor SoftBank Corp.’s board of directors have made any formal decision to pursue a listing, and the listing may or may not occur in the near term or at all depending on various factors affecting the favorability of any such listing, many of which are outside of our control. For instance, we may determine that the current market for the shares would not permit us to obtain sufficient value for them. In addition, we are currently reviewing the potential effects of a listing on our cash flows and creditworthiness. These and other such factors may cause us to temporarily or indefinitely postpone listing preparations.

While we expect SoftBank Corp. would remain consolidated on our balance sheet after any such listing, SoftBank Corp. is currently our most significant source of cash flows, and our potential cash flows via the future dividends we expect to receive from SoftBank Corp., as well as our share of SoftBank Corp.’s future earnings, would be directly reduced to the extent of any such disposal and listing. Such dilution of our share of SoftBank Corp.’s future earnings and dividends could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we decide to pursue a listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. in the future, we may release all of SoftBank Corp.’s outstanding guarantees of the Company’s Indebtedness.

Currently, no formal decision to pursue a listing has been made, and the listing may or may not occur depending on various factors affecting the favorability of any such listing, many of which are outside of our control. Should we decide to go forward with such a listing, and subject to the satisfaction of the requisite conditions, we may release all of SoftBank Corp.’s outstanding guarantees of our Indebtedness (including our the Notes, the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes, the 2017 Notes, our Yen-denominated Senior Bonds, the Commitment Line and our Senior Term Loan) prior to launching a listing of SoftBank Corp. The indentures governing the 2013 Notes and the Notes would permit us to release SoftBank Corp.’s guarantees of such notes upon (or substantially concurrently with) the release of SoftBank Corp.’s other guarantees of our Indebtedness only if the 2013 Notes and the 2015 Notes have an investment grade rating at the time of release. Concurrently with the offering of the Notes, we are soliciting the Consents of holders of the 2015 Notes to certain proposed amendments to conform covenants governing the 2015 Notes to corresponding covenants governing the 2017 Notes, including aligning the guarantee release provisions of the 2015 Notes to the guarantee release provisions of the 2017 Notes and thus allowing us to release SoftBank Corp.’s guarantee of the 2015 Notes regardless of whether the 2015 Notes have an investment grade rating at the time of release. In the future, we may also consider seeking the requisite consents of lenders under the Senior Term Loan to release SoftBank Corp.’s guarantee of such loan pursuant to the applicable provisions thereof in the event of a listing of SoftBank Corp. See “—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Notes under which the Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the relevant Trustee.”

We depend on the satisfactory performance of our network systems and sufficient spectrum to operate our telecommunications services.

The quality of our telecommunications services depends on, among other things, our network systems and the spectrum that the government allocates to us. In order to remain competitive and retain and grow our customer bases in each of the telecommunications markets in which we operate, we will need to undertake continuous maintenance and upgrades to our mobile and fixed-line networks to ensure adequate capacity.

Constraints on network capacity may cause unanticipated system disruptions and slower response times, adversely affecting data transmission. We must accurately predict our future capacity needs based on present and historical amounts of network traffic. If we underestimate the amount of capacity our business requires, or if we are unable to upgrade our network systems quickly enough to accommodate future traffic levels, avoid obsolescence or successfully integrate newly developed or acquired technology with our existing systems, we could experience service problems, adverse consequences to our reputation, a reduction in subscriber base, difficulties in acquiring new subscribers, or the need to make additional unanticipated capital expenditures.

Like all major telecommunications services providers, we are vulnerable to the occurrence of major service disruptions or declines in service quality due to human error, equipment problems or other causes. If such disruptions or declines in quality were to become widespread or if significant time were required to restore services in the event of such a disruption, our credibility and corporate and/or brand image could deteriorate, which could have an adverse effect on our mobile and fixed-line telecommunications businesses.

We are also heavily dependent on the availability of spectrum in order to provide our mobile communications services. As traffic on our mobile communications network continues to increase due to the spread of smartphones, we will need to secure additional spectrum as well as enhance effective use of our frequency band by using LTE technology. We use frequency bands that are allocated to us by MIC and while MIC rarely exercises such authority, it does have the power to reallocate spectrum as it deems necessary to secure an appropriate and reasonable utilization of frequency spectrum, taking into consideration the effect that such actions may have on other spectrum users. See “Regulation—Radio Act of Japan—Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum.” If we are unable to secure the required spectrum in the future, service quality may decline, which could make it difficult to acquire or retain subscribers. Additionally, the Japanese government has considered the implementation of a spectrum auction system in the past. If an auction system were officially implemented in Japan or if bidding prices increase in U.S. spectrum auctions, securing spectrum could require considerable expenses and could enable new competitors to enter the market.

We depend on the telecommunications lines and facilities of other companies in certain circumstances and could be materially and adversely affected if our access were restricted or terminated or if related utilization or connection fees were increased.

We utilize certain telecommunications lines and facilities owned by other operators when providing our telecommunications services. For instance, certain of our group companies in Japan are party to interconnection agreements and agreements with respect to optical broadband services with Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corporation (“NTT”) group companies. See “Business—Important Relationships—Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corp.” The potential failure of such third-party operators to comply with relevant interconnection agreements or to properly maintain networks or interconnection facilities may create interruptions or quality problems for our telecommunications services. In addition, if relevant agreements with such operators are not extended or are extended on less favorable conditions, for example if utilization or connection rates were to be increased, we could experience a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We purchase and lease various equipment, products and services from suppliers and our inability to procure such equipment, products and services or defects therein could adversely affect our business.

We procure telecommunications equipment, network devices, mobile devices and various other hardware, software, support and services from various vendors. We rely upon certain key vendors such as Apple, Nokia and Ericsson to supply the network equipment, mobile handsets, software, content and services that we require in our business.

Although we generally expect vendors to supply products and services in a timely manner, in accordance with the specifications contained in the applicable agreements with such vendors, and to cure any defects should they arise, we may be unable to switch suppliers or equipment in a timely manner should problems occur. We do not have direct operational or financial control over these key vendors, and there can be no assurance that such vendors will continue to provide equipment and services at attractive prices or that we will be able to obtain such equipment and services in the future from those or other providers, on the scale and within the time frames that we require, if at all.

Our contractual arrangements with these counterparties also expose us to certain risks. We cannot assure you that we will be able to reach commercially reasonable agreements on the procurement of handsets, installation and maintenance of telecommunications equipment or other key aspects of our business or that the terms of such agreements will not deteriorate over time.

Supply interruptions, delivery delays, order volume shortfalls, defects and the cessation of maintenance and inspection services, as well as any other similar problem could impede our provision of services, making it difficult to acquire and retain customers, or causing us to incur additional costs. Suppliers may also cease providing the maintenance and inspection services required for telecommunications equipment to maintain performance.

Any of the above could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We rely on subcontractors and other third parties for certain of our operations.

We consign sales activities, acquisition and retention of customers mainly for telecommunications services, and the execution of other related operations in whole or part to subcontractors. We also use subcontractors for network construction and maintenance service. Our business development could therefore be impacted if for some reason these subcontractors are unable to execute their duties in line with our expectations.

We also have a network of subcontractors responsible for the sale of our services and products. Damage to the credibility or image of these subcontractors could also have a negative impact on our credibility or corporate image. This could hinder business development and the acquisition and retention of customers, which could impact our operating results. Furthermore, if these subcontractors should fail to comply with laws and regulations, we could receive a warning or administrative guidance from the regulatory authorities, or be investigated or sanctioned for non-fulfillment of our supervisory responsibility, and our credibility or corporate image could deteriorate as a result, making it difficult to acquire and retain customers. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our financial results may be significantly affected by cost of fund procurement and leasing.

We procure the funds required to develop our business by borrowing from financial institutions, issuing corporate bonds and other sources. We also execute capital expenditure utilizing leases. The cost of procuring funds could increase because of rising interest rates or a decline in our creditworthiness stemming mainly from a downgrading of our credit ratings. An increase in fund procurement costs could impact our results of operations. Furthermore, depending on the financial market conditions and our credit standings, we may be unable to procure funds or structure leases as planned. This could impact our business development, results of operations and financial position. In addition, various covenants are attached to our borrowings from financial institutions, corporate bonds and other transactions. If the potential arises for any of these covenants to be breached and we are unable to take steps to avoid breaching them, we could forfeit the benefit of terms relating to the obligation concerned, and in conjunction with this loss we could be requested to repay or redeem other borrowings in one lump sum as well. As a result, our financial position could be adversely affected.

We may sell some of our assets or take other measures to secure resources for repaying the procured funds (excluding the debts non-recourse to SoftBank Group Corp.). This could impact the Group's results of operations and business development.

There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Notes.

Our long-term corporate credit rating is BB+ (negative outlook) from Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC ("S&P"), Ba1 (stable outlook) from Moody's Japan K.K. and A- (stable outlook) from JCR. The ratings assigned to the Notes as well as the instrument ratings assigned to the Notes may be lowered or withdrawn entirely in the future.

In the event that SoftBank Corp. is released from its guarantees of our Indebtedness in connection with its listing (should any such listing take place in future) and incurs substantial amounts of additional Indebtedness, the structurally junior position of our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness (including the Notes) relative to SoftBank Corp.'s own Indebtedness and our other subsidiaries' Indebtedness would be exacerbated, which could lead one or more rating agencies to assign our unsecured and unguaranteed Indebtedness a lower instrument rating than our long-term issuer credit rating. We could also be susceptible to future credit downgrades if our net leverage increases or otherwise if we pursue an aggressive investment strategy at the expense of key financial metrics, if we experience a significant decline in the value of our investments or if we suffer negative impacts from the acquisition of other companies, businesses or technologies. On February 26, 2018, S&P revised its outlook on our long term issuer corporate credit rating from stable to negative.

A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time. No assurances can be given that a rating will remain for any given period of time or that a rating will not be lowered or withdrawn entirely by the relevant rating agency if in its judgment circumstances in the future so warrant. We have no obligation to inform the Holders of any such revision, downgrade or withdrawal. A suspension, reduction, notching down from our long-term issuer credit rating or withdrawal at any time of the ratings assigned to the Notes may adversely affect the market price of the Notes and may cause us to lose our ability to access bank lending or the capital markets, renew bank credit facilities and access other sources of financing. Downgrades could also increase our costs of borrowing and affect our ability to make payments on outstanding debt instruments and to comply with other existing obligations. Such events could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The acquisition of other companies, businesses or technologies, such as the acquisition of Arm, and the making of large concentrated investments, such as our investment in Uber Technologies, Inc., could result in operating difficulties, dilution or other harmful consequences.

In order to set up new businesses, or expand our existing businesses, we have made and may pursue further acquisitions and investments, including through the establishment of joint ventures and subsidiaries, as well as investments in operating or holding companies (including companies that we effectively control through various contracts) and funds, and we may also in certain instances provide subsequent financial assistance in the form of loans, securities or otherwise to such investees. We also may acquire other assets which we believe are strategic, any of which could be material to our business, financial condition and results of operations. In particular, we have made a number of strategic investments in companies in emerging markets and in businesses we view to be in growth industries, such as e-commerce and taxi booking platforms for mobile devices. In September 2016, we acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Arm, a British microprocessor intellectual property design firm, for approximately £24.0 billion. See “—Our business development may be significantly affected by risks relating to Arm’s operations.” In December 2017, we completed the acquisition of 100% of the outstanding shares of Fortress for approximately $3.3 billion. Also, in May 2017, we completed the first closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund with a diverse group of institutional investors, and as of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion. In January 2018, we made a total investment of $7.7 billion pursuant to which we acquired a 15% ownership interest in Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides. As part of our SoftBank Synergy Group strategy, we expect to continue to make minority investments in a large number of investees with the aim of fostering synergies between and among them, but we will have limited ability to control the management of any investees in which we take a minority position, and accordingly, such investees may not necessarily pursue the strategic initiatives that would be most beneficial to us. Furthermore, even if such investees do pursue our preferred strategic initiatives, there can be no assurance that the synergies we expect will ever be realized. See “Summary—Recent Developments” and “Business—Strategies—Strategic Investments: Continue to make growth investments and manage portfolio strategically with the aim to realize our SoftBank Synergy Group vision.” If an investee is included in our scope of consolidation in conjunction with these investment activities, this could positively or negatively affect our consolidated results of operations and financial position.

In addition, we carry significant amounts of goodwill and other intangible assets on our balance sheet as a result of our corporate acquisitions and investments. If a company in which we invest is unable to conduct its business as anticipated at the time of investment, our results of operations and financial position could be impacted, for example, through write-downs on assets recognized in conjunction with the investment activities including goodwill, property, plant and equipment, intangible assets or financial assets such as shares. In addition, any decline in the value of assets that were obtained through these investment activities, including investment equities, could cause us to recognize a valuation loss which could have an attendant impact on our results of operations and distributable amounts in our non-consolidated financial statements. Under IFRS, goodwill is tested for impairment whenever there is any indication of potential impairment, and at least annually, while intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over their estimated useful lives and are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication of potential impairment. We also have a number of equity-method associates, for which the impairment test is used. For example, we recorded a loss from financial instruments carried at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL,” the fair value of which is required to be measured at the end of each quarter under IFRS, with changes to be recognized as net income or loss) of ¥160 billion in our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 and a gain from financial instruments carried at FVTPL of ¥8 billion for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Financial instruments at FVTPL includes preferred shares of Jasper Infotech Private Limited, which operates “snapdeal.com,” an e-commerce site in India, and ANI Technologies Private Limited, which operates Ola, a taxi booking platform also in India. Furthermore, we recognized a loss on valuation of shares of subsidiaries and associates of ¥114 billion as special losses in our nonconsolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. The losses represented impairments of our investments in subsidiaries and associates, including STARFISH I PTE LTD, an intermediate holding company that owns preferred shares in Jasper Infotech Private Limited. In addition, our debt burden may increase if we borrow funds to finance any future acquisition or investment, which could have a negative impact on our cash flows and our ability to finance our overall operations. An acquired company may also be subject to an increased interest burden. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in completing business acquisitions or investments or fully integrating previously acquired companies.

If the companies we acquire or in which we invest fail to maintain adequate internal controls or sustain legal or regulatory compliance, we could suffer reputational harm and otherwise suffer adverse effects to our business, financial condition and results of operations. Although we conduct due diligence investigations of those companies, businesses or technologies which we seek to acquire, our assessments are subject to a number of assumptions concerning profitability, growth, interest rates and company valuations. Our inquiries may fail to uncover all material issues before an acquisition and we may experience unexpected losses arising from such issues after an acquisition. There can be no assurance that our assessments or due diligence of, and assumptions regarding, acquisition targets will prove to be correct, and actual developments may differ significantly from our expectations.

In certain cases we may consolidate or de-consolidate these investments from our consolidated financial results and doing so may affect our results negatively. As a result, period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations are not necessarily meaningful or indicative of future performance in this regard. Furthermore, proposed acquisitions may require approval by government authorities, which can block, impose conditions, or delay the process, which could result in a failure on our part to proceed with announced transactions on a timely basis or at all, thus hampering our opportunities for growth. In the event that conditions are imposed and we fail to meet them in a timely manner, the relevant government authority may impose fines and, in connection with a merger transaction, may require restorative measures, such as a mandatory disposition of assets or divestiture of operations. Finally, we could be susceptible to future credit downgrades if we pursue an aggressive investment strategy at the expense of key financial metrics. See “—There is uncertainty as to our existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Notes.”

Any of the above factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, credit ratings and results of operations or prevent us from achieving improvements in our financial condition and operating margins that could have otherwise been achieved by us without any particular investment.

Our financial condition and results may be significantly affected by risks relating to Sprint, its operations and financial performance.

Our consolidated subsidiary, Sprint, accounted for 43.6% and 40.7% of our net sales for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017 and 40.3% and 40.0% for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017, respectively. Sprint is in the business of selling communications services to subscribers and faces business risks associated with the telecommunications industry as well as risks unique to Sprint. Sprint’s ability to retain its existing subscribers, to compete successfully for new subscribers and reduce its churn rate depends on, among other things:

- Sprint’s ability to anticipate and respond to various competitive factors, including its successful execution of marketing and sales strategies; the acceptance of its value proposition; service delivery and customer care activities, including new account set-up and billing; and execution under credit and collection policies;
- The actual or perceived quality and coverage of Sprint’s network;
- Public perception about Sprint’s brand;
- Sprint’s ability to anticipate, develop and deploy new or enhanced technologies, products and services that are attractive to existing or potential subscribers;

- Sprint’s ability to continue to access spectrum and acquire additional spectrum capacity; and
- Sprint’s ability to maintain its current MVNO relationships and to enter into new MVNO arrangements.

Sprint’s ability to retain subscribers may be negatively affected by industry trends related to subscriber contracts. Sprint has seen aggressive customer acquisition efforts by its competitors. For example, most service providers, including Sprint, are offering wireless service plans without any long-term commitment. Furthermore, some service providers are reimbursing contract termination fees, including paying off the outstanding balance on devices, incurred by new customers in connection with such customers, terminating service with their current wireless service providers. Sprint’s competitors’ aggressive customer contract terms, such as those described above, could negatively affect Sprint’s ability to retain subscribers and could lead to an increase in its churn rates if Sprint is not successful in providing an attractive product, price and service mix, which could adversely affect its operating results.

We expect Sprint to continue to incur expenses, such as the reimbursement of subscriber termination fees and other subscriber acquisition and retention expenses, to attract and retain subscribers, but there can be no assurance that Sprint’s efforts will generate new subscribers or result in a lower churn rate. Subscriber losses and a high churn rate could adversely affect Sprint’s business, financial condition and results of operations.

Moreover, Sprint and its competitors continue to gain a greater proportion of new subscribers from each other’s existing subscriber bases rather than from first-time purchasers. To the extent Sprint cannot compete effectively for new subscribers or if Sprint attracts more subscribers that are not creditworthy, its revenues and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Sprint’s service plans allow certain subscribers to purchase or finance the use of an eligible device under an installment or lease contract payable generally over a period of up to 24 months. Subscribers who take advantage of these plans are not required to sign a fixed-term service contract to obtain postpaid service. Sprint could experience a higher churn rate than it expects, due to the ability of subscribers to more easily change service providers, which could adversely affect its results of operations. In addition, because Sprint’s lease and installment billing contracts permit customers to pay for devices over time, Sprint maintains a certain level of debt to support its investment in these contracts.

Sprint’s installment billing program subjects it to increased risks relating to consumer credit issues, which could result in increased costs, including increases to its bad debt expense and write-offs of installment billing receivables. Sprint also leases devices to certain of its subscribers. Its financial condition and results of operations depend, in part, on its ability to appropriately assess the credit risk of its lease subscribers and the ability of its lease subscribers to perform under its device leases.

We believe that Sprint’s business and capital expenditure plans are tailored to Sprint’s ability to generate cash from operations and obtain financing on acceptable terms. We consider Sprint to be a public company with substantial independence and the means to secure adequate financing through, among other things, capital markets issuances, securitization of receivables and vendor finance and improvements in cash from operations. However, if Sprint is unable to conduct its business as anticipated, is unable to create sufficient synergies with other Group companies, or requires more funds than anticipated to develop its business, we may provide Sprint with financial assistance such as loans.

We continue to explore various options involving potential transactions involving Sprint. As of the date hereof no agreements regarding the terms of any potential transaction have been reached with any party. It is our current intention to continue exploring alternatives. There can be no assurance that any agreement will be reached or that a transaction will ultimately be consummated. In addition, there can be no assurance regarding the structure of any such transaction, and there can be no assurance that such a transaction would not involve Sprint or any resulting entity ceasing to be a consolidated subsidiary of ours, or that such a transaction would not involve further investments by us in Sprint or any other entity. See also “—The acquisition of other companies, businesses or technologies, such as the acquisition of Arm, and the making of large concentrated investments, such as our investment in Uber Technologies, Inc., could result in operating difficulties, dilution or other harmful consequences.”

Our business development may be significantly affected by risks relating to Arm’s operations.

The operations of Arm could substantially affect our business development. Arm’s business is subject to risks, including:

- Competition in and changes to the semiconductor industry. Arm operates in the semiconductor market, which is highly competitive and has been characterized by rapid technological changes, short product lifecycles, high capital expenditures and intense pricing pressure. Arm currently competes with both large semiconductor companies and smaller semiconductor intellectual property companies. For example, Intel Corporation is currently developing an x86-based processor for tablets, mobile phones and IoT, which would compete with Arm's products. In growing markets, such as the IoT market, there are low barriers to entry, which allows many small-sized semiconductor intellectual property companies to compete with Arm. The success of the products of Arm's competitors could negatively impact Arm's market share and the value of its intellectual property.

- Risks associated with international sales. Arm's customers are located in many locations around the world, including in countries and locations (such as Russia, South America and Africa) where Arm has little knowledge or experience with the political culture or regulatory environment. In addition, the proportion of Arm's sales to customers in China is increasing and it is expected that this trend will continue, and Arm believes that the share will continue to increase. The semiconductor industry has been the subject of repeated disputes over government assistance to domestic manufacturers and fair trading policies, the outcomes of which could materially and adversely affect Arm's access to particular markets or Arm's competitive position generally.
- Changes in customer needs. The semiconductor market is characterized by rapidly changing technology that affects industry standards and the types of products that Arm's customers demand. The changing needs of Arm's customers may result in Arm's products no longer meeting customer specifications or being otherwise incompatible with customer-intended end uses. If we are unable to invest sufficient resources to meet the needs of Arm's customers, if we do so in an inefficient or untimely manner or if Arm's customers develop the capability to design semiconductors internally, Arm may lose market share and the value of its intellectual property could decrease.
- Customer concentration risk. Due to changes in technological trends and economic conditions, merger activities in the semiconductor industry may increase, resulting in a smaller number of customers to which Arm sells its products and increasing Arm's reliance on orders from a smaller number of larger customers, increasing the impact on sales of a reduction of orders by individual customers. For example, if a key customer's products incorporating Arm's products fail to achieve success in the market, or if a key customer foresees such failure, the relevant customer may reduce purchases of Arm's products. This risk is especially acute for customers that compete in the highly competitive, rapidly evolving mobile device market. Also, a smaller number of key customers could increase product development costs, as key customers could require Arm to develop or modify its products more frequently than expected.
- Inability to retain and motivate qualified personnel. The number of Arm's employees has increased rapidly in the last few years, as it has accelerated the hiring of engineers to develop the next-generation of processors that will meet customer demands. We plan to double the number of Arm's employees since the acquisition. There is no assurance that we will be able to adapt Arm's organizational structure, corporate culture and infrastructure to accommodate this increase in employees, particularly if the increase in employees continues at the current rate.
- Reputational risk. Arm's technologies are incorporated into products that are used around the globe by numerous individuals and companies. These products, in turn, are used to accumulate, manage and transmit massive amounts of private, personal and proprietary information. As a result, if issues arise with these products, as a result of problems or defects with Arm's technologies, Arm could suffer significant reputational harm and the value of Arm's brand and intellectual property could be negatively affected. As Arm's technologies are becoming increasingly complex, the risk of problems or defects arising may also increase.
- Risk of infringing on the intellectual property rights of others. Although Arm pays considerable attention to establishing and maintaining its products' integrity, if Arm is involved in a dispute with another company for infringement of intellectual property, it may become necessary for Arm to defend its intellectual property and its technologies. Occasionally, a third party asserts patent rights, copyrights or other intellectual property rights against Arm's technologies. Such assertion against Arm or a licensee of Arm's technologies may cause Arm to incur a significant amount of expenses, and Arm may become obligated to compensate its licensee pursuant to license agreements.
- Dependence on intellectual property licensees. Arm is dependent on its licensees to manufacture and market microprocessors and other intellectual property based on Arm's architecture in order to receive royalties in the future. Arm is also dependent on licensees to add value to its license architecture by providing complete Arm-based microprocessor solutions to meet specific application needs of systems companies. If one or more of Arm's licensees stops licensing microprocessors or other intellectual property, reduces its orders, fails to pay license or royalty fees due or does not produce products containing Arm microprocessors or other intellectual property, Arm's operating results could be materially and negatively affected.

- Arm and its customers fail to invest in the ecosystem of developers who build Arm-based products and services. Arm processors often run software created by independent software vendors ("ISVs") or through consortiums of companies working together. Each end market has its own ecosystem of consortia and ISVs. These ecosystems need to be supported by engineers from Arm and its customers and through direct monetary investment. Insufficient investment may result in the ecosystems providing better support for products based on non-Arm-based technology, leading to equipment manufacturers not choosing Arm-based chips, leading to a reduction in Arm's revenues.

Our financial results may be significantly affected by risks relating to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment, its operations and financial performance.

The SoftBank Vision Fund, which was established outside of Japan, started its operations in May 2017. The SoftBank Vision Fund seeks to acquire minority interests in many cases in both private and public companies, ranging from emerging technology businesses to established companies requiring substantial growth funding across a wide range of technology sectors, as long as the investments fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy. Investment opportunities of the Company of $100 million or more that fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy are generally required to be carried out through the SoftBank Vision Fund or its associated vehicles. Subject to certain circumstances, the Company can make certain other investments, including (but not limited to) investments not meeting the $100 million threshold, strategic investments at the operating company level, and/or other investments that do not fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund's investment strategy and criteria. We subsequently established the Delta Fund as a separate and distinct fund in order to make investments in DiDi with one of the other limited partners of the SoftBank Vision Fund, and its final closing was completed on September 27, 2017. SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are each separately managed by SBIA which is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority. Investment decisions for the various entities comprising SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are each separately made by their respective Investment Committees established as committees of SBIA. SBIA is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. Furthermore, we invest in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as a limited partner of each. Total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion as of December 31, 2017, with total committed capital from us of $28.1 billion, including contribution of shares of Arm by in-kind contribution in satisfaction of approximately $8.2 billion. Subject to certain consent requirements, the final closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund is anticipated to occur no later than the three months ending June 30, 2018. Total committed capital to the Delta Fund is $6.0 billion, with total committed capital from us of $4.4 billion, including contribution of shares of DiDi. For further information, including the current status of our contributions to each fund, see "Business—SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund." The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment may not realize the anticipated return on its investments, which may negatively affect our performance or financial condition.

As the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are controlled by us for accounting purposes, the results of operations, assets and liabilities of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are included in our consolidated financial statements. The portfolio companies of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund that we are deemed to control from an IFRS perspective are treated as our subsidiaries and their results of operations, assets and liabilities are included in our consolidated financial statements. Therefore, the poor financial performance of companies in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund may negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. In particular, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund may seek to incur Indebtedness to fund their investments in whole or in part, which would add to our overall consolidated leverage. Also, in the event that the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund's targets for investment do not become subsidiaries on our consolidated financial statements, as a basic rule, they are measured at fair value at the end of every quarter, and changes in the value are recognized as a net gain or loss. In the event that the fair value of these investments decreases, it may negatively affect our group's performance or financial condition.

Our holdings in Sprint, Yahoo Japan and our strategic associates such as Alibaba will not necessarily generate cash that can be used to pay principal or interest on the Notes or our other indebtedness.

Each of Sprint, Yahoo Japan and Alibaba has equity securities listed on public exchanges and therefore operates with varying degrees of independence from us. To a varying extent, we are able to exercise some control over these companies through our control of certain voting stock and pursuant to shareholders' agreements. However, we are unable to easily access cash generated from operations by these businesses without a dividend, distribution or other payment made in accordance with the relevant corporate articles of each company. In addition, Sprint is subject to financial covenants (including restrictions on dividends and other payments) in certain of its indebtedness that restrict Sprint's ability to make distribution payments to us.

The ability of Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Arm and our strategic associates such as Alibaba to make a dividend, distribution or other payment to us is further constrained by their business results, which are subject to substantial risks. In particular, Yahoo Japan and Alibaba are subject to risks, including:

- Macroeconomic trends reducing advertising and online spending or re-orienting spending in a way that they do not anticipate;
- Technological change undermining expectations on how people will access services;
- Competition from existing companies or disruptive threats;
- Reliance on third-party providers and electrical and internet transmission infrastructure;
- Regulatory changes and interventions affecting e-commerce, social media or financial services particularly in, but not limited to, China;
- Litigation and regulatory sanctions with respect to intellectual property infringement or litigation from end-users, in particular with respect to fraud in online sales and information security; and
- Risks in collecting sums spent through their infrastructure and services.

For further discussion on the risks facing Sprint, see “—Our financial condition may be significantly affected by risks relating to Sprint, its operations and financial performance.” For further discussion on the risks facing Arm, see “—Our business development may be significantly affected by risks relating to Arm's operations.”

In the event we attempt to exit any of our investments, there is no assurance that we would be able to do so successfully, or at all. We have significant unrealized gains in the equity of certain affiliates, which we may be unable to recognize.

Support for subsidiaries and others may not produce the anticipated results.

We occasionally provide subsidiaries and others with financial assistance through loans, guarantees, and other means, when we deem such assistance to be necessary. For example, if Sprint or Brightstar is unable to conduct business as anticipated at the time of acquisition, or is unable to create sufficient synergies with other subsidiaries and associates, or requires more funds than anticipated to develop its business, we may provide either with financial assistance such as loans. If the supported subsidiaries and others are unable to conduct business as we expect, it could impact our financial position and results of operations.

We may raise additional debt against our holdings in our listed and unlisted subsidiaries, strategic associates or other investment assets or otherwise be adversely affected by declines in their respective valuations.

As part of our long-term strategy to become a strategic holding company, we expect to rely increasingly on the value of our investments in listed and unlisted subsidiaries and strategic associates to meet our financing requirements and support our growth. We concentrate a high percentage of our investments in a relatively small number of listed and unlisted subsidiaries and strategic associates, including SoftBank Corp., Sprint, Arm, Yahoo Japan and Alibaba, especially in the telecommunications and technology industries. The equity value of these investments may be affected by fluctuations in general market conditions, the industries in which they operate, their specific operating performance, and extrinsic events such as significant resales by other major shareholders. Similarly, we have a large number of portfolio investments in unlisted companies, which can be illiquid and subject to substantial uncertainty and instability regarding valuation.

In the past, we have on several occasions sought to monetize the value of portions of our strategic investments by raising significant amounts of Indebtedness directly or indirectly secured over these assets and may continue to do so in future. Similarly, we expect one of our wholly-owned subsidiaries to enter into the Margin Loan Agreement with Lenders to borrow on or around March 13, 2018, $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility. The borrower's obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement will not be guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or SoftBank Corp., will have a maturity of three years and will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares and cash pledged to the lenders. See “Summary—Recent Developments—Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba.”

Additionally, loans under our expected Margin Loan Agreement secured by ADSs of Alibaba are subject to customary collateral valuation requirements, some of which could be triggered by a significant decline in the trading price of Alibaba ADSs. Failure to satisfy such requirements could result in additional collateral being pledged by the borrower of the Margin Loan Agreement or the maturity of the loans under the Margin Loan Agreement being accelerated and the lenders exercising foreclosure remedies against such collateral. Any sustained, precipitous decline in the value of our key listed subsidiaries or other portfolio assets, or in the valuations of global equity markets generally, could also substantially reduce the overall value of our investment portfolio, which could in turn impair our ability to monetize those investments to repay or refinance our outstanding indebtedness or meet our financing requirements for future growth.

We depend on management resources of other companies.

We develop our business in Japan and overseas through business alliances, joint ventures and similar arrangements with other companies. If an alliance partner or joint venture partner has a significant change of business strategy or experiences deterioration in its results of operations or financial position, it is possible that adequate results may not be obtained from the business alliances, joint ventures and similar arrangements or that it may become difficult to continue such business alliances or joint ventures. In addition, it is also possible that execution of a business alliance or joint venture with a particular third party could preclude the execution of business alliances, joint ventures and similar arrangements with other parties. Such events could impact our business development and results of operations.

We depend on the Yahoo! brand and related trademarks, the continued use of which is important to our business.

Yahoo Japan licenses the use of the Yahoo! brand from a subsidiary of Verizon Communications Inc. (“Verizon”). The licensing agreement with the subsidiary of Verizon is critical to our business and is used in certain service names such as Yahoo! JAPAN, Y!mobile and Yahoo! BB. We have benefited from the strong brand recognition and existing user base of a wide range of internet services offered by Yahoo Japan and its portal site, Yahoo! JAPAN, which is the most frequently visited portal website in Japan.

Yahoo Japan’s brand name, popular internet website and existing user base have contributed significantly to the expansion of our Y!mobile and Yahoo! BB subscriber base. If our current relationship with such subsidiary of Verizon were to deteriorate for any reason, we may not be able to continue using the Yahoo! brand, which could significantly damage the brand recognition related to Yahoo Japan’s portal site or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our renewable energy business is vulnerable to reductions in power production due to climatic and other factors.

We engage in the renewable energy business, which is subject to inherent unpredictability, as it is heavily influenced by weather conditions such as sunlight and wind force. As a result, protracted unfavorable weather conditions could significantly reduce the energy generated by our production facilities. Moreover, output of renewable energy could also be reduced if production facilities are damaged or become inoperable due to natural disasters or other events. Our financial condition or results of operations may be adversely affected by any of the above.

Security breaches and illegal or inappropriate use of our services could adversely affect our reputation and expose us to claims from customers and penalties from authorities.

We collect, handle and maintain customer information, including personal information and other confidential information, in the course of our business operations. In some cases we also rely upon third-party subcontractors to handle customer information. Information handled by ourselves or our subcontractors may include a customer’s name and email address, as well as date of birth, address, contact information, bank account information, credit card information and other information. We are subject to various regulations regarding the storage and protection of customer information, and we are required to exercise care in protecting the confidentiality of personal information, as well as to take steps to ensure the security of our services.

Any material leak of personal information, due to hacking or other unauthorized access of one of our databases, or due to the willful misconduct or inadvertent mistake of one of our own employees or subcontractors or otherwise, could result in claims or lawsuits against us, and we could be held legally responsible for any damages sustained by the affected persons. Such events could also result in reputational damage even if we are not held legally responsible. Further, we could incur additional expenses associated with changing our security systems, either voluntarily or in response to administrative guidance or other regulatory initiatives from the government, or in connection with public relations campaigns designed to prevent or mitigate damage to our corporate image or reputation. Any related reputational damage could lead to a decline in new subscribers or users or an increase in subscriber or user cancellations for any of our services. Any of the above consequences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations may be subject to service disruptions or decline in quality due to human error and other factors.

In our provision of various services, including telecommunications services, there is a possibility that a major problem could occur if we became unable to continuously provide the services, or suffer a decline in the quality of the services, due to human error, serious problems with equipment or systems, or other causes. If such disruptions or decline in quality were to become widespread and/or significant time were required to restore services, our credibility or corporate image could deteriorate, making it difficult to acquire and retain customers. This could impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations may be significantly affected by natural disasters or other unexpected disruptions such as earthquakes or volcanic eruptions.

We construct and maintain telecommunications networks and information systems necessary for the provision of various services, including telecommunications and internet services. Some regions in which we conduct business operations are susceptible to natural disasters, such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, typhoons, tsunamis and floods. Such natural disasters or other unexpected disruptions, such as fires, power outages or shortages, terrorist attacks, human error, computer viruses, cyber-attacks, unauthorized access to our system or servers or system malfunctions could affect the normal operation of telecommunications networks and information systems and hinder our provision of services to consumers, and any resulting decline in the quality of service on a widespread basis or for an extended period of time could result in loss of our reputation or creditworthiness and make it difficult to retain or attract customers. Further, remedying such disruptions could require significant unanticipated capital expenditures. For example, Japan is an earthquake-prone country and has historically experienced numerous large earthquakes that have resulted in extensive infrastructural damage and destruction. Most recently, in the aftermath of the Great East Japan Earthquake, which struck Japan on March 11, 2011, we, as well as other major mobile communications companies, experienced a temporary but widespread decline in the quality of our mobile services due to the sudden influx of text messages and phone calls. We also experienced store closings, widespread damage to our facilities and other effects due to the structural damage caused by the earthquake.

Additionally, the head offices and business offices of various companies within the SoftBank Group are concentrated within the Tokyo metropolitan area. Therefore, the possibility exists that a major earthquake or other catastrophic natural disaster or attack in the Tokyo metropolitan area could significantly affect our operations or impede the continuity of our business. Any of the foregoing may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

To the extent that it is reasonably available, we carry insurance for losses, with policy specifications and insured limits that we believe are adequate and appropriate for our business.

We are subject to laws, government regulations and licensing regimes that restrict and may impose new restrictions on our business.

We are subject to various laws and regulations pertaining to general corporate business activities, as well as laws, regulations and licensing regimes governing our business operations, including laws regulating telecommunications, internet advertising, e-commerce, energy, robots, semiconductors, IoT, financial or payment business or other corporate activities. For example, the Telecommunications Business Act and Radio Act, which govern our telecommunications business in Japan, and the regimes that govern the spectrum allocated to us by the MIC, allow us to conduct our mobile communications operations. Our businesses are also subject to laws and regulations relating to the environment, product liability, unfair competition, consumer protection, privacy protection, prohibition of bribery, labor, intellectual property rights, prevention of money laundering, taxes, currency exchange, business and investment permits and the import and export of goods. See “Regulation.” Additionally, we have been subject to administrative guidance in the past and any future breaches of relevant regulations could further subject us to administrative sanctions or guidance by government agencies that may hinder our business development or create financial burdens that could negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Many of the licenses and permits that we require to provide telecommunications services are subject to various conditions and there is no assurance that we will be able to satisfy such conditions. Additionally, in Japan we are also dependent on radio frequency spectrum allocated to us by the MIC. There can be no assurance that the MIC will grant our application with respect to an allocation of frequency spectrum or that the MIC will not reallocate frequency spectrum in a manner that could be detrimental to us, including the allocations of spectrum to potential new MNOs proposing to enter the Japanese mobile telecommunications market. See “Business—Our Business Segments—Domestic Telecommunications Segment—Mobile Network” and “—we face intense competition including from other large and established competitors and well-funded entrants, and such competition may intensify.”

In the United States, over the past few years, the U.S. Federal Trade Commission (the “FCC”) and other federal and state agencies have engaged in increased regulatory and enforcement activity as well as investigations of the U.S. telecommunications industry generally. Enforcement activities or investigations could make it more difficult and expensive to operate Sprint’s business, and could increase the costs of its wireless operations. In addition, Sprint may offer products that include highly regulated financial services, which subject it to additional state and federal regulations. The costs to comply with such regulations and failure to remain compliant with such regulations could adversely affect its results of operations.

In providing services in different countries, we are subject to various laws and regulations that govern such jurisdictions as well as various licensing regimes under such laws. The enforcement of existing regulations may greatly restrict our ability to conduct and expand our business. Additionally, revisions to or changes in the interpretation or enforcement of applicable laws and regulations and the introduction of new laws and regulations could prevent us from conducting our current businesses or developing new businesses as anticipated. For example, in recent years, we have made several investments in companies such as Uber Technologies, Inc., DiDi, Grab and Ola Cabs, which provide ride sharing services in a large number of jurisdictions globally. The taxi and ride-sharing industries are increasingly subject to significant regulation, and these businesses have each experienced challenges complying with the laws and regulations applicable to them. In some cases, these businesses have chosen to withdraw from jurisdictions where they determined it was impracticable or impossible to comply with such regulations.

The Company, Sprint and Sprint Communications, Inc. have entered into a National Security Agreement with the United States Department of Defense, the United States Department of Homeland Security and the United States Department of Justice. Under the National Security Agreement, we have agreed to implement certain measures to protect U.S. national security. Implementing these measures could increase costs and limit control over certain U.S. facilities, contracts, personnel, vendor selection and operations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If new laws and regulations are introduced in a form we do not expect, or if existing laws and regulations are amended or subject to changes in interpretation or application, the products and services that we are able to offer to our customers could be limited. We may not be able to accurately predict, prevent or effectively react to new laws and regulations, or new amendments to or interpretations and applications of existing laws and regulations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, decisions by regulators and competent authorities regarding the granting, amendment or renewal of licenses to the Company or to third parties, could materially adversely affect the Company’s businesses, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to changes in accounting and taxation systems.

The introduction of new accounting or taxation systems, or changes to existing systems, and the occurrence of an additional tax burden due to differences of views with the tax authorities could adversely affect our financial position and results of operations.

Our business may be adversely affected by actual or perceived health risks associated with mobile communications devices and the location of base stations and antennas.

Mobile communications devices have been alleged to have adverse health effects, due to radio frequency emissions. Similarly, the location of base stations and antennas has become a health-related concern as the radio frequency emissions from these structures are continuous. The actual or perceived risk of using mobile communications devices could adversely affect us through a reduction in subscribers, network usage per subscriber or financing available to the mobile communications industry. These adverse effects are similarly possible based on the perception of the locations of our base stations and antennas (i.e., whether surrounding locations are highly populated or not) and the impact our base stations and antennas have on those locations. We cannot provide assurance that there is no relationship between radio frequency emissions and health risks.

We may suffer from unauthorized use of our intellectual property by third parties and incur costs associated with protecting our intellectual property.

We regard our proprietary products, brands, domain names, trade names, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and similar intellectual property as critical to our business. However, policing the unauthorized use of our intellectual property is difficult and expensive. Although we have taken steps to prevent the misappropriation of our intellectual property, such protective measures may not be adequate to prevent the unauthorized use of our intellectual property. Any misappropriation of intellectual property that is used in our business, whether licensed to us or owned by us, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, the laws and enforcement procedures in some countries do not protect intellectual property rights to the same extent as the laws and enforcement procedures of Japan or the United States. Legal protection of our rights may be ineffective in such countries, and we may be unable to protect our intellectual property rights in such countries. In the future, we may need to resort to court proceedings to enforce our intellectual property rights, which might result in substantial costs and diversion of management attention and resources away from the operation and growth of our business.

We may be subject to intellectual property claims.

We generally operate our business in a way that we believe is reasonably designed to avoid infringing the intellectual property rights of third parties. However, particularly as there are many companies that develop and provide online technologies and broadband products, the features and content of which continue to overlap, there is an increasing possibility that we may be subject to litigation involving claims of patent, copyright or trademark infringement, or other violations of intellectual property rights of third parties. In particular, the patent field covering online and related technology is rapidly evolving and surrounded by a great deal of uncertainty, and our technologies, processes or business models and methods may infringe the intellectual property rights of third parties either now existing or to be issued in the future. Existing or future infringement claims against us, whether valid or not, may be time consuming, distracting to management and expensive to defend.

Intellectual property litigation or claims could force us to:

- cease operating or using products or services that incorporate the intellectual property subject to such claims;
- modify the products or services to avoid infringing upon the intellectual property rights of third parties;
- obtain a license from the holder of the infringed intellectual property, which may not be available on commercially favorable terms, or at all; or
- change our business practices, any of which could result in additional costs.

Additionally, in the event that there is a determination that we have infringed the proprietary rights of any third party, we could incur substantial liabilities. Any of the above may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

From time to time, we may become involved in legal proceedings, which could adversely affect our business.

From time to time, we may become subject to legal proceedings, claims, litigation and government investigations or inquiries, which could be expensive, lengthy or disruptive to normal business operations or affect our corporate image. In addition, the outcome of any legal proceedings, claims, litigation, investigations or inquiries may be difficult to predict and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Relating to the Notes

There are no prior markets for the Notes and any markets that do develop may not be liquid.

Although approval in-principle has been received for the listing and quotation of the Notes on the SGX ST, there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain or maintain such listing or that any liquid markets for the Notes will ever develop or be maintained. The Initial Purchasers have advised us that they currently intend to make a market in the Notes following the offering. However, the Initial Purchasers have no obligation to make a market in the Notes and they may stop at any time. Furthermore, there can be no assurance as to the liquidity of any markets that may develop for the Notes or the prices at which you will be able to sell your Notes, if at all. Future trading prices of the Notes will depend on many factors, including:

- prevailing interest rates;
- our financial condition and results of operations;
- the then-current ratings assigned to the Notes;
- the market for similar securities; and
- general economic conditions.

Any trading markets that develop would be affected by many factors independent of and in addition to the foregoing, including the time remaining to the maturity of the Notes and until we are able to redeem the Notes at our option without paying a make-whole premium; the outstanding amount of the Notes; and the level, direction and volatility of market interest rates generally.

In addition, in the event that our obligations in connection with maintaining the listing and quotation of the Notes on the SGX-ST become unduly burdensome, we may be entitled to, and may decide to, delist the Notes from the SGX-ST and seek an alternate listing for the Notes on another securities exchange.

The Notes and the Note Guarantees are unsecured obligations and will be effectively subordinated to the existing and future secured indebtedness of the Company and its subsidiaries. We and our subsidiaries may in the future incur substantial amounts of secured debt.

The Notes and the Note Guarantees are unsecured obligations ranking effectively junior in right of payment to all existing and future secured indebtedness of the Company and any Note Guarantors, to the extent of the value of the collateral securing such indebtedness. As of December 31, 2017, neither the Company nor the Note Guarantor had any secured indebtedness except for ¥399 billion ($3,530 million) outstanding under securities lending arrangements whereby we loan shares that we own to a major Japanese lender and receive cash as collateral, ¥776 billion ($6,863 million) in securitization of receivables and ¥1,242 billion ($10,989 million) outstanding under finance lease. See “Description of Other Indebtedness.”

Additionally, the Indenture will not prohibit (other than in certain limited cases) the Company, the Note Guarantor or the Company’s other subsidiaries from incurring indebtedness that is secured by liens over certain property and assets that do not also secure the Notes and Note Guarantees. Among other things, the Indenture will permit the Company and the Note Guarantor to pledge any shares that they own in the Capital Stock of Alibaba Group Holding Limited or any other Excluded Subsidiary (as defined in “Description of the Notes”) or person other than a subsidiary to secure indebtedness that does not provide for recourse to the assets of the Company or Note Guarantor beyond the pledged collateral. In addition, the Indenture will permit our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries to incur unlimited amounts of indebtedness that (i) is secured by, among other collateral, any of our or our subsidiaries’ shares in the Capital Stock of Alibaba Group Holding Limited, SBGK (the direct subsidiary of the Company and parent of the Note Guarantor), Sprint, Arm, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund (and any assets held thereby) or any other Excluded Subsidiary or person other than a subsidiary and (ii) is otherwise non-recourse to the Company or the Note Guarantor. See “Description of the Notes.” The Indenture will not regulate our use of the proceeds of such secured indebtedness and will permit us to use such proceeds for, among other things, capital expenditures (including in ring-fenced subsidiaries such as Sprint), investments in affiliates, associates or our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries (as defined in “Description of the Notes”), repurchase of ordinary or preferred stock, distributions, dividends or any general corporate purpose. We cannot assure you that the proceeds of such secured indebtedness will be available for repayment of the Notes.

In the event of any bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganization, rehabilitation, dissolution, winding-up or other insolvency proceedings of the Company or any Note Guarantor, the rights of the holders of the Notes to participate in the assets of the Company or of such Note Guarantor will rank behind the claims of secured creditors, including trade creditors, if any.

Repayment of the Notes may be compromised if:

- we enter into bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganization, rehabilitation, dissolution or other winding-up proceedings or other insolvency proceedings;
- we default in payment of our secured indebtedness or other unsecured indebtedness; or
- any of our indebtedness is accelerated.

If any of these events occurs, our assets may be used first to satisfy the claims of secured creditors and the remaining assets may be insufficient to pay amounts due on the Notes.

The Notes and the Note Guarantees thereof will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries.

As of December 31, 2017, structurally senior total interest-bearing debt of Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries of the Company was ¥5,025 billion ($44,468 million) or 33% of the total interest-bearing debt of the Company on a consolidated basis, excluding financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract, which, however, also constitute structurally senior Indebtedness of the Company on a consolidated basis. Our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries include Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Arm, Brightstar, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as of the issue date, among others, and our structurally senior debt as of the same date is expected to include the loans made to our relevant subsidiary upon the funding of the expected Margin Loan Agreement.

The holders of the Notes will not have any direct right to claim against any of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries, and may only participate in the assets of such subsidiaries through the distribution of the remaining assets to us as a common equity interest holder of such subsidiaries or the limited repayment to us as a creditor of such subsidiaries (if we have a claim against such subsidiaries) under bankruptcy or other insolvency procedures. As a result, the Notes and the Note Guarantees thereof are structurally subordinated to the preferred securities, outstanding debt and other obligations of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries and the amount of such preferred securities, debt and obligations and may be significant.

The Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor may be released under certain circumstances, as well, at which point any Indebtedness of such former Note Guarantor would also be structurally senior to the obligations of the Company under the Notes. See “—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Notes under which the respective Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee” and “—There is uncertainty as to existing long-term corporate credit ratings and the instruments ratings of the Notes.”

Our obligations under the Notes will rank pari passu in right of payment with the Company’s outstanding unsubordinated corporate bonds (including the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes, the 2017 Notes and our senior unsecured yen-denominated bonds), the Senior Term Loan and outstanding amounts under our commitment line facility, all of which will have equal right to all assets of the Company in the event of an insolvency or liquidation.

In insolvency or liquidation proceedings of the Company, subject to any claims that are preferred by law, secured claims or cases of preference as provided for under Japanese laws of general application, the Notes will rank pari passu in right of payment to all unsecured and unsubordinated indebtedness of the Company, including the Company’s unsubordinated corporate bonds (including the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes, the 2017 Notes and the Company’s senior unsecured yen-denominated bonds), the Senior Term Loan and outstanding amounts under the commitment line facility, as well as other senior borrowings. See “Description of Other Indebtedness.” Upon any distribution to the creditors of the Company in a liquidation, administration, bankruptcy, moratorium of payments, dissolution or other winding-up of the Company, the creditors under the Company’s unsubordinated corporate bonds (including the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes, the 2017 Notes and the Company’s senior unsecured yen-denominated bonds), the Senior Term Loan and other senior borrowings will be entitled to be paid equally and ratably with respect to property and assets of the Company. See “—Enforcement of claims on the Notes and the Note Guarantees will be subject to certain limitations arising under Japanese insolvency and corporate laws. Japanese laws may be different from, and not as favorable to you as, the laws in other jurisdictions.”

As of December 31, 2017, after giving effect to the offering of the Notes and the expected use of proceeds thereof and the Exchange Offer, the Company and the Note Guarantor would have had further adjusted total interest-bearing debt of ¥ billion ($ billion). The Indenture will not restrict the Company or the Note Guarantor from issuing preferred stock or incurring further unsecured indebtedness, which might dilute recoveries of holders of the Notes in any insolvency or liquidation of the Company or the Note Guarantor.

The Indenture will contain limited restrictive covenants and will not restrict our ability to make investments, incur indebtedness at the Company or the Note Guarantor, pay dividends (except in certain limited circumstances) or enter into affiliate transactions.

The Indenture will contain limited restrictive covenants and the Indenture will not restrict our ability to:

- make capital expenditures (including in ring-fenced subsidiaries such as Sprint);
- invest in affiliates, associates or Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries (including by servicing indebtedness at such affiliates, associates or Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries), invest cash and assets into the SoftBank Vision Fund (to which we have committed to invest $28 billion in cash and in-kind contributions of investments), repurchase ordinary or preferred stock, make distributions or issue dividends (except in certain limited circumstances);
- issue preferred securities or incur unsecured indebtedness at the Company or the Note Guarantor;
- pledge the Capital Stock of an Excluded Subsidiary, any person other than a subsidiary or any member of the Alibaba group owned by the Company or the Note Guarantor to secure indebtedness that does not provide for recourse to the assets of the Company or the Note Guarantor beyond the pledged collateral; or
- enter into transactions with affiliates.

Our taking such actions under the Indenture could adversely affect our ability to pay amounts due on the Notes.

To the extent the Indenture will contain restrictive covenants, those covenants will be limited in effect and subject to certain exceptions.

- The Indenture will only contain limited restrictions on our ability to guarantee or provide security in respect of indebtedness at Subsidiaries, Affiliates and Associates other than Note Guarantors. See “—The Notes and the Note Guarantees will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries.”
- The negative pledge to be provided by the Company and the Note Guarantor under the Indenture does not apply to certain types of indebtedness, including secured indebtedness that does not provide for recourse to the assets of the Company or the Note Guarantor beyond the pledged collateral, and is subject to certain material exceptions. See “Description of the Notes—Certain Covenants—Negative Pledge.”
- The Indenture will prohibit our using the proceeds from an asset sale to repurchase ordinary or preferred stock from or make a distribution or issue dividends to our equity holders only if such repurchases, distributions or dividends exceed $20 billion in the aggregate since the issue date and our Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio (calculated as set forth in the Indenture) exceeds 4.0 to 1.0 at the time of the proposed repurchase, distribution or dividend (after giving pro forma effect thereof). The scope of this covenant is subject to certain material exceptions, including with respect to assets comprising interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund or our investments of the SoftBank Vision Fund. See “Description of the Notes—Certain Covenants—Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales.”

The ratings of the Notes may change after the issuance of the Notes and those changes may have an adverse effect on the market prices and liquidity of the Notes.

Credit ratings that the Notes may receive will not address all material risks relating to an investment in the Notes, but reflect only the view of each rating agency at the time the rating is issued. There is no assurance that any such credit ratings will remain in effect for any given period of time or that such ratings will not be lowered, suspended or withdrawn entirely by the rating agencies, if, in each rating agency’s judgment, circumstances so warrant. A downgrade or potential downgrade in these ratings or the assignment of new ratings that are lower than existing ratings could reduce the number of potential investors of the Notes and adversely affect the prices and liquidity of the Notes. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Notes.

We may not have sufficient funds to repurchase the Notes upon a Change of Control Triggering Event and certain strategic transactions may not constitute a Change of Control Triggering Event.

The occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event (as defined in “Description of the Notes”) will require us to offer to repurchase the Notes at a purchase price equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount of Notes repurchased, plus accrued and unpaid interest on the Notes up to but excluding the date of repurchase. It is possible that we will not have sufficient funds upon a Change of Control Triggering Event to purchase the Notes tendered pursuant to such an offer and any failure to do so would be a default under the Indenture and could result in cross defaults under our other financing agreements (including the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes and the 2017 Notes). See “Description of the Notes—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event.” In addition, some of our financing agreements or other similar agreements to which we may become a party may contain restrictions on our ability to purchase the Notes, regardless of the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event.

We frequently evaluate and may in the future enter into strategic transactions. The change of control provisions contained in the Indenture may not protect you in the event of highly leveraged transactions and other important corporate events, including reorganizations, recapitalizations, delistings, sale of important investments (including our holdings in Alibaba or the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund (or the portfolio companies thereof)), restructurings or mergers that may adversely affect you, because these transactions may not involve a change in voting power or beneficial interest of the magnitude required to trigger the change of control. The change of control would only be triggered due to a change in beneficial ownership of our shares if, among other things, a person other than Mr. Masayoshi Son, our Chairman and CEO, beneficially owned more than 50% of our voting shares. The change of control would not be triggered if a person other than Mr. Masayoshi Son became our controlling shareholder, unless such other person obtains more than 50% of our voting shares. Strategic transactions such as the foregoing could happen at any time and could be material to our business. Such transactions could significantly increase the amount of our indebtedness outstanding at such time or otherwise affect our capital structure or credit ratings.

One of the ways a change of control can occur is upon a sale of all or substantially all of our assets. With respect to the sale of assets referred to in the definition of change of control in the Indenture, the meaning of the phrase “all or substantially all” as used in that definition varies according to the facts and circumstances of the subject transaction, has no clearly established meaning under the relevant law and is subject to judicial interpretation. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty in ascertaining whether a particular transaction would involve a disposition of “all or substantially all” of the assets of a person and therefore it may be unclear whether a Change of Control Triggering Event has occurred and whether we are required to make a change of control offer to repurchase the Notes.

Our operations may be restricted by the terms of the Indenture and our other financing agreements, which could limit our ability to plan for or to react to market conditions or meet our capital needs.

The Indenture will include certain restrictive incurrence-based covenants, including restrictions on the ability of the Company to incur secured indebtedness or guarantee the indebtedness of Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries, as well as restrictions on the ability of the Company and the Note Guarantor to layer additional debt between other indebtedness and the Notes or the Note Guarantee. See “Description of the Notes—Certain Covenants.”

We are subject to certain restrictive financial maintenance covenants in our other financing agreements, including with respect to designated net interest-bearing debt and leverage ratios. See “Description of Other Indebtedness” and Note 21 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 included elsewhere in this offering memorandum. In addition, certain of our subsidiaries, including Sprint and Brightstar, are subject to restrictive covenants in their financing arrangements that limit the ability of such subsidiaries to distribute dividends or otherwise make payments to the Company. See “—Our corporate structure may affect your ability to receive payment on the Notes.”

These covenants and any covenants included in future agreements could limit our ability to plan for or react to market conditions or to meet our capital needs, limit how we conduct our business and execute our business strategy, prevent us from raising additional debt or equity financing to operate during general economic or business downturns, impair our ability to compete effectively or to take advantage of new business opportunities or generally affect our ability to grow in accordance with our plans. Our ability to comply with these covenants may be affected by events beyond our control, and we may have to curtail some of our operations and growth plans to maintain compliance.

If we are unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in our current or future debt and other agreements (including any such restrictions and covenants in the current and future debt and other agreement of Sprint or its subsidiaries), including the Indenture, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements. In the event of a default under these agreements, the holders of the debt could terminate their commitments to lend to us, accelerate repayment of the debt and declare all amounts borrowed due and payable or terminate the agreements, as the case may be. Furthermore, some of our financing agreements, including the 2013 Notes, the 2015 Notes, the 2017 Notes and the Indenture, contain cross-acceleration or cross-payment-default provisions. As a result, our default under one debt agreement may cause the acceleration of repayment of debt or result in a default under our other financing agreements. If any of these events occur, we cannot assure you that our assets and cash flow would be sufficient to repay in full all of our indebtedness, or that we would be able to find alternative financing. Even if we could obtain alternative financing, we cannot assure you that it would be on terms that are favorable or acceptable to us.

Our substantial leverage and debt service obligations could limit our flexibility, adversely affect our business and prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under the Notes.

Our total interest-bearing debt excluding financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract was ¥15,076 billion ($133,413 million) as of December 31, 2017.

The degree to which we are leveraged could have important negative consequences for us and you as holder of the Notes. Our ability to make scheduled payments on the Notes and to meet our other debt service obligations depends on our future operating and financial performance and ability to generate cash, which are affected by our ability to implement our business strategy as well as general economic, financial, competitive and other factors beyond our control. For example, our substantial debt could require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to making payments on our debt, thereby limiting the availability of funds for working capital, business opportunities and other general corporate purposes, increase our vulnerability to adverse general economic or industry conditions, make it more difficult for us to satisfy our obligations with respect to the Notes, limit our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in our business and the industry in which we operate, increase our cost of borrowing, place us at a competitive disadvantage compared to our competitors that may have less indebtedness and limit our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions or general corporate purposes. If we cannot generate sufficient cash to meet our debt service obligations or fund our other business needs, we may, among other things, need to refinance all or a portion of our debt, including the Notes, obtain additional financing or sell assets.

Additionally, despite our high level of indebtedness and leverage, we may be able to incur significant additional amounts of debt, which could further exacerbate the risks associated with our substantial indebtedness. The restrictive covenants in the Indenture, the indenture governing the 2013 Notes, the indenture governing the 2015 Notes, the indenture governing the 2017 Notes and our other financing agreements impose only limited restrictions on our ability to incur further indebtedness, and debt incurred in compliance with these restrictions could be substantial.

In addition, certain of our outstanding financing agreements will mature or need to be refinanced prior to the maturity of the Notes. If our cash flows and capital resources are insufficient to fund our debt service obligations, we may be forced to reduce or delay capital expenditures, sell assets, seek additional capital or seek to restructure or refinance our indebtedness, including the Notes. We cannot assure you that we will be able to generate sufficient cash through any of the foregoing. If we are not able to refinance any of our debt, obtain additional financing or sell assets on commercially reasonable terms or at all, we may not be able to satisfy our obligations with respect to our debt, including the Notes. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources.”

Our corporate structure may affect your ability to receive payment on the Notes.

The Company is a pure holding company and substantially all of its operating income and cash flow are derived from its subsidiaries. As a result, the Company will rely on its subsidiaries’ operating income and cash flow to make payments due under the Notes.

Although much of our business is conducted through our subsidiaries, none of our subsidiaries other than a Note Guarantor is obligated to make funds available to us for payment on the Notes and the terms of the financing agreements of our subsidiaries may restrict them from paying dividends and otherwise transferring assets to us. We cannot assure you that the agreements governing the current and future indebtedness of our subsidiaries will permit our subsidiaries to provide us with sufficient dividends, distributions or loans to fund payments on these notes when due.

In particular, Sprint has incurred substantial amounts of stand-alone indebtedness that has limited recourse to Sprint itself and certain of its guarantor subsidiaries, is highly leveraged and uses a significant portion of its cash flow to service its own indebtedness and substantial capital expenditure requirements. The financial maintenance and incurrence covenants currently included in the terms of Sprint’s indebtedness impose significant restrictions on its ability to pay dividends, distribute cash or return capital to us. Accordingly, only limited reliance can be placed on our Sprint segment’s EBITDA, operating income and cash flow as indicators of our ability to service our indebtedness, including the Notes. See “Presentation of Financial Information.”

There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the Notes under which the Note Guarantees thereof may be released, without your consent or the consent of the relevant Trustee.

Under various circumstances, the Note Guarantees of the Notes may be released, including automatically in connection with any sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets or capital stock of such Note Guarantor (including by way of merger or consolidation) to a person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or a subsidiary of the Company or, at the option of the Company but subject to certain conditions, upon the release of any guarantee of any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor which results in such Note Guarantor no longer guaranteeing any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor (other than pursuant to the Note Guarantees to be released).

Should we decide to proceed with a listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp., we may release all of SoftBank Corp.’s outstanding guarantees of the Company’s Indebtedness. Furthermore, we cannot assure you that SoftBank Corp.’s guarantee or guarantees of other Note Guarantors will not be discharged due to other reasons, including future refinancings or amendments of the underlying indebtedness or pursuant to automatic release provisions such as those contained in the Existing Indenture.

Once the guarantee of a subsidiary has been released, such a subsidiary would not be subject to any restriction on the incurrence of additional debt that is non-recourse to the Company pursuant to the terms of the Indenture and would cease to be subject to the covenants of the Indenture that apply to Note Guarantors only in their capacity as such, including the “Anti-Layering” covenant, the “Permitted Third Party Guarantees” covenant, “Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event” covenant and the “Negative Pledge” covenant. As a result, there would be no covenant in the Indenture that would restrict such a subsidiary from incurring Indebtedness ranking structurally senior to the Notes, incurring secured Indebtedness ranking effectively senior to the Notes or pledging its creditworthiness to other of our subsidiaries by guaranteeing such other subsidiaries’ Indebtedness.

Our principal shareholder, Mr. Masayoshi Son, maintains significant influence over us, and his interests may conflict with your interests.

Mr. Masayoshi Son, our Chairman and CEO, is our single largest shareholder and owned 21% of the Company’s issued share capital as of September 30, 2017. As a result, Mr. Son has significant influence as to the composition of our board of directors and, in general, may determine the outcome of corporate decisions and other matters submitted to our shareholders for approval. The interests of Mr. Son, in certain circumstances, may conflict with your interests. For example, Mr. Son could vote to declare dividends or cause us to incur indebtedness, in each case as permitted under the Notes, causing capital outflows or increasing debt service obligations, which could hinder our ability to meet our obligations under the Notes.

Enforcement of claims on the Notes and the Note Guarantees will be subject to certain limitations arising under Japanese insolvency and corporate laws. Japanese laws may be different from, and not as favorable to you as, the laws in other jurisdictions.

We are incorporated in Japan and, consequently, will be subject to Japanese laws and procedures affecting debtors and creditors, such as bankruptcy, corporate reorganization, civil rehabilitation or special liquidation proceedings. Under the Bankruptcy Act of Japan (Act No. 75 of 2004, as amended), a petition for the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings may be filed with a court by us or any of our directors or creditors if we are generally and continuously unable to pay our debts as they become due because of a lack of ability to pay or if our liabilities exceed our assets. Under the Corporate Reorganization Act of Japan (Act No. 154 of 2002, as amended), a petition for the commencement of corporate reorganization proceedings may be filed with a court by us or certain qualified shareholders or creditors if it is likely that any of the grounds for bankruptcy as described above will arise. In addition, we may file a petition for the commencement of corporate reorganization proceedings if it is likely that the payment of a debt which becomes due would cause serious impediments to our continued business operations. Under the Civil Rehabilitation Act of Japan (Act No. 225 of 1999, as amended), a petition for the commencement of civil rehabilitation proceedings may be filed with a court by us or any of our creditors if it is likely that we face any of the grounds for bankruptcy as described above. A petition for civil rehabilitation may be also filed by us if we are unable to make any payments as they become due without causing any material obstruction to the continuation of our business. Under the Companies Act of Japan (Act No. 86 of 2005, as amended), a petition for the commencement of special liquidation proceedings may be filed with a court by any of our creditors, liquidators, audit and supervisory board members or shareholders if, after liquidation proceedings have commenced, circumstances exist which would seriously impede the carrying out of our liquidation or if there exists any possibility or doubt that our liabilities exceed our assets. The court will be required to order the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings at its initiative if, after a special liquidation has been commenced, the court determines that there exists a fact which constitutes a cause of commencement of the bankruptcy proceedings while: (i) there is no prospect of entering into a settlement agreement; (ii) there is no prospect of performing a settlement agreement; or (iii) the special liquidation conflicts with the general interest of the creditors.

In any of the insolvency proceedings mentioned above, our liabilities under the Notes would, in general, be paid to holders of the Notes and creditors ranking equally with such holders in right of payment on a pro rata basis, only after all of our debts that are entitled to a preferred status under the insolvency laws (such as employment remuneration claims, expenses of insolvency proceedings and taxes) have been paid. Also, the rights of the holders of the Notes will be effectively subordinated to those of secured creditors (tanpo-kensha). In insolvency proceedings other than corporate reorganization proceedings, secured creditors will be entitled to foreclose our collateralized assets outside of the insolvency proceedings, although the foreclosure of collateralized assets by the secured creditors may be suspended upon a special order of the court. In corporate reorganization proceedings, secured creditors will be required to participate in such proceedings, and their rights could be impaired or modified in accordance with a reorganization plan. However, claims of general creditors, including holders of the Notes, would be subordinated under the plan to secured claims to the extent of the net value of the security interest at the commencement of the proceedings unless agreed by a majority of secured creditors. In insolvency proceedings other than special liquidation proceedings, the Notes will rank senior in right of payment to our debts that are subordinated by law, as well as our debts that are contractually subordinated to the extent that we and creditors have agreed prior to the commencement of insolvency proceedings that, if insolvency proceedings are commenced against us, the debts shall be subordinated to any subordinated bankruptcy claims (retsugo-teki hasan saiken) defined in the Bankruptcy Act of Japan (such as claims for interest and default interest accrued after the commencement of insolvency proceedings and creditors' expenses to participate in insolvency proceedings) in the order of priority for receiving a distribution in the insolvency proceedings.

Under Japanese insolvency laws, no party (including, without limitation, any director of a company) is expressly obligated to file for the commencement of insolvency proceedings in any particular circumstance (except that liquidators are required to file for the commencement of special liquidation proceedings in certain circumstances). However, our directors are subject to general fiduciary duties under the Companies Act of Japan, which may in certain circumstances require them to take appropriate steps, including filing for the commencement of insolvency proceedings when a cause for insolvency arises. If our directors do not take appropriate action in such circumstances, they could be subject to civil and criminal liabilities.

If, based on a petition for the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings, a court orders the commencement of such bankruptcy proceedings, a trustee in bankruptcy (hasan kanzainin) will be appointed to administer our operations, realize all assets belonging to the bankruptcy estate and make distributions to creditors. If, based on a petition for the commencement of corporate reorganization proceedings, a court orders the commencement of such reorganization proceedings, a reorganization administrator (kousei kanzainin) will be appointed to take over our operations, assess all assets and liabilities, propose a reorganization plan and, if the plan is approved by our creditors and confirmed by the court, transfer management responsibilities to the new management under the plan. If, based on a petition for the commencement of civil rehabilitation proceedings, a court orders the commencement of such rehabilitation proceedings, our directors will remain in position (subject to supervision by a court appointed rehabilitation supervisor (kantoku i-in)) to propose a rehabilitation plan and, if approved by our creditors and confirmed by the court, execute the plan. If, based on a petition for the commencement of special liquidation proceedings, a court orders the commencement of such special liquidation proceedings, a liquidator (seisan-nin) will, under court supervision, liquidate all remaining assets and liabilities and make distributions to creditors under a settlement agreement approved by our creditors and confirmed by the court.

The offering of the Notes and payments made to the holders of the Notes may be avoided in insolvency proceedings (except for special liquidation proceedings) by the bankruptcy trustee, reorganization administrator or rehabilitation supervisor pursuant to their "right of avoidance" (hi-nin ken) as a fraudulent conveyance or voidable preference.

The acts that are subject to this right of avoidance include:

- any act by the debtor taken with the knowledge that such act will prejudice creditors and the beneficiary of such act was aware, at the time of the act, of the fact that such act will prejudice creditors (except the creation of a security interest or the extinguishment of obligations as to the already existing obligations);
- any act that (except the creation of a security interest or the extinguishment of obligations as to the already existing obligations):
 - prejudices creditors;
 - occurs after the debtor has suspended payments or after the filing of a petition; and
 - the beneficiary of such act was aware, at the time of the act, that the debtor has suspended payments or the filing of a petition has been made, and of the fact that such act will prejudice creditors;
- any voluntary act that:
 - relates to the creation of a security interest or the extinguishment of obligations as to the already existing obligations;
 - occurs after the debtor has become unable to pay debts in general and the creditor was aware, at the time of the act, of such debtor's inability or suspension of payments by the debtor;
 - occurs after the filing of a petition and the creditor was aware, at the time of the act, of such filing; or
 - occurs within 30 days prior to the debtor becoming unable to pay debts in general and the creditor was aware, at the time of the act, of the fact that such act will prejudice other creditors; and

- any gratuitous act (or act deemed to be gratuitous) by the debtor after, or within six months prior to, either the suspension of payments by the debtor or the filing of a petition.

For example, the offering of or payment on the Notes may be avoided if: (i) we are deemed to have been aware at the time of the offering that it would be to the detriment of our creditors and you are deemed to have had notice of such fact at that time; or (ii) the payment takes place after we have become unable to pay our debts in general, or a petition for insolvency proceedings has been filed, and you are deemed to have been aware of such fact at that time.

Many of the covenants contained in the Indenture will be suspended if the Notes are rated investment grade by either of Moody's and S&P.

Many of the covenants in the Indenture will be suspended if the Notes are rated Baa3 or better by Moody's and BBB- or better by S&P, a division of the S&P Global Inc., provided at such time no default under the Indenture has occurred and is continuing. These covenants relate to, among other things, our ability to layer certain additional debt between other indebtedness and the Notes, guarantee or provide security in respect of the indebtedness at Subsidiaries, Affiliates and Associates other than Note Guarantors, and pay dividends with the proceeds of asset sales. There can be no assurance that the Notes will ever be rated investment grade, or that if they are rated investment grade, that the Notes will maintain such ratings. Suspension of these covenants, however, would allow us to engage in certain transactions that would not be permitted while these covenants were in force, including incurring additional indebtedness structurally or effectively senior to the Notes and paying dividends with the proceeds of asset sales, which may conflict with, or otherwise be adverse to, your interests. See "Description of the Notes—Certain Covenants—Suspension of Certain Covenants."

The transferability of the Notes may be limited under applicable securities laws.

The Notes and the Note Guarantees have not been, and will not be, registered under the U.S. Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or any other jurisdiction and, unless so registered, may not be offered or sold, except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and the applicable securities laws of any state or any other jurisdiction. The Notes are being offered and sold in offshore transactions outside the United States in reliance on Regulation S only to non-U.S. persons. It is the obligation of holders of the Notes to ensure that their offers and sales of the Notes comply with applicable securities laws and the applicable transfer restrictions. See "Notice to Investors."

The Notes will initially be held in book-entry form and therefore you must rely on the procedures of the relevant clearing systems to exercise any rights and remedies.

Unless and until definitive Notes are issued in exchange for book-entry interests in the Notes (which will only occur in very limited circumstances), owners of the book-entry interests will not be considered owners or holders of the Notes. The common depositary (or its nominee) for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream will be the registered holder of any Notes. After payment to the common depositary, we will have no responsibility or liability for the payment of interest, principal or other amounts to the owners of book-entry interests. Accordingly, if you own a book-entry interest, you must rely on the procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream and if you are not a participant in Euroclear or Clearstream, on the procedures of the participant through which you own your interest, to exercise any rights and obligations of a holder under the Indenture. See "Book-Entry, Delivery and Form."

Unlike holders of the Notes themselves, owners of book-entry interests will not have the direct right to act upon our solicitations for consents or requests for waivers or other actions from holders of the Notes. Instead, if you own a book-entry interest, you will be permitted to act only to the extent you have received appropriate proxies to do so from Euroclear or Clearstream or, if applicable, from a participant. We cannot assure you that procedures implemented for the granting of such proxies will be sufficient to enable you to vote on any requested actions on a timely basis.

Similarly, upon the occurrence of an event of default under the Indenture, unless and until definitive registered notes are issued in respect of all book-entry interests, if you own a book-entry interest, you will be restricted to acting through Euroclear or Clearstream. We cannot assure you that the procedures to be implemented through Euroclear or Clearstream will be adequate to ensure the timely exercise of rights under the Notes. See "Book-Entry, Delivery and Form."

Holders of the Notes may have difficulty in serving process or enforcing a judgment against us or our directors, executive officers or audit and supervisory board members.

Both the Company and the Note Guarantor are limited liability, joint stock corporations incorporated under the laws of Japan. Most of the directors, executive officers and audit and supervisory board members of both the Company and the Note Guarantor reside in Japan. All or substantially all of our assets and the assets of these persons are located in Japan and elsewhere outside the United States. It may not be possible, therefore, for holders of the Notes to effect service of process within the United States upon us or these persons or to enforce against us or these persons judgments obtained in U.S. courts predicated solely upon the laws of jurisdictions other than Japan. There is also doubt as to the enforceability in Japan, in original actions or in actions for enforcement of judgment of U.S. courts, of liabilities predicated solely upon the federal securities laws of the United States.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We expect to receive a total of approximately $ million (equivalent) in net proceeds from this offering, comprising approximately $ million from the Dollar Notes and € million from the Euro Notes, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and other offering expenses payable by us. We intend to use the net proceeds from the sale of the Notes to fund the payment of the consent fee and other related costs in connection with the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation and to use any remaining funds for general corporate purposes.

The dollar-equivalent of the net proceeds from the Euro Notes was calculated by translating the euro-denominated net proceeds amount into Japanese yen at the rate of ¥134.94 = €1.00 and translating such yen amount into dollars at the rate of ¥113.00 = $1.00. Due to differences in currency exchange rates, such amount may differ from the amount of dollars that we would be able to receive by exchanging the net proceeds of the Euro Notes for dollars on or around the Issue Date. As of March 5, 2018, the relevant exchange rates were ¥130.16 = €1.00 and ¥105.55 = $1.00.

CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth our (i) available Cash Position and capitalization on an actual historical basis as of December 31, 2017 under IFRS, (ii) available Cash Position and capitalization adjusted to (1) exclude the cash and cash equivalents, short-term investment, short-term borrowings, current portion of long-term borrowings and long-term borrowings of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment, each as of December 31, 2017, and give effect to (2) $189 million (¥21 billion) that we expect to receive in connection with our sale of Supercell as if it had occurred on December 31, 2017, and (iii) available Cash Position and capitalization as further adjusted to give effect to the offering of the Notes and the expected use of proceeds thereof and the Exchange Offer as if each had occurred on December 31, 2017. Under IFRS, the yen-denominated hybrid bonds that we issued in September 2016 and the yen-denominated hybrid loan that we borrowed in November 2017 are considered debt and the Hybrid Notes that we issued in July 2017 are considered equity. With respect to the adjusted capitalization information below and adjusted financial information presented elsewhere in this offering memorandum, we have treated 50% of the carrying amount of our yen-denominated hybrid bonds issued in September 2016 and the yen-denominated hybrid loan that we borrowed in November 2017 as equity and 50% of the carrying amount of the Hybrid Notes as debt for the purposes of consistency and to align with the treatment presently applied for such securities for ratings purposes by S&P and JCR. See “Summary—Adjusted Financial Data.”

The financial data presented below has not been adjusted for (i) the investment of $7.7 billion in Uber Technologies, Inc. completed in January 2018; (ii) the further investment of an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion in DiDi completed in January and February 2018; (iii) the consolidation of Japan Net Bank from February 2018; (iv) Sprint’s issuance of ¥170 billion ($1,500 million) in senior unsecured notes on February 22, 2018; or (v) our subsidiary’s expected entry into a borrowings under a margin loan secured by ADS of Alibaba under the Margin Loan Agreement. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Recent Developments” and “Presentation of Financial Information.” The adjusted and further adjusted financial data presented below also excludes financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract.

The historical financial information has been derived from the unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements, which were prepared in accordance with IAS 34, included elsewhere in this offering memorandum.

The information below is illustrative only, and our capitalization following the completion of this offering will be adjusted based on the actual proceeds from the offering and other terms of this offering determined at pricing. You should read this table in conjunction with the information provided under “Selected Historical Financial Information,” “Use of Proceeds,” “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations,” “Description of Other Indebtedness,” “Description of the Notes” and with our consolidated financial statements and the notes related thereto included elsewhere in this offering memorandum.

Recent Developments

Since December 31, 2017, we have continued to pursue our business and investment strategies. The following are some recent developments and investments:

- Investment in Uber. In January 2018, we invested $7.7 billion to acquire a 15% ownership interest in Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides, making us the single largest shareholder. We may offer all or a portion of this investment to the SoftBank Vision Fund in the future (subject to approval requirements at the SoftBank Vision Fund level and certain other necessary conditions).
- Further investments in DiDi. In January and February 2018, we made further investments in an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion in Xiaoju Kuaizhi Inc. ("DiDi"), one of the largest ride sharing operators in China by number of daily rides. In addition, we have announced a partnership with DiDi to provide trial platform services for the taxi industry in major cities in Japan to improve ride hailing for taxis, which such platform would be available to each of Japan's taxi operators. We further expect to form a joint venture with DiDi in Japan.
- Potential listing of SoftBank Corp. In February 2018, the Company and SoftBank Corp. jointly announced that they have commenced preparations for listing of SoftBank Corp.'s shares. Through the listing of SoftBank Corp. shares, we expect that the respective roles of the Company and SoftBank Corp. will become clearer, with the Company pursuing a growth strategy based on accelerating investments on a global scale, and SoftBank Corp. as the core operating company in our telecommunications business. Through a listing, SoftBank Corp. intends to pursue growth in a wide range of sectors and pursue synergies with SoftBank Group companies in Japan and abroad, as well as further strengthen its management foundations as an operating company. We expect that a monetization of a portion of our holding of SoftBank Corp. would contribute to our overall financial soundness and enable us to pursue our strategy of growth through investments. There is a possibility that a decision not to list SoftBank Corp. shares could be made following reviews and studies conducted during the preparation process. For further information on this and other related matters, see “Risk Factors—The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations.”

- Capital Calls for SoftBank Vision Fund. As of December 31, 2017, we were in the process of delivering 276 million shares of Arm, representing 19.29% of the total outstanding shares, to satisfy Capital Calls through such date. Such shares have been pledged in favor of the SoftBank Vision Fund pending delivery upon completion of regulatory approvals. Upon completion of such contribution of Arm shares and assuming no additional contributions by us, based on our relative pro rata commitment to the SoftBank Vision Fund, we would expect that the SoftBank Vision Fund would have aggregate contributed investor capital in excess of $26.8 billion out of the total committed amount of $91.7 billion. The outstanding Capital Calls to other investors have been or will be settled by cash pursuant to the terms of the definitive documentation for the SoftBank Vision Fund. The SoftBank Vision Fund has made additional Capital Calls since January 2018, the proceeds of which have been or will be applied towards investments in Ping An Good Doctor, Ping An HealthKonnect, Compass, Auto1.com, Wag! and Katterra and other future investments. With respect to future Capital Calls, we expect to contribute shares of Arm up to an aggregate of 24.99% of the total outstanding shares (representing an aggregate of approximately $8.2 billion of capital contributions).
- Consolidation of Japan Net Bank. Since April 2014, Yahoo Japan and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation have each held 41.16% of the voting rights in Japan Net Bank. Under a modified agreement with Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, while Yahoo Japan’s voting rights will remain unchanged, it has obtained majority representation on the board of directors of Japan Net Bank. As a result, on February 1, 2018 we completed the consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment, with such consolidation reflected in Yahoo Japan’s financial statements commencing the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018. The consolidation of Japan Net Bank under the Yahoo Japan segment was due to the aforementioned change in effective control of the board of directors of Japan Net Bank, and involved no cash outlays or other change in the voting rights held by Yahoo Japan in such entity. As of December 31, 2017, Japan Net Bank reported total assets of ¥825 billion ($7,300 million), including ¥296 billion ($2,616 million) of cash and due from banks and ¥130 billion ($1,150 million) of call loans, and total liabilities of ¥764 billion ($6,763 million), including ¥747 billion ($6,613 million) of deposits.
- Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba. On or around March 7, 2018, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Borrower”) is expected to enter into a margin loan agreement (the “Margin Loan Agreement”) with lenders (collectively referred to, along with other financial institutions that may become party to the Margin Loan Agreement as lenders from time to time, the “Lenders”). The Lenders are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility (the “Term Margin Loan Facility”) and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Margin Loan Facility”), each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. The Borrower’s obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement are not guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or the Note Guarantor. Loans under the Term Margin Loan Facility and the Revolving Margin Loan Facility will have a maturity of three years. The Borrower expects to loan the proceeds of the loans under the Margin Loan Agreement to the Company, which expects to apply such proceeds for general corporate purposes including improving its liquidity. The loans under the Margin Loan Agreement will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares (“ADS”) and cash pledged to the Lenders. In connection with the initial drawdown under the Margin Loan Agreement, we expect to pledge ADS representing approximately 6% of Alibaba’s outstanding share capital for the benefit of the Lenders.

(1) In our consolidated financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, we have presented prior period financial information for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 on the same basis of presentation adopted for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, and have therefore reclassified certain accounting items as originally reported in the previously issued consolidated financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2016. The financial data for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 presented in this table was extracted from the Company's consolidated financial statements as of and for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 and therefore reflect these reclassifications. We have retrospectively revised our financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to reflect certain changes resulting from the completion of the purchase price allocation related to the acquisition of Arm in September 2016 during the three-month period ended June 30, 2017. However, we have not retrospectively revised our financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

(2) We sold all of our shares in Supercell to an affiliate of Tencent Holdings Limited on July 29, 2016. Accordingly, Supercell's net income for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 is presented as discontinued operations separately from continuing operations. Supercell ceased to qualify as our subsidiary and was therefore excluded from the scope of consolidation on July 29, 2016 when the shares were transferred. See Note 23 to our unaudited condensed interim financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

(3) Adjusted EBITDA is defined as operating income and loss after addition of depreciation and amortization, addition or deduction of unrealized gain and loss on valuation of investments in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund and addition or deduction of other adjustments (gains are deducted). A reconciliation of Adjusted EBITDA to operating income can be found at Note 5(2) of our unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. See "Presentation of Financial Information—Non-IFRS Financial Measures—Adjusted EBITDA."

Net sales. Net sales increased by ¥230 billion ($2,034 million), or 3.5%, from ¥6,581 billion ($58,243 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥6,811 billion ($60,277 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly due to increases in the net sales of each of our reportable segments except for the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment (which has no net sales).

Net sales of the Domestic Telecommunications segment increased by ¥6 billion ($55 million), or 0.3%, from ¥2,401 billion ($21,245 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥2,407 billion ($21,300 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to increases in (i) broadband revenue of ¥45 billion ($401 million), or 23.2%, in line with subscriber growth for the SoftBank Hikari fiber-optic service and (ii) product and other sales revenue of ¥32 billion ($283 million), or 5.6%, mainly due to an increase in sales of customer-premises equipment for broadband services and smartphones, the latter due to an increase in the average shipment price of smartphones despite a decline in the number of units shipped. These increases were largely offset by a decrease in mobile communications revenue of ¥72 billion ($638 million), or 5%, year on year, reflecting a decrease in mobile data devices, an increase in the total amount of discounts (negative impact on revenue) associated with the growth in the cumulative number of applications of the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set, and the introduction of the Half Price Support program that effectively enables customers to purchase high-end smartphones at half-price.

Net sales of the Sprint segment increased when denominated in Japanese yen (despite a decrease in U.S. dollar terms) by ¥70 billion ($621 million), or 2.6%, from ¥2,652 billion ($23,469 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥2,722 billion ($24,090 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. U.S. dollar-based net sales of the Sprint segment decreased by $485 million, or 2%, from $24,808 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to $24,323 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to a decline in telecom service revenue resulting from a change in the device insurance service and the introduction of sales promotions to acquire new customers.

Net sales of the Yahoo Japan segment increased by ¥21 billion ($184 million), or 3.3%, from ¥631 billion ($5,582 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥652 billion ($5,766 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly due to an increase in the advertising-related revenue.

Net sales of the Distribution segment increased by ¥85 billion ($754 million), or 9.1%, from ¥940 billion ($8,315 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,025 billion ($9,069 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly due to increase in net sales of the U.S. business.

The Arm segment was established after we consolidated Arm on September 5, 2016. Net sales of the Arm segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 were ¥152 billion ($1,349 million).

Cost of sales. Cost of sales increased by ¥54 billion ($479 million), or 1.4%, from ¥3,990 billion ($35,310 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥4,044 billion ($35,789 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly attributable to increased costs associated with the Domestic Telecommunication segment.

Gross profit. Gross profit increased by ¥176 billion ($1,555 million), or 6.8%, from ¥2,591 billion ($22,933 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥2,767 billion ($24,488 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased by ¥214 billion ($1,898 million), or 13.3%, from ¥1,613 billion ($14,271 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,827 billion ($16,169 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly attributable to increased costs associated with Arm segment.

Other operating loss. Other operating loss decreased by ¥40 billion ($355 million), or 59.2%, from ¥67 billion ($59.9 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥27 billion ($244 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly due to receiving settlements for certain patent infringement lawsuits and an increase in gain from spectrum license exchanges, despite an increase in loss on disposal of property plant and equipment and the recording of impairment loss for Brightstar.

Operating income (excluding income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund). Operating income (excluding income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund) decreased by ¥17 billion ($150 million), or 1.8%, to ¥912 billion ($8,074 million), due to a decrease in segment income from the Domestic Telecommunications and Yahoo Japan segments and segment losses in the Distribution and Arm segments despite an increase in segment income from the Sprint Segment.

Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund was ¥236 billion ($2,092 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This line item was not reported for the nine months ended December 31, 2016, as the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment was established as a new reportable segment during the nine months ended December 31, 2017 upon the SoftBank Vision Fund having completed its initial closing on May 20, 2017. This included unrealized gain on valuation of investments of ¥251 billion ($2,222 million) interest and dividend income from investments of ¥4 billion ($33 million) and operating expenses of ¥18 billion ($163 million). Unrealized gain on valuation of investments mainly reflected an increase in the fair value of NVIDIA Corporation shares held by the SoftBank Vision Fund and recorded as financial assets accounted for using FVTPL. See “—Significant Accounting Policies for the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” for further discussion of how accounting policies concerning the results of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund may affect our consolidated financial results.

Operating income. Operating income increased by ¥220 billion ($1,943 million), or 23.6%, from ¥929 billion ($8,224 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,149 billion ($10,167 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 due to the reasons set forth above and due to the inclusion of operating income of ¥236 billion ($2,092 million) from the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund.

Finance cost. Finance cost increased by ¥40 billion ($353 million), or 11.6%, from ¥343 billion ($3,039 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥383 billion ($3,392 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 due to an increase in the interest expense at SoftBank Group Corp., as well as an increase in the interest expense at Sprint when denominated in Japanese yen (despite a decrease in U.S. dollar terms).

Income on equity method investments. Income on equity method investments increased by ¥114 billion ($1,005 million), or 55.2%, from ¥206 billion ($1,823 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥320 billion ($2,828 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to an increase in income on equity method investments related to Alibaba of ¥124 billion ($1,094 million) (59%) year on year to ¥333 billion ($2,949 million).

Gain on sales of shares of associates. Gain on sales of shares of associates for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 was ¥2 billion ($16 million) compared to ¥238 billion ($2,107 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016. This decrease was primarily the result of the sale of a portion of Alibaba shares to Alibaba, two Singaporean sovereign wealth funds and Alibaba Partnership (which is not an associate of Alibaba) during the nine months ended December 31, 2016.

Derivative loss. Derivative loss increased by ¥389 billion ($3,446 million), or 406.1%, from ¥96 billion ($848 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 compared to ¥485 billion ($4,294 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to derivative loss of ¥510 billion ($4,516 million) recorded in relation to a collar transaction included in a variable prepaid forward contract for Alibaba shares. The collar transaction is measured at the end of each quarter based on fair value (primarily linked to the share price of Alibaba). The cumulative derivative gain and loss for the three years, from the conclusion of the variable prepaid forward contract on June 10, 2016 until the settlement date, will be a loss of $900 million, equal to the amount of derivative assets initially recognized.

Change in third-party interests in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. We recognized a loss of ¥108 billion ($957 million) in changes in third-party interests in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, the fluctuations of which arose based on the results from the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. This line item was not reported for the nine months ended December 31, 2016.

Other non-operating income and loss. Other non-operating loss was ¥13 billion ($119 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 compared to an income of ¥49 billion ($444 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. The primary components of this change were (i) an impairment loss on assets classified as held for sale of ¥43 billion ($376 million) was recorded for the nine months ended December 31, 2016, which was primarily due to a difference between the valuation of the 248,300,000 GungHo shares we tendered in the same period of the previous fiscal year at the tender offer price of ¥294 per share and their carrying amount on a consolidated basis. (No loss was recorded for the nine months ended December 31, 2017), (ii) loss on financial instruments at FVTPL was ¥39 billion ($348 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 compared to a gain of ¥8 billion ($71 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, which was mainly due to the recognition of changes in the fair value of investments, primarily in Southeast Asia and India, and (iii) dilution gain from changes in equity interest was ¥75 billion ($664 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 compared to a gain of ¥39 billion ($344 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, which was mainly due to private placement of new shares by Alibaba in the previous fiscal year.

Income before income tax. As a result of the foregoing, income before income tax decreased by ¥391 billion ($3,462 million), or 41.0%, from ¥955 billion ($8,451 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥564 billion ($4,989 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Income taxes. Income taxes reflected an expense of ¥616 billion ($5,451 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016, compared to a profit of ¥639 billion ($5,655 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to the reversal of deferred tax liabilities of ¥830 billion ($7,343 million) at Sprint following the U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act in December 2017, resulting in a decline in income taxes of ¥818 billion ($7,242 million) and an increase in other comprehensive income of ¥8 billion ($73 million). Key deferred tax liabilities that were reversed in connection with the foregoing include:

- Reduction in the U.S. federal corporate tax rate. From January 1, 2018, the U.S. federal corporate tax rate was reduced from 35% to 21%. This resulted in a partial reversal of deferred tax liabilities of ¥593 billion ($5,249 million) related to FCC licenses and other assets of Sprint that were recognized based on the previous income tax rate at the time of its acquisition in 2013. Income taxes decreased by ¥592 billion ($5,237 million).
- Abolition of time limit on use of future loss carryforwards. Net operating losses generated in tax years beginning after December 31, 2017 may now be carried forward indefinitely. As Sprint's tax year begins from April 1, net operating losses generated after April 1, 2018 may be carried forward indefinitely. Certain deductible temporary differences where deferred tax assets could not previously be realized have become likely to be recoverable because the taxable temporary differences from assets with indefinite lives, such as FCC licenses, may be a source of future taxable income. As a result of this change, ¥237 billion ($2,094 million) of deferred tax assets was recognized (offset by deferred tax liabilities). Income taxes decreased by ¥227 billion ($2,005 million), and other comprehensive income increased by ¥8 billion ($73 million).

Net income from continuing operations. As a result of the foregoing, net income from continuing operations increased by ¥864 billion ($7,644 million), or 254.8%, from ¥339 billion ($3,000 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,203 billion ($10,644 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Net income from discontinued operations. Net income from discontinued operations for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 was ¥553 billion ($4,897 million). During the nine months ended December 31, 2016, income after income tax from Supercell (which was excluded from the scope of consolidation on July 29, 2016) of ¥28 billion ($250 million) and after-tax gain on sale of ¥525 billion ($4,647 million) were recorded. Net income from discontinued operations was not recorded for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing, net income increased by ¥311 billion ($2,748 million), or 34.8%, from ¥892 billion ($7,896 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,203 billion ($10,644 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Net income Attributable to Owners of the Parent. As a result of the foregoing, net income attributable to owners of the parent increased by ¥169 billion ($1,497 million), or 20.0%, from ¥846 billion ($7,485 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥1,015 billion ($8,982 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Of Sprint's decrease in income taxes of ¥818 billion, ¥688 million was included in net income attributable to owners of the parent, corresponding to our 84.04% ownership stake in Sprint.

Segment income of the Domestic Telecommunications segment decreased by ¥38 billion ($343 million), or 6%, from ¥651 billion ($5,765 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥613 billion ($5,422 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was due to an increase in operating expenses (cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses) of ¥45 billion ($398 million) (2.6%) year on year, despite an increase in net sales. The main year-on-year fluctuations in operating expenses were an increase of ¥22 billion ($195 million) in telecommunications network charges, which accompanied the growth in the number of SoftBank Hikari subscribers. Cost of products also increased by ¥10 billion ($89 million) due to an increase in the average purchase price of smartphones, despite a decline in the number of units shipped. Depreciation and amortization expenses increased by ¥8 billion ($72 million) due to accelerating the depreciation of equipment that had become necessary ahead of the termination of 3G on 1.7 GHz services planned in March 2018.

Segment income of the Sprint segment increased by ¥147 billion ($1,298 million), or 101%, from ¥145 billion ($1,285 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥292 billion ($2,583 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. U.S. dollar-based segment income increased by $1,243 million, or 91.1%, from $1,365 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to $2,608 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to a decrease in operating expenses (cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses) of $1,069 million, or 4.6%, year on year due to a decline in expenses, mainly in relation to the network and the change in the device insurance service, more than offsetting the decrease in net sales. Other contributing factors included the receipt of settlements for certain patent infringement lawsuits, an increase in gain from spectrum license exchanges, and a decrease in loss on contract termination, among other factors, despite an increase in loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment due to changes of network plans.

Segment income of the Yahoo Japan segment decreased by ¥8 billion ($70 million), or 5.2%, from ¥151 billion ($1,332 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥143 billion ($1,262 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to an increase in customer acquisition related costs, despite growth in net sales by 3.3%.

Segment income in the Distribution segment decreased by ¥60 billion ($529 million) from ¥19 billion ($169 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to a segment loss of ¥41 billion ($360 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This was mainly due to impairment losses totaling ¥50 billion ($447 million) recorded on Brightstar's goodwill, intangible assets, and property, plant and equipment as their recoverable amounts fell below their carrying amounts as a result of a revision to Brightstar's business plan during the period. However, results of operations of SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp. have been stable, mainly due to a contribution from sales of PCs and servers to corporate customers.

Segment loss of the Arm segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 was ¥22 billion ($193 million), as compared with segment income of ¥10 billion ($88 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 (reflecting operations from September 6, 2016, the date we completed the consolidation of Arm). This was mainly due to an increase in research and development ("R&D") expenditure. During the nine months ended December 31, 2017, Arm increased its employee headcount, mainly engineers, by a net 856 people, up 17.6% overall from the previous fiscal year-end, aiming to further strengthen its R&D capability. Arm has also been enhancing its employee compensation system, including the introduction of a new performance-linked incentive program. Operating expenses also included ¥41 billion ($360 million) of amortization expenses recorded for intangible assets recognized at the purchase price allocation for the Arm acquisition.

Segment income of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 was ¥236 billion ($2,092 million). This was mainly due to recognition of unrealized gain on valuation of investments in NVIDIA Corporation as a result of a rise in its market price. See "—Recent Developments."

Adjusted EBITDA. Adjusted EBITDA increased by ¥64 billion ($571 million), or 3.2%, from ¥1,992 billion ($17,626 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥2,056 billion ($18,197 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Domestic Telecommunications segment decreased by ¥31 billion ($272 million), or 3.1%, from ¥995 billion ($8,803 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥964 billion ($8,531 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 mainly due to promotional activity, particularly in the six months ended September 30, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Sprint segment increased by ¥151 billion ($1,337 million), or 19.2%, from ¥788 billion ($6,971 million) in the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥939 billion ($8,308 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. U.S. dollar-based Adjusted EBITDA increased by $1,025 million, or 13.9% from $7,365 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to $8,390 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Yahoo Japan segment decreased by ¥12 billion ($110 million), or 6.9%, from ¥179 billion ($1,585 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥167 billion ($1,475 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Distribution segment decreased by ¥9 billion ($83 million), or 38.6%, from ¥24 billion ($216 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥15 billion ($133 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Arm segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 was ¥24 billion ($215 million).

Adjusted EBITDA of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 was negative ¥15 billion ($130 million).

Net sales. Net sales increased by ¥19 billion ($170 million), or 0.2%, from ¥8,882 billion ($78,600 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥8,901 billion ($78,770 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to increases in net sales of the Domestic Telecommunications segment and the Yahoo Japan segment and the addition of the new Arm segment despite decreases in net sales of the Sprint segment and the Distribution segment.

Net sales of the Domestic Telecommunications segment increased by ¥49 billion ($435 million), or 1.6%, from ¥3,145 billion ($27,829 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥3,194 billion ($28,264 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, mainly due to an increase in broadband revenue associated with a growth in fiber-optic service subscribers despite a decrease in mobile communication revenue associated with promotion of and increased number of customers subscribing to the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set.

Net sales of the Sprint segment decreased by ¥248 billion ($2,197 million), or 6.4%, from ¥3,872 billion ($34,262 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥3,623 billion ($32,065 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to the negative impact of a stronger yen, which resulted in ¥388 billion less in net sales, despite an increase in segment net sales under U.S. dollar-based results. U.S. dollar-based net sales of the Sprint segment increased by $1,167 million, or 3.6%, from $32,180 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to $33,347 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to an increase in device revenue which offset a decrease in telecom service revenue.

Net sales of the Yahoo Japan segment increased by ¥201 billion ($1,783 million), or 30.9%, from ¥652 billion ($5,770 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥853 billion ($7,553 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 as the consolidation of ASKUL Corporation from August 2015 affected the net sales of Yahoo Japan.

Net sales of the Distribution segment decreased by ¥125 billion ($1,107 million), or 8.8%, from ¥1,420 billion ($12,570 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,295 billion ($11,463 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to the stronger yen in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016.

The Arm segment was established after we consolidated Arm on September 5, 2016. Net sales of the Arm segment from September 6, 2016 to March 31, 2017 were ¥113 billion ($999 million).

Cost of sales. Cost of sales decreased by ¥46 billion ($406 million), or 0.8%, from ¥5,518 billion ($48,833 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥5,472 billion ($48,427 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to significant cost reductions in the Sprint segment.

Gross profit. As a result of the foregoing, gross profit increased by ¥65 billion ($576 million), or 1.9%, from ¥3,364 billion ($29,767 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥3,429 billion ($30,343 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased by ¥98 billion ($864 million), or 4.1%, from ¥2,375 billion ($21,017 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥2,277 billion ($20,153 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to lower costs in the Sprint and the Domestic Telecommunications segments.

Gain from remeasurement relating to business combination. Gain from remeasurement relating to business combination was ¥59 billion ($526 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 due to the consolidation of ASKUL Corporation, compared to ¥18 billion ($161 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Other operating loss. Other operating loss increased by ¥4 billion ($38 million), or 3.2%, from ¥139 billion ($1,233 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥144 billion ($1,271 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment in the Sprint segment, impairment loss on goodwill of the Distribution segment and acquisition-related costs of the Arm segment.

Operating income. As a result of the foregoing, operating income increased by ¥117 billion ($1,037 million), or 12.9%, from ¥909 billion ($8,043 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,026 billion ($9,080 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Finance cost. Finance cost increased by ¥27 billion ($235 million), or 6.0 %, from ¥441 billion ($3,900 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥467 billion ($4,135 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to an increase in interest expense at the Company.

Income on equity method investments. Income on equity method investments decreased by ¥54 billion ($476 million), or 14.3%, from ¥375 billion ($3,322 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥322 billion ($2,846 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly due to a decline in income on equity method investments related to Alibaba. Our income on equity method investments in Alibaba declined by ¥50 billion ($447 million), or 13.3%, to ¥330 billion ($2,922 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 due to the stronger yen and a decrease in our interest ratio in Alibaba following the sale of a portion of our Alibaba shares despite Alibaba's IFRS-based adjusted net income for the 12 months ended December 31, 2016 increasing by RMB 4.7 billion, or 7.6%, to RMB 66.0 billion.

Gain on sales of shares of associates. Gain on sales of shares of associates increased by ¥226 billion ($1,997 million) from ¥12 billion ($110 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥238 billion ($2,107 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to the sale of a portion of Alibaba shares to Alibaba, two Singaporean sovereign wealth funds, and Alibaba Partnership (which is not an associate of Alibaba).

Derivative gain and loss. Derivative gain was ¥13 billion ($113 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 compared to a loss of ¥253 billion ($2,237 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to loss on valuation of derivatives of ¥233 billion ($2,060 million) that was recorded in relation to a collar transaction included in a variable prepaid forward contract for Alibaba shares. The collar transaction is measured at the end of each quarter based on fair value (primarily linked to the share price of Alibaba). The cumulative derivative gain and loss for the three years, from the conclusion of the variable prepaid forward contract on June 10, 2016 until the settlement date, will be a loss of $900 million, equal to the amount of derivative assets initially recognized.

Gain and loss from financial instruments at FVTPL. Gain on financial instruments at FVTPL was ¥114 billion ($1,012 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 compared to a loss of ¥160 billion ($1,420 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly due to recording a loss for the amount of changes in the fair value of the Company's financial instruments in India at FVTPL from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Other non-operating income and loss. Other non-operating loss was ¥63 billion ($566 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 compared to income of ¥7 billion ($66 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. The primary components of this change were (i) dilution gain from changes in equity interest of ¥78 billion ($686 million) mainly due to gain from private placement of new shares by Alibaba, (ii) foreign exchange gain of ¥53 billion ($472 million) mainly due to settlement and translation of foreign currency-denominated borrowings from a foreign subsidiary, (iii) loss on loss of control of ¥79 billion ($702 million) mainly due to SOFTBANK GROUP CAPITAL APAC PTE. LTD. ("APAC," currently Foxconn Ventures Pte. Ltd., a joint venture of Foxconn Technology Group of Taiwan and us) becoming an equity method associate and (iv) impairment loss on assets classified as held for sales of ¥43 billion ($376 million) mainly due to a difference between the valuation and the carrying amount on a consolidated basis of the GungHo shares tendered by us.

Income before income tax. As a result of the foregoing, income before income tax decreased by ¥207 billion ($1,828 million), or 22.5%, from ¥919 billion ($8,134 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥713 billion ($6,306 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Income taxes. Income taxes were ¥423 billion ($3,740 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 compared to a credit of ¥207 billion ($1,832 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

The credited income taxes mainly accompanied a transaction (the "Transaction") from June to August 2016 in which the Company's then wholly owned subsidiary, APAC, sold a portion of its Alibaba shares to the Company, our wholly owned subsidiary West Raptor Holdings, LLC ("WRH LLC"), and third parties. As a consequence of the Transaction, the tax basis of Alibaba shares exceeded its consolidated carrying amount on an accounting basis. The Company therefore reversed deferred tax liabilities of ¥383 billion ($3,386 million) previously recorded for the temporary differences (between the consolidated carrying amount on the accounting base and the tax base) in the investment in Alibaba. Also, because the Company plans to sell these shares in 2019, the Company recognized deferred tax assets of ¥179 billion ($1,587 million) for the temporary difference between the carrying amount on the accounting base and the tax base of the Alibaba shares sold to WRH LLC.

For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016, the Company had recognized deferred tax liabilities of ¥913 billion ($8,080 million) on its expected taxable income for the next fiscal year (April 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018) out of the Transaction. The Company had also recorded deferred tax assets of ¥60 billion ($535 million), as it was deemed probable that, in conjunction with the Transaction, taxable profit would be available against which carryforwards and deductible temporary differences could be utilized. However, because ownership of APAC's outstanding shares was below 50% on March 31, 2017 and taxable profit was not expected at the Company for the next fiscal year, we did not recognize any deferred tax liabilities relating to the Transaction for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. In addition, the Company did not recognize any deferred tax assets for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, as it was deemed probable that taxable profit would not be available against which carryforwards and deductible temporary differences could be utilized.

Net income from continuing operations. As a result of the foregoing, net income from continuing operations increased by ¥423 billion ($3,744 million), or 85.2%, from ¥496 billion ($4,394 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥920 billion ($8,138 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Net income from discontinued operations. Net income from discontinued operations increased by ¥493 billion ($4,363 million) from ¥62 billion ($547 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥554 billion ($4,910 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly due to after-tax gain on sale of Supercell shares of ¥527 billion ($4,660 million) recorded for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing, net income increased by ¥916 billion ($8,108 million), or 164.1%, from ¥558 billion ($4,940 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,474 billion ($13,048 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Net income attributable to owners of the parent. As a result of the foregoing, net income attributable to owners of the parent increased by ¥952 billion ($8,426 million), or 200.8%, from ¥474 billion ($4,196 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,426 billion ($12,622 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Segment income of the Domestic Telecommunications segment increased by ¥31 billion ($276 million), or 4.5%, from ¥688 billion ($6,092 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥720 billion ($6,368 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 due to the small increase in operating expenses of 0.7% in relation to the increase in net sales of 1.6%.

Segment income of the Sprint segment increased by ¥125 billion ($1,106 million), or 203.2%, from ¥61 billion ($544 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥186 billion ($1,650 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. U.S. dollar-based segment income increased by $1,222 million, or 241.5%, from $506 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to $1,728 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly due to the small increase in operating expense in relation to the increased net sales and the decrease in other operating loss.

Segment income of the Yahoo Japan segment decreased by ¥33 billion ($292 million), or 14.8%, from ¥223 billion ($1,972 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥190 billion ($1,680 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to the inclusion of the ¥59 billion ($526 million) of gain from remeasurement relating to business combination in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 for the consolidation of ASKUL Corporation.

Segment loss in the Distribution segment increased by ¥9 billion ($78 million) from ¥1 billion ($11 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥10 billion ($89 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly due to the ¥30 billion ($268 million) of impairment loss on goodwill of Brightstar recorded for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Segment income of the Arm segment from September 6, 2016 to March 31, 2017 was ¥13 billion ($114 million).

Adjusted EBITDA. Adjusted EBITDA increased by ¥239 billion ($2,117 million), or 10.3%, from ¥2,325 billion ($20,577 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥2,564 billion ($22,694 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Domestic Telecommunications segment increased by ¥46 billion ($404 million), or 3.9%, from ¥1,163 billion ($10,295 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,209 billion ($10,699 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Sprint segment increased by ¥96 billion ($853 million), or 9.8%, from ¥983 billion ($8,701 million) in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,080 billion ($9,554 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. U.S. dollar-based Adjusted EBITDA increased by $1,759 million, or 21.5% from $8,172 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to $9,931 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. Japanese yen-based Adjusted EBITDA saw a smaller increase due to the negative impact of a stronger yen, which resulted in ¥114.8 billion less in Japanese yen-based Adjusted EBITDA.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Yahoo Japan segment increased by ¥43 billion ($385 million), or 22.2%, from ¥196 billion ($1,735 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥240 billion ($2,120 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Distribution segment increased by ¥2 billion ($18 million), or 7.9%, from ¥25 billion ($225 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥27 billion ($243 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Adjusted EBITDA of the Arm segment from September 6, 2016 to March 31, 2017 was ¥53 billion ($470 million).

Transaction for Sale of Alibaba Shares by Variable Prepaid Forward Contract

On June 10, 2016, WRH LLC, our wholly owned subsidiary, entered into a variable prepaid forward contract to sell Alibaba shares with Mandatory Exchangeable Trust, a newly formed trust (the “Trust”), and received proceeds of $5.4 billion as advances received for sale.

The Trust, on the other hand, utilized Alibaba shares scheduled to be transferred from WRH LLC at the time of settlement under the contract and issued $6.6 billion of Mandatory Exchangeable Trust Securities (“Trust Securities”) which are mandatorily exchangeable into American depositary shares (“ADSs”) of Alibaba. WRH LLC received $5.4 billion of the proceeds from the Trust, after a portion of the proceeds were used to purchase U.S. Treasury securities used to fund distributions on the Trust Securities and to pay expenses related to the issuance of the Trust Securities.

The settlement by Alibaba shares based on the variable prepaid forward contract will be conducted concurrently with the exchange of Trust Securities. At the exchange date, which is expected to be the first scheduled trading day after June 1, 2019, Trust Securities will be exchanged for a certain number of ADSs, determined by reference to the trading price of the ADSs at that time, and the number of Alibaba shares sold by the variable prepaid forward contract is determined by this number of ADSs. A cap and a floor are set for the number of shares settled and the variable prepaid forward contract is classified as a hybrid financial instrument with embedded derivatives providing a protective collar.

WRH LLC has the option to settle the variable prepaid forward contract by either delivering cash or a combination of cash and Alibaba shares. Also, WRH LLC has the option to settle the variable prepaid forward contract prior to the scheduled exchange date.

We account for the variable prepaid forward contract by bifurcating the main contracts and embedded derivatives. We received ¥578 billion ($5,119 million) in cash and initially recognized ¥674 billion ($5,965 million) as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract and ¥96 billion ($846 million) as derivative assets. Subsequent to initial recognition, financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract are measured at amortized cost and embedded derivatives are measured at fair value. ¥729 billion ($6,453 million) is recognized as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract in interest-bearing debt (non-current liabilities) and ¥662 billion ($5,859 million) is recognized as derivative liabilities in other financial liabilities (non-current liabilities) in the consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2017. ¥510 billion ($4,516 million) is recognized as a derivative loss in the consolidated statements of income for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Alibaba shares held by WRH LLC are pledged as collateral pursuant to the variable prepaid forward contract. We apply the equity method of accounting to these shares and they are included in “Investments accounted for using the equity method” in our consolidated statements of financial position as of December 31, 2017. The carrying amount of Alibaba shares pledged as collateral as of December 31, 2017 is ¥209 billion ($1,854 million).

Commitment to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

On May 20, 2017, we completed the initial closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund and at that time we committed to invest a maximum of $28.1 billion to the SoftBank Vision Fund by way of in-kind contributions and cash investments. On September 27, 2017, we completed the final closing of the Delta Fund and at that time we committed to invest a maximum of $4.4 billion to the Delta Fund by way of in-kind contributions and cash investments. Since January 2018, the SoftBank Vision Fund has issued Capital Calls to us and the several other investors, a portion of which have been successfully settled. All of our obligations under such Capital Calls are to be satisfied by contribution of a portion of the shares of Arm. We are in the process of satisfying our obligations under such Capital Calls, and, combined with our obligations under prior Capital Calls as of December 31, 2017 expect to deliver an aggregate of 276 million shares of Arm, representing 19.3% of the total outstanding shares of Arm. See “—Recent Developments.”

Separate from our capital contribution, we are also in the process of transferring certain assets to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, respectively, in exchange for reimbursement. The timing and magnitude of future contributions to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund will depend on the timing and capital required for the investments pursued by the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, respectively.

Capital Expenditures

We incur significant amounts of capital expenditures to expand and maintain our network. The following details our capital expenditures by business segment for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2015, 2016 and 2017 and the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017.

- (1) We recognize capital expenditures on an acceptance basis following our inspection and acceptance of new assets.
- (2) Reflected from September 6, 2016.
- (3) Reflected from May 20, 2017.
- (4) We define capital expenditures on a cash flow basis as purchases of property and equipment and intangibles as reflected in our cash flows from investing activities.

Capital expenditures to acquire or upgrade our physical assets, such as equipment, are recognized on an inspection and acceptance basis. This differs from capital expenditure measured on a cash flow basis, which we define as purchases of property and equipment and intangibles as reflected in our cash flows from investing activities.

We made significant investments early on for the development of our LTE network in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2013 and 2014 of ¥716 billion and ¥739 billion, respectively. Our investment in the Domestic Telecommunications segment has gradually decreased since the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 to ¥321 billion ($2,837 million) in capital expenditure for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 because of the completion of LTE roll-out. Our investments have provided us with state-of-the-art smartphone data connectivity and smartphone communication speed and our future capital expenditures in our domestic networks can in the near-to-mid-term be limited to life-cycle maintenance and discretionary incremental build-out and significantly reduced from prior periods.

We currently anticipate that capital expenditures (calculated on an acceptance basis) in our Domestic Telecommunications segment will be ¥392.5 billion ($3,473 million) for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 (including life-cycle expenditures), in part so that we can maintain excess network capacity despite the expected increase in mobile data usage and improve our LTE network coverage in certain places.

In our Sprint segment, we are utilizing capital expenditure to steadily improve Sprint's telecommunications network. We expect cash capital expenditures of at least $3.5 billion to $4.0 billion (¥396 billion to ¥452 billion) (excluding devices leased through indirect channels) in our Sprint business in fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 and our aim is for Sprint to remain self-funding.

The estimated capital expenditures set forth above are forward-looking statements based upon the assumptions and beliefs of our management as of the time of the announcements, and are subject to the qualifications described under "Disclosure Regarding Forward-Looking Statements."

Dividend Payment

Our basic policy is to maintain a sound financial position, while at the same time both investing prudently to ensure sustained growth and returning profits to shareholders. Returns to shareholders include cash dividends paid twice per year, in principle, as an interim dividend and a year-end dividend. In June 2017 we paid a year-end dividend of ¥22.00 per share for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. Together with the interim dividend of ¥22.00 per share paid in December 2016, our annual dividend for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was ¥44.00 per share, an increase of ¥3 per share from the prior fiscal year. Our total dividend payments during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 were ¥46 billion ($409 million). We paid an interim dividend of ¥22.00 per share on December 11, 2017 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity

The below table reflects the cash position of certain of our key subsidiaries, our consolidated cash position as of March 31, 2017 and December 31, 2017. See "Capitalization" for our Cash Position on an as adjusted basis.

Arm	143	156
SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund	—	300
Other	173	500
Total Cash Position	¥2,935	¥3,478

(1) Cash Position is cash and cash equivalents plus short-term investments.

Our operating cash flows, including cash generated from our business segments, are used for those businesses, and cash is easily transferable between us and most of our consolidated subsidiaries, except for Sprint, Yahoo Japan and certain other subsidiaries. As of December 31, 2017, our consolidated Cash Position (cash and cash equivalents plus short term investments) equaled ¥3,478 billion ($30,779 million).

We use diversified financing methods for raising funds through bank loans, as well as the issuance of bonds (in the local and international capital markets), taking market conditions and debt ratios into consideration. Some of our other financing methods include:

- We utilize proceeds from sales of investment securities and investments in associated companies as required, including sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract. See “—Cash and Capital Requirements—Debt Repayments and Certain Other Contractual Commitments—Transaction for Sale of Alibaba Shares by Variable Prepaid Forward Contract.”
- We finance a portion of our network equipment through sale and lease-back transactions. We account for such financing as lease obligations on our consolidated balance sheet.
- We securitize certain accounts receivable on a non-recourse basis.

Although we consolidate Yahoo Japan’s and Sprint’s financial results with our own, Yahoo Japan and Sprint are public companies. In addition, Sprint has incurred substantial amounts of indebtedness with financial maintenance or incurrence covenants that impose significant restrictions on its ability to pay dividends, distribute cash or return capital to us. Accordingly, only limited reliance can be placed on our Sprint segment’s Adjusted EBITDA, operating income and cash flow as indicators of our ability to service our indebtedness, including the Notes. As a result, we are limited in our ability to move cash and capital resources in and out of these companies.

As of December 31, 2017, our consolidated liquidity, including cash, cash equivalents, short-term investments and available borrowing capacity under our commitment line was ¥3,656 billion ($32,358 million), which was equal to our consolidated cash position as the commitment line was fully drawn. We expect our liquidity position, together with cash flows from operations, to be sufficient to cover our expected liquidity needs through the end of March 2018.

As of December 31, 2017, Sprint’s liquidity (including cash and cash equivalents), short-term investments, available borrowing capacity under our secured revolving bank credit facility and availability under its Receivables Facility was $10.4 billion (¥1,175 billion). Sprint’s cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments totaled $4.6 billion (¥520 billion) as of December 31, 2017 compared to $8.3 billion (¥938 billion) as of March 31, 2017. We expect Sprint’s operations and capital requirements to continue being funded from Sprint’s stand-alone operating cash flows and financing arrangements and we currently do not intend to provide Sprint with additional financial support to meet its capital expenditure plans or other liquidity needs.

Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba.

On or around March 7, 2018, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Borrower”) is expected to enter into a margin loan agreement (the “Margin Loan Agreement”) with certain lenders. The lenders under the Margin Loan Agreement are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility, each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. See “—Recent Developments—Margin Loan Secured by ADS of Alibaba”. We expect that the drawdown of the commitments under the Margin Loan Agreement will further support our liquidity position.

Commitment Line

In order to improve our liquidity position, we enter into commitment lines of credit and other credit facilities from time to time with various financial institutions. On August 5, 2016, we renewed one such commitment line of credit for borrowings up to ¥178.5 billion ($1,580 million). On August 1, 2017, we renewed this commitment line, which was undrawn as of the date of this offering memorandum. See “Description of Other Indebtedness.”

Cash Flow

Cash Flows for the nine Months Ended December 31, 2016 and 2017

The following table shows our consolidated cash flow data for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017.

	For the nine months ended December 31,
	2016	2017
	(billions of yen)
Cash and cash equivalents at the beginning of the period	¥ 2,570	¥ 2,183
Net cash flows from operating activities	1,127	884
Net cash flows from investing activities	(3,381)	(2,728)
Net cash flows from financing activities	2,210	2,975
Effect of exchange rate changes	(27)	26
Increase in cash and cash equivalents	(71)	1,157
Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the period	¥ 2,499	¥ 3,340

Our cash flows from operating activities decreased by ¥243 billion ($2,156 million) from ¥1,127 billion ($9,977 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to ¥884 billion ($7,821 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. This mainly reflects the Company's receipt of a refund of ¥293 billion ($2,597 million) for withholding income tax related to dividends within the group companies in the same period of the previous fiscal year. An additional factor was a year-on-year increase of ¥118 billion ($1,040 million) in income taxes paid due to the payment in the period of income taxes mainly related to the sale of Supercell Oy shares in the previous fiscal year.

Our cash flows from investing activities for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 were a cash outflow of ¥3,381 billion ($29,917 million) compared to a cash outflow of ¥2,728 billion ($24,145 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, representing decrease in cash outflow of ¥653 billion ($5,772 million). This was mainly due to ¥3,653 billion ($32,325 million) of payments for the acquisition of investments, which represent (i) equipment acquisitions by Sprint, (ii) investments executed by the Company as part of its plan of transferring such investments to the SoftBank Vision Fund, (iii) payments for the acquisition of investments by the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, (iv) payments for the acquisition of subsidiaries, and (v) payments associated with Sprint's short-term trading.

Our cash flows from financing activities for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 were a cash flow of ¥2,210 billion ($19,560 million) compared to a cash outflow of ¥2,975 billion ($26,331 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, representing an increase in cash flow of ¥765 billion ($6,770 million). This was mainly due to net proceeds of long-term interest-bearing debt of ¥547 billion ($4,838 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Net proceeds of long-term interest-bearing debt for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 were ¥2,340 billion ($20,711 million)

The following table shows our consolidated cash flow data for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017.

	For the fiscal years ended March 31,
	2016	2017
	(billions of yen)
Cash and cash equivalents at the beginning of the period	¥ 3,259	¥ 2,570
Net cash flows from operating activities	940	1,501
Net cash flows from investing activities	(1,652)	(4,214)
Net cash flows from financing activities	43	2,381
Effect of exchange rate changes	(20)	(55)
Increase in cash and cash equivalents	(689)	(387)
Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the period	¥ 2,570	¥ 2,183

Our cash flows from operating activities increased by ¥561 billion ($4,961 million) from ¥940 billion ($8,320 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥1,501 billion ($13,281 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 mainly due to a decrease of ¥543 billion ($4,804 million) in income taxes paid (net of refund).

Our cash flows from investing activities for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 was a cash outflow of ¥1,652 billion ($14,617 million) compared to a cash outflow of ¥4,214 billion ($37,288 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, representing an increase in cash outflow of ¥2,562 billion ($22,672 million). This was mainly due to our acquisition of Arm, which accounted for ¥3,249 billion ($28,755 million) of cash outflow and was partially offset by cash inflow from our sales/redemption of our Alibaba, GungHo and Supercell shares.

Our cash flows from financing activities increased by ¥2,337 billion ($20,686 million) from ¥43 billion ($383 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to ¥2,381 billion ($21,069 million) for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. The primary components of cash flows from financing activities were proceeds from long-term interest bearing debt.

Market Risk

As we operate in a wide range of markets, we face a variety of financial risks (currency risk, price risk, interest rate risk, credit risk and liquidity risk) in its operations. We manage our risks based on established policies to prevent and reduce these financial risks.

Derivative transactions entered into by us are conducted and controlled based on our internal rules and procedures for derivative transactions and are limited to the extent of actual demands. For more information, see Note 25 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 included elsewhere in this offering memorandum.

Significant Accounting Policies for the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

Portfolio Company Investments Made by the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

The portfolio companies that the Company is deemed to control under IFRS are treated as subsidiaries of the Company and their results of operations, assets and liabilities are included in the Company's consolidated financial statements. Investments except for subsidiaries made by the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, including investments in associates, are in principle treated as financial assets at FVTPL, and they are measured at fair value at the end of each quarter. The change during the reporting period is recognized in net profit or loss.

The recognition of changes in the value of investments held at FVTPL through the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund could impact the volatility of certain line items in our consolidated financial statements, including total non-current assets, operating income and net income. Moreover, both realized gain and loss on sales and unrealized valuation gain and loss in connection with these investments are recognized in our financial statements over the relevant quarter or fiscal year.

Results from the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

Income and loss arising from the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment are separated from operating income and loss arising from other segments, recognized as a component of operating income, and presented as "Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund" in our consolidated statements of income. Gain and loss on investments at the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund (realized gain and loss on sales of investments, unrealized gain and loss on valuation of investments, interest and dividend income from investments, except for gain and loss on investments in subsidiaries) and operating expenses such as incorporation expenses of entities that comprise the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, investment research expenses arising from SBIA and other advisory companies, and administrative expenses arising from each entity, are included in "Operating income and loss from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund." For more information, see Note 5 to our unaudited condensed interim financial statements for the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

Contribution from Limited Partners to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund periodically draw down a portion of their committed capital from their respective limited partners (a "Capital Call"). Uncalled committed capital from third-party investors in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund is deemed to be a loan commitment and not subject to IAS 39, "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement," and therefore this amount is not recorded in our consolidated statements of financial position.

Contribution from the Company to the SoftBank Vision Fund (Transfer of a portion of the shares of Arm)

The Company may periodically satisfy its obligations to contribute capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund by making in-kind contributions of shares and other investment assets. For example, as of December 31, 2017 we were in the process of delivering 276 million shares of Arm, representing 19.29% of the outstanding shares (or an aggregate of approximately $6.3 billion of capital contributions), to satisfy SoftBank Vision Fund Capital calls through such date. In connection with any future contributions, we may record valuation gains or losses to reflect changes in fair value of shares of investees that are agreed to be transferred from the Company to the SoftBank Vision Fund.

Contribution from Third-Party Investors to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

The interests attributable to third party investors to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are classified as financial liabilities, “third-party interests in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” in our consolidated statements of financial position, due to the predetermined finite life (at least 12 years from the final closing) and contractual payment provision to each of the limited partners within the limited partnership agreement. The amounts equivalent to the liabilities are recorded as “other financial liabilities” of non-current liabilities in the condensed interim consolidated statements of financial position as of December 31, 2017. The liabilities are classified as “financial liabilities measured at amortized cost” upon initial recognition. The amounts attributable to such third-party investors represent the amounts that would be distributed in accordance with the limited partnership agreement in a theoretical liquidation scenario, and are disclosed on the consolidated statements of financial position as a liability. Changes in the interests of such third-party investors are recognized through net profit or loss and presented as “changes in third-party interests in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” in non-operating income and loss in the condensed interim consolidated statements of income.

Contributions from third-party investors to the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are included in “contributions into SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund from third-party investors” under cash flows from financing activities in the consolidated statements of cash flows. Distributions to third-party investors and the redemption of investments from third-party investors are included in “Distribution/redemption from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund to third-party investors” under cash flows from financing activities in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Intercompany Transactions

Intercompany transactions, such as management fees and performance fees to SBIA paid or to be paid from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, are eliminated in consolidation. The results of operations, assets, and liabilities of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund after eliminations are recorded in the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

Japanese Market Overview

Mobile Market

Japan’s mobile telecommunications market is the world’s third-largest by revenue and was worth approximately $66 billion in 2016 according to IDC. Japan is the third largest economy in the world by GDP and its GDP per capita was $38,901, which was greater than that of the EU of $32,242 in 2016 according to the World Bank. The number of mobile phone subscriptions has grown over the last few years and is expected to continue to grow at 2.1% CAGR between 2017 and 2020 to reach nearly 179 million in 2020 as a result of mobile penetration increase, according to Ovum. According to BMI Research, mobile penetration in Japan is estimated to have reached 131% at the end of 2017, but remains below other developed markets such as Germany (144%) or Italy (140%). The number of mobile subscriptions is greater than the resident population, because a single customer may own more than one device such as a mobile phone, a smartphone, a tablet or a mobile broadband modem. Smartphone penetration is expected to rapidly grow from 79% in 2017 to 90% in 2020, which we believe will be a key growth driver of the market together with the potential growth in mobile data traffic.

The Japanese mobile market is one of the most attractive and technologically advanced in the world due to a number of unique characteristics which together have historically promoted strong mobile subscriber growth and healthy competition as outlined in more detail below.

Established market in a stable competitive environment dominated by three network operators

The mobile market is primarily served by three firmly established mobile network operators (“MNOs”)—NTT DOCOMO, the mobile arm of NTT, KDDI and our group—with market shares of 45%, 30% and 25% (including resales of capacity to MVNOs), respectively, as of December 2017 according to Ovum, and these shares have been stable over the last few years. The market is characterized by rational competition. Each of these three companies has its own spectrum allocation and the infrastructure necessary to operate an independent mobile network. The three MNOs provide nationwide coverage, and therefore do not incur costs in relation to internetwork termination fees. Given the current spectrum allocation and well-developed networks of the three established MNOs, combined with the capital intensive nature of the industry and licensing requirements and administrative restrictions for obtaining permits to build mobile sites, we believe there are high barriers to entry in MNO business, including the need to build out a nationwide network. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to

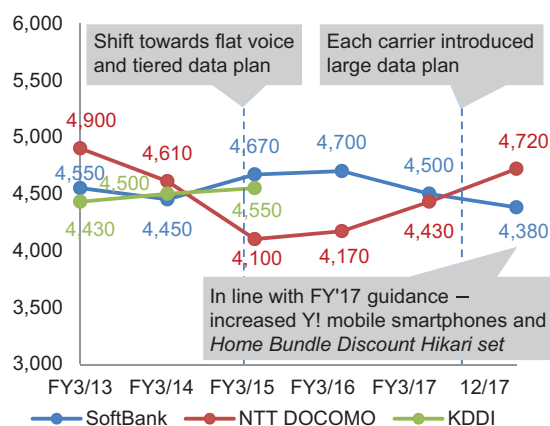

Our Business—We face intense competition, including from other large and established competitors, and such competition may intensify.”

As each operator offers similar pricing plans, which combine unlimited voice calling with a variety of flat-rate data packages, similar handset access and sufficiently robust networks, competition has significantly stabilized and we believe it has set itself for more resilient subscriber bases with shifting focus on customer retention and operational efficiency. ARPU has been stable in recent years, with data ARPU growth driven by greater use of online, video and multimedia services offsetting the decline in voice ARPU through the introduction of unlimited voice plans as well as the rising threat of IP telecommunications and MVNOs.

From FY3/16, KDDI stopped ARPU disclosure. SoftBank: excluding modules, after discount for communication charge, including backup service package, etc.

High ARPU supported by high proportion of postpaid subscriptions and heavy mobile data usage

The Japanese mobile market is characterized by a high proportion of postpaid subscriptions, which results in one of the highest ARPU markets in the world. According to Ovum, more than 99% of mobile telecommunication service subscribers in Japan are postpaid subscribers as of December 2017, who accept multi-year contract commitments and display relatively low levels of churn. This compares favorably to other attractive markets such as Germany, where only 54% of the total subscription base was postpaid. Heavy mobile data usage also contributes to maintain high ARPU. Monthly mobile data usage increased to 1.9 times in March 2017 compared from March 2015 according to MIC. The offering of technologically advanced products and services including high-quality nationwide LTE network incentivizes users to subscribe to more expensive data packages. LTE population coverage in Japan reached more than 99% as of December 2017, according to public disclosures by the three established MNOs.

Attractive regulatory environment

The telecommunication sector is administered centrally by the MIC which is responsible for all aspects of telecommunications regulation including licensing, frequencies, planning and policy and pricing.

Different from other established mobile markets, in Japan, mobile spectrum is not auctioned off.

Instead, the MIC allocates bandwidth after considering applications from interested parties. In this process, the MIC considers a range of factors, including which proposed use of spectrum best serves public needs and whether the parties have the necessary means to accomplish their proposals. Because the MIC might revoke allocations under certain circumstances, we are obligated to develop our spectrum in accordance with the proposals we made when applying for use of the spectrum. Spectrum users are required to pay radio utilization fees to the MIC. See “Regulation—Radio Act of Japan—Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum.”

Current spectrum allocation^(a)

(a) Based on published data as of August 1, 2016

As of the date hereof, the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications is currently evaluating applications for additional spectrum allocation of 1.7 GHz and 3.4 GHz bands, including applications from a prospective new MNO. See “Risk Factors—We face intense competition, including from other large and established competitors and well-funded entrants, and such competition may intensify.”

Limited Presence of Mobile Virtual Network Operators (MVNO)

In addition to the three MNOs, there are branded wholesale resellers that deliver their services independently over the network of MNOs, referred to as MVNOs, including NTT Communications, IIJ, Rakuten, U-Next, UQ Communications and LINE MOBILE. MVNOs contract directly with customers, but rely on existing MNO networks. The MVNO market has grown in Japan since 2010, mainly driven by the decrease of line rental fees and the regulatory push for removing “SIM-lock” restrictions on handsets along with smartphone penetration. According to the MM Research Institute, the independent MVNO market, excluding MVNO services supplied by MNOs, accounted for 3.4% (5.4 million subscribers) and 5.0% (8.1 million subscribers) of the total mobile subscription as of March 2016 and 2017, respectively.

While the market is growing and increasing in competition due to the participation of new entrants, given the different target markets, MVNOs are generally not considered as a significant threat for MNOs including ourselves. Subscribers in Japan generally prefer comprehensive and value-added services, such as customer support over-the-counter and by phone and a full lineup of handsets, while MVNOs normally do not have their own physical stores and generally do not provide latest handsets. In addition, as MVNOs pay network access charges to MNOs, MNOs will partly benefit from the further growth of the MVNO market. MNOs also offer low-price handsets and services, such as our Y!mobile brand, KDDI’s UQ mobile brand or “au Pitatto Plan” and NTT DOCOMO’s “docomo with” to compete against MVNOs in the niche segment to capture first-time, younger or more cost-conscious customers.

Fixed-line Broadband Market

Japan's broadband market is established and growing, with approximately 38.7 million subscribers as of March 2017. Market growth is primarily driven by FTTH adoption and this trend is expected to continue in the near future.

In 2015, NTT started to offer fiber wholesale via NTT East and NTT West, which allowed a variety of service providers including MNOs such as ourselves to bundle their own mobile services and fiber services. The introduction of NTT's fiber wholesale has contributed to the further penetration of FTTH.

Overview

We are a leading global technology company that aspires to drive the Information Revolution. We are a holding company, SoftBank Group Corp., and its global portfolio of subsidiaries and associates, which include advanced telecommunications, internet services, IoT, robotics and clean energy technology providers.

We operate the following business segments:

- Domestic Telecommunications Segment, which includes our core operating subsidiary SoftBank Corp. and Wireless City Planning Inc.;
- Sprint Segment, which includes Sprint, one of the “big four” established nationwide wireless carriers in the United States;
- Yahoo Japan Segment, which, operating through Yahoo Japan, provides internet-based advertising, e-commerce services and other services;
- Distribution Segment, which provides services, including mobile device and accessory wholesaling, and mobile device distribution through Brightstar and SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp.;
- Arm Segment, under which Arm designs and licenses technologies used in semiconductor chips used in mobile devices, enterprise infrastructure and embedded intelligence in automobiles and home appliances;
- SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund Segment, unique investment funds intended to make investments in a wide range of technology sectors globally; and
- Other, including, among other things, Fortress, an alternative investment management business, the Fukuoka SoftBank HAWKS and energy- and robotics-related businesses.

We helped transform the Japanese smartphone market when we were the first to offer the iPhone in Japan in 2008 and built a brand centered on the mobile internet—data-intensive, highly-connected and reliable. Our unique brand and outperformance have also been supported by high quality LTE network infrastructure, well developed over a recently-completed cycle of significant capital expenditure, which covers nearly all of the population of Japan, with robust and reliable connectivity. We have two domestic mobile service brands, SoftBank and Y!mobile. Our flagship SoftBank brand focuses on the high-end of the market, including the most profitable segment of the mobile market, which we believe to be data-intensive smartphone users (mostly iPhones). We also offer the Y!mobile brand, targeting the budget-conscious market to capture first-time, younger customers.

We combine our stable and profitable domestic telecommunications operations in Japan with selected strategic investments in global internet, technology and communications companies, differentiating us from other mobile operators and providing opportunities for mutually-advantageous growth among our group companies. Our leadership team is led by Japan’s technology and business innovator, Masayoshi Son, our founder, Chairman and CEO.

- We control SoftBank Corp., one of the largest telecommunications operators in Japan and the main contributor to our Domestic Telecommunications business, which comprises 35.3% of our consolidated net sales, and 46.9% of our consolidated Adjusted EBITDA and a primary source of our cash flow, in each case for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, and it is one of Japan’s leading mobile communications providers with approximately 42.5 million subscribers, as of December 31, 2017, and approximately 25% subscriber market share, according to TCA and Company data.
- We control Sprint, one of the four largest telecommunications operators in the United States, which had a market capitalization of ¥2,664 billion ($23,572 million) as of December 31, 2017.
- We control Yahoo Japan, which operates Japan’s most frequently visited portal site offering a wide range of internet services, which had a market capitalization of ¥2,944 billion ($26,051 million) as of December 31, 2017.

- We own Arm, a British company specializing in the design of microprocessor intellectual property.
- We hold a significant minority stake in one of the world's largest e-commerce companies, Alibaba, with a market value of our owned shares of ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract) as of December 31, 2017.
- We invest in the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, unique investment funds intended to make investments in a wide range of technology sectors globally, managed by SBIA, our wholly owned subsidiary in the U.K. As of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund, one of the world's largest of its kind, was $91.7 billion. We completed the final closing of Delta Fund on September 27, 2017 with $6.0 billion in committed capital.

Strengths

Well-established position as a leading mobile communications company in Japan, one of the largest and most attractive mobile communications markets in the world, through our well-invested, high-quality network that provides clear and stable communication services

We are one of Japan's leading mobile communications companies in terms of mobile subscribers. As of December 31, 2017, we had approximately 42.5 million subscribers (including PHS and Wireless Home Phones), which according to TCA and Company data, amounted to approximately 25% market share in the Japanese market. Japan is one of the most technologically advanced and attractive mobile communications markets in the world and is the third-largest globally, following the United States and China, with user-spending worth approximately $66 billion in 2016, according to IDC. We and the other major network operators in Japan provide nationwide coverage, and therefore, we do not incur costs in relation to internetwork termination fees. As further described in "Market and Industry," the Japanese mobile market is supported by several attractive characteristics:

- One of the wealthiest and most technologically advanced countries in the world, supporting stable and high levels of mobile spending.
- A well-established and stable competitive environment, which benefits from a regulatory stance that discourages excessive competition among major operators.
- Stable customer base backed by large postpaid subscribers with low churn rate.
- Growth opportunities from potential to increase penetration of smartphones and increasing data usage.

We believe that the quality of our mobile network is a key factor in acquiring and retaining mobile subscribers and have focused on maintaining and improving the quality and speed of our mobile network, especially with respect to our LTE network, and increasing network capacity to respond to the rapid rise in traffic attributable to increased penetration of smartphones and resultant increased data usage.

We have invested in our domestic network, with ¥1,317 billion ($11,654 million) invested in our Domestic Telecommunications segment over the last three fiscal years. We have overtaken our competitors in terms of connectivity and have carefully managed the explosive growth in data traffic that has accompanied the rapid popularization of smartphones. We achieved this, among other means, by using big data to make efficient, large-scale capital investments and massively increasing the number of base stations using the "platinum band" (the band of spectrum between 700 MHz and 900 MHz, which is optimal for mobile communications services). We were allocated our first access to the platinum band in 2012 and then expanded our available spectrum through our acquisitions of WILLCOM and eAccess (now merged with SoftBank Corp.). To further enhance our network connectivity, we have expanded the number of base stations for LTE services, which can make the most efficient use of spectrum and allow for rollout of more advanced technology using software rather than capital-intensive infrastructure, such as carrier aggregation.

Our investments have provided us with Japan's foremost network in terms of smartphone data connectivity. According to Agoop Corp., our industry data aggregator subsidiary, our smartphone data connectivity as of December 31, 2017 was 98.8%, compared to 98.8% and 98.6% for our primary competitors NTT DOCOMO and KDDI, respectively. We believe that our high-quality network has bolstered our customer retention and led to reduced churn, and will strengthen our competitive position relative to the other MNOs.

Our well-invested infrastructure allows us to operate a technologically advanced network, supported by a comprehensive and all-but-completed footprint of steel towers for base stations, at controlled cost. We currently anticipate that capital expenditures in our Domestic Telecommunications segment will run at a rate of approximately ¥392.5 billion ($3,473 million) going for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 (including life-cycle expenditures), in part with a view to maintaining the cushion of excess network capacity we currently enjoy despite the expected increase in mobile data usage.

Strong cash flow generation and prudent financial management

Our strong market position as a leading mobile carrier and as a diversified telecommunications operator in Japan, coupled with our synergistic ties with leading internet businesses and other strategic assets, has provided us with stable and strong recurring cash flows. In addition, steady growth of our mobile subscriber base coupled with agile control of operating costs, has allowed us to maintain consistent Adjusted EBITDA growth, as well as a steady Adjusted EBITDA margin, both for our consolidated group and for our Domestic Telecommunications segment. For the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017, our Domestic Telecommunications segment generated Adjusted EBITDA of ¥1,163 billion ($10,295 million), and ¥1,209 billion ($10,699 million), respectively and made capital expenditures of ¥413 billion ($3,651 million), and ¥321 billion ($2,837 million), respectively. As a result, our Domestic Telecommunications segment also generated free cash flow of ¥402 billion ($3,559 million), and ¥562 billion ($4,972 million), respectively, for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017.

Due to the impact of medium-term measures our Domestic Telecommunications segment has conducted with an aim to achieving future growth, such as the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set, Giga Monster, and the strengthening of our collaboration with Yahoo Japan Corporation, as well as introduction of Half Price Support, our Domestic Telecommunications segment generated less Adjusted EBITDA of ¥964 billion ($8,531 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2017 than that of ¥ 995 billion ($8,803 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2016. For the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017, our Domestic Telecommunications segment made capital expenditures of ¥183 billion ($1,616 million), and ¥217 billion ($1,920 million), respectively. As a result, our Domestic Telecommunications segment also generated free cash flow of ¥435 billion ($3,849 million) and ¥400 billion ($3,539 million), respectively, for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017.

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018, segment income could decrease up to 7% year on year due to the impact of medium-term growth measures mentioned above. Free cash flow for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 exceeded ¥560 billion and we expect strong cash flow to continue for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018, even with expectations of a lower profit projection, an increase in income taxes paid, an increase in working capital associated with expansion of smartphone sales and an increase in investments for expanding earnings opportunities.

We believe that our high level of prior investment in our network has stabilized our capital requirements over the medium term and will allow us to absorb the expected growth in mobile data usage with reduced incremental capital expenditures. Because of these previous investments, we can now limit capital expenditures to incremental upgrades required by new customer subscriptions and increased usage. We believe that the strength of our domestic telecommunications businesses, coupled with operating efficiencies and reduced levels of capital investment, will bolster our free cash flow from domestic operations, allowing us to dedicate additional resources to strategic high-value areas and to gradually reduce our leverage and repay outstanding debt. In addition, further improvement of Sprint Adjusted EBITDA leads to Adjusted EBITDA growth of our consolidated group, which contributes to our deleveraging. We have a proven track record of deleveraging and improving our credit profile over time. For example, we lowered our net interest-bearing debt and achieved 1.1x net interest-bearing debt-to-EBITDA ratio in the six years following the acquisition of Vodafone Japan in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007. Subsequently, the net interest-bearing debt-to-EBITDA ratio of our Group increased to 3.6x as of March 31, 2014 as a result of the Sprint acquisition and 4.2x as of March 31, 2017 (excluding financial liabilities relating to the sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract) due to the Arm acquisition. We intend to continue deliberately managing our net leverage with an aim to improving our credit profile in the medium term.

We also have a proven track record of strategically managing and monetizing our investment portfolio. For example, between June and August 2016, we monetized a portion of our investment in Alibaba through the sale of shares to Alibaba and other investors, as well as entering into a variable prepaid forward contract to sell a variable amount of Alibaba shares. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Cash and Capital Requirements—Debt Repayments and Certain Other Contractual Commitments—Transaction for Sale of Alibaba Shares by Variable Prepaid Forward Contract.” Total proceeds from these transactions were approximately $8.8 billion (¥994 billion). Also, in the summer of 2016, we successfully monetized our investments in Supercell and GungHo Online Entertainment, Inc. (“GungHo”), by selling our entire stake in Supercell and 90% of our stake in GungHo, for total proceeds of $7.4 billion (¥832 billion) and ¥72 billion ($639 million), respectively. Through these transactions in 2016, we successfully monetized an aggregate $16.8 billion (¥1,898 billion) of portfolio assets. We intend to manage our investment portfolio strategically, to maximize the return and cash flows from our investments.

We have a prudent and conservative approach to financial management as reflected by the large liquidity position available to us. As of December 31, 2017, we held a cash position of ¥3,478 billion ($30,779 million), including ¥1,112 billion ($9,838 million) which was collectively held by Sprint and Yahoo Japan and to which we do not have ready access. Despite the expansion of our balance sheet in connection with the Arm acquisition, we experienced no changes in our credit ratings and continue to have ample access to multiple sources of funding and stakes in listed companies such as Alibaba, including through the regular issuance of debt securities in the Japanese domestic market. For example, in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, we issued ¥500 billion ($4,425 million) of yen-denominated unsecured straight corporate bonds and ¥471 billion ($4,168 million) of yen-denominated unsecured subordinated bonds with interest deferrable clauses and early redemption options. Additionally, on July 19, 2017, we issued $2.75 billion of USD-denominated Undated Subordinated NC6 Resetttable Notes and $1.75 billion of USD-denominated Undated Subordinated NC10 Resetttable Notes and on September 19, 2017, we issued $3.35 billion USD-denominated Senior Notes and €2.25 billion euro-denominated Senior Notes, going forward, we expect that the SoftBank Vision Fund will be our primary vehicle for making investments in excess of $100 million, which allow us to explore further investment opportunities through the fund while managing our group financial leverage.

Broad range of strategic assets providing significant value, sufficient liquidity and financial flexibility to our group

We own a variety of assets that provide strategic value and financial flexibility to our Group. As of December 31, 2017, we owned 43% of the voting rights in Yahoo Japan, the operator of the most popular internet portal site in Japan with a market value of our owned shares of ¥1,264 billion ($11,189 million), and 26% of the voting rights in Alibaba (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract), one of the largest online and mobile commerce groups in China, with a market value of our owned shares of ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract). In addition to Yahoo Japan and Alibaba, we owned 84% of the voting rights in Sprint, a major provider of mobile communications services, mobile devices, mobile handsets and accessories and fixed-line telecommunications services in the United States with a market value of our owned shares of ¥2,239 billion ($19,810 million) as of December 31, 2017.

As of December 31, 2017, we owned 99.99% of the voting rights in SoftBank Corp., a leading domestic telecommunications company and a primary source of our cash flow. We acquired Arm, a British company specializing in designing semiconductor intellectual property, in September 2016. We believe that Arm, which is a world leader in design of microprocessor intellectual property, is positioned to capture new business opportunities, particularly with the proliferation of IoT products that integrate Arm's technology. Our investments in Arm, as well as companies such as WorldVu Satellites Limited. ("OneWeb"), a global communications company and satellite operator, Social Finance, Inc. ("Social Finance"), provider of consumer finance services, Tokopedia, one of Indonesia's largest online marketplaces, Coupang, an e-commerce firm based in South Korea, and mobile ride-sharing service operators Uber Technologies, Inc., DiDi, Ola Cabs and Grab, will position us to seize the many business opportunities that we expect to accompany the widespread integration of artificial intelligence, and related technology, into daily life. As of December 31, 2017, investment securities held by SoftBank Group Corp. and its subsidiaries other than the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund (which do not reflect the investment in Uber Technologies, Inc. in January 2018 and further investment in DiDi in January and February 2018) had an aggregate book value of ¥1.1 trillion ($9.9 billion).

In order to better facilitate investment in strategic assets, we established the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, which will deploy capital from SoftBank Group Corp. and our investment partners. See "—Strategies—Strategic Investments: Continue to make growth investments and manage portfolio strategically with the aim to realize our SoftBank Synergy Group vision" and "—SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund."

World-class management team led by Japan's most successful entrepreneur, with a track record of growing businesses and risk control through disciplined portfolio management

With our strong senior management team and a group of transformational internet entrepreneurs, we believe our leadership team has the experience and vision to continue our success.

Our founder, Chairman and CEO Masayoshi Son is Japan's foremost information technology and business innovator. Under his leadership, we have grown from a new-born distributor of packaged software in 1981 to what we believe is Japan's most innovative mobile-internet company, with a market capitalization of ¥9,718 billion ($86,003 million) as of December 31, 2017. Mr. Son's entrepreneurial vision for SoftBank has placed us at the forefront of the Information Revolution. Anticipating the future of the mobile internet, under Mr. Son's leadership, we founded the dominant portal site in Japan in 1996 through our joint venture Yahoo Japan, introduced the iPhone in Japan in 2008 and have become one of the leading mobile communications providers in Japan.

Our management team has proven our ability to build successful businesses, even in challenging circumstances. We acquired a controlling interest in Sprint in 2013 and our founder, Chairman and CEO Masayoshi Son, is part of the management team of Sprint. Due, in part, to management's focus on increasing the number of postpaid phone subscribers, which are its largest source of revenue and profit, and cost management, Sprint has recently seen a sharp recovery in profitability. U.S. dollar-based income of the Sprint segment increased from $506 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 to $1.7 billion for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, and it increased from $1,365 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to $2,608 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Also, its Adjusted EBITDA has steadily improved this year, nearly reaching $10 billion for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. Before Sprint, we acquired Vodafone's Japanese operations in 2006 and through prudent investment transformed a below-average network into our market leading LTE offering. Before that, we acquired Japan Telecom Co., Ltd. (a fixed-line business) and built that into our profitable fixed-line segment.

Our management team also has a proven ability to execute successful investment partnerships with transformational, high growth potential businesses. We first invested in Alibaba in 2000. Alibaba went public in 2014 and as of December 31, 2017 the market value of our stake in Alibaba was ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract). As of December 31, 2017, the market value of our shares in Alibaba, Sprint and Yahoo Japan totaled ¥16 trillion ($145 billion). Other disruptive subsidiaries and strategic associates include British semiconductor firm Arm, DiDi and Uber Technologies, Inc., two of the world's largest ride-sharing operators by number of daily rides, and Social Finance, which provides consumer finance services such as student loan refinancing service in the United States.

Our disciplined portfolio management and prudent financial policy are demonstrated by the monetization of our investments in GungHo and Supercell and a portion of our investment in Alibaba. We will continue to balance strategic investments and prudent financial management.

Strategies

We seek to leverage our strong position in our domestic market to maximize profitability in our Japanese business and to build from our successful development in Japan to become a global company with a strong presence in the United States, where we have successfully returned Sprint to profitability, the UK, China, India and other markets where we can profitably and sustainably build a synergistic corporate group. At the same time, we recognize the need, as a technology company, to keep flexibility and to adapt to changes in the market. We therefore aggressively invest in internet and technology-related companies that have the potential to drive innovation and the Information Revolution.

Domestic Telecommunications: Leverage our leading market position in the attractive Japanese telecommunications market to enhance revenue generation

We have succeeded in achieving a robust market share and an established brand recognition as well as building effective marketing capabilities and a superior network infrastructure in the Japanese mobile telecommunications market and this gives us the opportunity to improve free cash flow in the near term.

Concentrate efforts on acquiring and maintaining higher margin smartphone subscribers by intensifying our dual-brand strategy

Smartphone subscribers generate more revenue and lower churn rates relative to subscribers to other devices. We have focused our sales and marketing efforts on acquiring and retaining higher value smartphone subscribers, including by offering discounted rates in bundled plans of handset and fixed-line subscriptions, such as the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set, which offers a discount on the communication charges of mobile communications services to customers subscribing to both mobile communications services and broadband services, such as SoftBank Hikari. Our SoftBank Hikari services have seen brisk subscriber growth, with cumulative subscribers growing from 119 thousand as of March 31, 2015 to 4.7 million as of December 31, 2017. This growth helped increase broadband revenue by ¥45 billion ($401 million), or 23.2%, from the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to the nine months ended December 31, 2017 and by ¥92 billion ($814 million), or 51.9%, year-on-year during fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, which in turn contributed to an overall increase in the revenue of our Domestic Telecommunications segment.

While we concentrate on higher margin smartphone subscribers using our SoftBank brand, as the low cost smartphone market continues to expand, and with the recent increased presence of MVNOs in Japan, we are aggressively pursuing market share in the low cost smartphone market by promoting expansion of our mobile communications service sister brand Y!mobile. We believe that we have a competitive advantage by appealing to existing and future customers through our dual brand approach. With our dual-brand strategy we will continue targeting clearly defined market segments with relevant dedicated products and service offerings in order to optimize our market reach and achieve further growth. In particular, our SoftBank brand is targeted at the mass market, which comprises the highest value customers. At the same time, we will continue to capture first-time, younger or more cost-conscious customers through our distinct Y!mobile brand, which expands our subscriber base and creates up-selling potential for the mass market segment once customers become older or more settled and increase the usage of their devices.

Offer higher-value, data-intensive pricing plans

Because mobile phone users are consuming increasingly large amounts of data-rich content such as video content, we introduced a high-data cap, fixed-rate “Giga Monster” data plan in September 2016. This plan has both 20GB and 30GB options. These plans allow subscribers to consume large amounts of data-rich content without worrying about running out of data or incurring large fees. To meet even higher data cap demands, we further introduced “Ultra Giga Monster,” a 50GB option, in September 2017. We believe that subscribers value the peace of mind that these high-data cap plans provide and that will discourage high-data usage subscribers from migrating to budget mobile phone services, such as MVNOs.

Continue to expand our discount bundle services which combine mobile services and fixed-broadband services

We greatly emphasize the acquisition of smartphone users and the improvement of the churn rate thereof by focusing on the promotion of the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set, which offers a discount on the communication charges of mobile communications services to customers subscribing to both mobile communications services and broadband services such as SoftBank Hikari.

Continue to pursue operating efficiencies and extract synergies from our investments, especially Yahoo Japan

As we seek to improve margins, we intend to find ways of reducing our operating costs. One example of this is the cost savings we achieved in network operations, information systems, sales and marketing and personnel as part of the April 2015 merger of our domestic telecommunications companies into SoftBank Corp. We also aim to cooperate with and develop synergies with various group companies and associates, including investees of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. For example, in collaboration with Yahoo Japan, we launched a mobile commerce service that enables customers to easily and conveniently use internet shopping and other Yahoo Japan services on their smartphones. In addition to improving the experience of our subscribers, through the introduction of features like “Smart Login,” “T Point” awards and “SoftBank Consolidated Billing,” in June 2017, we launched a partnership with Yahoo Japan whereby SoftBank smartphone users will be able to receive all the privileges of Yahoo! Premium membership and obtain ten times as many T Points than users normally would while conveniently purchasing products without registration on Yahoo Japan’s e-commerce platform. Through these activities, we aim to encourage smartphone subscribers to make even greater use of the services of Yahoo Japan, and to generally promote the mobile internet usage of our subscribers, in order to increase revenues from the use of data communications services and other services and content.

Maintain our current level of capital expenditures and generate sustainable free cash flow

In recent years, we made large-scale capital investments to improve our domestic network, with ¥1,317 billion ($11,654 million) invested during the three-year period ended March 31, 2017. However, we have mostly finished building our steel towers for base stations throughout Japan, the most-costly aspect of our network revamp program, and have entered a period of expected moderate capital expenditure and stable free cash flows. In particular, we anticipate capital investment of ¥392.5 billion ($3,473 million) for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 in our Domestic Telecommunications segment (including life-cycle expenditure), which, paired with our steady Adjusted EBITDA levels, is expected to generate strong cash flows.

Sprint: Further enhance the operational and financial performance of Sprint through a compelling value proposition

Sprint has achieved significant operation and financial improvement in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 and the nine months ended December 31, 2017. Due to continuous engagement in cost management across its business, which led to a cumulative reduction of $3.4 billion in its cost of service and SG&A (US-GAAP) over the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 and the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, as well as management’s focus on increasing the number of postpaid phone subscribers, which are Sprint’s largest source of revenue and profit, Sprint has recently seen a sharp recovery in profitability. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, Sprint’s consolidated net operating revenue (US-GAAP) increased for the first time in three years and Sprint’s adjusted free cash flow (US-GAAP) turned positive in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. Also, Sprint’s

Adjusted EBITDA (US-GAAP) has steadily improved over the last three years, from $6.0 billion in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 to $8.1 billion in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 and nearly $10 billion for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 and from $6.0 billion in the nine months ended December 31, 2015 to $7.3 billion in the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and $8.3 billion in the nine months ended December 31, 2017.

With the aim of continuing this momentum, we promote further improvements to the Sprint brand and the experience of Sprint customers. For example, Sprint is unlocking the value of the largest mobile broadband spectrum holdings in the U.S. and its network is designed to drive significant improvements to network performance and the customer experience. Network investment is focused mainly on upgrading existing towers to leverage all three of Sprint's spectrum bands, 800 MHz, 1.9GHz and 2.5 GHz, building thousands of new cell sites to expand its coverage, adding more small cells including "Sprint Magic Boxes" and leveraging the recent strategic agreements with Altice and Cox, and deploying 64T64R Massive MIMO 2.5 GHz radios to increase capacity. Sprint's network has already seen significant improvements. According to Ookla Speedtest Intelligence data, Sprint was the most improved operator in 2017 with a 60% year-over-year increase in its national average download speed (based on Ookla's analysis of Speedtest Intelligence data comparing December 2016 to December 2017 for all mobile results).

We believe these network improvements will allow us to further improve Sprint's profitability by steadily increasing postpaid phone customer base and undertaking cost-reduction initiatives. Demonstrating our success so far in these areas, Sprint's net additions of postpaid phone subscribers, a focus of their management, increased from a net loss of 1,526,000 for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 to net additions of 438,000 and 930,000 for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017, respectively, marking a nearly twofold increase over the last two fiscal years. Furthermore, Sprint had 551,000 postpaid phone net additions for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, marking ten consecutive quarters of net additions. Sprint's annual phone churn rate for postpaid phones also improved continuously, decreasing to 2.04%, 1.52% and 1.48% for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2015, 2016 and 2017, respectively. Postpaid phone churn rate was 1.44% and 1.60% for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 and 2017, respectively. See "Presentation of Operational Information—Key Performance Indicators—Sprint Segment" for further details.

While we will play an active role in Sprint's further improvement, we expect that Sprint will continue to act as an independent subsidiary with stand-alone funding capacity for its operations and capital requirements, including through the utilization of asset financing such as spectrum-back financing that was executed in October 2016.

Arm: Capture new business opportunities by leveraging Arm and other portfolio companies that are well positioned to drive the paradigm shift to IoT

We expect to see, in the near future, a paradigm shift to IoT and the widespread integration of artificial intelligence, and related technology, into daily life. We believe that this shift will present many business opportunities. For example, an increasing number of smart devices means demand for processors that drive these devices will increase. In September 2016, we acquired all the shares of Arm, one of the world's leading technology companies with strong capabilities in global microprocessor intellectual property design and licensing. Our investment in Arm positions us to participate in and help drive the paradigm shift to IoT and a widespread integration of artificial intelligence, and related technology, into daily life. Insight from over 100 billion Arm-based chips shipped to date and Arm partnership provides us with technology expertise to identify an industry trends. By accelerating our investment in new technologies and markets, expanding market share in markets with a growth potential such as network infrastructure, servers, automotive, IoT and AI, while also maintaining its share in smartphone microprocessor intellectual property design licensing, we aim to further grow Arm as a core business in the SoftBank Group and a leader in IoT.

Strategic Investments: Continue to make growth investments and manage portfolio strategically with the aim to realize our SoftBank Synergy Group vision

The information industry is characterized by rapid changes in technology, business models and market needs. To become a provider of the most essential technologies and services to people around the world, it is imperative that we are flexible with regard to specific technologies and business models, and cultivate the flexibility to transform our business, for example by expanding and adjusting the scope of our businesses, to adapt to changes in the market. To meet this challenge, we aggressively invest in internet and technology-related companies that are expected to achieve strong growth. We then leverage our cultivated knowledge base and business networks to support the growth of our portfolio companies. At the same time, we aim to continuously expand and change our business offerings by organically combining our own strengths with those of portfolio companies to create synergies. These efforts are connected to our long-term “SoftBank Synergy Group” vision, which we aim to realize by further fostering communication and collaboration between our portfolio companies for the purpose of seeking synergistic strategic initiatives. As part of these efforts, we intend to continue to generally focus on making substantial, long-term minority investments into companies that are, or that we believe have strong potential to become, the leading companies in their respective industries or geographies, while providing founders and management the flexibility to grow their business free of undue interference. Through this process, we believe we can realize our own sustainable growth.

Also, we have a proven track record of monetizing our portfolio companies including a partial monetization of our Alibaba shares through a variable prepaid forward contract entered into in June 2016 and through sale of shares to Alibaba and other investors for a total of $8.8 billion (¥994 billion) and disposition of our interest in Supercell in July 2016 for $7.4 billion (¥832 billion). See “—Strengths—World-class management team led by Japan’s most successful entrepreneur, with a track record of growing businesses and risk control through disciplined portfolio management.” We will continue to strategically manage our portfolio to monetize investments when appropriate, as part of our prudent group financial policy.

To facilitate strategic investment in technologies globally, we launched the SoftBank Vision Fund on May 20, 2017. This fund will deploy capital from SoftBank Group Corp. and our investment partners, and will allow us to step up investments in global technology. Over the next decade, we aim to make SoftBank Vision Fund the biggest investor in the technology sector, driving innovation in the sector and accelerating the Information Revolution. Through the SoftBank Vision Fund and the Delta Fund, we can maximize our ability to pursue investment opportunities up to an aggregate $100 billion in scale with our committed capital of up to $32.5 billion. The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund will enable a balanced new investment strategy accelerating enterprise value and balance sheet management toward credit improvement. While we consolidate the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund for accounting purposes, we do not intend to provide direct credit support for investments by the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund or for their respective portfolio companies.

History

We were founded on September 3, 1981 by Masayoshi Son to distribute software, with a focus on innovation, and with a corporate philosophy of bringing happiness to everyone through an information revolution. Masayoshi Son named us “SoftBank,” reflecting his vision of us as a “bank of software”—a key source of infrastructure for the information society. This philosophy has been the backbone of our steady growth, and we now engage in a broad array of communications, technology and internet-related businesses, both domestically and globally.

We believe SoftBank Group is the leading internet and communications company in Japan. We entered the internet business in 1996 when we formed Yahoo Japan through a joint venture with Yahoo! Inc. (currently Altaba Inc.). We entered the communications services business in 2001 when we began our Yahoo! BB ADSL service and in 2004 we acquired a fixed-line telecommunications operator, Japan Telecom Co., Ltd. We entered the mobile communications business in 2006 with our landmark acquisition of mobile communications operator Vodafone Japan for approximately ¥1.7 trillion ($15.2 billion), or ¥1.8 trillion ($16.4 billion) net of loans to and cash and cash equivalent held at Vodafone Japan. Since then, we have introduced innovative and top-of-market products such as the iPhone, which we were the first Japanese company to distribute in Japan. Despite a period during which our mobile connectivity rate lagged behind other mobile communication companies in Japan, mainly due to a lack of spectrum in the band between 700 MHz and 900 MHz, known as the “platinum band,” we have subsequently built our network into one of Japan’s largest and most reliable mobile networks for coverage and connectivity.

In 2010, in celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of our founding, we announced “SoftBank’s Next 30-Year Vision,” re-confirming our aim to contribute to people’s happiness through an information revolution, and to become “the corporate group needed most by people around the world.” We have expanded globally, and in 2013, we completed another landmark acquisition by becoming the majority owner of Sprint, a wireless communications company in the United States. Since 2014, we have accelerated strategic and synergistic investments in innovative and disruptive companies, in particular in internet technologies where we anticipate future growth. In September 2016, we acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Arm, for approximately £24.0 billion. We now hold shares of Alibaba with a value of ¥12,878 billion ($113,965 million) (excluding shares subject to sale pursuant to a variable prepaid forward contract), as of December 31, 2017, although the carrying amount of ¥209 billion ($1,854 million) of Alibaba shares were pledged as collateral, as of December 31, 2017, in relation to a variable prepaid forward contract entered into in June 2016. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Cash and Capital Requirements—Debt Repayments and Certain Other Contractual Commitments—Transaction for Sale of Alibaba Shares by Variable Prepaid Forward Contract.”

In order to seek to enable the next age of innovation, in October 2016, we announced the intention to form the SoftBank Vision Fund. We announced the first major closing of this fund on May 20, 2017, and as of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion. See “—SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund.”

SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

On October 14, 2016, we announced the intention to form the SoftBank Vision Fund, a unique investment fund established within the SoftBank Group in order to facilitate investment in the global technology sector and further our business strategy of investing in transformative technologies and disruptive entrepreneurs that we expect to achieve strong growth. See “—Strategies—Strategic Investments: Continue to make growth investments and manage portfolio strategically with the aim to realize our SoftBank Synergy Group vision.” As it is managed and held separately, the SoftBank Vision Fund maximizes investment opportunities while managing group financial leverage. On May 20, 2017, we announced the initial closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund and as of December 31, 2017, total committed capital to the SoftBank Vision Fund was $91.7 billion. Our limited partners in the SoftBank Vision Fund include the Public Investment Fund of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the Mubadala Investment Company of the United Arab Emirates, Apple, Foxconn Technology Group, Qualcomm Incorporated and Sharp Corporation, or their respective affiliates. Subject to certain consent requirements, the final closing of the SoftBank Vision Fund is anticipated to occur no later than the three months ending June 30, 2018. We completed the final closing of the Delta Fund on September 27, 2017 with $6.0 billion in committed capital. The investment period for the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, respectively, will be five years from the final closing of each fund and the fund period will last at least 12 years from the final closing of each fund.

We believe that the next stage of the Information Revolution is underway, and building the businesses that will make this possible will require unprecedented large-scale long-term investment. The SoftBank Vision Fund will make long-term investments in companies and foundational platform businesses that seek to enable the next age of innovation. We plan to achieve this by the SoftBank Vision Fund acquiring minority and majority interests in both private and public companies, from emerging technology businesses to established companies requiring substantial growth-funding. The SoftBank Vision Fund and its associated vehicles are expected to be active across a wide range of technology sectors, including but not limited to: IoT, artificial intelligence, robotics, mobile applications and computing, communications infrastructure and telecoms, computational biology and other data-driven business models, cloud technologies and software, consumer internet businesses and financial technology.

Our Business Segments

We are a holding company, SoftBank Group Corp., with a global portfolio of 761 subsidiaries, 130 associates and 23 jointly controlled companies as of March 31, 2017. We operate in the following business segments: Domestic Telecommunications, Sprint, Yahoo Japan, Distribution, Arm, SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund and Other. Our Domestic Telecommunications segment includes SoftBank Corp., our core operating subsidiary since we acquired Vodafone Japan in April 2006 and our 99.99% owned subsidiary as of March 31, 2017, and Wireless City Planning Inc. Our Sprint segment includes Sprint, one of the “big four” established nationwide wireless carriers in the United States, with approximately 54.6 million cumulative subscribers to its mobile communications services, as of December 31, 2017. Our Yahoo Japan segment, with Yahoo Japan as its main operating company, provides internet-based advertising, e-commerce services and other services. In our Distribution segment, we provide services, including mobile device and accessory wholesaling, and mobile device distribution through Brightstar. In Other, we are involved in various businesses, including energy-and robotics-related businesses, Fortress, an alternative investment management business and business related to the Fukuoka SoftBank HAWKS, a Japanese professional baseball team. Information on business segments which are not included in the reportable segments is classified in “Other.”

Domestic Telecommunications Segment

The Domestic Telecommunications segment comprises the subsidiaries that operate domestic telecommunications businesses, such as SoftBank Corp. and Wireless City Planning. SoftBank Corp. provides (i) mobile communications services under the SoftBank and Y!mobile brands, (ii) broadband services for retail customers, such as SoftBank Hikari and Yahoo! BB and (iii) fixed-line telecommunications services for corporate customers, such as data communications and fixed-line telephone services. Wireless City Planning provides broadband wireless access services using the 2.5 GHz band. According to TCA and Company data, total mobile subscribers attributable to our Domestic Telecommunications segment, which we count as the total number of subscribers under the SoftBank brand and Y!mobile brand, was approximately 42.5 million subscribers as of December 31, 2017 (including PHS and Wireless Home Phones), representing a subscriber market share of 25% as of December 31, 2017.

We entered the mobile communications business in April 2006 when we acquired Vodafone Japan (the predecessor to SoftBank Corp.). By recognizing the imminent arrival of the mobile internet era and executing smartphone-based strategy and network enhancement initiatives, we became the fastest growing provider of mobile communications services by subscribers in Japan. One important milestone in this process was being the first carrier to offer the iPhone in Japan in 2008. Since then, in an effort to ensure steady profit growth in mobile communications, we have been pursuing our key strategic initiatives aimed at expanding our smartphone subscribers and increasing telecommunications service revenue.

Through our Domestic Telecommunications segment, we offer LTE mobile services on a variety of devices over our nationwide mobile communications network. Although we have experienced an increase in smartphone subscribers, we have seen a general decline in ARPU mainly due to the dilutive impact of an increase in the ratio of Y!mobile smartphone subscribers, which have a relatively low service charge, and further penetration of the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set to the subscriber base also lowered ARPU by increasing the discount amount on telecom ARPU. These impacts were partially offset by an increase in the ratio of smartphone subscribers. For the fiscal years ended March 31, 2015, 2016 and 2017 and the nine months ended December 31, 2015, 2016 and 2017, main mobile subscribers generated ARPU in the amount of ¥4,670, ¥4,700 and ¥4,500 and ¥4,720, ¥4,530 and ¥4,380, respectively.

In February 2018, the Company and SoftBank Corp. jointly announced that they have commenced preparations for listing of SoftBank Corp.'s shares. Through a listing, SoftBank Corp. intends to pursue growth in a wide range of sectors and pursue synergies with SoftBank Group. Companies in Japan and abroad, as well as further strengthen its management foundations as an operating company. For further information, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Recent Developments" and "Risk Factors—The potential listing of the shares of SoftBank Corp. would involve several risks to our business, financial condition and results of operations."

Our Products and Services

The primary business within our Domestic Telecommunications segment is the provision of mobile voice and data services, broadband services for retail customers and fixed-line telecommunications services for corporate customers. Revenues from voice and data services for SoftBank Corp., the primary operating subsidiary in our Domestic Telecommunications segment, accounted for the vast majority of net sales for the segment. We offer subscribers mobile data services on most of our handsets as well as mobile voice services.

Our mobile communications services are offered on our 3G and LTE networks on the FDD-LTE and TD-LTE standards. Our LTE service is available throughout the most populated areas of Japan. Our Voice over LTE service transmits voice data over our LTE network, allowing for clear, higher quality voice calls.

We currently offer mobile communications services on a contract, or postpaid, basis and as a prepaid service. Our typical postpaid subscriber contracts are for periods of 24 months, with auto renewal for an additional term if not cancelled. As of December 31, 2017, almost all of our customers were subscribers to our postpaid service.

Data Flat-rate Plan

Given that mobile phone users are consuming increasingly large amounts of data-rich content such as videos, we introduced the data flat-rate (20GB) for ¥6,000 per month and data flat-rate (30GB) for ¥8,000 per month (collectively known as "Giga Monster") data plans for smartphones in September 2016. We further introduced the data flat-rate (50GB) (known as "Ultra Giga Monster") for ¥7,000 per month, with termination of the 30GB plan in September 2017.

Content and Services

We are collaborating with Yahoo Japan Corporation, aiming to encourage smartphone subscribers to make even greater use of Yahoo! Services. For example, we have offered award points to long-term users and awarded additional points to users of Yahoo Japan Corporation e-commerce services. In addition, SoftBank smartphone users enjoy all the privileges of Yahoo! Premium membership for free, encouraging our subscribers to use Yahoo! Japan's various internet services.

Discounts and Special Plans

Additionally, we offer various discounts and special plans, including the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set plans. Since March 2015, we have offered the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set plan, a discount bundled service, which combines mobile services and optical broadband services, by utilizing optical fiber wholesale services of NTT East and NTT West. As of December 31, 2017, cumulative Hikari Set subscribers consisted of SoftBank Hikari subscribers corresponding to 7.6 million associated mobile subscribers taking advantage of the discount. A typical subscriber might pay approximately ¥8,000 per month for our mobile service opting for five-minute unlimited voice calling and data flat-rate (20GB) and ¥5,700 per month for our residential optical broadband services (including related mandatory service charges). When subscribers choose a data package for 20 GB of monthly usage, and also subscribe to our optical broadband services, they receive a monthly discount of ¥1,000 to their smartphone bill and the smartphone bill of up to ten family members.

Y!mobile Pricing Plans

Y!mobile offers fixed-rate smartphone mobile subscription plans with a one-year discounted rate and a two-year double data bonus. Subscribers may choose from three different plans with (i) data cap of 2GB (1GB without a two-year double data bonus) and unlimited voice calls up to ten minutes, (ii) data cap of 6GB (3GB without a two-year double data bonus) and unlimited voice calls up to ten minutes or (iii) data cap of 14GB (7GB without a two-year double data bonus) and unlimited voice calls up to ten minutes. The monthly fee for the 2GB plan is at a discounted rate of ¥1,980 for the first 12 months of the subscription and ¥2,980 for the remaining subscription term. The monthly fees for the 6GB and 14GB plans for the first 12 months are ¥2,980 and ¥4,980, respectively and ¥3,980 and ¥5,980, respectively, for the remaining subscription term.

Handsets

We offer a wide selection of handsets, with a particular focus on smartphones, which generally have a higher ARPU than feature phone offerings. In addition to the iPhone X, iPhone 8, iPhone 8 Plus, iPhone 7, iPhone 7 Plus and iPhone SE, we offer a range of Android smartphones including Sony Mobile's Xperia™ XZs, Sharp's AQUOS R and AQUOS ea, and Kyocera's DIGNO® G. We also offer a number of feature phones, including Sharp's AQUOS keitai2 and Panasonic Mobile Communication's COLOR LIFE 5 WATERPROOF and tablets such as Apple's iPad and iPad Pro.

We source our handsets from a number of well-known suppliers, including Apple, Sharp, Sony, Kyocera, Panasonic, Samsung and ZTE, as SoftBank-brand handsets. These products are sold both through direct and indirect channels. Our Y!mobile brand sources its handsets from suppliers including Apple, LG Electronics and Kyocera, as Y!mobile brand handsets. We are continuously striving to improve the quality and breadth of our handset offerings to take advantage of new developments and new mobile handset features. The iPhone is our best-selling handset.

We offer a monthly discount program which is a type of sales promotion that provides customers support as they purchase new handsets, by allowing customers who purchase handsets by installment contract (typically a 24-month contract or 48-month with the Half Price Support program) to deduct all or a part of their installment payment from their monthly service fees. This program allows subscribers to purchase handsets practically for a significantly reduced price. The Half Price Support program, which was launched in September 2017, enables customers to purchase eligible smartphones in 48 monthly installments, with the remaining monthly payments waived if the customer trades in their used handset to upgrade to a designated new model after 24 monthly installments. In addition, we offer to a certain extent cash back, a points program and a trade-in program, in order to gain subscribers from our competitors and retain our existing subscribers. The amount of these offerings depends on the applied price plan, our marketing strategy and the guideline issued by MIC. They are standard in the Japanese mobile market, and believe that they are effective for subscriber acquisition and retention. Also, by increasing the number of subscribers with advanced smartphones that can access our LTE network, we can facilitate our subscribers' use of various mobile content, including mobile applications and internet services, which we believe will lead to an increase in mobile data usage. In effect, we expect this strategy to lead to both improved customer satisfaction as well as increased future data consumption. We believe this strategy is important, as we expect that data usage from smartphones will be one of the drivers of our ARPU, going forward. See “—Strategies—Domestic Telecommunications: Leverage our leading market position in the attractive Japanese telecommunications market to enhance revenue generation” and “—Strategies—Concentrate efforts on acquiring and maintaining higher margin smartphone subscribers by intensifying our dual-brand strategy.”

Fixed-line Telecommunications Products and Services

Our fixed-line services to corporate customers include Otoku Line, a direct-connection fixed-line voice service, or landline service, data transmission services that support work style innovations and promote cross-selling with our other mobile communication services. Our broadband services to individual customers include Yahoo! BB ADSL broadband internet access service, Yahoo! BB hikari with FLET'S ISP services offered as a package with NTT East's and NTT West's FLET'S Hikari Series fiber-optic connection, IP telecommunications services and wireless LAN services. In addition, in March 2015, we began offering fiber-optic connections services, under the SoftBank Hikari brand, through which we resell optical broadband access obtained wholesale from NTT East and NTT West.

Sales and Marketing

Our current marketing strategy is focused on the dual brand strategy of the SoftBank brand for premium service offering and the Y!mobile brand for competitive pricing against MVNO. We have found that marketing communications, such as television commercials, website banners, or media and promotions, in addition to the base line power of a company, which we believe includes the quality of our sales personnel and brand recognition, are the biggest contributors to subscriber additions.

Branding

As a part of our branding strategy, we own the Fukuoka SoftBank HAWKS, a Japanese professional baseball team, which won the 2014, 2015 and 2017 Japan Series championships. Moreover, we are attempting to develop an image of being cutting-edge through promotional activities that use "Pepper," the humanoid robot developed by our subsidiaries SoftBank Robotics and SoftBank Robotics Europe. Furthermore, our series of commercials featuring the Shirato family continues to have enduring popularity, even almost ten years after these commercials were first introduced.

Point Program

The T Point program is one of Japan's largest collective points programs in which users can earn T Points through spending at affiliated stores, nationwide, and internet vendors, and to use these points with these same associates. We offer a program through which users can earn T Points by incurring SoftBank mobile phone charges. SoftBank Corp. and Yahoo Japan have a minority investment in Tpoint Japan Co., Ltd., the operator of the T Point program.

Prepaid Cards

We offer a SoftBank Card, which is a refillable pre-paid card, with no registration or annual fee, that allows users to accumulate T Points when shopping and can be used wherever Visa is accepted. The SoftBank Card is easily refilled by transferring money to a designated bank account and can be used at the approximately 38 million vendors that accept Visa, which include department stores, convenience stores, drugstores, restaurants, clothing stores and internet shops, both in Japan and abroad. For each ¥200 charged to a SoftBank Card, the user accumulates one T Point, which can be used, for example, to offset the user's mobile phone bill or to re-fill the SoftBank Card, at a rate of ¥1 per T Point used.

Trade-in Campaign

We allow our customers to trade in their mobile devices and offer these customers a range of monthly fee discounts, based on the type of device traded in. Devices which are traded in are resold by Brightstar.

Customer Service

We realize that customer service, including the service that we provide, both when signing up a customer and when addressing the needs of existing customers is important to retaining subscribers and maintaining the reputation and recognition of our brand name. We provide extensive customer service at the point of sale through our nationwide network of shops, the employees of which we train in customer support and to whom we provide further assistance through our shop support centers. Post-sale support is handled through our toll-free support lines, which include general support services as well as technical support dedicated to the iPhone, email center and Twitter support. Customers also participate in surveys after receiving assistance from our support staff, which enables us to monitor performance and motivate our personnel to continue to provide excellent service. Our customer service efforts are also supported by fully integrated information systems. For example, customers can use their mobile telephones or personal computers to access our website, where they can change their services, pricing plans and email addresses 24 hours a day.

Consumer Marketing Channels

We have established an extensive nationwide distribution and after-sales service and support network comprised primarily of dealers, which, as of December 31, 2017, included dealers in approximately 2,500

SoftBank-branded stores and 1,000 Y!mobile-branded stores that exclusively offer our products and services. Additionally, we market through an extensive network of mass electronics retailers and mobile retail shops, as well as mobile specialty shops, which sell multiple brands of mobile phones. We have longstanding relationships with mass electronics retailers and we believe that we can leverage these relationships to promote our mobile communications services.

We also use the SoftBank Corp. and Y!mobile websites to market our products and services. The websites contain online shopping and detailed information on our products and services, such as product specifications, pricing plan details and service area coverage. Our websites are also increasingly focused on customer self-service in order to provide subscribers with greater convenience. Subscribers can access services related to their accounts through the websites in order to see, for example, their service plan, monthly statements and customer support information.

In addition, we use our existing customer relationships related to fixed-line and other corporate solutions to cross-sell mobile, cloud and other solutions to corporate customers.

Fixed-line Telecommunications Sales and Marketing

As a fixed-line telecommunications company, we attempt to differentiate our business through network reliability and information and communications technology solutions, building on what we believe to be a trusted reputation and strong track record in the fixed-line telecommunications market and price competitiveness. As discussed above, subscribers to our fixed-line broadband services, mainly our SoftBank Hikari service, can receive discounts on their mobile phone services. See “—Our Products and Services—Discounts and Special Plans.”

Subscribers

As of December 31, 2017, our Domestic Telecommunications business had 42.5 million subscribers of smartphones, feature phones, tablets and mobile communications devices representing a subscriber market share of approximately 25% according to TCA and Company data. This is up from 15.2 million when we acquired Vodafone Japan in 2006. We believe that our customer base will contribute to our ability to achieve stable cash flows from our mobile business communications business. We have identified users of smartphones, feature phones, tablets, and mobile data communication devices, which are all sources of revenue and profit, as the “main mobile subscribers” and concentrated our efforts on acquiring and maintaining such subscribers. As of December 31, 2017, the cumulative number of main mobile subscribers of mobile communications services stood at 33.0 million, 766 thousand net additions from December 31, 2016 including 288 thousand of Wireless Home Phones. In addition, the churn rate in phone subscribers and main mobile subscribers both improved from 0.89% and 1.25% for the nine months ended December 31, 2016 to 0.83% and 1.10% for the nine months ended December 31, 2017, respectively.

As of December 31, 2017, our Domestic Telecommunications business had 6.8 million subscribers of fixed-broadband services. The number of SoftBank Hikari subscribers successfully increased by 1.5 million from 3.1 million as of December 31, 2016 to 4.7 million as for December 31, 2017 due to focused efforts to expand sales of the Home Bundle Discount Hikari Set and to encourage users to switch over from competing telecom carriers’ fiber-optic services.

Mobile Network

We operate the foremost domestic mobile communications network, in terms of smartphone data connectivity and smartphone communication speed. We purchase and operate our network infrastructure directly. Our primary providers of network equipment include affiliates of Ericsson and Nokia.

According to Agoop Corp., an industry data aggregator, our smartphone data connectivity as of December 31, 2017, was 98.8%, compared to 98.8% and 98.6% for our primary competitors NTT DOCOMO and KDDI, respectively. See “Market and Industry.”

After acquiring Vodafone Japan in 2006, we began strengthening our network by doubling the number of our 3G base stations. Following this investment in our network, and before we were allocated spectrum of the 900 MHz band, we focused on improving our network coverage, particularly poor area coverage, by making appropriate and well-timed capital investments in our network, while minimizing capital expenditure in order to improve our financial position, such as free cash flows. In 2010, as our iPhone subscribers began to increase, we began to upgrade our network to better serve the needs of subscribers in the smartphone age. We doubled the number of our base stations particularly in metropolitan areas, so that our network could handle the anticipated increase in data usage. In 2012, we were allocated spectrum of the 900 MHz band and undertook efforts to further improve our network area coverage and quality, such as by building new base stations and towers in areas in which our network previously did not cover. In addition, we began to utilize the networks of Wireless City Planning and eAccess, allowing our smartphone user subscribers to access multiple spectrums and allowing us to build a network that enabled users to more seamlessly access internet media and services. Now that our network has improved significantly, as planned, required capital expenditure has declined from prior periods, as the most costly aspects of our network improvement, such as setting up steel towers for base stations, are mostly complete. Going forward, as we continuously improve our network, we believe that our capital expenditures will be primarily limited to maintenance and upgrades of our existing base stations for introducing the newest network technologies towards 5G.

Our LTE services include FDD-LTE and TD-LTE. We provide these services using a combination of our available spectrum, based on availability and data traffic, which helps us to achieve higher effective speed than other carriers.

Our LTE services use the 2.1 GHz band throughout most of Japan. We have enhanced our nationwide LTE coverage with the addition of our 900 MHz band LTE services. Our 2.5 GHz TD-LTE services, which are used for data offloading, are provided primarily in cities in which data traffic is high. This TD-LTE network utilizes a one-of-a-kind architecture of “cloud-type base stations” where “base band units,” each controlling 30 to 50 base stations, are installed in local telephone exchanges. This system enables us to reduce the geographic coverage area, or cell size, served by base stations through coordinated control, thereby reducing interference between base stations. We believe this system and continuous upgrade of our network with advanced technology will play an increasingly important role in offloading an increasing amount of data traffic.

We also enhance our LTE services by using carrier aggregation, which we began in September 2014. Carrier aggregation is a wireless communication technology used in concert with LTE-Advanced to aggregate multiple radio transmission signals together to achieve faster communication speeds. iPhone X, iPhone 8, iPhone 8 Plus, iPhone 7, iPhone 7 Plus, iPhone 6s, iPhone 6s Plus and certain of the latest Android smartphones and certain data cards are also compatible with carrier aggregation technology. In addition, in September 2016, we launched an unprecedented commercial multiple-input and multiple-output (“Massive MIMO”) technology combined with beamforming technology, which is a signal processing technique that directs signals from antennas towards where our users are. Massive MIMO is one of the core technologies of 5G used to enhance network capacity and allows us to offer high-data cap rate plans to our smartphone subscribers. We continue to deploy advanced network technologies to provide better quality of network for smartphones as well as to provide optimized network service, such as NB-IoT for IoT devices and services, towards deployment of the 5G network. For example, on September 22, 2017, we, together with Wireless City Planning, introduced Massive MIMO 2.0 which is designed to further enhance our network capacity and provide faster service to our customers.

We have agreed with Qualcomm Technologies for the 2.5GHz band and Nokia Solutions and Networks Japan Corp., ZTE JAPAN K.K., Huawei Technologies Japan K.K. and Ericsson Japan K.K., respectively, for the 4.5GHz band to develop technologies for a future 5G network. We plan to provide commercial services and devices utilizing 5G networks around 2020.

Spectrum

SoftBank Corp. has been allocated spectrum in the 700 MHz, 900 MHz, 1.5 GHz, 1.7 GHz, 2.1 GHz, 2.5 GHz and 3.5 GHz bands for operation of our mobile communications networks.

Unlike in the United States and certain European countries, radio spectrum in Japan historically has not been allocated via an auction system. Instead, the MIC allocates bandwidth after considering applications from interested parties. In this process the MIC considers a range of factors, including which proposed use for the spectrum best serves public needs and whether the parties have the necessary means to accomplish their proposals. Because the MIC can revoke allocations under certain circumstances, we are obligated to develop our spectrum in accordance with the proposals we made when applying for use of the spectrum. Spectrum users are required to pay radio utilization fees to the MIC. See “Regulation—Radio Act of Japan—Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum.”

Sprint Segment

The Sprint segment was established as a reportable segment in conjunction with the consolidation of Sprint in 2013. Sprint is a communications company that primarily offers wireless communications products and services that are designed to meet the needs of individual consumers, businesses and resellers. Its operations are organized to meet the needs of our targeted subscriber groups through focused communications solutions that incorporate the capabilities of our wireless services. Sprint is one of the major mobile operators in the U.S. with approximately 54.6 million subscribers to its mobile communications services as of December 31, 2017.

Products and Services

Sprint operates both a wireless and wireline business, providing fixed-line telecommunications services, mobile telecommunications services, mobile devices, mobile handsets and accessories services in the United States. Sprint offers wireless services on a postpaid and prepaid payment basis to retail subscribers and also on a wholesale basis, which includes the sale of wireless services that utilize the Sprint network but are sold under the wholesaler's brand. Sprint continues to support the open development of applications, content and devices on the Sprint platform.

Sprint's wireless data communications services include mobile productivity applications, such as internet access, messaging and email services; wireless photo and video offerings; location-based capabilities, including asset and fleet management, dispatch services and navigation tools; and mobile entertainment applications, including the ability to view live television, listen to satellite radio, download and listen to music, and play games. Sprint's wireless voice communications services include basic local and long-distance wireless voice services throughout the United States, as well as voicemail, call waiting, three-way calling, caller identification, directory assistance and call forwarding. Sprint also provides voice and data services in numerous countries outside of the United States through roaming arrangements. Sprint offers customized design, development, implementation and support for wireless services provided to large companies and government agencies.

Sprint's services are provided using a broad array of devices and applications and services that run on these devices to meet the growing needs of subscriber mobility. Sprint's device portfolio includes many cutting edge handsets, from various original equipment manufacturers, as well as hotspots, which allow the connection of multiple Wi-Fi enabled devices to the Sprint platform and embedded tablets and laptop devices. In addition, Sprint sells accessories, such as carrying cases, hands-free devices and other items to subscribers, and sells devices and accessories to agents and other third-party distributors for resale.

In Sprint's postpaid portfolio, it offers several price plans for both consumer and business subscribers. Many of its price plans include unlimited talk, text and data or allow subscribers to purchase monthly data allowances. Sprint also offers family plans that include multiple lines of service under one account. Sprint currently offers the devices through leasing and installment billing programs, and within limited plan offerings devices may be subsidized in exchange for a service contract. Sprint's leasing and installment billing programs do not require a service contract. These programs offer devices tied to service plans at lower monthly rates when compared to subsidy plans, but require the subscriber to pay full or near full price for the device over the lease term or installment period. The leasing program allows the subscriber to either turn in the device, continue leasing the device or purchase the device at the end of the lease term. The terms of the lease and installment billing contracts require that customers maintain service otherwise the balance of the remaining contractual obligation on the device is due upon termination of their service. The subsidy program, which has been de-emphasized, requires a service contract and allows for a subscriber to purchase a device at a discount for a new line of service. The majority of Sprint's current handset activations occur on the leasing program.

Sprint's prepaid portfolio currently includes multiple brands, each designed to appeal to specific subscriber uses and demographics. Sprint Forward (formerly Sprint Prepaid) primarily serves as a complementary offer to Sprint Postpaid offer for those subscribers who want plans that are affordable, simple and flexible without a long-term commitment. Boost Mobile primarily serves subscribers that are looking for value without data limits. Virgin Mobile primarily serves subscribers that are looking to optimize spend but need solutions that offer control, flexibility and connectivity through various plans with high speed data options. Virgin Mobile is also designated as a Lifeline-only Eligible Telecommunications Carrier. Under the Assurance Wireless brand, Virgin Mobile provides service to Lifeline eligible subscribers (for whom it seeks reimbursement from the federal Universal Service Fund) and subscribers who have lost their Lifeline eligibility and retain Assurance Wireless retail service. The Lifeline program requires applicants to meet certain eligibility requirements and existing subscribers must recertify as to those requirements annually. While Sprint will continue to support its Lifeline subscribers through its Assurance Wireless prepaid brand, Sprint has excluded these subscribers from its reported prepaid customer base for all periods presented due to recent regulatory changes resulting in tighter program restrictions.

Sprint has focused its wholesale business on enabling its diverse network of customers to successfully grow their business by providing them with an array of network, product and device solutions. This allows its customers to customize Sprint's full suite of value-added solutions to meet the growing demands of their businesses.

Sales and Marketing

Sprint focuses the marketing and sales of wireless services on targeted groups of retail subscribers, mainly individual consumers, business and governments, and utilizes a variety of sales channels to attract new subscribers to its wireless services. These sales include direct sales representatives, retail outlets, indirect sales agents and third-party retailers and subscriber-convenient channels, including internet sales and telesales.

Prior to commencing installment billing and leasing programs, Sprint historically sold devices below its cost in response to competition to attract new subscribers and as retention inducements for existing subscribers. Subscribers also have the option to purchase eligible devices through Sprint's installment billing program or to lease eligible devices through its leasing program.

Sprint offers lower monthly service fees without a traditional service contract as an incentive to attract subscribers to certain of its service plans. These lower rates for service are available whether subscribers bring their own device, pay the full or near full retail price of the device, purchase the device under Sprint's installment billing program, or leases their device through Sprint's leasing program. Sprint expects its postpaid ARPU to continue to decline primarily as a result of dilution from promotional activities and lower service fees associated with its price plans offered in conjunction with device financing options. However, Sprint expects higher equipment revenue associated with the leasing and installment billing programs to partially offset these declines. Since inception, the combination of lower-priced plans and its leasing and installment billing programs have been accretive to Sprint's wireless segment earnings. Sprint expects that trend to continue with the magnitude of the impact being dependent upon subscriber adoption rates.

Subscribers

The Sprint platform had approximately 54.6 million subscribers as of December 31, 2017. For the nine months ended December 31, 2017, Sprint added 824 thousand net subscribers, including 551 thousand postpaid phone subscribers.

Network

Sprint delivers wireless and wireline services to subscribers through its ownership of extensive wireless networks, an all-digital global wireline network and a Tier 1 Internet backbone. Sprint offers wireless services on its wireless networks utilizing various technologies including third generation (3G) code division multiple access (CDMA) and fourth generation (4G) services utilizing Long Term Evolution (LTE). Sprint utilizes these networks to offer its wireless subscribers differentiated products and services through the use of a single network or a combination of these networks.

Sprint continues to increase coverage and capacity by densifying and optimizing its existing network. Densification, which includes increasing the number of small cells and antennas, is intended to enhance coverage and capacity across the network. Sprint expects the densification efforts to cost significantly less than its historical macro cell site builds (i.e. adding traditional cell towers). Sprint is also deploying new technologies, such as carrier aggregation, which allows Sprint to move more data at faster speeds over the same spectrum. Additionally, Sprint's introduction of tri-band devices, which support each of its spectrum bands, allows Sprint to manage and operate its network more efficiently and at a lower cost. Sprint has continued to see positive results from these infrastructure upgrades in key U.S. markets.

The 2.5 GHz spectrum band carries the highest percentage of Sprint's LTE data traffic. Sprint has significant additional capacity to grow the use of its 2.5 GHz spectrum holdings into the future. Sprint believes it is well-positioned with spectrum holdings of more than 160 MHz of 2.5 GHz spectrum in the top 100 markets in the U.S. Sprint is making mobile 5G a priority, and expects to provide its commercial services and the devices by the first half of 2019. One of Sprint's focused areas of network investment includes Massive MIMO, a key 5G technology that significantly increases capacity to its macro network by simply exchanging the radio and antennas on cell sites. Massive MIMO provides a bridge as it allows Sprint to operate in LTE and 5G simultaneously. Sprint sees 2.5 GHz as foundational for nationwide 5G coverage due to the super-wide channels of more than 100 MHz and mid-band coverage characteristics.

Yahoo Japan Segment

Yahoo Japan, our primary subsidiary operating in the Yahoo Japan segment, was established in 1996 as a joint venture between Yahoo! Inc. (currently Altaba Inc.) and the Company and is the dominant search and portal site in Japan. Monthly page views, based on IP address, for its portal site for the three months ended December 31, 2017 reached over 68 billion. As of December 31, 2017, the SoftBank Group held 43% of the voting shares of Yahoo Japan, which is listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange with a market capitalization of ¥2,944 billion ($26,051 million) as of December 31, 2017.

Products and Services

Yahoo Japan offers internet users a wide range of services, including search, information listing, community, e-commerce and games, all of which are accessible from the Yahoo! Japan internet portal site. We leverage the Yahoo! brand in our other businesses as well.

Sales and Marketing

In 2013, Yahoo Japan launched a new strategy for its advertising business, which included eliminating store tenant and other fees for shops on the Yahoo! Shopping and YAHUOKU! platforms. Although the new strategy has caused revenues to decline in the short term, the goal is to invigorate the market by expanding the numbers of sellers and products, and to set the overall business on a new growth trajectory by increasing advertisements. In Yahoo! Shopping, contributed by the continued increase in the number of product items, enhanced traffic referral from its own services and, in addition, the T Point reward measure for SoftBank smartphone users, the total merchandise volume of Yahoo! Shopping, YAHUOKU! and LOHACO for fiscal 2016 significantly expanded by 23.0% year-on-year to ¥1.8 trillion.

Yahoo Japan utilizes big data and advanced advertising technologies to enhance its response to diversifying advertiser needs and realize multi-device compatibility. For example, Yahoo Japan uses big data obtained from its customer base, which we believe to be the largest in Japan, to enable real-time distribution of advertisements, significantly increasing advertising efficiency. Yahoo Japan also made a full-scale expansion into the video advertisement distribution business. Yahoo Japan focuses on multi-device compatibility to strengthen its response to the ongoing evolution of content, from text to images and video.

Distribution Segment

The Distribution segment comprises subsidiaries such as Brightstar and SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp. Brightstar's operations include a wholesaling business purchasing mobile devices from manufacturers and distributing them to telecommunications operators and retailers globally. We utilize Brightstar's world-wide distribution network to sell smartphone accessories to mobile carriers across the globe. SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp.'s operations include the sale of mobile device accessories and IT-related software and hardware in Japan.

SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp. offers accessories for iPhone, iPad and other smartphones under the SoftBank SELECTION brand.

Arm Segment

The Arm segment provides microprocessor intellectual property designs for use in mobile phones and other mobile devices, as well as software designs and software tools. Arm is seeing continued growth with 17.7 billion Arm-based chips shipped in the year ended December 31, 2016, compared to 20.6 billion chips for the last twelve months ended September 30, 2017. During the year ended December 31, 2015, Arm's technologies were used in over 95% of the primary microprocessors used in smartphones. In 2016, Arm had 34% worldwide market share, calculated by the number of Arm-based chips shipped divided by the number of semiconductors shipped (excluding memory and analog chips, which do not contain processor technology) according to WSTS. In July 2016, anticipating that Arm would be a key driver in the paradigm shift to IoT, we announced a long-term strategic agreement with Arm. Since September 2016, Arm has conducted its business as a member of the SoftBank Group. Arm technology is used in many leading-edge products, including those for mobile, enterprise infrastructure and embedded intelligence in automobiles and home appliances. These markets are expected to see expansion with the future adoption of IoT. By accelerating investment in new technologies and markets and by expanding market share in markets with growth potential and pursuing growth opportunities in network infrastructure, servers, automotive, IoT, and AI, Arm will aim for further growth as a core business in the SoftBank Group leading IoT.

The terms of the SoftBank Vision Fund partnership agreement generally require us to make investments and acquisitions of $100 million or more, that fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund’s investment strategy, through the SoftBank Vision Fund or its associated vehicles, but subject to certain conditions in the SoftBank Vision Fund’s fund documentation, we will continue to make certain other investments and acquisitions, including (but not limited to) investments not meeting the $100 million threshold, strategic investments at the operating company level and other investments that do not fall within the SoftBank Vision Fund’s investment strategy and criteria. Strategically Important Companies

Alibaba

Alibaba operates Taobao Marketplace, one of China’s largest mobile commerce destinations and Tmall, one of China’s largest third-party platforms for brands and retailers. Alibaba also operates Alibaba.com, a leading platform for global wholesale trade serving millions of buyers and suppliers around the world, and AliExpress, a global retail marketplace enabling consumers from around the world to buy directly from wholesalers and manufacturers. As a platform, Alibaba provides the fundamental technology infrastructure and marketing reach to help businesses leverage the power of the internet to establish an online presence and conduct commerce with consumers and businesses. We believe that Alibaba is one of the largest online and mobile commerce companies in the world in terms of gross merchandise volume and the largest e-commerce company by transaction volume in China. Alibaba provides a platform for third parties, and does not engage in direct sales, compete with its merchants or hold inventory.

We have built a mutually advantageous relationship with Alibaba, as seen in our joint investment with Alibaba in Travice Inc. (currently DiDi), a provider of one of China’s most popular ride sharing mobile applications. Furthermore, in May 2016, we announced the establishment of SB Cloud Corporation with Alibaba to launch cloud computing services in Japan that utilize technologies and solutions from Alibaba Cloud, the cloud computing arm of the Alibaba group. In addition, Alibaba’s executive chairman Mr. Yun Ma serves as a director of the company and Mr. Masayoshi Son (our Chairman and Chief Executive Officer), serves as a director of Alibaba, with both directors using their knowledge and rich experience to contribute to the growth of each company.

We are party to a voting agreement with Alibaba, Altaba Inc. (formerly Yahoo! Inc.), Yun Ma, Joseph Tsai and certain other shareholders of Alibaba, pursuant to which the parties agreed to certain voting arrangements with respect to Alibaba shares respectively controlled by them, including an agreement to vote for our director nominee.

Other Strategically Important Associates and Investees

The below information is based on our experience and belief, as well as other publicly available information about the below companies. We do not control these companies and, as such, rely on our status as a shareholder for our information with respect to their operations.

Social Finance, Inc.

In October 2015, we participated in a $1 billion Series E financing of Social Finance, a U.S. fintech company that focuses on individual financial services, such as student loan refinancing. In April 2017, we participated in a $500 million Series F financing of Social Finance, the funds from which Social Finance plans to use to accelerate its expansion into new product areas and countries outside of the United States.

OneWeb (WorldVu Satellites Limited)

In December 2016, we announced that we entered into an agreement with OneWeb, which is building a constellation of satellites to enable global broadband access, whereby we have made a total investment of $1 billion in OneWeb as of December 31, 2017. Additionally, we have a conditional purchase commitment of $4 billion for satellite communication service capacity to the OneWeb group as of March 31, 2017. The minimum payment of $4 billion is subject to OneWeb achieving certain service levels, which are set forth in two stages and include, among other things, the positioning of a particular number of satellites on prescribed orbital planes in operation. An initial payment of $0.5 billion will be made within 12 months of OneWeb completing the first service level, and the remaining $3.5 billion will be paid within 48 months of OneWeb completing the second service level.

DiDi

In April and May 2017, we made a total investment of $5 billion in DiDi, one of the largest ride sharing operators in China by number of daily rides. We subsequently transferred a $5.0 billion portion of this investment to the Delta Fund. In January and February 2018, we made further investments in DiDi, in an aggregate amount of $4.6 billion. In addition, we have announced a partnership with DiDi to provide trial platform services for the taxi industry in major cities in Japan to improve ride hailing for taxis, which platform would be available to each of Japan's taxi operators. We further expect to form a joint venture with DiDi in Japan.

Uber

In January 2018, we invested $7.7 billion to acquire a 15% ownership interest in the shares of Uber Technologies, Inc. (as of January 18, 2018), one of the largest ride sharing operators by number of daily rides, making us the single largest shareholder. We may offer all or a portion of this investment to the SoftBank Vision Fund in the future (subject to approval requirements at the SoftBank Vision Fund level and certain other necessary conditions).

WeWork

In August 2017, we entered into an agreement with WeWork Companies Inc. ("WeWork"), which provides co-working space, community and services around the world for a $4.4 billion investment from our subsidiaries and the SoftBank Vision Fund. This investment consists of a $3 billion investment in WeWork and a $1.4 billion investment in three newly created companies which will fund WeWork's expansion in China, Japan, and Southeast Asia and Korea, respectively.

Important Relationships

Vendors

We rely on key vendors for mobile handsets and networking equipment, including the Apple iPhone. As the first carrier to market the iPhone in Japan, we have a well-established relationship with Apple Inc. We believe that our relationship with Apple Inc., as with other major vendors, is healthy.

Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corp.

Maintaining our relationship with NTT is important to us. NTT, which is approximately one-third owned by the Japanese government, is the incumbent telecommunications operator that owns a significant portion of the telecommunications infrastructure in Japan. As telecommunications providers, certain SoftBank Group companies in Japan are party to interconnection agreements with NTT. Furthermore, certain SoftBank Group companies have formed alliances with NTT East and NTT West whereby these entities provide fixed-line broadband services to users while SoftBank Group companies provide mobile broadband or other package services to the same users. For example, we offer fiber-optic connection services under the SoftBank Hikari brand, through which we re-offer optical broadband access obtained wholesale from NTT East and NTT West.

Altaba Inc. and Verizon Communications Inc.

In 1996, we entered into a joint venture agreement with Yahoo! Inc. (currently Altaba Inc.) (as amended by the Amendment Agreement dated September 17, 1997, the "Yahoo Joint Venture Agreement") in order to create a Japanese version of Yahoo! Inc.'s online navigational services and to sell online advertisement space, among other purposes. On June 13, 2017, Yahoo! Inc. completed a transaction in which it sold its core operating business to a subsidiary of Verizon; in connection with the transaction, the Yahoo! brand was transferred to Verizon, while Yahoo! Inc.'s interest in the Yahoo Japan joint venture remained with the former Yahoo! Inc., which was renamed Altaba Inc.

The Yahoo Joint Venture Agreement has a perpetual term under which either party may terminate for material breaches. However, Altaba Inc. may also terminate the agreement if Yahoo Japan sustains net losses for four consecutive fiscal quarters and the parties cannot agree on a future business plan for the joint venture. Additionally, neither Altaba Inc. nor SoftBank may directly or indirectly sell, assign, transfer, dispose, pledge, or encumber any shares of Yahoo Japan common stock, or purchase shares on the open market, without the prior consent of the other. As of September 31, 2017, as a group, we held 43.0% of the voting rights in Yahoo Japan, our consolidated subsidiary. As of September 31, 2017, Yahoo Japan reported that Altaba Inc. held 35.6% of the voting rights in Yahoo Japan. Altaba Inc. has publicly indicated an intention to sell its shares of Yahoo Japan.

Yahoo Japan has a license to the Yahoo! brand in Japan from Verizon, which succeeded Yahoo! Inc. as the licensor pursuant to the licensing agreement dated April 1, 1996 and as amended on September 17, 1997 (the “Yahoo! Licensing Agreement”) in connection with Verizon’s acquisition of Yahoo! Inc.’s internet business and brand. The Yahoo! Licensing Agreement is critical to our Yahoo Japan segment, enabling us to use the Yahoo! brand for certain of our products and services. If Yahoo Japan is unable to use the Yahoo! brand for any reason, Yahoo Japan’s services, our internet service and other services with Yahoo! branding could be significantly damaged.

Intellectual Property

The Company is the holder of the registered trademark “SoftBank” and the related corporate logo. The Company permits certain SoftBank Group companies to use its registered trademark.

Certain of the SoftBank Group companies have registered, and have patents pending with respect to, trademarks, registered designs, patents and utility models. In addition, certain of the SoftBank Group companies license the right to use certain intellectual property from third parties, including the Yahoo! Licensing Agreement.

Insurance

To the extent that it is reasonably available, we maintain insurance policies, which have policy specifications and insured limits that are adequate and appropriate for our business. Like many other companies in Japan, risks are covered by our fire insurance policies.

We also maintain a range of insurance policies for our directors that are appropriate for our business.

Properties and Leases

Our major subsidiaries lease certain telecommunications equipment and service lines, buildings and structures, other property, equipment and software. Once the assembly, installation and inspection of newly acquired equipment is complete, we sell the equipment, excluding the installed software, to leasing companies and lease the equipment back from them under sale and lease-back arrangements. At the same time, we enter into loan contracts with the lessors to pay for the value of the software installed in the equipment. We include the cash inflows from the sale of the equipment to leasing companies and the proceeds from the loan arranged for the software portion as proceeds from the sale and lease-back of equipment newly acquired under cash flows from financing activities in our consolidated financial statements. As of December 31, 2017, the value of our consolidated outstanding leases was ¥1,242 billion ($10,989 million).

We generally lease all of our offices including our head office in Tokyo. Generally, our subsidiaries also lease their properties, although each subsidiary may at its own discretion purchase office space and other properties.

Employees

As of March 31, 2017, we had 68,402 full-time employees.

The following table shows the aggregate number of our full-time employees. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, we had an average of 12,924 part-time employees.

	As of March 31,
	2015	2016	2017
Domestic Telecommunications	17,986	17,834	17,899

Corporate	214	253	267

Group-wide, we enjoy good relations with our employees. While the Company's employees are not unionized, some of our consolidated subsidiaries have labor unions.

We believe the level of remuneration, fringe benefits, working conditions and other allowances, which include pension payments to employees upon retirement, provided to our employees is generally competitive with those offered in Japan by other companies in similar industries.

Legal Proceedings

We are routinely involved in litigation and other legal proceedings in connection with our ordinary course business activities. We are not currently involved in any litigation or other legal proceedings that, if determined adversely to us, would individually or in the aggregate be expected to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

REGULATION

General

The business activities of the SoftBank Group are subject to various governmental regulations in Japan and the other jurisdictions in which we operate, including regulations relating to business and investment approvals, consumer protection, intellectual property, taxation, foreign exchange controls and environmental requirements. Applicable regulations are frequently introduced, abolished or amended, and in any event are subject to interpretation by governmental and judicial authorities.

In particular, our mobile communications business, broadband infrastructure business and fixed-line telecommunications business are subject to general regulations applicable to the telecommunications industry in Japan, of which the following are the most significant:

- the Telecommunications Business Act of Japan (Act No. 86 of 1984, as amended) (the “TBA”);
- the Radio Act of Japan (Act No. 131 of 1950, as amended) (the “Radio Act”); and
- the Wire Telecommunications Act of Japan (Act No. 96 of 1953, as amended) (collectively together with the TBA and the Radio Act, the “Telecommunications Regulations”).

The Telecommunications Regulations are administered primarily by the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications of Japan (the “Ministry”) through regulatory actions of the responsible government minister (the “MIC Minister” and together with the Ministry, the “MIC”). Additionally, the Japan Fair Trade Commission (the “JFTC”) has jurisdiction over telecommunications carriers by virtue of its powers under the Act Concerning Prohibition of Monopoly and Maintenance of Fair Trade (Act No. 54 of 1947, as amended) to prohibit anti-competitive practices.

As is typical for regulatory authorities in Japan, the MIC has announced various guidelines in connection with the implementation of applicable laws for the primary purpose of clarifying the meaning of such laws as well as ordinances made under them. Such guidelines are informal in nature and do not have the status of legislation passed by the National Diet of Japan, the primary legislative body in Japan (the “Diet”). Accordingly they are not legally binding on telecommunications carriers. Nevertheless, such guidelines serve as a statement of the regulatory interpretation of applicable laws and, accordingly, telecommunications carriers are, in practice, required to comply with them.

We are also subject to various governmental regulations in connection with our investments, including through the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund. For example, the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are each separately managed by SBIA, which is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority. In addition, when we or our subsidiaries or associates make investments overseas, such investments may be subject to approval in multiple jurisdictions under various regulatory regimes, such as those relating to antitrust and national security.

Telecommunications Business Act of Japan

General

The TBA applies to entities that conduct telecommunications activities such as mobile communications services, fixed-line telecommunications services, DSL access services, internet and FTTH access services. Pursuant to the TBA, companies that conduct such activities are subject to registration and notification requirements, interconnection requirements, as well as various other regulations.

The following summarizes certain material requirements under the TBA.

Registration of Telecommunications Business Operations

Under the TBA, registration carriers, such as SoftBank Corp. and Wireless City Planning, must file a detailed application for registration with the MIC. Such application must include information on the facilities and equipment, and the target service areas. The MIC will generally approve the applicant’s registration if the MIC finds that commencement of the applicant’s business is not likely to impede fair competition within the telecommunications market or is otherwise appropriate for the sound development of the telecommunications industry of Japan.

Once registration is granted, the MIC has the authority to rescind a registration in certain cases, including, among others, where the registered carrier has breached the TBA or any order or disposition issued under the TBA, and the MIC considers such breach damaging to the public interest. If a telecommunications carrier violates certain provisions under the TBA, such as by providing telecommunications services without registration or by failing to comply with orders issued by the MIC, such carrier may be subject to penalty. In addition, registration must be renewed when a registration carrier succeeds, in whole or in part, to a telecommunications business through a merger, a company split, or a business transfer from an entity outside of the SoftBank Group of the registered telecommunications carrier. Such renewal must be made within three months of the date of such succession, and if the registration carrier fails to renew, the registration becomes void.

The SoftBank Group is subject to regulation of interconnection fees as applicable to operators of Category II-designated telecommunications facilities (mobile communication systems).

Interconnection

Subject to certain exceptions, the TBA requires telecommunications carriers to allow other telecommunications carriers to interconnect with their telecommunications facilities. In general, the carriers enter into a mutual written agreement setting forth the terms of such interconnection, including interconnection fees. If operators of Category I-designated telecommunications facilities (local fixed-line systems) or Category II-designated telecommunications facilities are included in the parties of the agreement, such agreement must contain the terms of interconnection, including interconnection fees, which, depending on the type of operator, have been notified to or approved by the MIC.

Upon an application by a carrier or both carriers, the MIC has the power, directly or through its dispute settlement commission, to require negotiation, mediation and arbitration of disputes between telecommunications carriers, to order telecommunications carriers to modify proposed interconnection fees and to grant awards with respect to the terms of interconnection (including interconnection fees).

Interconnection fees to interconnect with Category II-designated telecommunications facilities, such as those operated by SoftBank Corp., are determined according to a calculation prescribed by the MIC. In particular, the “Ordinance Relating to Interconnection Fees of the Category II-Designated Telecommunications Facilities” was promulgated on March 29, 2016 and became effective on May 21, 2016 which generally prescribes that interconnection fees shall be calculated by dividing the sum of the maintenance costs with respect to the facilities and enterprise capital costs by the aggregate hours of communication or the volume of traffic.

Operators of Category II-designated telecommunications facilities determine their interconnection fees based upon such calculation. Further, they are required to notify the MIC of the tariff, including interconnection fees and other interconnection terms. Such notification is required prior to the implementation of the tariff or any amendment thereof, and the operator cannot enter into or amend an interconnection agreement in a manner that is inconsistent with the tariff previously notified to the MIC. Such tariffs, including interconnection fees, must be publicly disclosed (for example on the website of the operator of the Category II-designated telecommunications facilities).

The MIC may order a carrier to modify such interconnection fees in certain cases, such as where the interconnection fees exceed an amount corresponding to maintenance costs for the facilities plus enterprise capital costs, as deemed appropriate under efficient management.

Universal Services

Under the TBA, certain types of calls—calls to public facilities, calls to home telephones and emergency calls to police or fire stations—are considered “Universal Services” (i.e., telecommunications services deemed to be indispensable for daily life). As of the date hereof, the only “qualified carriers” of Universal Services are NTT East and NTT West. Therefore, other carriers, including SoftBank Corp., that benefit by interconnecting to the NTT East and NTT West facilities, must share the cost of such services pursuant to a prescribed formula for allocating costs.

Land Use Privilege

The MIC may designate certain carriers as “Approved Carriers”—carriers who enjoy certain privileges specified in the TBA, such as the ability to obtain rights-of-way to use other parties’ land under certain specified circumstances. SoftBank Corp., BB BACKBONE Corp. and Wireless City Planning are Approved Carriers.

An Approved Carrier may, provided it has justifiable reason, refuse to provide telecommunications services relating to its Approved Carrier status. If the Approved Carrier is unable to provide such services, the MIC may order the Approved Carrier to improve its business activities or take other measures to the extent deemed necessary to protect the interests of end users or the public. Further, the MIC has the authority to rescind the approval in certain cases, including, among others, where the Approved Carrier has breached the TBA or any order or disposition issued under the TBA, and the MIC considers such breach damaging to the public interest.

Radio Act of Japan

General

Certain of our businesses are subject to the provisions of the Radio Act, which regulates licenses for radio transmission stations, radio equipment, radio operators, radio operations and the transmission of radio waves. The Radio Act impacts, among other matters, our mobile communications business, due to the fact that radio waves are used by transmitters to communicate with mobile telephone handsets.

License Requirement

Any person who intends to establish radio transmission stations must first obtain a license from the MIC. In particular, mobile communications service providers must obtain a license for each base station and for handsets.

The MIC has introduced a technical standards verification system and a blanket licensing system (which can be used for handsets) in order to expedite the licensing process. With certain exceptions, a license under the Radio Act has a term of five years, and is thereafter renewable for additional five-year terms pursuant to the Radio Act. A license holder must generally obtain MIC approval in advance of any operational changes relating to the licensed activities, such as modifications to wireless facilities, changes to the location of wireless facilities or changes to the recipients of wireless communications services, and is subject to periodic inspection of its facilities.

The MIC has the authority to rescind a license under certain circumstances, and may order cessation or restriction on the operation of radio stations after a cure period of less than three months if the license holder has breached the Radio Act or the Broadcasting Act of Japan (Act No. 132 of 1950, as amended) or any order or disposition under such laws. If a license-holder violates certain provisions under the Radio Act, such as operating a radio transmission station in violation of the terms of its license, such carrier may be subject to penalties.

Allocation of Radio Frequency Spectrum

Unlike other jurisdictions which allot frequency spectrums by way of an auction system, use of radio frequency spectrum in Japan is allocated at the discretion of the MIC after consultation with the Radio Regulatory Council and consideration of plans submitted by operators.

At the end of February 2012, the MIC approved a plan submitted by SoftBank Corp. to establish radio transmission stations using the 945 MHz to 960 MHz frequency band, which is currently available for our use. In addition, in June 2012, the MIC approved plans submitted by NTT DOCOMO, Okinawa Cellular Telephone Company (a subsidiary of KDDI) and eAccess to establish radio transmission stations using the 773 MHz to 803 MHz frequency band, which is also currently available for the carriers' use.

In addition, on December 19, 2014, the MIC approved a plan submitted by SoftBank Corp. to establish radio transmission stations using 3,560 MHz to 3,600 MHz, and submitted by NTT DOCOMO and KDDI/Okinawa Cellular Telephone Company to establish radio transmission stations using 3,480 MHz to 3,520 MHz and 3,520 MHz to 3,560 MHz (allocation for implementing the fourth generation mobile communication system). In connection with this application, the MIC has announced its new group-based spectrum allocation policy in considering the allocation for the fourth generation.

Further, currently the radio frequency bands using 1,805MHz to 1,845MHz, 3,400 MHz to 3,480 MHz and 1,860 MHz to 1,880 MHz (for areas other than Tokyo, Nagoya and Osaka) are in the process of allocation and it is expected that the MIC will approve plans submitted by operators to establish radio transmission stations using such frequency bands by around the end of March 2018.

See “Market and Industry—Japanese Market Overview—Established market in a stable competitive environment dominated by three network operators—High ARPU supported by high proportion of postpaid subscriptions and heavy mobile data usage” and “Market and Industry—Japanese Market Overview—Attractive regulatory environment” for a distribution of existing spectrum allocations between the SoftBank Group and our primary competitors.

Other Major Guidelines Concerning TBA and the Radio Act

Guideline Regarding MVNOs

Mobile virtual network operators (“MVNOs”) are companies that have not received allocations of spectrum and do not own network infrastructure, but who provide mobile telecommunications services by leasing network capacity from other network operators. MVNOs therefore increase the variety of mobile telecommunications services available to consumers and promote the active exploitation of radio spectrum.

The MIC has formulated the “Guidelines Regarding the Application of the Telecommunications Business Act and the Radio Act to Mobile Virtual Network Operators” (the “MVNO Guidelines”) to promote market entry by new MVNOs. Under the MVNO Guidelines, the telecommunications services to be provided by a mobile network operator to an MVNO, and the terms of MVNO services, are decided by consultation between the parties. However, when an MVNO requests access to a mobile network on behalf of its customers, unless the operator has grounds to refuse (such as where there is a risk that such interconnection would affect the smooth provision of telecommunications services or where there is a risk that such interconnection would unfairly impair the interests of the carrier), the TBA requires the operator to grant access to the MVNO. Upon an application by a carrier or both carriers, the MIC has the power, directly or through its dispute settlement commission, to require carriers to negotiate, to arbitrate or mediate disputes with other carriers, to order carriers to modify proposed interconnection fees and to grant awards with respect to the terms of interconnection (including interconnection fees).

Guidelines Regarding Terms of Offering of Mobile Service and Handsets

Most mobile handsets now contain a removable subscriber identity module (“SIM”) card that authenticates the device when it connects to a mobile telecommunications network. In the past, carriers generally sold handsets to customers with a software lock that prevented the device from working with SIM cards from other carriers, even if the handset was otherwise technologically capable of connecting to other carriers’ networks. The “Guidelines Regarding Terms of Offering of Mobile Service and Handsets” (the “Mobile Service and Handsets Guidelines”) issued by the MIC in January 2017 intends to increase consumer convenience and enhance the international competitiveness of Japan’s mobile communications industry. Under the Mobile Service and Handsets Guidelines, it is required that MNOs provide SIM card unlocking services for mobile handsets sold by them with some exceptions (with respect to the handsets released before May 1, 2015, provision of SIM card unlocking services is recommended). As at the date of this offering memorandum, the Diet deliberations on legislation to govern SIM locking have been postponed for an indefinite period.

Also, under the Mobile Service and Handsets Guidelines, MNOs are required to decrease the amount of discount on charges or purchase price of handsets.

Guidelines Regarding Encouragement of Competition in Telecommunication Business Area

In May 2016, the MIC and the JFTC issued the “Guidelines Regarding Encouragement of Competition in Telecommunication Business Area,” which is composed of the following four chapters: necessity of such guidelines, problematic actions under the TBA and the Act on Prohibition of Private Monopolization and Maintenance of Fair Trade of Japan (the “Antimonopoly Act”), desirable actions by carriers to further encourage competition, and organizational structure relating to reports, consultations and opinions. The guidelines state that, among other matters, the cancellation penalty for certain-period contracts by the carriers who have a relatively big share in the market could be problematic under the Antimonopoly Act. In August 2016, the JFTC separately announced that the cancellation penalty and automatic renewal system for two-year contracts is not desirable from the viewpoint of fair competition.

U.S. Regulatory Framework

Communications services in the U.S. are subject to regulation at the federal level by the FCC and in certain states by public utilities commissions. Since the SoftBank Merger, Sprint has been subject to regulatory conditions imposed by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States pursuant to a National Security Agreement among SoftBank, Sprint, the Department of Justice, the Department of Homeland Security and the Department of Defense. Other federal agencies, such as the Federal Trade Commission and Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, have also asserted jurisdiction over Sprint’s business.

The FCC regulates the licensing, construction, operation, acquisition and sale of Sprint’s wireless operations and wireless spectrum holdings. FCC requirements impose operating and other restrictions on Sprint’s wireless operations that increase its costs. The FCC does not currently regulate rates for services offered by commercial mobile radio service providers, and states are legally preempted from regulating such rates and entry into any market, although states may regulate other terms and conditions. The Communications Act of 1934 and FCC rules also require the FCC’s prior approval of the assignment or transfer of control of an FCC license, although the FCC’s rules permit spectrum lease arrangements for a range of wireless radio service licenses, including Sprint’s licenses, with FCC oversight. Approval from the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Justice, as well as state or local regulatory authorities, also may be required if Sprint sells or acquires spectrum interests. The FCC sets rules, regulations and policies to, among other things:

- grant and renew licenses in the 800 MHz, 1.9 GHz and 2.5 GHz bands;

- rule on assignments and transfers of control of FCC licenses and leases covering Sprint's use of FCC licenses held by other persons and organizations;
- govern the interconnection of Sprint's networks with other wireless and wireline carriers;
- establish access and universal service funding provisions;
- impose rules related to unauthorized use of and access to subscriber information;
- impose fines and forfeitures for violations of FCC rules;
- regulate the technical standards governing wireless services; and
- impose other obligations that it determines to be in the public interest.

MANAGEMENT

Our board of directors has the ultimate responsibility for the administration of our affairs. Our Articles of Incorporation provide for not more than 15 directors, and at the present, we have 10 directors including three external directors. External directors are responsible for supervising our business management.

All directors are elected at general meetings of shareholders. The normal term of office of directors is one year, although they may serve any number of consecutive terms. To elect directors, the Board of Directors selects candidates in accordance with our Articles of Incorporation and the Regulations of the Board of Directors and these candidates are proposed at the General Meeting of Shareholders. Shareholders can also propose candidates in compliance with the requirements of the Companies Act of Japan. Cumulative voting is not allowed in the election of our directors.

Our Articles of Incorporation provide for not more than five audit and supervisory board members, and at present, we have four audit and supervisory board members, including three external audit and supervisory board members, two of which are full-time audit and supervisory board members. We have one full-time, non-external audit and supervisory board member, who formerly served as Corporate Officer, Head of Legal Unit and General Manager, Legal Department and Group Compliance Officer responsible for compliance issues of the Group as a whole. All audit and supervisory board members are elected at general meetings of shareholders. The normal term of office of audit and supervisory board members is four years, although they may serve any number of consecutive or non-consecutive terms. The audit and supervisory board members are not required to be certified public accountants and may not at the same time be our directors or employees of any of our group companies. In addition, not less than half of the audit and supervisory board members must be external corporate auditors.

The audit and supervisory board members form the audit and supervisory board, which determines matters relating to the duties of audit and supervisory board members such as audit policy and methods of investigating our affairs. The audit and supervisory board also receives quarterly briefings and reports relating to financial results from the independent auditor and briefings on individual matters from directors as necessary and exchanges information and opinions with the independent auditor as necessary.

We established the assistant to audit department to support the audit and supervisory board members. This department acts under the direction of the audit and supervisory board members to gather information, investigate matters and provide other assistance.

Under the Companies Act of Japan, the audit and supervisory board members have the statutory duty of supervising the administration of our affairs by the directors and also of examining the financial statements and business reports to be submitted by a representative director to general meetings of shareholders. The audit and supervisory board members must attend meetings of the board of directors and express opinions there, if necessary, but they are not entitled to vote. Audit and supervisory board members also have a statutory duty to provide their report to the audit and supervisory board, which must submit its audit report to a representative director. If the audit report covers financial statements, the audit and supervisory board must also submit its audit report to the independent auditor.

We must appoint independent certified public accountants or audit firms in addition to audit and supervisory board members. Such independent certified public accountants or audit firms have the statutory duty of auditing the financial statements, prepared in accordance with the Companies Act of Japan, to be submitted by a representative director to general meetings of shareholders and reporting their opinion thereon to the audit and supervisory board, and a representative director. Our audit firm for such purposes is Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC.

Under the Companies Act of Japan and our Articles of Incorporation, we may, by resolution of our board of directors, limit the liability of our directors and audit and supervisory board members for losses sustained by us in connection with the failure of such directors and audit and supervisory board members to perform their duties, except in the case of willful misconduct or gross negligence. The applicable liability thresholds are calculated, in accordance with the Companies Act of Japan, with reference to the amounts of annual remuneration, retirement allowance and profits received upon exercise or transfer of stock options for the relevant individual. In addition, we have entered into agreements limiting the liability of our non-executive directors and audit and supervisory board members for losses sustained by us in connection with the failure of such directors and audit and supervisory board members to perform their duties, except in the case of willful misconduct or gross negligence, to the greater of either an amount previously agreed in the liability limitation agreement that is no less than ¥10 million ($89 thousand) or an amount calculated as described above.

¥2,605 billion ($23,056 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Senior Term Loan as of December 31, 2017

In November 2017, we procured a syndicated loan from several Japanese and international financial institutions in the principal amount of ¥2,650 billion ($23,451 million), under which ¥2,605 billion ($23,056 million) of indebtedness remains outstanding (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS). We used the proceeds of this loan mainly to pay off certain debt, including but not limited to the loan facilities that refinanced debt incurred in connection with the Sprint acquisition, and the bridge loan in connection with the Arm acquisition, with the remainder of the proceeds applied for general corporate purposes.

The Senior Term Loan is a direct, unsecured obligation of the Company and ranks pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of the Company. The Senior Term Loan is guaranteed by SoftBank Corp. on a senior, unsecured basis and such guarantee by SoftBank Corp. will rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of SoftBank Corp., including SoftBank Corp.'s obligations under the Guarantee of the Notes.

The following table shows the total remaining scheduled repayments for the facilities for the periods indicated:

Fiscal year ending March 31,	Total Principal Amount Due ⁽¹⁾
	(billions of yen)
2018	¥107.7
2019	215.4
2020	215.4
2021	311.5
2022	300.0
2023	300.0
2024	350.0

(1) Amounts correspond to the face amounts.

Each facility under the Senior Term Loan accrues interest at a floating rate that is calculated based on the applicable index rate plus the applicable margin for the relevant facility.

The Senior Term Loan is subject to representations and warranties customary in the Japanese syndicated loan market. It is also subject to certain financial and operational covenants that require us to maintain certain financial ratios and that restrict our business activities. The covenants include an affirmative obligation for the Company to maintain net assets on a stand-alone basis of at least 75% of the net assets at the end of the previous fiscal year, as measured at the end of each fiscal year. Other covenants set certain caps on the total amount of net interest-bearing debt the Company can incur on a consolidated basis excluding some newly consolidated subsidiaries such as Sprint, Arm and SoftBank Vision Fund and subject to certain other adjustments as of each cut-off date. Additionally, the Company is required to maintain a leverage ratio to be calculated on a semi-annual basis, which shall not exceed a certain level as of each cut-off date. The Company is also required to obtain the requisite approvals from the lenders in order to release the upstream guarantee.

The Senior Term Loan is also subject to certain events of default, including breach of the covenants described above. Any event of default could trigger acceleration of amounts outstanding under the Senior Term Loan through the majority lenders' decision, provided that a certain limited number of events shall automatically lead to acceleration of the loan. We may prepay certain facilities under the Senior Term Loan under certain conditions.

¥83 billion ($732 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Hybrid Loan as of December 31, 2017

In November 2017, we procured a syndicated hybrid loan from several Japanese financial institutions in the principal amount of ¥84 billion ($743 million), under which ¥83 billion ($732 million) of indebtedness remains outstanding (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS). The Hybrid Loan is an unsecured, subordinated obligation of the Company, which ranks pari passu with the Company's yen-denominated and dollar-denominated hybrid bonds, is subordinated to the yen-denominated subordinated bonds. The hybrid loan allows the Company an option to defer interest payments. The hybrid loan matures on November 8, 2044. The Hybrid Loan is eligible for 50% equity treatment from rating agencies (JCR and S&P), although it is recorded as a borrowing in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

¥178.5 billion ($1,580 million) Commitment Line

On August 1, 2017, we renewed a commitment line agreement with several Japanese and international financial institutions for borrowings up to ¥178.5 billion ($1,580 million) (the "Commitment Line"). As of the date of this offering memorandum, the Commitment Line was fully drawn. The Commitment Line is a direct, unsecured obligation of the Company and ranks pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of the Company. The Commitment Line is also guaranteed by SoftBank Corp. on a senior, unsecured basis and such guarantee by SoftBank Corp. ranks pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of SoftBank Corp.

The Commitment Line has a one-year term, which we have historically renewed annually, and the interest rate is equal to the sum of the announced Japanese yen TIBOR, for the applicable interest period, plus a margin.

The Commitment Line is subject to representations and warranties customary in the Japanese syndicated loan market. It is also subject to certain financial and operational covenants similar to those under the Senior Term Loan.

The Commitment Line is also subject to customary events of default including breach of the covenants described above. Any event of default could trigger acceleration of the amount outstanding under the Commitment Line through the majority lenders' decision, provided that a certain limited number of events shall automatically lead to acceleration of the loan. We are obliged to report the occurrence of an event of default or a potential event of default as soon as we become aware of it. We may prepay the loan by paying breakfunding costs (if any) and without penalty.

¥776 billion ($6,863 million) in Securitization of Receivables

We have several continuous securitization programs of receivables of SoftBank Corp., Sprint and others. As of December 31, 2017, the balances were ¥593 billion ($5,250 million), ¥175 billion ($1,545 million) and ¥8 billion ($68 million) for SoftBank Corp., Sprint and others, respectively.

Under the securitization programs, SoftBank Corp. (or the relevant subsidiary) entrusts the installment receivables to trust banks as special purpose vehicles for each program on a true-sale basis and the holders of financial instruments backed by those installment receivables issued under these securitization programs, have only recourse to the trust assets and not to SoftBank Corp. (or the relevant subsidiary)

Under IFRS, however, most of these securitized receivables are still booked on our financial statements.

$4 billion Principal Amount Outstanding under 2024 Secured Term Loan of Sprint

On February 3, 2017, Sprint entered into a new credit agreement for $6.0 billion, consisting of a $4.0 billion, seven-year secured term loan that matures in February 2024 and a $2.0 billion secured revolving bank credit facility that expires in February 2021. As of December 31, 2017, approximately $151 million in letters of credit were outstanding under the secured revolving bank credit facility, including the letter of credit required by the FCC's Report and Order issued in 2004 to reconfigure the 800 MHz band. As a result of the outstanding letters of credit, which directly reduce the availability of borrowings, Sprint had approximately $1.8 billion of borrowing capacity available under the secured revolving bank credit facility as of December 31, 2017.

$3.5 billion Principal Amount of Spectrum Financing of Sprint

In October 2016, Sprint transferred certain directly held and third-party leased spectrum licenses (collectively, the “Spectrum Portfolio”) to wholly owned bankruptcy-remote special purpose entities. The Spectrum Portfolio, which represents approximately 14% of Sprint’s total spectrum holdings on a MHz-pops basis, was used as collateral to raise an initial $3.5 billion in senior secured notes at 3.36% per annum from external investors under a $7.0 billion program. The notes will be repaid over a five-year term, with interest-only payments over the first four quarters and amortizing quarterly principal payments thereafter commencing in December 2017 through September 2021. We anticipate Sprint will draw down the remaining capacity under the program in the near future.

¥399 billion ($3,530 million) in Securities Lending

We loan shares that we own in one of our subsidiaries to a major Japanese lender and receive cash as collateral. These loans are on a monthly basis and are typically rolled over each month. As of December 31, 2017, our securities lending totaled ¥399 billion ($3,530 million).

$8 billion Margin Loan Facility Secured by ADS of Alibaba

On or around March 7, 2018, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the “Borrower”) is expected to enter into a margin loan agreement (the “Margin Loan Agreement”) with lenders (collectively referred to, along with other financial institutions that may become party to the Margin Loan Agreement as lenders from time to time, the “Lenders”). The Lenders are expected to provide $8 billion in aggregate commitments, including $4 billion in the form of a term loan facility (the “Term Margin Loan Facility”) and $4 billion in the form of a revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Margin Loan Facility”), each of which the Borrower expects to draw down in full on or around March 13, 2018. Loans under the Term Margin Loan Facility and the Revolving Margin Loan Facility will have a maturity of three years. The Borrower’s obligations under the Margin Loan Agreement are not guaranteed by or subject to any recourse to the Company or the Initial Note Guarantor. The loans under the Margin Loan Agreement will be secured by a combination of Alibaba American Depositary Shares (“ADS”) and cash pledged to the Lenders. In connection with the initial drawdown under the Margin Loan Agreement, we expect to pledge ADS representing approximately 6% of Alibaba’s outstanding share capital for the benefit of the Lenders.

¥1,116 billion ($9,877 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Other Loans

We have also entered into other loan agreements with a number of major financial institutions, under which the total outstanding indebtedness as of December 31, 2017 was ¥1,116 billion ($9,877 million) (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS). Of these, (i) ¥163 billion ($1,442 million) was borrowed by the Company, and (ii) ¥27 billion ($243 million), ¥298 billion ($2,642 million) and ¥628 billion ($5,550 million) were borrowed by Brightstar, Sprint and others, respectively. These loan agreements contain terms that we believe are customary for these types of loans provided by financial institutions.

¥2,118 billion ($18,743 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Domestic Yen-denominated Unsecured Straight Bonds

We have issued domestic unsubordinated yen-denominated unsecured bonds (the “Yen-denominated Senior Bonds”), which are senior, unsecured obligations of the Company and rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of the Company. These bonds are guaranteed by SoftBank Corp. on a senior, unsecured basis, ranking pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of SoftBank Corp.

These bonds contain terms that are customary for these types of securities issued by Japanese companies in Japan. However, we note the 43rd, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th and 51st Yen-denominated Senior Bonds contain a financial covenant requiring that the Company’s net assets on a stand-alone basis must be at least ¥369.8 billion ($3,273 million) at the end of each fiscal year. These bonds contain various events of default, including those relating to the non-payment of principal or interest, cross-acceleration of other indebtedness in excess of specified thresholds and insolvency events. Upon the occurrence of an event of default, holders of the bonds are immediately entitled to redeem the bonds on all amounts due. As of December 31, 2017, the aggregate outstanding indebtedness under these bonds was ¥2,118 billion ($18,743 million) (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS).

¥1,560 billion ($13,803 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Foreign Currency-denominated Unsecured Senior Notes

We have issued foreign currency-denominated senior notes (the “Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds”), which are senior, unsecured obligations of the Company and rank pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of the Company. These bonds are guaranteed by SoftBank Corp. on a senior, unsecured basis, ranking pari passu with all other outstanding unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of SoftBank Corp.

The Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds contain restrictive covenants that limit our ability to, among other things: (i) incur secured indebtedness, (ii) guarantee the indebtedness of non-guarantor subsidiaries and other non-subsidiary affiliates and (iii) use proceeds from asset sales to make restricted payments in the event that aggregate restricted payments exceed specified amounts ranging from $15 billion to $20 billion since the original issuance date of the relevant Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds.

The Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds provide that the Company may release the guarantee of such bonds provided by SoftBank Corp. under certain circumstances. With respect to the 2013 Notes and 2015 Notes, such release requires, among other conditions, that (i) SoftBank Corp. not guarantee any other indebtedness of the Company at the time of such release and (ii) that such Notes be rated “investment grade” at the time of such release, as defined in the terms of such bonds. With respect to the 2017 Notes, such release requires, among other conditions, that SoftBank Corp. not guarantee any other indebtedness of the Company at the time of such release.

Upon the occurrence of a change of control triggering event, the Company would be required to make an offer to repurchase all outstanding Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds at a purchase price equal to 100% of their principal amount plus any accrued and unpaid interest.

The Foreign Currency-denominated Bonds are redeemable by the Company at any time prior to maturity at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount, with accrued and unpaid interest plus a “make-whole” premium.

Concurrently with the offering of the Notes, the Company is conducting the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation with respect to the outstanding 2015 Notes. Pursuant to the Exchange Offer, the Company expects to issue $ _____ in aggregate principal amount of Dollar Exchange Notes in exchange for Existing Dollar Notes and € _____ in aggregate principal amount of Euro Exchange Notes in exchange for Existing Euro Notes. Any Exchange Notes issued will have the same terms and form a single class with the corresponding tranche of Notes offered hereby. In connection with the Exchange Offer and Consent Solicitation, the Company is seeking consents to amend the covenants of any remaining outstanding 2015 Notes to conform such covenants to those governing the 2017 Notes and the Notes offered hereby.

¥840 billion ($7,440 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Domestic Yen-denominated Unsecured Subordinated Bonds

We have issued domestic yen-denominated unsecured subordinated bonds (the “Domestic Subordinated Bonds”) at 2.50% coupon per annum, which are direct, unsecured obligations of the Company and contractually subordinated to all existing and future debt except for debt equal or subordinated to the Domestic Subordinated Bonds. The Domestic Subordinated Bonds are not guaranteed by SoftBank Corp.

As of December 31, 2017, the aggregate outstanding indebtedness under these Domestic Subordinated Bonds was ¥840 billion ($7,440 million) (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS).

¥463 billion ($4,098 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Domestic Yen-denominated Unsecured Hybrid Bonds with Interest Deferral and Early Redemption Clauses

In September 2016, we issued three series of unsecured subordinated bonds with interest deferral and early redemption clauses, with two series due 2041 and one series due 2043 (the “Yen-denominated Hybrid Bonds”). The Yen-denominated Hybrid Bonds are subordinated to all existing and future debt, including the Domestic Subordinated Bonds, except for debt equal or subordinated to the Yen-denominated Hybrid Bonds.

As of December 31, 2017, the aggregate outstanding indebtedness under these Yen-denominated Hybrid Bonds was ¥463 billion ($4,098 million) (measured at amortized costs pursuant to IFRS). The Yen-denominated Hybrid Bonds have been assigned 50% equity credit from both S&P and JCR.

¥497 billion ($4,397 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under USD-denominated Perpetual Subordinated Hybrid Notes

On July 19, 2017, we issued the Hybrid Notes, which consisted of $2.75 billion in USD-denominated Undated Subordinated NC6 Resettable Notes and $1.75 billion in USD-denominated Undated Subordinated NC10 Resettable Notes. The Hybrid Notes are classified as equity instruments in accordance with IFRS because we have the option to defer interest payments, they have no maturity date, their payment priority in the event of bankruptcy is subordinated to senior indebtedness, and other factors. They will be recorded as equity in the Company’s consolidated financial statements. The Hybrid Notes have been assigned 50% equity credit from both S&P and JCR.

¥2,823 billion ($24,981 million) of Indebtedness Outstanding under Senior Notes issued by Sprint and Its Subsidiaries

As of December 31, 2017, Sprint’s outstanding notes consisted of senior notes and guaranteed notes, all of which are unsecured, as well as secured senior notes associated with Sprint’s spectrum financing transaction and secured senior notes issued by Sprint Communications. Cash interest on all of the notes is generally payable semi-annually in arrears with the exception of the spectrum financing senior secured notes, for which interest is payable quarterly. As of December 31, 2017, $27.6 billion aggregate principal amount of the notes was redeemable at the Sprint’s discretion at the then-applicable redemption prices plus accrued interest.

As of December 31, 2017, approximately $21.4 billion aggregate principal amount of Sprint’s senior notes and guaranteed notes provide holders with the right to require Sprint to repurchase the notes if a change of control triggering event (as defined in the applicable indentures and supplemental indentures) occurs.

On December 1, 2017 Clearwire Communications LLC exchangeable notes were retired pursuant to the terms of the indenture which provided that the notes could be tendered at the holder's option or called at Sprint's option on or after that date in each case for 100% of the par value plus accrued interest.

On February 22, 2018, Sprint sold ¥170 billion ($1,500 million) in senior unsecured notes, due March 1, 2026. The notes have a coupon rate of 7.625% per annum. Sprint expects to use the proceeds of the issuance of the notes for general corporate purposes.

Our major subsidiaries lease certain telecommunications equipment and service lines, buildings and structures, other property, equipment and software. Once the assembly, installation and inspection of newly acquired equipment are complete, we sell the equipment, excluding the installed software, to leasing companies and lease the equipment back from them under sale and lease-back arrangements. At the same time, we enter into loan contracts with the lessors to pay for the value of certain software. We include the cash inflows from the sale of the equipment to leasing companies and the proceeds from the loan arranged for the software portion as proceeds from the sale and lease-back of equipment newly acquired under cash flows from financing activities in our consolidated financial statements. SoftBank Corp. holds ¥1,099 billion ($9,722 million), or approximately 88%, of all of our finance leases.

As of December 31, 2017, we had outstanding finance leases totaling ¥1,242 billion ($10,989 million).

The non-cancelable portion of these leases generally ranges from monthly up to 15 years. These leases, with few exceptions, provide for automatic renewal options and escalations that are either fixed or based on the consumer price index.

 - rank senior in right of payment to all existing and future Indebtedness of the Company that is contractually subordinated in right of payment and all existing and future Indebtedness of the Company that is subordinated in right of payment by operation of law (including the Hybrid Loan, the Company’s subordinated yen-denominated bonds and the Hybrid Notes); and
 - be subordinated in right of payment to all existing and future Indebtedness of the Company that is preferred by operation of law;
- be effectively subordinated to any existing and future Indebtedness of the Company that is secured by property or assets that do not secure the Notes, to the extent of the value of the property and assets securing such Indebtedness through either enforcement of such Indebtedness outside insolvency proceedings or preferred treatment of such Indebtedness in insolvency proceedings;
- be effectively subordinated to all existing and future Indebtedness, lease obligations or other obligations and any trade payables of any Subsidiary of the Company that does not Guarantee the Notes (including the substantial financial liabilities outstanding under the corporate bonds issued, and loan facilities utilized, by Sprint and West Raptor Holdings, LLC’s obligations under the variable prepaid forward contract in respect of certain shares in the Alibaba Group); and
- be guaranteed, as of the Issue Date, by the Initial Note Guarantor as set forth below under “—The Note Guarantees.”

See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—The Notes and the Note Guarantee are unsecured obligations and will be effectively subordinated to the existing and future secured indebtedness of the Company and its subsidiaries. We and our subsidiaries may in the future incur substantial amounts of secured debt”; “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—The Notes and the Note Guarantee will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries”; and “*Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—Enforcement of claims on the Notes and the Note Guarantees will be subject to certain limitations arising under Japanese insolvency and corporate laws. Each Guarantee of the Notes (a “Note Guarantee”) of a Note Guarantor will:

- be a general unsecured obligation of such Note Guarantor;
- in insolvency proceedings of the Note Guarantor, rank pari passu in right of payment with all existing and future Indebtedness of the Note Guarantor (including, in the case of the Initial Note Guarantor, its obligations under the Senior Term Loan, the Existing Senior Notes, any drawings under the Commitment Line and any unsubordinated yen-denominated bonds that it guarantees), except that the Note Guarantee will:

- be effectively subordinated to all existing and future Indebtedness or other obligations, including any trade payables, of any Subsidiary of such Note Guarantor that does not Guarantee the Notes.

Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries

Any right of the Company to receive assets of any of its Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries upon such Subsidiary’s liquidation or reorganization (and the consequent right of the holders of the Notes to participate in those assets) will be effectively subordinated to the claims of that Non-Guarantor Subsidiary’s creditors, except to the extent that the Company is itself recognized as a creditor of the Non-Guarantor Subsidiary, in which case the claims of the Company may be effectively subordinated in right of payment to any security in the assets of the Non-Guarantor Subsidiary and any Indebtedness of such Subsidiary senior to that held by the Company. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—Our corporate structure may affect your ability to receive payment on the Notes”; “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—The Notes and the Note Guarantee will be structurally subordinated to any existing or future indebtedness, preferred stock and other liabilities of our Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries”; and “*Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Notes—Enforcement of claims on the Notes and the Note Guarantees will be subject to certain limitations arising under Japanese insolvency and corporate laws. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents in connection with a transfer of Notes. Holders of the Notes will be required to pay all taxes due on transfer. Neither the Registrar nor the Company will be required:

- to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes during a period beginning at the opening of business on the day (to the extent that Notes are represented by Global Notes) or at the opening business on the 15th day (to the extent that Notes are represented by Definitive Registered Notes) prior to (i) the day fixed for the redemption of the Notes or (ii) the day fixed for selection of Notes to be redeemed in part and ending at the close of business on the day of such redemption or selection;

- to register the transfer of or to exchange any Note selected for redemption in whole or in part, except the unredeemed portion of any Note being redeemed in part;
- to register the transfer of or to exchange a Note between a record date and the next succeeding interest payment date; or
- to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes that the registered holder has tendered (and not withdrawn) for repurchase in connection with a Change of Control Offer.

During the 40-day “distribution compliance period” (as such term is defined in Rule 902 of Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act), book-entry interests in the Notes may be transferred only to non-U.S. persons as defined under Regulation S.

For further discussion of the requirements (including the presentation of transfer certificates) under the Indenture to effect exchanges or transfer of interests in Global Notes, see “Book-Entry, Delivery and Form.”

Additional Amounts

All payments made by or on behalf of the Company under or with respect to the Notes (whether or not in the form of Definitive Registered Notes) or any Note Guarantor with respect to its Note Guarantee will be made free and clear of and without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future Taxes unless the withholding or deduction of such Taxes is then required by law. If any withholding, deduction or imposition for, or on account of, any Taxes imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction in which the Company or Note Guarantor (including any Successor Entity), is then incorporated, engaged in business or resident for tax purposes, or any political subdivision thereof or therein or any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made (each, a “Tax Jurisdiction”), will at any time be required to be made from any payments made by or on behalf of the Company under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantor with respect to any Note Guarantee, including payments of principal, redemption price, purchase price, interest or premium, the Company or the Note Guarantor, as applicable, will pay such additional amounts (the “Additional Amounts”) as may be necessary in order that the net amounts received in respect of such payments (including Additional Amounts) after such withholding, deduction, or imposition will equal the respective amounts that would have been received in respect of such payments in the absence of such withholding, deduction or imposition; provided, however, that no Additional Amounts will be payable with respect to:

- (1) any Taxes that would not have been imposed but for the holder or beneficial owner of the Notes being a citizen, resident or national of, incorporated in or carrying on a business, in the relevant Tax Jurisdiction in which such Taxes are imposed, other than by the mere holding of such Note, enforcement of rights thereunder, the receipt of payments in respect thereof or any other connection with respect to the Notes;
- (2) any Taxes imposed or withheld as a result of the failure of the holder or beneficial owner of the Notes to comply with any written request, made to the relevant holder in writing at least 90 days before any such withholding or deduction would be payable, by the Company or a Note Guarantor to provide timely or accurate information concerning the nationality, residence or identity of such holder or beneficial owner or to make any valid or timely declaration or similar claim or satisfy any certification information or other reporting requirement applicable to such holder or beneficial owner, which is required or imposed by a statute, treaty, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Tax Jurisdiction as a precondition to exemption from all or part of such Taxes;
- (3) any Note presented for payment (where Notes are in the form of Definitive Registered Notes and presentation is required) more than 30 days after the relevant payment is first made available for payment to the holder (except to the extent that the holder would have been entitled to Additional Amounts had the Note been presented on the last day of such 30 day period);
- (4) any estate, inheritance, gift, sale, transfer, personal property or similar tax or assessment;
- (5) any Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder who is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation and is liable for such Taxes in respect of such Notes by reason of its (a) having some connection with Japan, other than the mere holding of such Notes, enforcement of rights thereunder, the receipt of payments in respect thereof or any other connection with respect to the Notes or (b) being a Specially-Related Person of the Company);

- (6) any Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder of the Notes who would otherwise be exempt from any such withholding or deduction but who fails to comply with any applicable requirement to provide certain information prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act to enable a participant of a depository or financial intermediary through which the Notes are held (a “Participant”) to establish that such beneficial owner is exempted from the requirement for Japanese taxes to be withheld or deducted (the “Interest Recipient Information”);
- (7) any Note presented for payment by or on behalf of a holder of the Notes who is for Japanese tax purposes treated as an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation (except for (a) a designated Japanese financial institution within certain categories as prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act (a “Designated Financial Institution”), which complies with the requirement to provide Interest Recipient Information or to submit a written application for tax exemption and (b) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation that duly notifies (directly or through the Participant or otherwise) the Paying Agent of its status as exempt from Taxes to be withheld or deducted by the Company by reason of such individual resident of Japan or Japanese corporation receiving interest on the Notes through a payment handling agent in Japan appointed by it);
- (8) any Taxes that are imposed under FATCA; or
- (9) any combination of items (1) through (8) above.

In addition to the foregoing, the Company and each Note Guarantor (including any Successor Entities thereof) will also pay and indemnify the holder for any present or future stamp, issue, registration, court or documentary taxes, or any other excise or property taxes, charges or similar levies or Taxes which are levied by any Tax Jurisdiction on the execution, delivery, registration or enforcement of any of the Notes, the Indenture, any Note Guarantee, or any other document or instrument referred to therein.

If the Company or any Note Guarantor becomes aware that it will be obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to any payment under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, the Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will deliver to the Trustee, copied to the Paying Agent, on a date at least 30 days prior to the date of payment (unless the obligation to pay Additional Amounts arises after the 30th day prior to that payment date, in which case the Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, shall notify the Trustee promptly thereafter) an officers’ certificate stating the fact that Additional Amounts will be payable and the amount estimated to be so payable. The officers’ certificate must also set forth any other information reasonably necessary to enable the Paying Agent to pay Additional Amounts to holders of the Notes on the relevant payment date. The Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will provide the Trustee with documentation reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee evidencing the payment of Additional Amounts. The Trustee, will be entitled to rely solely on such officers’ certificate as conclusive proof that such payments are necessary.

The Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will make all withholdings and deductions required by law and will remit the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Tax authority in accordance with applicable law. The Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will use its reasonable efforts to obtain Tax receipts from each Tax authority evidencing the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld. The Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, will furnish to the holders of the Notes, within 60 days after the date the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld is made, certified copies of Tax receipts evidencing payment by the Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be, or if, notwithstanding the Company’s or the relevant Note Guarantor’s efforts to obtain receipts, receipts are not obtained, other evidence of payments by the Company or the relevant Note Guarantor, as the case may be.

Whenever the Indenture or this “Description of the Notes” mentions the payment of amounts based on the principal amount, interest of any other amount payable under, or with respect to, any of the Notes, such mention shall be deemed to include the payment of Additional Amounts to the extent that, in such context, Additional Amounts are, were or would be payable in respect thereof.

The above obligation will survive any termination, defeasance or discharge of the Indenture, any transfer by a holder or beneficial owner of its Notes, and will apply, mutatis mutandis, to any jurisdiction in which any Successor Entity is organized or resident (or deemed resident) for tax purposes.

Where the Notes are held through a Participant, in order to receive payments free of withholding or deduction by the Company for, or on account of Taxes, if the relevant holder is, in accordance with the Special Taxation Measures Act, (A) an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation (other than a Specially-Related Person of the Company) or (B) a Designated Financial Institution, such holder shall, at the time of entrusting a Participant with the custody of the Notes, provide the Interest Recipient Information and advise the Participant if the holder of the Notes ceases to be so exempted (including the case where the holder who is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation becomes a specially-related person of the Company).

Where the Notes are not held by a Participant, in order to receive payments free of withholding or deduction by the Company for, or on account of, Taxes, if the relevant holder is (A) an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation (other than a specially-related person of the Company) or (B) a Designated Financial Institution, such holder shall, prior to each time on which it receives interest, submit to the Paying Agent a written application for tax exemption in a form obtainable from the Paying Agent stating the name and address of the holder of the Notes, the title of the Notes, the relevant interest payment date, the amount of interest and the fact that the holder is qualified to submit the written application for tax exemption, together with documentary evidence regarding its identity and residence.

Redemption for Changes in Taxes

The Company or any Note Guarantor may redeem the Notes, in whole but not in part, at any time upon giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' prior notice to the holders of the Notes (which notice will be irrevocable and given in accordance with the procedures described in "—Selection and Notice"), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, together with accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date fixed by the Company for redemption (a "Tax Redemption Date") and all Additional Amounts (if any) then due and that will become due on the Tax Redemption Date as a result of the redemption or otherwise (subject to the right of holders of the Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date and Additional Amounts (if any) in respect thereof), if on the next date on which any amount would be payable in respect of the Notes, the Company has or would be required to pay Additional Amounts, and the Company cannot avoid any such payment obligation by taking reasonable measures available to it (including by changing the jurisdiction of the Paying Agent), as a result of:

- (1) any change in, or amendment to, the laws (or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder) of the relevant Tax Jurisdiction affecting taxation which change or amendment has not been publicly announced as formally proposed before and which becomes effective on or after the date of the Indenture (or, if the relevant Tax Jurisdiction has changed since the date of the Indenture, the date on which the then current Tax Jurisdiction became the applicable Tax Jurisdiction under the Indenture); or
- (2) any change in, or amendment to, the existing official position or the introduction of an official position regarding the application, administration or interpretation of such laws, regulations or rulings (including a holding, judgment or order by a court of competent jurisdiction or a change in published practice), which change, amendment, application or interpretation has not been publicly announced as formally proposed before and becomes effective on or after the date of the Indenture (or, if the relevant Tax Jurisdiction has changed since the date of the Indenture, the date on which the then current Tax Jurisdiction became the applicable Tax Jurisdiction under the Indenture).

The Company or such Note Guarantor will not give any such notice of redemption earlier than 90 days prior to the earliest date on which the Company would be obligated to make such payment or withholding if a payment in respect of the Notes were then due. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Company nor the Note Guarantors may redeem the Notes under this provision if the relevant Tax Jurisdiction changes under the Indenture and the Company is obligated to pay any Additional Amounts as a result of a change in, or an amendment to, the laws (or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder), or any change in or amendment to, any official position regarding the application, administration or interpretation of such laws, regulations or rules, of the then current Tax Jurisdiction which, at the time such Tax Jurisdiction became the applicable Tax Jurisdiction under the Indenture, was publicly announced as formally proposed.

Prior to the publication or, where relevant, mailing of any notice of redemption of the Notes pursuant to the foregoing, the Company will deliver to the Trustee an officers' certificate and opinion of counsel, the choice of such counsel to be subject to the prior written approval of the Trustee (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld), to the effect that there has been such change or amendment which would entitle the Company or such Note Guarantor to redeem the Notes hereunder and the Company cannot avoid any obligation to pay Additional Amounts by taking reasonable measures available to it. The Trustee will accept such officers' certificate and opinion as sufficient evidence of the satisfaction of the conditions precedent described above, without further inquiry, in which event it will be conclusive and binding on holders of the Notes.

Optional Redemption

At any time prior to the date that is 90 days prior to the final maturity date of the Notes of any series, the Company or any Note Guarantor may on any one or more occasions redeem all or a part of such series of Notes, upon not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' notice, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes redeemed, plus the Applicable Premium as of, and accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to the date of redemption, subject to the rights of holders of such Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date.

At any time on or after the date that is 90 days prior to the final maturity date of the Notes of any series, the Company or any Note Guarantor may on any one or more occasions redeem all or a part of the Notes of such series, upon not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' notice, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to the date of redemption, subject to the rights of holders of such Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date.

Except pursuant to the two preceding paragraphs, as set forth above under “—Redemption for Changes in Taxes” or as set forth in the ninth paragraph under “—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event,” the Notes will not be redeemable at the Company's option prior their final maturity date.

The Company and its Subsidiaries shall also be entitled at their option at any time and from time to time to purchase the Notes in the open market or otherwise.

Unless the Company defaults in the payment of the redemption price, interest will cease to accrue on the Notes or portions thereof called for redemption on the applicable redemption date.

Any redemption and notice of redemption of Notes may, at the Company's discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent (including, without limitation, the incurrence of Indebtedness the proceeds of which will be used to redeem the Notes). In addition, if such redemption or notice is subject to satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent, such notice may state that, at the Company's discretion, the redemption date may be delayed until such time as any or all such conditions shall be satisfied, or such redemption may not occur and such notice may be rescinded in the event that any or all such conditions shall not have been satisfied by the redemption date, or by the redemption date so delayed; provided that in no case shall the notice have been delivered less than 10 days or more than 60 days prior to the date on which such redemption (if any) occurs.

Mandatory Redemption

The Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to the Notes.

Selection and Notice

If less than all of the Notes (or any series of Notes) are to be redeemed, the Notes will be selected for redemption as follows: (i) if the Notes are listed on any securities exchange and/or being held through the clearing systems, in compliance with the requirements of the securities exchange on which the Notes are then listed, or the requirements of the clearing systems, as applicable; or (ii) if the Notes are not listed on any securities exchange and/or held through the clearing systems, on a pro rata basis or by lot or such other method as the Trustee may determine in its sole and absolute discretion, unless otherwise required by law.

No Dollar Note in the principal amount of $200,000 or less and no Euro Note in the principal amount of €100,000 or less can be redeemed in part.

If any Note is to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to that Note will state the portion of the principal amount of that Note that is to be redeemed. A new Note in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the original Note will be issued in the name of the holder of Notes upon cancellation of the original Note. Notes called for redemption become due on the date fixed for redemption. Unless the Company defaults in the payment of the redemption price, on and after the redemption date, interest ceases to accrue on Notes or any portion of Notes called for redemption.

Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event

If a Change of Control Triggering Event occurs, each holder of Notes will have the right to require the Company or any Note Guarantor to repurchase all or any part (in case of Dollar Notes, equal to $200,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof and in case of Euro Notes, equal to €100,000 or an integral multiple of €1,000 in excess thereof) of that holder's Notes pursuant to an offer described below (the "Change of Control Offer") and on the terms set forth in the Indenture. In the Change of Control Offer, the Company will offer a payment (the "Change of Control Payment") in cash equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount of Notes repurchased, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes repurchased to the date of purchase, subject to the rights of holders of the Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date.

Within 30 days following any Change of Control Triggering Event, the Company or such Note Guarantor will provide notice to the Trustee and each holder describing the events that constitute the Change of Control Triggering Event and offering to repurchase Notes on a date (the "Change of Control Payment Date") specified in the notice, which date will be no earlier than 10 days and no later than 60 days from the date such notice is given, pursuant to the procedures required by the Indenture and described in such notice. The Trustee and the Agents shall not be obliged to take any steps to ascertain whether a Change of Control has occurred or to monitor the occurrence of any Change of Control, and shall not be liable to the holders of the Notes or any other person for not doing so.

The Company or such Note Guarantor will comply with the requirements of relevant securities laws and regulations to the extent those laws and regulations are applicable in connection with the repurchase of the Notes as a result of a Change of Control Triggering Event. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with the Change of Control provisions of the Indenture, the Company or such Note Guarantor will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations under the Change of Control provisions of the Indenture by virtue of such compliance.

On the Change of Control Payment Date, the Company or such Note Guarantor will, to the extent lawful:

- (1) accept for payment all Notes or portions of Notes properly tendered pursuant to the Change of Control Offer;
- (2) deposit with the Paying Agent an amount equal to the Change of Control Payment in respect of all Notes or portions of Notes properly tendered; and
- (3) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Paying Agent the Notes properly accepted together with an officers' certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions of Notes being purchased by the Company or such Note Guarantor.

The Paying Agent will promptly deliver to each holder of Notes properly tendered the Change of Control Payment for such Notes, and the Trustee (or its authenticating agent) will promptly authenticate and cause to be transferred to each holder a new Note equal in principal amount to any unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered, if any. The Company will announce the results of the Change of Control Offer on or as soon as practicable after the Change of Control Payment Date.

The provisions described above that require the Company to make a Change of Control Offer following a Change of Control Triggering Event will be applicable whether or not any other provisions of the Indenture are applicable. Except as described above with respect to a Change of Control Triggering Event, the Indenture does not contain provisions that permit the holders of the Notes to require that the Company repurchase or redeem the Notes in the event of a takeover, recapitalization or similar transaction.

The Company will not be required to make a Change of Control Offer upon a Change of Control Triggering Event if (1) a third party makes the Change of Control Offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements set forth in the Indenture applicable to a Change of Control Offer made by the Company or any Note Guarantor and purchases all Notes properly tendered and not withdrawn under the Change of Control Offer, or (2) notice of redemption has been given pursuant to the Indenture as described above under the caption "—Redemption for Changes in Taxes" or "—Optional Redemption," unless and until there is a default in payment of the applicable redemption price.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, a Change of Control Offer may be made in advance of a Change of Control, conditioned upon the consummation of such Change of Control, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time the Change of Control Offer is made.

If holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes of any series validly tender and do not withdraw such Notes in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, purchase all of the Notes of such series validly tendered and not withdrawn by such holders of the Notes, the Company, any Note Guarantor or such third party will have the right, upon not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to such Change of Control Offer, to redeem the Notes of such series that remain outstanding in whole, but not in part, at a purchase price in cash equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes so redeemed to the date of redemption, subject to the rights of holders of the Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date.

The phrase “all or substantially all” relating to the direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of the properties or assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole has no precise established definition under applicable law. Accordingly, the ability of a holder of Notes to require the Company or any Note Guarantor to repurchase its Notes as a result of a sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of less than all of the assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole to another Person or group may be uncertain. The sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company and/or any of its Subsidiaries, in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of (i) any Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any member of the Alibaba Group; (ii) interests in SoftBank Vision Fund L.P. or any portfolio assets thereof; or (iii) any investment assets controlled by the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund, in each case, will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor.

The agreements governing the Company’s other Indebtedness contain, and future agreements may contain, prohibitions of certain events, including events that would constitute a Change of Control and including repurchases of or other prepayments in respect of the Notes. The exercise by the holders of the Notes of their right to require the Company to repurchase the Notes upon a Change of Control could cause a default under these other agreements, even if the Change of Control itself does not, due to the financial effect of such repurchases on the Company. In the event a Change of Control occurs at a time when the Company is prohibited from purchasing Notes, the Company could seek the consent of its other lenders to the purchase of Notes or could attempt to refinance the borrowings that contain such prohibition. If the Company does not obtain a consent or repay those borrowings, the Company will remain prohibited from purchasing Notes. In that case, the Company’s failure to purchase tendered Notes would constitute an Event of Default under the Indenture which could, in turn, constitute a default under the other indebtedness. Furthermore, the Company’s ability to pay cash to the holders of the Notes upon a repurchase may be limited by the Company’s then existing financial resources. See “Risk Factors Risks Relating to the Notes—We may not have sufficient funds to repurchase the Notes upon a Change of Control Triggering Event and certain strategic transactions may not constitute a Change of Control Triggering Event.”

Certain Covenants

Anti-Layering

The Company will not incur any Indebtedness that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any of its other Indebtedness unless such Indebtedness is also contractually subordinated in right of payment to the Notes on substantially identical terms.

No Note Guarantor will incur any Indebtedness that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any of its other Indebtedness unless such Indebtedness is also contractually subordinated in right of payment to its Note Guarantee on substantially identical terms.

For the purposes of this covenant, no Indebtedness will be deemed to be contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Indebtedness of the Company or such Note Guarantor solely by virtue of being unsecured or by virtue of being secured on a junior priority basis.

Negative Pledge

None of the Company or any Note Guarantor will create, incur, assume or otherwise cause or suffer to exist or become effective any Lien of any kind, securing any Relevant Indebtedness upon any of their property or assets, now owned or hereafter acquired (an “Initial Lien”), unless:

- (1) all payments due under the Notes or the relevant Guarantees, as applicable, are secured on an equal and ratable basis with the obligations so secured until such time as such obligations are no longer so secured; or
- (2) such Initial Lien is a Permitted Lien.

Any Lien created for the benefit of the holders of the Notes pursuant to the preceding paragraph shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged under any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (a) upon the release and discharge of the Initial Lien to which it relates;
- (b) upon full and final payment of the Notes and performance of all obligations of the Company and any Note Guarantors under the Indenture and the Notes, as provided under “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- (c) upon a Note Guarantor that has granted such Liens becoming a Non-Guarantor Subsidiary or the Note Guarantee provided by such Note Guarantor being otherwise discharged or terminated, in either case pursuant to the terms of the Indenture;
- (d) upon the sale or other disposition of the assets which are subject to such Liens (including by way of merger, consolidation, amalgamation or combination) to a Person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction), the Company or an Affiliate of the Company, if such sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales”;
- (e) upon legal or covenant defeasance in accordance with the provisions described under “—Legal Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance”; or
- (f) as described under the caption “—Amendment, Supplement and Waiver.”

Upon any occurrence giving rise to a release and discharge of a Lien created for the benefit of the holders of the Notes pursuant to this covenant, as specified in this paragraph, the Trustee, subject to receipt of an officers’ certificate and an opinion of counsel certifying that the event or circumstance in question has occurred and such release of Lien complies with the Indenture and all conditions precedent to the release of such Liens have been satisfied, will execute any documents reasonably requested by the Company in order to evidence or effect such release and discharge in respect of such Lien.

Permitted Third Party Guarantees

None of the Company or any Note Guarantor will make any Third Party Guarantee if, on the date of incurrence of any Third Party Guarantee, after giving pro forma effect thereto, the aggregate principal amount (or deemed amount, in the case of Attributable Debt) of all Third Party Guarantees then outstanding (expressed in the Account Currency) exceeds the greater of ¥800 billion or 10.0% of the Company’s Consolidated Net Tangible Assets.

The accrual of interest or preferred stock dividends on any Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock that is Guaranteed under a Third Party Guarantee, the accretion or amortization of original issue discount on any Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock that is Guaranteed under a Third Party Guarantee, the payment of interest on any Indebtedness that is Guaranteed under a Third Party Guarantee in the form of additional Indebtedness with the same terms, the reclassification of any preferred stock or other liability as Indebtedness that is Guaranteed under a Third Party Guarantee due to a change in accounting principles and the payment of dividends on preferred stock or Disqualified Stock that is Guaranteed under a Third Party Guarantee in the form of additional shares of the same class of preferred stock or Disqualified Stock will not be deemed to be an incurrence of additional Third Party Guarantees for purposes of this covenant.

Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness

The Company will not permit any of its Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, to Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor unless such Non-Guarantor Subsidiary simultaneously executes and delivers a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee by such Subsidiary, which Note Guarantee will be senior to or pari passu with such Subsidiary’s Guarantee of such other Indebtedness.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall not be obligated to cause such Subsidiary to Guarantee the Notes to the extent that such Guarantee by such Subsidiary would give rise to or result in a violation of applicable law or any liability for the officers, directors or shareholders of such Subsidiary which, in any case, cannot be prevented or otherwise avoided through measures available to the Company or such Subsidiary.

Automatic Release of Note Guarantees

The Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor will automatically and unconditionally be released:

- (1) other than in the case of the Note Guarantee provided by the Initial Note Guarantor, in connection with any sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of such Note Guarantor

- (including by way of merger or consolidation) to a Person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company;
- (2) in connection with any sale or other disposition of all of the Capital Stock of such Note Guarantor to a Person that is not (either before or after giving effect to such transaction) the Company or another Subsidiary of the Company;
 - (3) upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture as provided below under the captions “—Legal Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge;” or
 - (4) as a result of a transaction permitted by “—Merger or Consolidation.”

Optional Release of Note Guarantees

Except as provided below, the Company may at any time unconditionally release the Note Guarantee of any Note Guarantor; provided that:

- (1) such release will not cause or result in a Default or an Event of Default;
- (2) (i) immediately after such release such Note Guarantor will no longer Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or a Note Guarantor or (ii) the Company delivers to the Trustee an officers’ certificate stating (a) that such Note Guarantor’s Guarantee of any Existing Senior Notes outstanding at such time will be released in accordance with the relevant Existing Senior Notes Indentures substantially concurrently with the release of its Note Guarantee and (b) that, upon the release of such Note Guarantor’s Guarantee of any outstanding Existing Senior Notes and the Note Guarantee, such Note Guarantor will no longer Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Company or any Note Guarantor;
- (3) any Third Party Guarantees of Indebtedness of such Note Guarantor outstanding at the time of such release (which will be deemed to have been incurred at the time of such release) would be permitted to be incurred by the covenant described under “—Permitted Third Party Guarantees;” and
- (4) any assets or businesses previously transferred to such Note Guarantor by the Initial Note Guarantor and owned by such Note Guarantor at the time of such release (which transfers will be deemed to have been made to an Excluded Subsidiary at the time of such release) would be permitted to be transferred to an Excluded Subsidiary pursuant to the covenant described under “—Transfers of Businesses to Excluded Subsidiaries.”

Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales

The Company will not, and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to:

- (i) pay any dividend or make any other payment or distribution on account of the Company’s or any of its Subsidiaries’ Equity Interests or to the direct or indirect holders of the Company’s or any of its Subsidiaries’ Equity Interests in their capacity as such (other than a payment or distribution by a Subsidiary of the Company to the holders of its Equity Interests on a pro rata basis); or
- (ii) purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire for value any Equity Interests of the Company or any direct or indirect parent of the Company, in each case using the Net Proceeds from any Asset Sale (each such payment, distribution, purchase, redemption or acquisition of value, a “Restricted Payment”) unless, at the time of such Restricted Payment, no Default or Event of Default of the type specified in clauses (1) or (2) under “—Events of Default and Remedies” has occurred and is continuing and either:

- 1) after giving pro forma effect to such Restricted Payment, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not exceed 4.0 to 1.0; or
- 2) such Restricted Payment, individually or when aggregated with all other Restricted Payments made since the Issue Date under this clause (2), does not exceed the Dollar Equivalent of $20.0 billion.

Merger or Consolidation

The Company

The Company will not, directly or indirectly: (1) consolidate or merge with or into another Person (whether or not the Company is the surviving Person), or (2) sell, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, in one or more related transactions, to another Person, unless:

- (1) either: (a) the Company is the surviving Person; or (b) the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger (if other than the Company) or to which such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition has been made is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Japan, any jurisdiction which is at the Issue Date or at any time thereafter a member state of the European Union, Switzerland, the United States, any state of the United States or the District of Columbia, Singapore, the Cayman Islands, Jersey, Guernsey, Hong Kong or the British Virgin Islands;
- (2) the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger (if other than the Company) or the Person to which such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition has been made assumes all the obligations of the Company under the Notes and the Indenture (pursuant to a supplemental indenture) and under any security documents providing for Liens for the benefit of holders of the Notes in accordance with the covenant described under “—Negative Pledge” (pursuant to customary agreements reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee);
- (3) immediately after such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists; and
- (4) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an officers’ certificate and an opinion of counsel, each to the effect that such consolidation, merger, sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition and such supplemental indenture (if any) comply with the Indenture and an opinion of counsel to the effect that such supplemental indenture (if any) has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and is a legal, valid and binding agreement enforceable against the Company, the surviving Person (if other than the Company) or the Person to which such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition has been made (in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee); provided that in giving an opinion of counsel, counsel may rely on an officers’ certificate as to any matters of fact, including as to satisfaction of clauses (2) and (3) above, and provided, further, that no such certificate and opinion of counsel shall be required in connection with (i) the Company consolidating with, merging into or selling, assigning, transferring, leasing, conveying or otherwise disposing of all or part of its properties and assets to any Subsidiary that is not an Excluded Subsidiary, or (ii) the Company consolidating or otherwise combining with or merging into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing its legal domicile, reincorporating in another jurisdiction or changing its legal form.

In addition, the Company will not, directly or indirectly, lease all or substantially all of the properties and assets of it and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, in one or more related transactions, to any other Person.

The Note Guarantors

A Note Guarantor may not sell, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets to, or consolidate with or merge with or into (whether or not such Note Guarantor is the surviving Person) another Person, other than the Company or another Note Guarantor, unless:

- (1) either (a) the Person acquiring the property in any such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or disposition or the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger becomes a Note Guarantor under the Indenture (pursuant to a supplemental indenture) and assumes all the obligations of the Note Guarantor under any security documents providing for Liens for the benefit of holders of the Notes in accordance with the covenant described under “—Negative Pledge” (pursuant to customary agreements reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee); or (b), except in the case of the Initial Note Guarantor (to which only sub-clause (a) above applies), the Net Proceeds of such sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition are applied in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Indenture; and
- (2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists.

General

The provisions of this covenant shall not restrict (and shall not apply to): (a) any Subsidiary of the Company that is not a Note Guarantor from consolidating with, merging or liquidating into or transferring all or substantially all of its properties and assets to the Company, a Note Guarantor or any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary of the Company, so long as, immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Default or Event of Default exists; (b) any Note Guarantor from liquidating into the Company or another Note Guarantor; or (c) any consolidation or merger of the Company into any Note Guarantor; provided that, if the Company is not the surviving Person of such consolidation or merger, the relevant Note Guarantor will assume all the obligations of the Company under the Notes and the Indenture pursuant to a supplemental indenture reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee.

Though there is a limited body of case law interpreting the phrase “substantially all”, there is no precise established definition of the phrase under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person. For the avoidance of doubt, for all purposes under the Indenture, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in any single transaction or series of related transactions, whether direct or indirect, of (a) any Capital Stock of, or other Equity Interests or securities issued by, any member of the Alibaba Group, (b) interests in SoftBank Vision Fund L.P. or any portfolio assets thereof or (c) any investment assets controlled by the Company or its Subsidiary in its capacity as general partner of any fund or interests in any such fund will not be deemed a sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company or any Note Guarantor, as applicable.

Excluded Subsidiaries

Every Subsidiary of the Company (other than the Initial Note Guarantor) that is not a Note Guarantor will be an “Excluded Subsidiary” under the Indenture, until such time as it executes and delivers a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee or is required to provide a Note Guarantee under the Indenture. For the avoidance of doubt, the Initial Note Guarantor or its Successor Entity will not be deemed an Excluded Subsidiary under the Indenture, even while the Notes have an Investment Grade Rating or its Note Guarantee is released in accordance with the provisions described under “—Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness.”

Transfers of Businesses to Excluded Subsidiaries

Neither the Company nor the Initial Note Guarantor (nor any of their respective Successor Entities) will, and the Company will procure that none of its Subsidiaries from time to time will, transfer to an Excluded Subsidiary a business directly owned by the Initial Note Guarantor on the Issue Date that is at the time of such transfer material to the operations of the Initial Note Guarantor.

Any assets or businesses that are directly owned by the Initial Note Guarantor on the Issue Date that have previously been transferred (through one or more transfers) to another Note Guarantor and are owned by such other Note Guarantor at the time when its Note Guarantee is released in accordance with the provisions described under “—Subsidiary Guarantees of Indebtedness” will be deemed to have been transferred to an Excluded Subsidiary for the purposes of this covenant at the time of such release.

Suspension of Certain Covenants

If on any date following the Issue Date:

- (1) the Notes have received an Investment Grade Rating; and
- (2) no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, then, beginning on that day and subject to the provisions of the following paragraph, the covenants specifically listed under the following captions in this offering memorandum will be suspended:

- (1) “—Anti-Layering;”
- (2) “—Permitted Third Party Guarantees;” and
- (3) “—Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales.”

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if on any subsequent date (the “Reinstatement Date”), the Notes cease to maintain Investment Grade Ratings, respectively, the foregoing covenants will be reinstated as of and from the date of such rating decline. Calculations under the reinstated “Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales” covenant will be made as if the “Distributions of Proceeds of Asset Sales” covenant had been in effect since the date of the Indenture except that no default will be deemed to have occurred solely by reason of a distribution made while that covenant was suspended. Calculations under the reinstated “Permitted Third Party Guarantees” covenant will be made as if the “Permitted Third Party Guarantees” covenant had been in effect since the date of the Indenture except that no default will be deemed to have occurred solely by reason of Third Party Guarantees issued while that covenant was suspended.

The Company shall notify the Trustee in writing that the conditions set forth in the first paragraph under this caption have been satisfied; provided that, no such notification shall be a condition for the suspension of the covenants described under this caption to be effective. There can be no assurance that the Notes will ever achieve an Investment Grade Rating or that any such rating will be maintained.

Payments for Consent

The Company will not, and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration to or for the benefit of any holder of Notes (or, if the relevant consent, waiver or amendment is separately being sought with respect to one or more series of Notes, any holder of Notes of such series) for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of the Indenture or the Notes unless such consideration is paid to all holders of the Notes (or to all holders of such series of Notes, as applicable) that consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in the solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement (the “Consenting Holders”); provided that (i) the Company and its Subsidiaries will be permitted, in any such consent solicitation or liability management transaction, to exclude holders of the Notes in any jurisdiction or any category or number of holders of the Notes so long as such consideration is paid within 30 days of the closing of any such consent solicitation or liability management transaction; and (ii) the Company and its Subsidiaries may in their sole discretion furnish or cause to be furnished the same consideration, in whole or in part, to any holder of Notes other than the Consenting Holders.

For purposes of determining whether the same consideration is offered or paid to all holders of the Notes or to all holders of one or more series of Notes, as applicable, under the terms of this covenant, the amount of consideration offered in euro to holders of Euro Notes shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of such amount as of (a) if a record date has been set with respect to the consent solicitation or liability management transaction referred to in the preceding paragraph, such date or (b) if no such record date has been set, the date of payment of such consideration.

Reports

So long as any Notes are outstanding, the Company will furnish to the holders of the Notes, as soon as they are available but in any event not more than 10 days after they are filed with the Tokyo Stock Exchange or any other internationally recognized exchange on which the Company’s common shares are at any time listed for trading, true and correct copies of any financial or other report in the English language filed with such exchange; provided that if at any time the Company’s common shares cease to be listed for trading on an internationally recognized stock exchange, the Company will furnish to the holders of the Notes as soon as they are available, but in any event:

- (1) within 120 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company, copies of the financial statements (on a consolidated basis and in the English language) of the Company in respect of such fiscal year (including a statement of income, balance sheet and cash flow statement) prepared in accordance with GAAP and audited by a member firm of an internationally recognized firm of independent accountants; and
- (2) within 60 days after the end of the first, second and third quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, copies of the financial statements (on a consolidated basis and in the English language) of the Company in respect of such period (including a statement of income, balance sheet and cash flow statement) prepared in accordance with GAAP and reviewed by a member firm of an internationally recognized firm of independent accountants.

To the extent any reports are filed on the Company’s website, such reports shall be deemed to have been furnished to the holders of the Notes.

Events of Default and Remedies

Each of the following is an “Event of Default”:

- (1) default for 30 days in the payment when due of interest on, or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the Notes;
- (2) default in the payment within two Business Days after the date when such payment is due (at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise) of the principal of, or premium, if any, on, the Notes;
- (3) failure by the Company or Note Guarantors to comply with the provisions described under the captions “—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event” or “—Certain Covenants—Merger or Consolidation.”

- (4) failure by the Company for 60 days after notice to the Company by the Trustee or the holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding voting as a single class to comply with any of the agreements in the Indenture (other than a default in performance covered under clauses (1), (2) or (3) above);
- (5) default under any mortgage, indenture or instrument under which there may be issued or by which there may be secured or evidenced any (i) Indebtedness for money borrowed by the Company or any Note Guarantor or (ii) Guarantee by the Company or any Note Guarantor of Indebtedness for money borrowed by another Person, whether such Indebtedness or Guarantee now exists, or is created after the date of the Indenture or arises under the Indenture, if that default:
 - (a) is caused by a failure to pay principal of, premium on, if any, or interest, if any, on, such Indebtedness or Guarantee prior to the expiration of the grace period provided in such Indebtedness or Guarantee on the date of such default (a “Payment Default”); or
 - (b) results in the acceleration prior to the Stated Maturity of such Indebtedness or of such indebtedness guaranteed by the Company or a Note Guarantor, and, in each case, the principal amount of any such Indebtedness or principal amount in respect of such Guarantee, together with the principal amount of any other such Indebtedness and principal amount in respect of any other such Guarantee under which there has been a Payment Default or the maturity of which has been so accelerated, aggregates ¥15 billion (or foreign currency equivalent) or more;

- (6) failure by the Company or any Note Guarantor to pay final judgments entered by a court or courts of competent jurisdiction aggregating in excess of ¥15 billion (or foreign currency equivalent), which judgments are not paid, discharged or stayed, for a period of 60 days;
- (7) except as permitted by the Indenture, any Note Guarantee is held in any judicial proceeding to be unenforceable or invalid, in whole or in part, or ceases for any reason to be in full force and effect, or any Note Guarantor, or any Person acting on behalf of any Note Guarantor, denies or disaffirms its obligations under its Note Guarantee; or
- (8) certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency described in the Indenture with respect to the Company or any Note Guarantor.

In the case of an Event of Default arising from certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency, with respect to the Company or any Note Guarantor, all outstanding Notes will become due and payable immediately without further action or notice. If any other Event of Default occurs and is continuing with respect to the Notes of any series (regardless of whether the same Event of Default has occurred and is continuing with respect to other series of Notes), the Trustee or the holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of such series may declare all the Notes of such series to be due and payable immediately; provided that holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (as a whole) may declare all the Notes then outstanding to be due and payable immediately.

Subject to certain limitations, holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of any series may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power with respect to the Notes of such series; provided that, to the extent holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes provide directions to the Trustee as to all Notes, such directions shall prevail over directions from holders of one or more specific series of Notes that are limited to such series, to the extent of any inconsistency between or among directions. The Trustee may withhold from holders of the Notes notice of any continuing Default or Event of Default if it determines that withholding notice is in their interest, except a Default or Event of Default relating to the payment of principal, premium, interest or Additional Amounts, if any.

Subject to the provisions of the Indenture relating to the duties of the Trustee, in case an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers under the Indenture at the request or direction of any holders of the Notes unless such holders have offered to the Trustee indemnity or security satisfactory to it against any loss, liability or expense. Except to enforce the right to receive payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest, if any, when due, no holder of a Note may pursue any remedy with respect to the Indenture or the Notes of any series unless:

- (1) such holder has previously given the Trustee written notice that an Event of Default is continuing;
- (2) either (a) holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of such series make a written request to the Trustee to pursue the remedy with respect to the Notes of such series or (b) holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (as a whole) make a written request to the Trustee to pursue the remedy with respect to all Notes;

- (3) such holder or holders offer to the Trustee security or indemnity satisfactory to the Trustee against any loss, liability or expense;
- (4) the Trustee does not comply with such request within 60 days after receipt of the request and the offer of security or indemnity; and
- (5) during such 60-day period, neither (a) holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of such series nor (b) holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (as a whole) give the Trustee a direction inconsistent with such request; provided that a written request under clause (a) of this paragraph shall not reverse a request made under clause (b) of the above paragraph (2).

The holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of the relevant series by written notice to the Trustee may, on behalf of the holders of all of the Notes of the relevant series, rescind an acceleration or waive any existing Default or Event of Default and its consequences under the Indenture as to such series and holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes by written notice to the Trustee may, on behalf of the holders of all of the Notes (as a whole), rescind an acceleration or waive any existing Default or Event of Default and its consequences under the Indenture as to all of the Notes then outstanding (as a whole) if, in either case, the rescission would not conflict with any judgment or decree, except a Default or Event of Default in the payment of principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts, if any, with respect to the Notes (which may only be rescinded or waived by the holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes of the relevant series or the Notes as a whole, as applicable).

The Company is required to deliver to the Trustee annually a statement regarding compliance with the Indenture. Upon becoming aware of any Default or Event of Default, the Company is required to deliver to the Trustee a statement specifying such Default or Event of Default.

No Personal Liability of Directors, Officers, Employees and Stockholders

No director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Company or any Note Guarantor as such, will have any liability for any obligations of the Company or any Note Guarantor under the Notes, the Note Guarantees, the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each holder of Notes by accepting a Note waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes. The waiver may not be effective to waive liabilities under U.S. federal securities laws.

Legal Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance

The Company may at any time, at the option of its Board of Directors evidenced by a resolution set forth in an officers' certificate, elect to have all of its obligations discharged with respect to the outstanding Notes and the Note Guarantors' obligations discharged with respect to the Note Guarantees ("Legal Defeasance") except for:

- (1) the rights of holders of outstanding Notes to receive payments in respect of the principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, such Notes when such payments are due from the trust referred to below;
- (2) the Company's obligations with respect to the Notes concerning issuing temporary Notes, registration of Notes, mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes and the maintenance of an office or agency for payment and money for security payments held in trust;
- (3) the rights, powers, trusts, duties and immunities of the Trustee under the Indenture, and the Company's and the Note Guarantors' obligations in connection therewith; and
- (4) the Legal Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance provisions of the Indenture.

In addition, the Company may, at its option and at any time, elect to have its obligations or obligations of the Note Guarantors released with respect to certain covenants (including its obligation to make Change of Control Offers) that are described in the Indenture ("Covenant Defeasance") and thereafter any omission to comply with those covenants will not constitute a Default or Event of Default with respect to the Notes. In the event Covenant Defeasance occurs, all Events of Default described under "—Events of Default and Remedies" (except those relating to payments on the Notes or bankruptcy, receivership, rehabilitation or insolvency events) will no longer constitute an Event of Default with respect to the Notes.

In order to exercise either Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance:

- (1) the Company must irrevocably deposit with the Trustee or such other entity designated by the Trustee for this purpose, in trust, for the benefit of the holders of the Dollar Notes, cash in U.S. dollars, U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof, or, for the benefit of the holders of the Euro Notes, cash in euro, European Government Obligations or a combination thereof, in amounts as will be sufficient, in the opinion of an internationally recognized investment bank, appraisal firm or firm of independent public accountants, to pay the principal of, premium on, interest on and Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the outstanding Notes on the stated date for payment thereof or on the applicable redemption date, as the case may be, and the Company must specify whether the Notes are being defeased to such stated date for payment or to a particular redemption date;
- (2) no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing either: (a) on the date of such deposit (other than a Default or Event of Default resulting from the borrowing of funds to be applied to such deposit (and any similar concurrent deposit relating to other Indebtedness), and the granting of Liens to secure such borrowing) or (b) insofar as Events of Default from bankruptcy or insolvency events are concerned, at any time in the period ending on the 366th day after the date of deposit;
- (3) such Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any material agreement or instrument (other than the Indenture and the agreements governing any other Indebtedness being defeased, discharged or replaced) to which the Company is a party or by which the Company is bound;
- (4) the Company must deliver to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, reasonably acceptable to the Trustee, to the effect that after the 366th day following the deposit, the trust funds will not be subject to the effect of any applicable preference or similar insolvency laws affecting creditors' rights generally;
- (5) the Company must deliver to the Trustee an officers' certificate stating that the deposit was not made by the Company with the intent of preferring the holders of the Notes over the other creditors of the Company or the Note Guarantors with the intent of defeating, hindering, delaying or defrauding any creditors of the Company, the Note Guarantors or others; and
- (6) the Company must deliver to the Trustee an officers' certificate and an opinion of counsel, each stating that all conditions precedent relating to the Legal Defeasance or the Covenant Defeasance have been complied with.

Amendment, Supplement and Waiver

Except as provided in the next two succeeding paragraphs, the Indenture, the Notes or the Note Guarantees may be amended or supplemented with the consent of the holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (including, without limitation, Additional Notes, if any) voting as a single class (including, without limitation, consents obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes), and any existing Default or Event of Default (other than a Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the Notes, except a Payment Default resulting from an acceleration that has been rescinded) or compliance with any provision of the Indenture, the Notes or the Note Guarantees may be waived with the consent of the holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (including, without limitation, Additional Notes, if any) voting as a single class (including, without limitation, consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes); provided that, if any amendment, waiver or other modification only relates to the Dollar Notes or the Euro Notes, then only the consent of the holders of at least a majority in principal amount of the then outstanding Dollar Notes or the Euro Notes (including, without limitation, any Additional Dollar Notes or any Additional Euro Notes, as applicable), and not the consent of at least a majority of all Notes then outstanding, shall be required.

Without the consent of (i) holders of Notes holding not less than 90% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of Notes, or, (ii) if the amendment, supplement or waiver only relates to the Dollar Notes or the Euro Notes, then holders of Dollar Notes or Euro Notes holding not less than 90% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Dollar Notes or the Euro Notes (as applicable), an amendment, supplement or waiver may not (with respect to any Notes held by a non-consenting holder):

- (1) reduce the principal amount of Notes whose holders must consent to an amendment, supplement or waiver;

- (2) reduce the principal of or change the fixed maturity of any Note or alter or waive any of the provisions with respect to the redemption of the Notes (except those provisions relating to the covenant described above under the caption “—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event”);
- (3) reduce the rate of or change the time for payment of interest, including default interest, on any Note;
- (4) waive a Default or Event of Default in the payment of principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the Notes (except a rescission of acceleration of the Notes by the holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes and a waiver of the Payment Default that resulted from such acceleration);
- (5) make any Note payable in money other than that stated in the Notes;
- (6) make any change in the provisions of the Indenture relating to waivers of past Defaults or the rights of holders of the Notes to receive payments of principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the Notes;
- (7) waive a redemption payment with respect to any Note (other than a payment required by the covenant described above under the caption “—Repurchase at the Option of Holders upon a Change of Control Triggering Event”);
- (8) release any Note Guarantor from any of its obligations under its Note Guarantee or the Indenture, except in accordance with the terms of the Indenture; or
- (9) make any change in the preceding amendment and waiver provisions.

Notwithstanding the preceding, without the consent of any holder of Notes, the Company, the Note Guarantor and the Trustee may amend or supplement the Indenture, the Notes or the Note Guarantees:

- (1) to cure any ambiguity, defect or inconsistency;
- (2) to provide for uncertificated Notes in addition to or in place of Definitive Registered Notes;
- (3) to provide for the assumption of the Company’s or a Note Guarantor’s obligations to holders of the Notes and Note Guarantees in the case of a merger or consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of the Company’s or such Note Guarantor’s assets;
- (4) to make any change that would provide any additional rights or benefits to the holders of the Notes or that does not adversely affect the legal rights under the Indenture of any holder in any material respect;
- (5) to conform the text of the Indenture, the Notes or the Note Guarantees to any provision of this Description of the Notes to the extent that such provision in this Description of the Notes was intended to be a verbatim recitation of a provision of the Indenture, the Notes or the Note Guarantees, which intent may be evidenced by an officers’ certificate to that effect;
- (6) to provide for the issuance of Additional Notes in accordance with the limitations set forth in the Indenture as of the date thereof;
- (7) to allow any Note Guarantor to execute a supplemental indenture or a Note Guarantee with respect to the Notes;
- (8) to secure the Notes;
- (9) to give effect to Permitted Liens;
- (10) to evidence and provide for the acceptance and appointment under the Indenture of a successor trustee pursuant to the requirements thereof; or
- (11) to make any amendment to the provisions of the Indenture relating to the transfer and legending of Notes as permitted by the Indenture, including, without limitation to facilitate the issuance and administration of the Notes; provided that (i) compliance with the Indenture as so amended would not result in Notes being transferred in violation of the U.S. Securities Act or any applicable securities law and (ii) such amendment does not materially and adversely affect the rights of holders to transfer Notes.

For purposes of determining whether the holders of the requisite principal amount of Notes have taken any action under the Indenture (other than with respect to a determination that only affects one or more series of the Euro Notes), the principal amount of Euro Notes shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of such principal amount of such Euro Notes as of (a) if a record date has been set with respect to the taking of such action, such date or (b) if no such record date has been set, the date the taking of such action by the holders of such requisite principal amount is certified to the Trustee by the Company.

The consent of the holders of the Notes is not necessary under the Indenture to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment. It is sufficient if such consent approves the substance of the proposed amendment. A consent to any amendment or waiver under the Indenture by any holder given in connection with a tender of such holder's Notes will not be rendered invalid by such tender.

In formulating its decision on such matters, the Trustee shall be entitled to require and rely conclusively on such evidence as it deems necessary, including officers' certificates and opinions of counsel.

Satisfaction and Discharge

The Indenture will be discharged and will cease to be of further effect as to all Notes issued thereunder, when:

- (1) either:
 - (a) all Notes that have been authenticated, except lost, stolen or destroyed Notes that have been replaced or paid and Notes for whose payment money has been deposited in trust and thereafter repaid to the Company, have been delivered to the Paying Agent for cancellation; or
 - (b) all Notes that have not been delivered to the Paying Agent for cancellation have become due and payable by reason of the mailing of a notice of redemption or otherwise or will become due and payable within one year and the Company or any Note Guarantor has irrevocably deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee (or such other entity designated by the Trustee for such purpose) as trust funds in trust solely for the benefit of the holders, cash in U.S. dollars, U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof, with respect to the Dollar Notes, or cash in euro, European Government Obligations or a combination thereof, with respect to the Euro Notes, and, in either case, in amounts as will be sufficient, without consideration of any reinvestment of interest, to pay and discharge the entire Indebtedness on the Notes not delivered to the Paying Agent for cancellation for principal of, premium on, interest on or Additional Amounts with respect to, if any, the Notes to the date of maturity or redemption;
- (2) in respect of clause 1(b), no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on the date of the deposit (other than a Default or Event of Default resulting from the borrowing of funds to be applied to such deposit and any similar deposit relating to other Indebtedness and, in each case, the granting of Liens to secure such borrowings) and the deposit will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any other instrument to which the Company or any Note Guarantor is a party or by which the Company or any Note Guarantor is bound (other than with respect to the borrowing of funds to be applied concurrently to make the deposit required to effect such satisfaction and discharge and any similar concurrent deposit relating to other Indebtedness, and in each case the granting of Liens to secure such borrowings);
- (3) the Company or any Note Guarantor has paid or caused to be paid all sums payable by it under the Indenture; and
- (4) the Company has delivered irrevocable instructions to the Trustee under the Indenture to apply the deposited money toward the payment of the Notes at maturity or on the redemption date, as the case may be.

In addition, the Company must deliver an officers' certificate and an opinion of counsel to the Trustee stating that all conditions precedent to satisfaction and discharge have been satisfied.

Judgment Currency

The sole currency of account and payment for all sums payable by the Company or any Note Guarantor under the Indenture with respect to Dollar Notes is U.S. dollars and with respect to Euro Notes is euro. Any payment on account of an amount that is payable in U.S. dollars or euros, as the case may be (the "Required Currency"), which is made to or for the account of any holder of the Notes or the Trustee in lawful currency of any other jurisdiction (the "Judgment Currency"), whether as a result of any judgment or order or the enforcement thereof or the liquidation of the Company or a Note Guarantor, shall constitute a discharge of the obligations of the Company and the Note Guarantor under the Indenture, the Notes and the Note Guarantees only to the extent of the amount of the Required Currency which such holder or the Trustee, as the case may be, could purchase in the London foreign exchange markets with the amount of the Judgment Currency in accordance with normal banking procedures at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the receipt or recovery of the payment in the Judgment Currency (or, if it is not practicable to make that purchase on that date, on the first date on which it is practicable to do so).

The Indenture provides that in case an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee will be required, in the exercise of its power, to use the degree of care of a prudent man in the conduct of his own affairs. Subject to such provisions, the Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of its rights or powers under the Indenture at the request of any holder of Notes, unless such holder has offered to the Trustee indemnity or security satisfactory to it against any loss, liability or expense.

The Dollar Notes will be issued in registered, global form in minimum denominations of $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof and the Euro Notes will be issued in registered, global form in minimum denominations of €100,000 and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof.

The Book-Entry Interests will not be held in definitive form. Instead, Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, will credit on their respective book-entry registration and transfer systems a participant’s account with the interest beneficially owned by such participant. The laws of some jurisdictions may require that certain purchasers of securities take physical delivery of such securities in definitive form. The foregoing limitations may impair the ability to own, transfer or pledge Book-Entry Interests. In addition, while the Notes are in global form, owners of interest in the Global Notes will not have the Notes registered in their names, will not receive physical delivery of the Notes in certificated form and will not be considered the registered owners or “holder” of the Notes under the Indenture for any purpose.

So long as the Notes are held in global form, the common depository for Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable (or their respective nominees), will be considered the holders of Global Notes for all purposes under the Indenture. As such, participants must rely on the procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, and indirect participants must rely on the procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, and the participants through which they own Book-Entry Interests in order to exercise any rights of holders under the Indenture.

Beneficial interests in the Global Notes may not be exchanged for Definitive Registered Notes except in the limited circumstances described below. See “—Exchange of Global Notes for Definitive Registered Notes.” Except in the limited circumstances described below, owners of beneficial interests in the Global Notes will not be entitled to receive physical delivery of Notes in certificated form.

The Notes will bear the legend described under “Notice to Investors.”

Exchange of Global Notes for Definitive Registered Notes

Under the terms of the Indenture, owners of Book-Entry Interests will receive definitive notes in registered form (the “Definitive Registered Notes”):

- (1) if Euroclear or Clearstream notifies the Company that it is unwilling or unable to continue to act as depository and a successor depository is not appointed by the Company within 120 days; or
- (2) if the owner of a Book-Entry Interest requests such exchange in writing delivered through Euroclear or Clearstream following an event of default under the Indenture.

Euroclear and Clearstream have advised the Company that upon request by an owner of a Book-Entry Interest described in the immediately preceding clause (2), their current procedure is to request that the Company issues or causes to be issued Notes in definitive registered form to all owners of Book-Entry Interests and not only to the owner who made the initial request.

In such an event described in clauses (1) and (2), the Registrar will issue Definitive Registered Notes, registered in the name or names and issued in any approved denominations, requested by or on behalf of Euroclear, Clearstream or the Company, as applicable (in accordance with their respective customary procedures and based upon directions received from participants reflecting the beneficial ownership of Book-Entry Interests), and such Definitive Registered Notes will bear the restrictive legend as provided in the Indenture, unless that legend is not required by the Indenture or applicable law.

Exchange of Certificated Notes for Global Notes

Certificated Notes may not be exchanged for beneficial interests in any Global Note unless the transferor first delivers to the Trustee a written certificate (in the form provided in the Indenture) to the effect that such transfer will comply with the appropriate transfer restrictions applicable to such Notes. See “Notice to Investors.”

Redemption of the Global Notes

In the event any Global Note, or any portion thereof, is redeemed, Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, will distribute the amount received by it in respect of the Global Note so redeemed to the holders of the Book-Entry Interests in such Global Note from the amount received by it in respect of the redemption of such Global Note. The redemption price payable in connection with the redemption of such Book-Entry Interests will be equal to the amount received by Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, in connection with the redemption of such Global Note (or any portion thereof). The Company understands that under existing practices of Euroclear and Clearstream if fewer than all of the Notes are to be redeemed at any time, Euroclear and Clearstream will credit their respective participants' accounts on a proportionate basis (with adjustments to prevent fractions) or on such other basis as they deem fair and appropriate; provided that no Book-Entry Interest of less than €100,000 (in the case of the Euro Global Notes) or $200,000 (in the case of the Dollar Global Notes) principal amount at maturity, or less, may be redeemed in part.

Payments on Global Notes

Payments of amounts owing in respect of the Global Notes (including principal, premium, interest, additional interest and Additional Amounts) will be made by the Company to the paying agent. The paying agent will, in turn, make such payments to the common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, which will distribute such payments to participants in accordance with their respective procedures.

Under the terms of the Indenture governing the Notes, the Company, the Trustee and the Agents (as defined in the Indenture) will treat the registered holder of the Global Notes (for example, Euroclear or Clearstream (or their respective nominees)) as the owner thereof for the purpose of receiving payments and for all other purposes. Consequently, neither the Company, the Trustee nor any Agent nor any of their respective agents has or will have any responsibility or liability for:

- any aspects of the records of Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to or payments made on account of a Book-Entry Interest, for any such payments made by Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing the records of Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to, or payments made on account of, a Book-Entry Interest;
- payments made by Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing the records of Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to or payments made on account of a Book-Entry Interest; or
- Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant.

Payments by participants to owners of Book-Entry Interests held through participants are the responsibility of such participants, as is now the case with securities held for the accounts of subscribers registered in "street name."

Currency of Payment for the Global Notes

The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, and all other amounts payable in respect of (including Additional Amounts), the Global Notes will be paid to holders of interests to such Notes (the "Euroclear/Clearstream Holders") through Euroclear and/or Clearstream in U.S. dollars with respect to the Dollar Notes or in euro with respect to the Euro Notes.

Action by Owners of Book-Entry Interests

Euroclear and Clearstream have advised the Company that they will take any action permitted to be taken by a holder of Notes (including the presentation of Notes for exchange as described above) only at the direction of one or more participants to whose account the Book-Entry Interests in the Global Notes are credited and only in respect of such portion of the aggregate principal amount of Notes as to which such participant or participants has or have given such direction. Euroclear and Clearstream will not exercise any discretion in the granting of consents or waivers or the taking of any other action in respect of the Global Notes. However, if there is an event of default under the Notes, each of Euroclear and Clearstream, at the request of the holders of the Notes, reserve the right to exchange the Global Notes for Definitive Registered Notes and to distribute such Definitive Registered Notes to their participants.

Transfers

Transfers between participants in Euroclear and/or Clearstream will be effected in accordance with Euroclear and Clearstream's rules and will be settled in immediately available funds. If a holder of Notes requires physical delivery of Definitive Registered Notes for any reason, including to sell Notes to persons in states which require physical delivery of such securities or to pledge such securities, such holder of Notes must transfer its interests in the Global Notes in accordance with the normal procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream and in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture.

The Global Notes will bear a legend to the effect set forth in “Notice to Investors.” Book-Entry Interests in the Global Notes will be subject to the restrictions on transfer discussed in “Notice to Investors.”

Information Concerning Euroclear and Clearstream

All Book-Entry Interests will be subject to the operations and procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, as applicable. The Company provides the following summaries of those operations and procedures solely for the convenience of investors. The operations and procedures of each settlement system are controlled by that settlement system and may be changed at any time. Neither the Company nor the initial purchasers are responsible for those operations or procedures.

The Company understands as follows with respect to Euroclear and Clearstream: Euroclear and Clearstream hold securities for participating organizations. They facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions between their participants through electronic book-entry changes in the accounts of such participants. Euroclear and Clearstream provide various services to their participants, including the safekeeping, administration, clearance, settlement, lending and borrowing of internationally traded securities. Euroclear and Clearstream interface with domestic securities markets. Euroclear and Clearstream participants are financial institutions such as underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and certain other organizations. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream is also available to others such as banks, brokers, dealers and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Euroclear and Clearstream participant, either directly or indirectly.

Because Euroclear and Clearstream can only act on behalf of participants, who in turn act on behalf of indirect participants and certain banks, the ability of an owner of a beneficial interest to pledge such interest to persons or entities that do not participate in the Euroclear and/or Clearstream system, or otherwise take actions in respect of such interest, may be limited by the lack of a definitive certificate for that interest. The laws of some jurisdictions require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer beneficial interests to such persons may be limited.

Global Clearance and Settlement under the Book-Entry System

Although Euroclear or Clearstream currently follow the foregoing procedures in order to facilitate transfers of interests in the Global Notes among participants in Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued or modified at any time. None of the Company, any Note Guarantor, the Trustee or the Agents will have any responsibility for the performance by Euroclear or Clearstream or their respective participants or indirect participants, of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

Initial Settlement

Initial settlement for the Notes will be made in U.S. dollars and euros. Book-Entry Interests owned through Euroclear or Clearstream accounts will follow the settlement procedures applicable to conventional Eurobonds in registered form. Book-Entry Interests will be credited to the securities custody accounts of Euroclear/Clearstream Holders on the Business Day following the settlement date against payment for value on the settlement date.

Secondary Market Trading

The Book-Entry Interests that trade through participants of Euroclear or Clearstream will settle in same-day funds. Since the purchase determines the place of delivery, it is important to establish at the time of trading of any Book-Entry Interests where both the purchaser’s and the seller’s accounts are located to ensure that settlement can be made on the desired value date.

Special Timing Considerations

You should be aware that investors will only be able to make and receive deliveries, payments and other communications involving the Notes through Euroclear or Clearstream on days when those systems are open for business.

Trustee's Powers

In considering the interests of the holders of the Notes, while title to the Notes is registered in the name of a nominee of a clearing system, the Trustee may have regard to, and rely on, any information provided to it by that clearing system as to the identity (either individually or by category) of its accountholders with entitlements to Notes and may consider such interests as if such accountholders were the holders of the Notes.

Enforcement

For the purposes of enforcement of the provisions of the Indenture by the Trustee, the persons named in a certificate of the holder of the Notes in respect of which a Global Note is issued shall be recognized as the beneficiaries of the trusts set out in the Indenture to the extent of the principal amounts of their interests in the Notes set out in the certificate of the holder, as if they were themselves the holders of the Notes in such principal amounts.

MATERIAL JAPANESE TAXATION CONSIDERATIONS

The following discussion summarizes certain Japanese tax consequences to prospective holders arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Notes. The summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all potential Japanese tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Notes and is not intended as tax advice to any particular investor. This summary does not describe any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, locality or other taxing jurisdiction other than Japan or any Japanese consequences other than Japanese tax consequences.

Prospective holders of the Notes should consult their own tax advisors as the Japanese or other tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Notes, including, in particular, the application of the tax considerations discussed below to their particular situations, as well as the application of any state, local, foreign or other tax laws.

The following description is a summary of Japanese tax consequences (limited to national taxes) to holders of the Notes, principally relating to such holders that are individual non-residents of Japan or non-Japanese corporations, having no permanent establishment in Japan, and applicable to interest and the Redemption Gains (as defined below) with respect to Notes that we will issue outside Japan, as well as to certain aspects of capital gains, inheritance and gift taxes. It does not address the tax treatment of the original issue discount of the Notes bearing no interest that fall under “discounted bonds” as prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act or any Notes on which interest is calculated based on any indices, including the amount of our profits or assets or those of any specially-related person of ours (as defined below).

The statements regarding Japanese tax laws set out below are based on the laws in force and as interpreted by the Japanese taxation authorities as at the date hereof and are subject to changes in the applicable Japanese laws or tax treaties, conventions or agreements or in the interpretation thereof after such date. Prospective investors should note that the following description of Japanese taxation is not exhaustive.

Representation upon Initial Distribution

By subscribing for Notes, an investor will be deemed to have represented that it is a “gross recipient,” i.e., (1) a beneficial owner that is, for Japanese tax purposes, neither an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a person having a special relationship with us as described in Article 6, Paragraph 4 of the Special Taxation Measures Act, or a specially-related person of ours, (2) a Japanese financial institution or financial instruments business operator as designated in Article 3-2-2, Paragraph 28 of the Cabinet Order (Cabinet Order No. 43 of 1957, as amended) relating to the Special Taxation Measures Act that will hold the Notes for its own proprietary account or (3) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation whose receipt of interest on the Notes will be made through a payment-handling agent in Japan as defined in Article 2-2, Paragraph 2 of the Cabinet Order. The Notes are not as part of the initial distribution by the Initial Purchasers at any time to be directly or indirectly offered or sold in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any person other than a gross recipient, except as specifically permitted under the Special Taxation Measures Act.

Interest and Redemption Gains

Interest payments on the Notes will be subject to Japanese withholding tax unless the holder establishes that the Note is held by or for the account of a holder that is (1) for Japanese tax purposes, neither (a) an individual resident of Japan or a Japanese corporation, nor (b) an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours, and in compliance with certain requirements for tax exemption under the Special Taxation Measures Act, or (2) a Japanese designated financial institution or financial instruments business operator as described in Article 6, Paragraph 9 of the Special Taxation Measures Act which complies with the requirement for tax exemption under that Paragraph.

Interest payments on the Notes to an individual resident of Japan, to a Japanese corporation not described in item (2) of the preceding paragraph, to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours, or to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours and does not comply with the requirements described in item (1) of the preceding paragraph will be subject to deduction in respect of Japanese income tax at a rate of 15.315% of the amount specified in subparagraphs (a) or (b) below, as applicable:

- (a) if interest is paid to an individual resident of Japan, to a Japanese corporation, or to an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation that in either case is a specially-related person of ours (except as provided in subparagraph (b) below), the amount of such interest; or

- (b) if interest is paid to a public corporation, a financial institution, a financial instruments business operator or certain other entities through a Japanese payment-handling agent, as provided in Article 3-3, Paragraph 6 of the Special Taxation Measures Act in compliance with the requirement for tax exemption under that paragraph, the amount of such interest minus the amount accrued during the period held, without any cessation, by such entities as provided in the Cabinet Order relating to the said Paragraph 6.

A legend containing a statement to the same effect as set forth in the preceding paragraphs will be printed on the relevant Notes or global Note, as applicable, in compliance with the requirements of the Special Taxation Measures Act and regulations thereunder.

If the recipient of interest on the Notes is a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, or having a permanent establishment in Japan but the receipt of the interest on the Notes is not attributable to the business thereof carried on in Japan through such permanent establishment, that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours, no Japanese income tax or corporation tax will be payable with respect to such interest whether by way of withholding or otherwise, if such recipient complies with certain requirements, inter alia:

- (x) if the relevant Notes are held through a participant in an international clearing organization, such as DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream or through a financial intermediary, in each case, as prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act (each such participant or financial intermediary being referred to as a “Participant”), the requirement to provide certain information prescribed by the Special Taxation Measures Act to enable the Participant to establish that the recipient is exempt from the requirement for Japanese tax to be withheld or deducted, and to advise the Participant if the holder of the Notes ceases to be so exempted (including the case where the holder became a specially-related person of ours); and
- (y) if the relevant Notes are not held through a Participant, the requirement to submit to the relevant paying agent that makes payment of interest on the Notes a written application for tax exemption (hikazei tekiyo shinkokusho), together with certain documentary evidence, at or prior to each time interest is received.

If a recipient of interest on the Notes is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, which is subject to Japanese withholding tax due to its status as a specially-related person of ours or for any other reason, (1) the rate of withholding tax may be reduced, generally to 10%, under the applicable tax treaty, convention or agreement, and (2) if such recipient is not subject to Japanese tax under the applicable tax treaty, convention or agreement due to its status as a financial institution in the relevant country, such as the United States and the United Kingdom, or for any other reason, no Japanese income tax or corporation tax will be payable with respect to such interest whether by way of withholding or otherwise; provided that, in either case (1) or (2) above, such recipient shall submit required documents and information (if any) to the relevant tax authority.

If the recipient of any difference between the acquisition cost of the New Notes and the redemption price of the Notes as referred to in Article 41-13, Paragraph 3 and Article 67-17, Paragraph 3 of the Special Taxation Measures Act (the “Redemption Gains”) is a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, that in either case is not a specially-related person of ours, no income tax or corporation tax will be withheld with respect to such Redemption Gains.

Capital Gains, Inheritance and Gift Taxes

Gains derived from the sale of the Notes, whether within or outside Japan, by a holder that is an individual non-resident of Japan or a non-Japanese corporation, having no permanent establishment in Japan, will be, in general, not subject to Japanese income or corporation tax.

Japanese inheritance and gift taxes at progressive rates may be payable by an individual who has acquired the Notes as a legatee, heir or donee, even if the individual is not a Japanese resident.

No stamp, issue, registration or similar taxes or duties will, under present Japanese law, be payable by holders of the Notes in connection with the issue of the Notes outside Japan.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Subject to the terms and conditions of a purchase agreement dated the date of this offering memorandum entered into between the Company, the Note Guarantor and the Initial Purchasers, each of the Initial Purchasers has agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase from us the Notes at the initial offering price set forth on the cover page of this offering memorandum minus discounts and commissions.

The purchase agreement provides that the obligations of the several Initial Purchasers to purchase the Notes are subject to certain conditions precedent and that the Initial Purchasers will purchase all of the Notes if any of the Notes are purchased. The purchase agreement also provides that if an Initial Purchaser defaults, the purchase commitments of the non-defaulting Initial Purchasers may be increased or this offering may be terminated.

The Company and the Note Guarantor have agreed, on a joint and several basis, to indemnify the Initial Purchasers against some specified types of liabilities, including liabilities under the U.S. Securities Act, and to contribute to payments the Initial Purchasers may be required to make in respect of any of these liabilities. The Company and the Note Guarantor have also agreed, on a joint and several basis, to reimburse the Initial Purchasers for certain expenses incidental to the sale of the Notes.

The Initial Purchasers are offering the Notes, subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued to and accepted by them, subject to approval of legal matters by their counsel, including the validity of the Notes, and other conditions contained in the purchase agreement, such as the receipt by the Initial Purchasers of certain legal opinions and officers' certificates confirming, among other things, the lack of any legal restriction or injunction with respect to the consummation of the offering of the Notes. The Initial Purchasers reserve the right to withdraw, cancel or modify offers to investors and to reject orders in whole or in part. After the initial offering, the Initial Purchasers may change the offering price and other selling terms.

The Initial Purchasers are only acting for the Company and the Note Guarantor in connection with the transaction referred to in this offering memorandum and no one else and will not be responsible to anyone other than the Company and the Note Guarantor for providing the protections offered to clients of the Initial Purchasers nor for providing advice in relation to the transaction, this document or any arrangement or other matter referred to herein.

No Sale of Similar Securities

The Company and the Note Guarantor have agreed that during the period from the date hereof through and including the date that is 45 days after the date the Notes are issued, without the prior written consent of Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch the Company and the Note Guarantor will not offer, sell, contract to sell or otherwise dispose of any debt securities issued or guaranteed by the Company or the Note Guarantor. This provision does not apply to (i) any debt securities which either confer a right to receive payment, or by their terms are payable, in yen, or are denominated in any other currency and more than 50% of the aggregate principal amount thereof is initially distributed in Japan; (ii) any equity-linked securities; (iii) any securities classified as equity under IFRS; or (iv) the Exchange Notes.

New Issue of Notes

The Notes are a new issue of securities with no established trading market. The Initial Purchasers may make a market in the Notes after completion of this offering, but will not be obligated to do so and may discontinue any market-making activities at any time without notice. If an active trading market for the Notes does not develop, the market price and liquidity of the Notes may be adversely affected.

Approval in-principle has been received for the listing and quotation of the Notes on the SGX-ST. There can be no assurance that such listing will be obtained or maintained.

Delivery, Payment and Settlement

The Company expects that delivery of the Notes will be made against payment therefore on or about the date specified on the cover page of this offering memorandum, which will be the seventh business day following the date of pricing of the Notes (this settlement cycle being referred to as "T+7").

Stabilization

In connection with this offering, the Initial Purchasers may purchase and sell the Notes in the open market. These transactions may include short sales, purchases to cover positions created by short sales and stabilizing transactions. Short sales involve the sale by the Initial Purchasers of a greater principal amount of Notes than they are required to purchase in this offering. The Initial Purchasers may close out any short position by purchasing Notes in the open market. A short position is more likely to be created if the Initial Purchasers are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the Notes in the open market prior to the completion of this offering.

Stabilizing transactions consist of various bids for or purchases of the Notes made by the Initial Purchasers in the open market prior to the completion of this offering. The Initial Purchasers may impose a penalty bid. This occurs when a particular Initial Purchaser repays to the other Initial Purchasers a portion of the underwriting discount received by it because the other Initial Purchasers have repurchased the Notes sold by or for the account of that Initial Purchaser in stabilizing or short covering transactions.

Purchases to cover a short position and stabilizing transactions may have the effect of preventing or slowing a decline in the market price of the Notes. Additionally, these purchases, along with the imposition of the penalty bid, may stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of the Notes. As a result, the price of the Notes may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. These transactions may be effected in the over-the-counter market or otherwise.

Other Relationships

Some of the Initial Purchasers and their affiliates have from time to time performed, and may in the future perform, various investment banking, financial advisory, commercial banking, agency and trustee and other commercial services for us or our affiliates. They have received, or may in the future receive, customary fees and commissions for these services. Some of the Initial Purchasers and their respective affiliates are lenders under the Senior Term Loan, expect to be lenders under the Margin Loan Agreement, have made loans to certain of our affiliates and have entered into various hedging arrangements with us or our affiliates.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the Initial Purchasers and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of ours or our affiliates. Certain of the Initial Purchasers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with us routinely hedge their credit exposure to us consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such Initial Purchasers and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in our securities, including potentially the Notes. Any such short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the Notes. The Initial Purchasers and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

MiFID II Product Governance / Professional Investors and ECPs Only Target Market

Solely for the purposes of each of the Company, the Note Guarantor and the Initial Purchasers' (each a "Manufacturer") product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Notes has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Notes is eligible counterparties and professional clients only, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II"); and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Notes to eligible counterparties and professional clients are appropriate. The target market and distribution channel(s) may vary in relation to sales outside the EEA in light of local regulatory regimes in force in the relevant jurisdiction. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a "Distributor") should take into consideration the Manufacturers' target market assessment; however, a Distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers' target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

Selling Restrictions

No key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared. Offering or selling the notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

churn	The number of customers who terminate their service in any particular period.
churn rate	In our Domestic Telecommunications segment, churn rate is a measure that tracks customer retention by showing the percentage of subscribers who terminate their service (“churn”) relative to the total mobile main subscriber base for a given period (excluding subscribers who switch between SoftBank and Y!mobile using MNP). In our Sprint segment, churn rate is calculated by dividing net subscriber deactivations for the quarter by the sum of the average number of subscribers for each month in the quarter.

The FDD system assigns uplink and downlink communications to a pair of different frequency bandwidths, and is referred to as FDD-LTE. The TDD system uses the same frequency bandwidth for both uplink and downlink, and is referred to as TD-LTE. LTE-Advanced is a fourth generation (4G) high-speed wireless communication standard, capable of downlink speeds of more than 1 Gbps under certain system configurations.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of SoftBank Group Corp.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial position of SoftBank Group Corp. and its subsidiaries (the "Company") as of March 31, 2017, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to consolidated financial statements, all expressed in Japanese yen.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of SoftBank Group Corp. and its subsidiaries as of March 31, 2017, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Convenience Translation

Our audit also comprehended the translation of Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts and, in our opinion, such translation has been made in accordance with the basis stated in Note 2 (3) to the consolidated financial statements. Such U.S. dollar amounts are presented solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan.

3. Significant accounting policies

Accounting policies the Company has adopted have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these consolidated financial statements.

(1) Basis of consolidation

a. Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity that is controlled by SoftBank Group Corp.

The Company controls an entity when the Company is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

The subsidiaries’ financial statements are consolidated from the date when control is acquired (“acquisition date”) until the date when the control is lost.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with those used by the Company.

Non-controlling interests consist of those interests at the acquisition date and any adjustments for subsequent changes in those interests.

Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is generally attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

All intragroup balances and transactions and unrealized gain or loss arising from intragroup transactions are eliminated on consolidation.

Changes in the Company’s ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Company losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Company’s interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their interests in the subsidiaries.

Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to owners of the parent.

When SoftBank Group Corp. loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is calculated as the difference between:

- the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest; and
- the net carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), liabilities, and non-controlling interests of the subsidiary when control is lost.

Any amounts previously recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income in relation to the former subsidiaries are reclassified to profit or loss.

b. Associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which SoftBank Group Corp. has significant influence in the financial and operating policy decisions, but does not have control or joint control.

A joint venture is an investment which parties including SoftBank Group Corp. have joint control based on the contractual arrangement that requires unanimous consent related to significant decisions of the business activities and have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

Investments in associates and joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method and are initially recognized at cost. The investment is adjusted thereafter to recognize the Company's interest of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date of acquisition to the date of loss of significant influence.

However, regarding preferred stock investment in associates, when the feature of preferred stock is substantively different from common stock, it is not accounted for using the equity method, and it is designated as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("financial assets at FVTPL"). Please refer to "(4) Financial instruments" in "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" for details.

When the losses of an associate and a joint venture exceed the Company's interest in the associate and the joint venture, long-term interests that, in substance, form a part of the net investment in the company are decreased to zero, and no additional loss is recognized except when the Company incurs legal or constructive obligations to or makes payments on behalf of the associate and the joint venture.

Unrealized gains or losses on intercompany transactions with associates and joint ventures are added to or deducted from the carrying amount of the investments only to the extent of the Company's interests in the associates and the joint ventures.

Any excess in the cost of acquisition of an associate and a joint venture over the Company's interest of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities recognized at the date of acquisition is recognized as goodwill and included within the carrying amount of the investments in associates and joint ventures.

Because goodwill is not separately recognized, it is not tested for impairment separately. Instead, the entire carrying amount of the investments in associates and joint ventures, including goodwill, is tested for impairment as a single asset whenever objective evidence indicates that the investment may be impaired.

The Company applies the equity method to the financial statements of Alibaba, an associate of the Company, on a three-month time lag, as it is impracticable to conform the reporting period of Alibaba due to the contract with Alibaba. Adjustments are made for significant transactions or events that occurred during the intervening period and which were publicly announced by Alibaba.

(2) Business combinations

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method at the acquisition date.

The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured as the sum of the assets transferred by the Company, liabilities assumed by the Company from the former owners of the acquiree, and the fair value at the acquisition date of the equity interests issued by the Company. Acquisition-related costs are recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognized at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and assets or liabilities related to employee benefits are recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 12 “Income Taxes” and IAS 19 “Employee Benefits,” respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 “Share-based Payment” at the acquisition date; and
- assets or disposal groups that are classified as held-for-sale are measured in accordance with IFRS 5 “Non-current Assets Held-for-Sale and Discontinued Operations.”

The excess of the consideration transferred and the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired at the acquisition date is recorded as goodwill. If the consideration transferred and the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree is less than the fair value of the identifiable net assets of the acquired subsidiary, the difference is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

On an acquisition-by-acquisition basis, the Company chooses a measurement basis of non-controlling interests at either fair value or by the proportionate share of the non-controlling interests in the recognized amounts of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Company’s previously held interest in the acquiree is remeasured at fair value at the acquisition date and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognized in profit or loss.

Amounts arising from changes in the value of interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognized in other comprehensive income are recognized in profit or loss.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the fiscal year, the Company reports in its consolidated financial statements provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. The Company retrospectively adjusts the provisional amounts recognized at the acquisition date as an adjustment during the measurement period when new information about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date and, if known, would have affected the recognized amounts for the business combination. The measurement period shall not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

Goodwill arising in business combinations that occurred before the date of transition to IFRSs is carried over at the carrying amount under the previous accounting principles (Japanese Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, “JGAAP”) as of the date of transition to IFRSs, and recorded by that amount after an impairment test.

(3) Foreign currency translation

a. Transactions denominated in foreign currencies

The financial statements of each group company are prepared in their functional currency. Transactions in currencies other than the entity’s functional currency (foreign currencies) are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates prevailing at the end of the fiscal year. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising from translation are recognized in profit or loss, except for exchange differences arising from non-monetary available-for-sale financial assets measured through other comprehensive income and cash flow hedges are recognized in other comprehensive income.

b. Foreign operations

For the purposes of presenting consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Company’s foreign operations (including goodwill arising from acquisitions and the adjustments of fair value) are translated into Japanese yen using exchange rates prevailing at the end of the fiscal year.

Income, expenses and cash flows are translated into Japanese yen by using the average exchange rates for each quarter. When the translated amounts do not approximate the amounts translated by the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions, the exchange rates at the transaction dates are used for the translation.

The exchange rates used in the translation are described in “Note 29. Foreign currency exchange rates.”

Exchange differences arising from translating the financial statements of foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income and cumulative differences are included in accumulated other comprehensive income.

These cumulative differences are reclassified from equity to profit or loss when the Company loses control or significant influence over the foreign operation.

(4) Financial instruments

a. Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contract provision of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at fair value at initial recognition. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and issuance of financial liabilities other than financial assets at FVTPL and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (“financial liabilities at FVTPL”) are added to the fair value of the financial assets or deducted from the fair value of financial liabilities at initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets at FVTPL and financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized in profit or loss.

b. Non-derivative financial assets

Non-derivative financial assets are classified as “financial assets at FVTPL,” “held-to-maturity investments,” “loans and receivables,” or “available-for-sale financial assets.” The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined upon initial recognition.

All purchases and sales of financial assets made in a regular way are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis. Purchases and sales made in a regular way refer to acquiring or disposing financial assets under a contract that requires the delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

(a) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as “financial assets at FVTPL” when they are held for trading purposes or designated as financial assets at FVTPL.

Financial assets other than derivatives, which are mainly acquired to be sold in the short-term, are classified as held for trading purposes.

The Company designates a financial asset as a financial asset at FVTPL upon initial recognition, if:

- the financial assets are managed in accordance with the Company’s documented risk management policy or investment strategy; and
- its performance is reviewed on the fair value basis by the Company’s management to make decisions about the investment plan.

Also, if the Company is required to separate an embedded derivative from its host contract, but is unable to measure the embedded derivative separately either at acquisition or at the end of a subsequent financial reporting period, the entire hybrid contract is designated and accounted for as financial assets at FVTPL.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value. Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value, dividend income and interest income are recognized in profit or loss. Fair value of financial assets at FVTPL is measured in the manner described in “(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy” in “Note 26. Fair value of financial instruments.”

(b) Held-to-maturity investments

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity dates that the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity are classified as “held-to-maturity investments.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, held-to-maturity investments are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment. Interest income based on the effective interest rate is recognized in profit or loss.

(c) Loans and receivables

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market are classified as “loans and receivables.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment. Interest income based on the effective interest rate is recognized in profit or loss.

(d) Available-for-sale financial assets

Non-derivative financial assets are classified as “available-for-sale financial assets,” if:

- they are designated as “available-for-sale financial assets”; or
- they are classified as neither “financial assets at FVTPL,” “held-to-maturity investments,” nor “loans and receivables.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value and gains or losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income. Fair value of available-for-sale financial assets is measured in the manner described in “(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy” in “Note 26. Fair value of financial instruments.” Exchange differences arising on monetary financial assets classified as available-for-sale financial assets, interest income calculated using the effective interest method relating to available-for-sale financial assets, and dividends received are recognized in profit or loss.

(e) Impairment of financial assets

Among financial assets other than those at FVTPL, available-for-sale equity instruments are assessed for any objective evidence of impairment at the end of the fiscal year and at the end of each quarter, and the other assets are assessed for any objective evidence of impairment at the end of the fiscal year. Financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that loss events occurred subsequent to initial recognition of the financial assets and when estimated negative future cash flows of the financial assets from those events can be reasonably estimated.

For available-for-sale equity instruments, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below the cost is considered to be objective evidence of impairment. In addition, objective evidence of impairment of all financial assets could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or borrower;
- breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- high possibilities of borrowers’ bankruptcy or entering financial reorganization; or
- disappearance of an active market for the financial assets.

The Company assesses the existence of objective evidence of impairment individually for independently significant assets or collectively for assets with no individual significance.

When there is objective evidence of impairment on loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments, the difference between the asset’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the original effective interest rate, is recognized in profit or loss as an impairment loss. The impairment loss is recognized through the use of an allowance account, and the carrying amount of a loan and receivable is written off against the allowance account when it is considered uncollectible.

The carrying amount of held-to-maturity investments is reduced by the impairment loss directly. If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the financial asset does not exceed what the amortized cost would have been, had the impairment not been recognized.

When there is objective evidence that an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired, previously recognized accumulated other comprehensive income is transferred to profit or loss. Impairment losses on equity instruments classified as available-for-sale financial assets are not reversed.

(f) Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset.

c. Non-derivative financial liabilities

Non-derivative financial liabilities are classified into “financial liabilities at FVTPL” or “financial liabilities measured at amortized cost” and the classification is determined at initial recognition.

Non-derivative financial liabilities are classified into “financial liabilities at FVTPL” when the entire hybrid contract, including more than one embedded derivatives, is designated and accounted for as a financial liability at FVTPL. Subsequent to initial recognition, liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and gains or losses arising from changes in fair value and interest costs are recognized in profit or loss.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are measured using the effective interest method, subsequent to initial recognition.

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when the Company’s obligations are discharged, canceled or expired.

d. Derivatives and hedge accounting

(a) Derivatives

The Company is engaged in derivative transactions, including foreign currency forward contracts, currency swaps, and collar transactions in order to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate, interest rate, and share price risks.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently measured at their fair values at the end of fiscal year. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recognized in profit or loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument. Derivative financial assets not designated as hedging instruments are classified into “financial assets at FVTPL” and derivative financial liabilities not designated as hedging instruments are classified into “financial liabilities at FVTPL.”

(b) Hedge accounting

The Company designates certain derivative transactions as hedging instruments and accounts for them as cash flow hedges.

At the inception of the hedge, the Company formally designates and documents the hedge relationship qualifying for hedge accounting, along with its risk management objectives and its strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. At the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, the Company evaluates whether the hedging instrument is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the relevant hedged item during the underlying period.

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualifying as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity. Accumulated other comprehensive income is transferred to profit or loss through a line item relating to the hedged item in the consolidated statement of income in the periods when the cash flows from the hedged item affect profit or loss. Any ineffective portion of changes in fair value of derivatives is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

When the hedged forecasted transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or a non-financial liability, the Company removes the associated gains or losses previously recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income and includes them in the initial amount of the cost of the non-financial asset or non-financial liability (basis adjustment).

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Company revokes the hedging relationship, when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised or when the hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting.

When hedge accounting is discontinued, any gains or losses recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income remain in equity and are reclassified to profit or loss when the forecasted transaction is ultimately recognized in profit or loss. When a forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, the gains or losses recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income are reclassified immediately to profit or loss.

(c) Embedded derivatives

Derivatives embedded in non-derivative host contracts (“embedded derivatives”) are separated from the host contracts and accounted for as separate derivatives when their economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the whole financial instruments, including embedded derivatives, are not measured at FVTPL. If the Company is required to separate an embedded derivative from its host contract, but is unable to measure the embedded derivative separately either at acquisition or at the end of a subsequent financial reporting period, the entire hybrid contract is designated and accounted for as financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL.

e. Offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amounts are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts, and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

(5) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash, demand deposits and short-term investments with maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to cash and subject to insignificant risk of change in value.

(6) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventories mainly consist of mobile handsets and accessories. Their costs comprise all costs of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. The costs are mainly calculated by the moving-average method.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(7) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured on a historical cost basis, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Historical cost includes costs directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset and the initial estimated costs related to disassembly, retirement and site restoration.

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated mainly using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of each component. The depreciable amount is calculated as the cost of an asset, less its residual value. Land and construction in progress are not depreciated.

The estimated useful lives of major components of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings and structures
Buildings	12 - 50 years
Other	5 - 15 years
Telecommunications equipment
Wireless equipment, switching equipment and other network equipment	5 - 30 years
Towers	15 - 42 years
Other	5 - 40 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment
Leased mobile devices	2 - 3 years
Other	4 - 10 years

The depreciation methods, useful lives, and residual values of assets are reviewed at the end of each fiscal year, and any changes are applied prospectively as a change in accounting estimate.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their estimated useful lives when there is certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term. However, when there is no certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term, assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term or their estimated useful lives.

(8) Goodwill

Please refer to “(2) Business combinations” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” for the measurement of goodwill at initial recognition. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Goodwill is not amortized, and is tested for impairment when there is an indication of impairment in cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated, and annually, regardless of any indication of impairment. Impairment is described in “(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

The Company’s policy for goodwill arising from the acquisition of an associate is described in “(1) Basis of consolidation” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

(9) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are measured at historical cost, less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost upon initial recognition. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are recognized separately from goodwill upon initial recognition and are measured at fair value at the acquisition date. Any internally-generated research and development expenditure is recognized as an expense in the period in which it is incurred, except for expenditures on development activities eligible for capitalization (internally-generated intangible assets). The amount initially recognized for internally-generated intangible assets is the sum of the expenditures incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets all of the capitalization criteria to the date the development is completed.

There are intangible assets with finite useful lives and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives.

The intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over the estimated useful lives. Amortization of the customer relationships is mainly calculated by the sum-of-the-digits method and intangible assets with finite useful lives other than customer relationships are amortized by the straight-line method.

The estimated useful lives of major categories of intangible assets with finite useful lives are as follows:

Software
Software related to wireless equipment	5 - 10 years
Other	3 - 5 years
Technologies	8 - 20 years
Customer relationships	4 - 24 years
Favorable lease contracts	7 - 23 years
Trademarks (with finite useful lives)	8 - 34 years
Spectrum migration costs	18 years
Other	5 - 20 years

Amortization methods, useful lives and residual values of assets are reviewed at the end of each fiscal year, and any changes are applied prospectively as a change in accounting estimate.

Favorable lease contracts are recognized as intangible assets based on the estimated fair value of the favorable portion of future cash flows if, at the time of business combinations, the terms of operating lease contracts in which the acquiree is the lessee are favorable compared to market terms.

Spectrum migration costs are the amounts that the Company incurred in connection with the costs arising from the migration of the existing users from the 900 MHz band, which SoftBank Corp. acquired, to the other frequency spectrum based on the termination campaign. Useful lives are estimated based on the actual utilization of the frequency spectrum in the past.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are as follows:

- Licenses using specific frequency spectrum granted by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (“FCC licenses”)
- Trademarks (with indefinite useful lives)

As long as the Company acts within the requirements of the regulatory authorities, the renewal and extension of FCC licenses are reasonably certain at minimal cost. Therefore, it has been determined that FCC licenses have indefinite useful lives.

The Company determined that “Sprint,” “Boost Mobile” and other trademarks have indefinite useful lives as they can be legally utilized continuously as long as the business continues and management’s current plans are to offer services under these trademarks for the foreseeable future.

The intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and the intangible assets that are not yet available for use are not amortized. The impairment of these assets is described in “(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

(10) Leases

The assessment of whether an arrangement is a lease or contains a lease is made on a basis of all the facts and circumstances at the inception of the arrangement.

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets are substantially transferred to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases. It is determined that all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets are transferred to the lessee when the lease terms account for most of the economic useful lives of the assets, or the present values of the total minimum lease payments are almost equal to the fair values of the assets. The lease terms are the total of the non-cancelable period and the period which is deemed to be reasonably certain that the renewal option will be exercised at the inception of the leases.

a. Finance leases

(The Company as lessee)

At inception, the Company initially recognizes finance leases as assets and the lease obligation at the amount equal to the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments.

Subsequent to initial recognition, the accounting policy for assets held under finance leases is consistent with that of assets that are owned. Lease payments are apportioned between finance cost and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

b. Operating leases

(The Company as lessee)

Gross operating lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the relevant lease terms.

(The Company as lessor)

Gross operating lease incomes are recognized as revenues on a straight-line basis over the relevant lease terms.

(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill

a. Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

At the end of the fiscal year, the Company determines whether there is any indication that property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may be impaired.

If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets that are not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually regardless of whether there is any indication of impairment.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell, or value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is reduced to its recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

At the end of the fiscal year, the Company evaluates whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognized in prior years for assets other than goodwill has decreased or extinguished. If such indication of a reversal of an impairment loss exists, the recoverable amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is estimated. If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be higher than its carrying amount, a reversal of an impairment loss is recognized, to the extent that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the lower of the recoverable amount or the carrying amount (less depreciation and amortization) that would have been recognized, had no impairment loss been recognized.

b. Impairment of goodwill

At the end of the fiscal year and at the end of each quarter, the Company determines whether there is any indication that goodwill may be impaired.

Goodwill is allocated to each of the cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination, and it is tested for impairment annually, regardless of any indication of impairment, and when there is an indication that the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units may be impaired. If, at the time of the impairment test, the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units and then to the other assets pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or groups of cash-generating units.

Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognized directly in profit or loss and is not reversed in subsequent periods.

(12) Retirement benefits

Defined contribution plans are post-employment benefit plans under which an employer pays fixed contributions into a separate fund and will have no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions. Defined benefit plans are post-employment benefit plans other than defined contribution plans.

The Company primarily adopts defined contribution pension plans.

SoftBank Corp. has frozen its defined benefit lump-sum plans since March 2006 and 2007. Liabilities for the frozen defined benefit lump-sum plans are recognized as defined benefit liabilities until they are paid in the form of a lump sum at the time of future retirement of employees.

Sprint has frozen its defined benefit pension plans since December 2005. Liabilities for the defined benefit pension plans are recognized as defined benefit liabilities until they are paid as pensions after the time of retirement of employees.

a. Defined contribution plans

Contributions paid for defined contribution plans are recognized as expenses in the period in which the employees render the related service. Contributions payable are recognized as liabilities.

b. Defined benefit plans

The liability recognized in respect of the defined benefit plans (the defined benefit liability) is the present value of the defined benefit obligation less the fair value of plan assets at the end of the fiscal year.

The defined benefit obligation is determined by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method, and its present value is determined by applying a discount rate based on the yield curve of high-quality corporate bonds over the approximate period of the benefit payments.

Defined benefit cost includes service cost, net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset), and remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability (asset). Service cost and net interest are recognized in net profit or loss. Net interest is determined using the discount rate described above.

The liabilities for the frozen defined benefit plans are calculated on the basis of retirement benefits vested at the time the plans were frozen. Therefore, service cost is not incurred for those defined benefit plans.

The Company's remeasurements, which comprise actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest), are recognized in other comprehensive income and transferred to retained earnings immediately from accumulated other comprehensive income.

(13) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions are measured using the estimated future cash flows, discounted using a pre-tax rate reflecting the time value of money and the specific risks of the liability, after taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation at the end of the fiscal year.

The Company recognizes asset retirement obligations, restructuring provisions, provisions for loss on interest repayment, and provisions for onerous contract as provisions.

Restructuring provisions are recognized when the Company has a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and has raised a valid expectation to those who will be affected that the Company will carry out the restructuring by starting implementation of the plan or announcing the main features of the plan.

Restructuring provisions are mainly related to network shutdown and backhaul access contracts. The details of the restructuring provision are described in "Note 23. Provisions."

Provision for loss on interest repayment is recorded based on an amount representing future expected claims in order to prepare for future claims by debtors and other, for repayment of interest paid in excess of the rate permitted under the Interest Rate Restriction Act.

(14) Treasury stock

When the Company acquires its own equity share capital ("treasury stock"), the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs (net of income taxes), is deducted from equity. No gain or loss is recognized on the purchase, sale, or cancellation of the treasury stock. The difference between the carrying amount and the consideration on sale is recognized as capital surplus.

(15) Assets or disposal groups classified as held for sale

Assets or disposal groups, whose recoveries are expected principally through sale transactions rather than continuing use, are classified as held for sale when it is probable that the sale will be completed within one year, they are available for immediate sale in their present condition, and management commits to a plan to sell.

The Company, when committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, classifies assets and liabilities of the subsidiary as held for sale when the above criteria are met, regardless of whether the Company will retain a non-controlling interest in its former subsidiary after the sale.

Assets classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of the carrying amounts and fair values less costs to sell and depreciation of property, plant and equipment and amortization of intangible assets are not conducted after the classification.

(16) Share-based payments

The Company grants stock options and restricted stock unit awards as equity-settled share-based compensation and cash-settled share-based compensation.

Equity-settled share-based compensation is measured at fair value at the grant date. The fair value of stock options is calculated using the Black-Scholes model and other, and the fair value of restricted stock units is calculated using the share price at the date of grant.

The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period, based on the estimate of stock options or restricted stock units that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity.

The Company regularly reviews the assumptions made and revises estimates of the number of stock options or restricted stock units that are expected to vest, when necessary.

Cash-settled share-based compensation is accounted for as liabilities and is measured initially at the fair value of the award. The fair value of the liabilities is remeasured on each closing date and the settlement date, and changes in fair values are recognized in profit or loss.

(17) Revenue

The Company's accounting policy for revenue recognition by major categories is as follows:

Domestic Telecommunications segment and Sprint segment

a. Mobile Communications service and sales of mobile handsets

The Company provides mobile telecommunications services, which consist of voice communications and data transmission to subscribers, and sells mobile handsets and accessories to customers.

In the Mobile Communications service, revenues are mainly generated from basic monthly charges, telecom service ("revenues from the mobile telecommunications service") and other fees. Also, revenues from the sale of mobile handsets ("revenues from the sale of mobile handsets") are generated from the sale of mobile handsets and accessories to subscribers or dealers.

The business flow of the above transactions consists of "Indirect sales," where the Company sells mobile handsets to dealers and enters into telecommunications services contracts with subscribers through dealers, and "Direct sales," where the Company sells mobile handsets to subscribers and enters into telecommunications services contracts directly with subscribers. The revenues are recognized respectively as follows:

(a) Indirect sales

Revenues from the sale of mobile handsets are recognized when mobile handsets are delivered to dealers, which is when risk and economic value are deemed to be transferred. Commission fees paid to dealers related to the sales of mobile handsets are deducted from revenues.

The mobile telecommunications services are recognized as revenue when services are provided to subscribers. Discounts are deducted from revenues from monthly mobile telecommunications services as a discount of mobile telecommunications charges.

Activation fees are deferred upon entering into the contract and recognized as revenues over the estimated average contract period. Upgrade fees are recognized as revenues over the estimated average usage period of handsets with the subscribers. Direct costs related to activation are deferred to the extent of the activation fees and upgrade fees and are amortized over the respective same period.

(b) Direct sales

In direct transactions, as the revenue from the sales of mobile handsets and the mobile telecommunications services, including the fees, are considered to be one transaction, the total amount of revenues is allocated to mobile handsets and telecommunications service on the basis of the fair value ratio.

When handsets are sold in installments, revenue from the sales of mobile handsets is recognized based on the fair value ratio when handsets are delivered to the subscribers. When handsets are sold in lump-sum payment, the maximum amount of revenues to be recognized by the sale of mobile handsets is set by the amounts to be received from subscribers at the sales of the mobile handsets. The amount of revenue allocated to the mobile telecommunication services is recognized when the service is provided to the subscribers.

b. Fixed-line Telecommunications service

In the Fixed-line Telecommunications service, revenues are generated mainly from voice communications and digital data transmission services, Internet provider charges, ADSL service fees, IP telephony service fees, and the usage of the network (“revenues from fixed-line telecommunications service”).

Revenues from fixed-line telecommunications services are recognized as revenues when services are provided to subscribers, based upon fixed monthly charges plus the usage of the network.

Yahoo Japan segment

In the Yahoo Japan segment, revenues are generated mainly from sponsored search advertising, display advertising, e-commerce related commission fees, revenue from membership and product sales.

Sponsored search advertising revenue is recognized when a visitor to the website clicks the advertisement. Display advertising comprises premium advertising, Yahoo! Display Ad Network (“YDN”) and other services. Revenue from premium advertising is recognized over a period in which related advertisement is displayed. Revenue from YDN is recognized when a visitor to the website clicks the advertisement on the page with the related content. Revenue from e-commerce related commission fees is recognized when the transaction occurs. Revenue from membership fees is recognized over an effective period of the membership. Revenue from product sales is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products are transferred to the buyer, the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement nor effective control over the products sold, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the costs incurred and the amount of revenue related to the transaction can be measured reliably.

Distribution segment

In the Distribution segment, revenues are generated mainly from distribution of mobile handsets to telecommunication service providers and retailers overseas, and sales of PC software, peripherals, and mobile handset accessories in Japan. Revenue in the Distribution segment is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products are transferred to the buyer, the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement nor effective control over the products sold, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the costs incurred and the amount of revenue related to the transaction can be measured reliably. For transactions conducted by the Company on behalf of third parties, revenue is presented on a net basis by excluding payment to third parties from the total consideration received from customers.

Arm segment

In the Arm segment, revenue is generated mainly from sales of licenses to Arm’s technology and royalties arising from the resulting sale of licensees’ Arm’s technology-based products.

License revenue is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products are transferred to the buyer, the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement nor effective control over the products sold, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the costs incurred and the amount of revenue related to the transaction can be measured reliably.

Royalty revenue is earned on sales of products containing Arm’s technology by the Company’s customers. Royalty revenue is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the amount of revenue can be reliably measured. Royalty revenue is recognized on an accrual basis in the quarter in which the customers ship products containing Arm’s technology, using an estimate based on sales trends and product information.

(18) Sales commission fees

The Company pays sales commission fees when dealers sell the Company’s mobile handsets to subscribers or acquire and retain engagement of telecommunications service between the Company and subscribers. Commission fees related to the sales of mobile handsets are deducted from the revenues from the sales of mobile handsets. Commission fees related to the acquisition and retention of engagement of telecommunications service are recognized as selling, general and administrative expenses.

(19) Income tax

Income tax expense is composed of current and deferred taxes, and recognized in profit or loss, except for taxes related to business combinations and items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences, net operating loss carryforwards and tax credit carryforwards can be utilized. The recoverability of deferred tax assets is reassessed at the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets are not recognized for temporary differences from initial recognition of assets and liabilities that do not arise from business combinations and that do not impact accounting profit or taxable income.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates when it is probable that the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and when there will be sufficient taxable profits against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax liabilities are basically recognized for taxable temporary differences, except for:

- temporary differences arising from the initial recognition of assets and liabilities, and related transactions other than business combinations, that affect neither the accounting profit nor the taxable profit;
- taxable temporary differences arising from the initial recognition of goodwill; and
- taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, where the Company is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and income taxes are levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

(20) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing net income attributable to owners of the parent by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares (after adjusting for treasury stocks) outstanding for the period.

Diluted earnings per share assume full conversion of the issued potential stocks having a dilutive effect, with an adjustment for net income attributable to owners of the parent and the weighted-average number of ordinary shares (after adjusting for treasury stocks) outstanding for the period.

4. Significant judgments and estimates

In preparing consolidated financial statements under IFRSs, management makes judgments, estimates, and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are based on management's best judgments, through their evaluation of various factors that were considered reasonable as of the period-end, based on historical experience and by collecting available information. By the nature of its estimates or assumptions, however, actual results in the future may differ from those projected estimates or assumptions.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are continuously reviewed. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised as well as in the future periods. Significant judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts recognized in the Company's consolidated financial statements are as follows:

- judgments of whether an entity is controlled by the Company in determining the scope of consolidation ((1) in "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" and "Note 15. Major subsidiaries");

- significant judgments for the determination of joint ventures ((1) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and (3) in “Note 14. Leases”);
- estimates for impairment of investments accounted for using the equity method ((1) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies”);
- estimates of fair value of assets acquired and the liabilities assumed in a business combination ((2) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and “Note 5. Business combinations”);
- fair value measurement of financial assets at FVTPL, financial liabilities at FVTPL, and available-for-sale financial assets ((4) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies,” (1) (2) in “Note 26. Fair value of financial instruments” and “Note 39. Gain and loss from financial instruments at FVTPL”);
- estimates for impairment of financial assets measured at amortized cost ((4) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and “Note 40. Other non-operating income and loss”);
- estimates of residual value and useful life of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets ((7) and (9) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies”);
- judgments and estimates for accounting treatment of contracts including leases ((10) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and “Note 14. Leases”);
- estimates for impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill ((11) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies,” “Note 13. Goodwill and intangible assets” and “Note 35. Other operating income and loss”);
- measurement of defined benefit obligation ((12) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and (2) in “Note 24. Retirement benefits”);
- judgments and estimates for recognition and measurement on provisions ((13) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and “Note 23. Provisions”);
- assessment of recoverability of deferred tax assets ((19) in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” and (4) in “Note 18. Income taxes”); and
- recognition of liabilities and expenses related to contingencies (“Note 35. Other operating income and loss” and (b) (3) b. in “Note 46. Contingency).

Relating to a transaction in which SoftBank Group Corp.’s then wholly-owned subsidiary, SOFTBANK GROUP CAPITAL APAC PTE. LTD. (“APAC,” currently Foxconn Ventures Pte. Ltd.), sold a portion of its Alibaba shares to SoftBank Group Corp., SoftBank Group Corp.’s wholly-owned subsidiary West Raptor Holdings, LLC, and third parties, for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016, the Company had recognized deferred tax liabilities of ¥913,012 million ($8,138,087 thousand) on SoftBank Group Corp.’s expected taxable income for the next fiscal year (April 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018). SoftBank Group Corp. had also recorded deferred tax assets of ¥60,451 million ($538,827 thousand), as it was deemed probable that, in conjunction with the transaction, taxable profit would be available against which carryforwards and a deductible temporary differences could be utilized. However, because ownership of APAC’s outstanding shares was below 50% on March 31, 2017 and taxable profit was not expected at SoftBank Group Corp. for the next fiscal year, the Company did not recognize any deferred tax liabilities relating to the transaction for the fiscal year ended March 2017. In addition, SoftBank Group Corp. did not recognize any deferred tax assets for the fiscal year ended March 2017, as it was deemed probable that taxable profit would not be available against which carryforwards and deductible temporary differences could be utilized.

(3) Arm

a. Overview of consolidation

On July 18, 2016 (GMT), the Company and Arm, located in the United Kingdom, entered into an agreement on the terms of a recommended all cash acquisition of the entire issued and to be issued share capital of Arm by the Company for a total acquisition price of approximately £24.0 billion (approximately ¥3.3 trillion) by means of an English court-sanctioned scheme of arrangement (“Acquisition”). The Acquisition was approved at Arm’s general meeting of shareholders held on August 30, 2016, and at the English court hearing held on September 1, 2016, and came into effect on September 5, 2016.

As a result of the transaction, Arm became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

b. Purpose of consolidation

The Company believes Arm is one of the world’s leading technology companies, with strong capabilities in global semiconductor intellectual property and the “Internet of Things,” and a proven track record of innovation.

The board and management of the Company believe that the acquisition of Arm by the Company will deliver the following benefits:

- Support and accelerate Arm’s position as the global leader in intellectual property licensing and R&D outsourcing for semiconductor companies

The Company’s deep industry expertise and global network of relationships will accelerate adoption of Arm’s intellectual property across existing and new markets.

- Maintain Arm’s dedication to innovation

The Company intends to sustain Arm’s long-term focus on generating more value per device, and driving licensing wins and future royalty streams in new growth categories, specifically “Enterprise and Embedded Intelligence.”

- Increased investment to drive the next wave of innovation

The Company intends to support Arm’s multiple growth initiatives by investing in engineering talent and complementary acquisitions with the aim of ensuring Arm maintains a R&D edge over existing and emerging competitors. The Company believes such an investment strategy in long-term growth will be easier to execute as a non-listed company.

- Shared culture and long-term vision

The Company believes the two companies share the same technology-oriented culture, long-term vision, focus on innovation and commitment to attracting, developing and retaining top talent. These common values will be the foundation for the strong strategic partnership necessary to capture the significant opportunities ahead.

- Maintain and grow the UK’s leadership in science and technology

The Company is investing in the UK as a world leader in science and technology development and innovation and, as evidence of this, intends to invest in multiple Arm growth initiatives, at least doubling the number of Arm employees in the UK over the next five years.

6. Segment information

- (1) Description of reportable segments

The Company's reportable segments are components of business activities for which discrete financial information is available, and such information is regularly reviewed by the Company's Board of Directors in order to make decisions about the allocation of resources and assess its performance.

The Company has five reportable segments: the Domestic telecommunications segment, the Sprint segment, the Yahoo Japan segment, the Distribution segment, and the Arm segment.

The Domestic Telecommunications segment provides, mainly through SoftBank Corp., mobile communications services, sale of mobile devices, telecommunication services such as fixed-line telephone and data communications services for corporate customers, and broadband services for retail customers in Japan.

The Sprint segment provides, through Sprint, mobile communication services, sale and lease of mobile devices, sale of mobile device accessories, and fixed-line telecommunications services in the U.S.

The Yahoo Japan segment provides, mainly through Yahoo Japan Corporation, Internet-based advertising business, e-commerce business, and membership services.

The Distribution segment provides, through Brightstar, distribution of mobile devices overseas, and through SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp., sale of mobile device accessories, PC software, and peripherals in Japan.

The Arm segment provides, through Arm, designs of microprocessor intellectual property and related technology, and the sale of software tools. The Arm segment was newly established from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, by the consolidation of Arm in September 2016. Operating results of Arm after the acquisition date is included in the Arm segment.

Information on business segments which are not included in the reportable segments is classified in “Other.” “Other” includes mainly Fukuoka SoftBank HAWKS-related business.

“Reconciliations” includes an elimination of intersegment transactions and the corporate general expenses unallocated to each reportable segment. Expenses arising mainly from SoftBank Group Corp. and SB Group US, Inc., which manages and supervises investment activities in the Internet, communication, and media fields overseas, are included in the corporate general expenses.

(2) Net sales and income of reportable segments

Accounting policies for reportable segments are the same as the policies described in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

Income of reportable segments is defined as “Operating income.” Intersegment transaction prices are determined under the same general business conditions as applied for external customers.

The Company also discloses EBITDA (i.e., segment income and loss after addition of depreciation and amortization) and Adjusted EBITDA (i.e., EBITDA after deduction of gain from remeasurement relating to a business combination, addition or deduction of other adjustments (gains are deducted)) by each reportable segment. “Other adjustments” are special items such as acquisition-related costs and impairment loss mainly included in other operating income and loss.

Income and loss, which are not attributable to operating income and loss, such as financial cost and income and loss on equity method investments, are not managed by each reportable segment and therefore these income and losses are excluded from the segment performance.

Discontinued operations are not included. The details are described in “Note 42. Discontinued operations.”

“FCC licenses” are licenses to use a specific frequency spectrum granted by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”). As long as the Company acts within the requirements of regulatory authorities, the renewal and extension of FCC licenses are reasonably certain at minimal cost. Therefore, it is determined that FCC licenses have indefinite useful lives.

The Company determined that the “Sprint” and “Boost Mobile” trademarks have indefinite useful lives as they can be legally utilized continuously as long as the business continues and management’s current plans are to offer services under these trademarks for the foreseeable future.

Technologies reflect excessive earning capacity in the future expected from technologies of the acquiree that had been already developed, or was already well-advanced in development, at the time of the business combinations.

Customer relationships reflect excessive earning capacity in the future expected from the existing customers of the acquiree at the time of the business combinations.

Favorable lease contracts are recognized as intangible assets based on the estimated fair value of the favorable portion of future cash flows if, at the time of business combinations, the terms of operating lease contracts in which the acquiree is the lessee are favorable compared to market terms at acquisition date. Reversal of favorable lease contracts is recognized as operating lease payments.

Game titles reflect excessive earning capacity in the future expected from the existing game titles of the acquiree at the time of the business combinations.

Spectrum migration costs are the amounts that the Company incurred in connection with the costs arising from the migration of the existing users from the 900 MHz band, which SoftBank Corp. acquired, to the other frequency spectrum based on the termination campaign.

Amortization is included in “Cost of sales” and “Selling, general and administrative expenses” in the consolidated statement of income.

Impairment losses are included in “Other operating loss” in the consolidated statement of income. The details are described in “Note 35. Other operating loss.”

The amount of “Other” included in “FCC licenses” for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 is recognized due to exchange of certain spectrum with other carriers. The details are described in “Note 35. Other operating loss.”

Increase due to “Business combinations” is as follows:

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016

As a result of consolidating ASKUL Corporation as a subsidiary in August 2015, the Company recognized customer relationships of ¥40,680 million and trademarks of ¥20,130 million. The details are described in “(1) ASKUL Corporation” in “Note 5. Business combinations.”

As a result of consolidating Ikyu Corporation as a subsidiary in February 2016, the Company recognized customer relationships of ¥16,000 million and trademarks of ¥10,120 million. The details are described in “(2) Ikyu Corporation” in “Note 5. Business combinations.”

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017

As a result of consolidating Arm as a subsidiary in September 2016, the Company recognized goodwill of ¥2,650,911 million ($23,628,764 thousand), technologies of ¥537,680 million ($4,792,584 thousand), customer relationships of ¥148,649 million ($1,324,975 thousand), and trademarks of ¥5,940 million ($52,946 thousand). The details are described in “(3) Arm” in “Note 5. Business combinations.”

Decrease due to “Loss of control” is as follows:

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016

As a result of losing control of GungHo as a subsidiary in June 2015, game titles decreased by ¥21,610 million. The details are described in “(1) GungHo” in “Note 42. Discontinued operations.”

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017

As a result of losing control of Supercell as a subsidiary in July 2016, game titles decreased by ¥47,636 million ($424,601 thousand). The details are described in “(2) Supercell” in “Note 42. Discontinued operations.”

The carrying amount of internally-generated intangible assets included in the intangible assets is as follows:

Finance lease obligations of the Company are pledged through the lessor’s retaining the property right of lease assets.

The intangible assets with limited property rights due to installment purchase are described in “(6) Assets with limited property rights” in “Note 19. Interest-bearing debt.”

Research and development costs included in “Cost of sales” and “Selling, general and administrative expenses” are as follows:

Research and development costs	¥6,242	¥64,459	$574,552

Increase in research and development costs for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 is mainly due to the consolidation of Arm.

Goodwill acquired as a part of business combinations is allocated to cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups that are expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the combination.

Amounts of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives allocated to cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups are as follows:

2. Goodwill is allocated to "Yahoo" because the benefits are expected to be realized from Yahoo Japan as a whole, not from individual cash-generating units in Yahoo Japan.

The recoverable amount of each cash-generating unit or cash-generating unit group is measured as follows:

Value in use: SoftBank, Marketing solution, Shopping, Settlement finance, Ikyu, Brightstar, Brightstar US and Canada region, Brightstar Latin America region, Brightstar Asia and Oceania region, Brightstar Europe and Africa region, and SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp.

Fair value less disposal cost: Sprint, Yahoo, and Arm

Value in use is assessed by discounting to the present value the estimated cash flows in the next five years based on the financial budget approved by the management, which reflects past experience and external information, using the pre-tax discount rate of 7.21%-16.17% of the cash-generating unit or cash-generating unit group (5.12%-22.11% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016). The cash flows from after five years are assumed to increase on the basis of the growth rate of 0%-2.34% (0%-3.81% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016).

In Sprint and Yahoo, the fair value less disposal cost is measured based on active market prices and in Arm, it is measured by discounting the cash flows which are estimated based on the business plans for the next 10 years while taking into account the future cash flows that market participants would expect to receive in accordance with their assumptions discounted to the present value using a post-tax discount rate of 9%. The cash flows from after 10 years are assumed on the basis of the growth rate of 19% on the 11th year and 10% on the 12th year. The cash flows from the 13th year onward are assumed to increase on the basis of the growth rate of 2%. Fair value is classified into level 3 as its fair value is measured using unobservable inputs.

Goodwill of Brightstar had been allocated to the entirety of Brightstar (a group of cash-generating units), which had bundled five cash-generating units (Brightstar's US & Canada, Latin America, Asia & Oceania, SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp., and Europe & Africa); however, in March 2017, its goodwill was reallocated to Brightstar, which bundled four cash-generating units except for SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp. due to the determination of business reorganization in the Distribution segment. Since impairment indicators existed, the impairment test was conducted on goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives. As a result, the recoverable amount of goodwill was less than its carrying amount and, therefore, ¥30,260 million ($269,721 thousand) of impairment loss on goodwill was recorded. Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and estimated future cash flow plan of four cash-generating units approved by the management was calculated using a pre-tax discount rate of 10.97%-16.17%.

Other than the above, as a result of an annual impairment test of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives for cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups, no impairment loss was recognized.

As a result of reviewing the business plan of Brightstar's Latin America region, goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives were tested for impairment because there was an indication of impairment for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. As a result, the recoverable amount became negative and therefore the carrying amount of assets related to the cash-generating unit was reduced to zero. Impairment loss on property, plant and equipment was ¥8,070 million and impairment loss on intangible assets was ¥5,563 million. Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and calculated by discounting management's approved estimated future cash flow plan using a pre-tax discount rate of 22.11%. In addition, impairment loss of ¥6,086 million for goodwill allocated to cash-generating unit groups of Other is recognized.

The Company determined that for cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups to which the goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are allocated, the recoverable amount is unlikely to fall below the carrying amount, even if major assumptions used in the impairment test change to a reasonably foreseeable extent.

The outstanding balance by year of maturity of financial lease obligations is described in “(2) Financial risk management c. Liquidity risk” in “Note 25. Financial instruments.”

Certain lease contracts have financial covenants. Major contents are described in “(3) Financial covenants” in “Note 19. Interest-bearing debt.”

The components of the future minimum lease payments receivable under non-cancelable subleases are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017
Total	¥27,964	¥28,006	$249,630

(2) Operating leases

(As lessee)

The Company leases towers, land and buildings for the placement of telecommunications equipment, frequency spectrum, and telecommunication lines under operating leases. Certain operating lease contracts have automatic renewal options and escalation clauses.

In addition to the non-cancelable period, an automatic renewal option is included in the lease term to the extent that, at the inception of the lease, it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. For operating leases with escalation clauses or a portion of which is free of charge, the total lease payment amount is amortized over the lease term by the straight line method.

Cell site leases

Cell site leases in the U.S. are generally provided by the cell phone tower operators who provide tower and ground space to place Sprint-owned antennae, radio, and related equipment. The contract terms generally provide for an initial non-cancelable term of 5 to 12 years with up to five renewal options for five years each. At the establishment of the cell sites leases, it is assumed that at least one renewal option is exercised for contracts less than 10 years.

Cell site leases in Japan contain only land or buildings for the placement of cell sites. Most of the contract terms are 10 years or 20 years. At the establishment of the cell site leases, it is reasonably certain that they will be used until the contract term expires.

Spectrum leases (U.S.)

U.S. leased spectrum agreements have renewal options. For those contracts, it is reasonably certain that, at the inception of the transaction, all the renewal options will be used and terms including renewal terms are up to 30 years.

The components of the future minimum lease payments related to non-cancelable operating leases are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017
Within 1 year	¥ 434,831	¥ 377,393	$ 3,363,874

Total	¥2,888,874	¥2,645,598	$23,581,407

Operating lease payments recognized as expenses for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 totaled ¥494,579 million ($4,408,405 thousand) (for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016: ¥471,057 million).

(As lessor)

Sprint provides a device leasing program to its qualifying subscribers in the U.S. and SoftBank Corp. provides device rental service to corporate customers in Japan. The Company classifies substantially all transactions as operating leases along with the device leasing program and device rental service. At the end of the lease term of the device leasing program at Sprint, the subscriber has the option to turn in their device, continue leasing their device, or purchase the device. Since device leases are provided on the condition that subscribers maintain telecommunication services with the Company, the amount of revenue from these transactions is separated into the amount of payments to be received for device leases and other elements based on the fair value of telecommunication service and lease.

The components of the future minimum lease payments receivable under non-cancelable operating leases are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017
Within 1 year	¥292,923	¥287,176	$2,559,729

Total	¥393,765	¥342,471	$3,052,598

(3) Handset sale-leaseback

In November 2015, Sprint entered into agreements (Handset Sale-Leaseback) to sell and leaseback certain leased devices, with Mobile Leasing Solutions, LLC (MLS) and conducted the first Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction (Tranche 1 transaction).

MLS was established for the leasing business by SBLS HD US, Inc. (SBLS), a wholly-owned subsidiary of SoftBank Group Corp. and JPLS HD US, Inc. (JPLS), a company formed by Japanese leasing companies. It is contractually agreed that significant management policies and operating decisions of MLS require the unanimous consent of its Board of Directors designated by SBLS and JPLS. Accordingly, the Company accounts for MLS under the equity method as a joint venture.

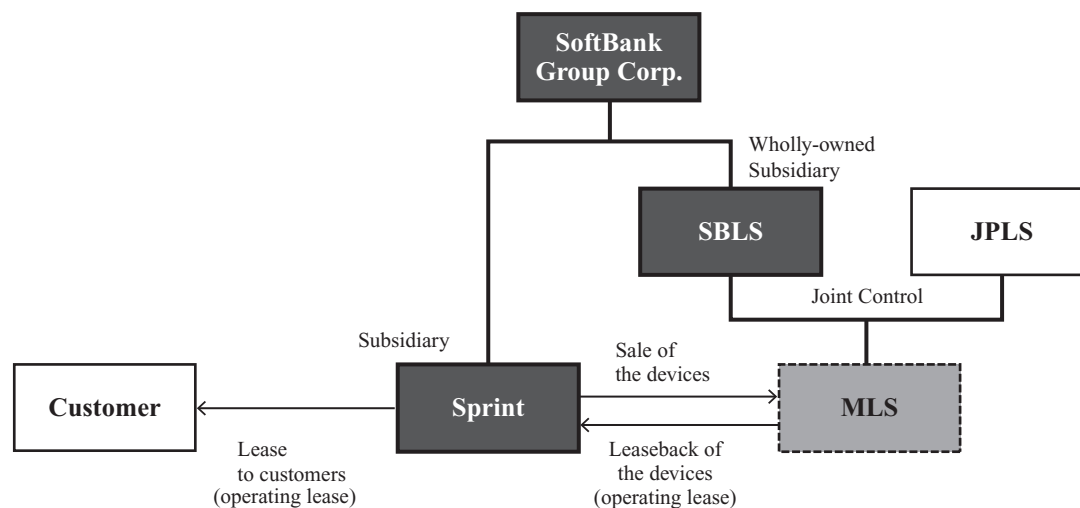

Under this transaction, Sprint sold the devices and transferred the associated certain specified customer lease end rights and obligations to MLS in exchange for proceeds, and a portion of the proceeds will be settled at the end of the agreement as a deferred purchase price receivable. Simultaneously with the sale of the devices and transfer of certain specified customer lease end rights and obligations, MLS leased back each device to Sprint pursuant to the Master Lease Agreement in exchange for monthly rental payments to be made by Sprint to MLS. In addition, Brightstar has a contractual agreement with MLS to provide reverse logistics and remarketing services to MLS with respect to the devices that are returned to MLS. The terms and conditions of the transaction are negotiated and determined based on the market price and the content of the transaction.

Sprint derecognized the devices from property, plant and equipment when they were sold to MLS under the Tranche 1 transaction; however, in December 2016, it terminated the Tranche 1 transaction by repurchasing the devices and related customer lease end rights and obligations from MLS. As a result, Sprint recognized the devices, inventories and other totaling $477 million (¥55,548 million) and $16 million (¥1,826 million) respectively. The impact on the condensed interim consolidated statements of income from the termination is immaterial.

The future minimum lease payments receivable during the period under the transaction is ¥45,843 million ($408,619 thousand) (for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016: ¥28,385 million).

Of the transactions, the contractual detail of the second Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction conducted in May 2016 is different from that of the Tranche 1 transaction and certain risks related to ownership of the leased devices are not transferred and are retained in Sprint, therefore, borrowings are recognized as fund procurements utilizing the leased devices.

Outline of the transaction*

* In order to represent the main point of the transaction, the outline shows only the main components related to the transaction and the relationship between the Company and each company in a simplified manner.

(2) Transaction for sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract

On June 10, 2016, West Raptor Holdings, LLC ("WRH LLC"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into a variable prepaid forward contract to sell Alibaba shares with a newly formed trust, Mandatory Exchangeable Trust (the "Trust"), and received proceeds of ¥578,436 million ($5.4 billion) as advances received on the sale.

The Trust, on the other hand, utilized Alibaba shares scheduled to be transferred from WRH LLC at the time of settlement under the contract and issued $6.6 billion of Mandatory Exchangeable Trust Securities ("Trust Securities") which are mandatorily exchangeable into American depository shares ("ADSs") of Alibaba. The proceeds from the sale received by WRH LLC from the Trust was $5.4 billion, which is after certain amounts from the $6.6 billion total of Trust Securities were deducted in order to purchase U.S. Treasury securities, which would fund distributions on the Trust Securities, and to cover expenses for the issuance of the Trust Securities.

The settlement of the Alibaba shares based on the variable prepaid forward contract is conducted concurrently with the exchange of Trust Securities. At the exchange date, which is expected to be the first scheduled trading day after June 1, 2019, Trust Securities are exchanged for a certain number of ADSs, determined by reference to the trading price of the ADSs at that time, and the number of Alibaba shares sold by the variable prepaid forward contract is determined by this number of ADSs. A cap and a floor are set for the number of shares settled, and the variable prepaid forward contract is classified as a hybrid financial instrument with embedded derivatives of collar transaction.

The Company accounts for the variable prepaid forward contract by bifurcating the main contracts and embedded derivatives. The Company received ¥578,436 million ($5,155,860 thousand) and initially recognized ¥674,023 million ($6,007,871 thousand) as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares by variable prepaid forward contract and ¥95,587 million ($852,010 thousand) as derivative assets. With this change, the amount of "Provisions" and "Property, plant and equipment" in the consolidated statement of financial position as of March 31, 2017 increased by ¥21,351 million ($202 million) and ¥13,920 million ($131 million) respectively. As a result, it has become highly probable that certain communications equipment will be disposed, and SoftBank Corp. recognized asset retirement obligations. With this change, the amount of "Provisions" and "Property, plant and equipment" in the consolidated statement of financial position as of March 31, 2017 increased by ¥13,802 million ($123,023 thousand) and ¥11,418 million ($101,774 thousand) respectively. Asset retirement obligations

Asset retirement obligations are recognized by the reasonably estimated amount required for the removal of equipment, such as part of base stations, certain offices (including the head office), data centers and network centers. The estimate is based on the assumption at present and is subject to changes depending on revised future assumptions.

Restructuring provision

The restructuring provision consists mainly of a network shutdown provision and backhaul² access provision.

(Network shutdown provision)

The network shutdown provision resulted from Sprint recognizing lease exit costs mainly related to the shutdown of the Nextel and Clearwire platform. The majority of the remaining network shutdown provision is expected to be utilized within 5-7 years. The amount and timing of these costs are estimated based upon current network plans which are subject to modification.

(Backhaul access provision)

The backhaul access provision reflects exit costs related to payments that will continue to be made under Sprint's backhaul access contracts for which it will no longer be receiving any economic benefit. The majority of the backhaul access provision relates to Sprint's network modernization activities and is expected to be utilized by December 31, 2018. The amount and timing of these costs are estimates based upon current network plans which are subject to modifications.

Note:

² Backhaul is an intermediary network that connects the cell towers to the local switching center.

Provision for loss on interest repayment

Provision for loss on interest repayment is recorded based on an amount representing future expected claims in order to prepare for future claims by debtors and others, for repayment of interest paid in excess of the rate permitted under the Interest Rate Restriction Act. The amount of claims for the interest repayment might fluctuate from changes in market environment and other factors.

Provision for onerous contract

SoftBank Corp. recognized provision for the excess of expected future cost of delivery for a contracted communication service over its contracted amount.

Most of the provision is expected to be used by March 31, 2019. The amount and the expected timing of payment are based on the current network plan and are subject to change.

The targeted investment allocation ratio is set based on an asset allocation policy for the investment portfolio of the pension plan to achieve a long-term nominal rate of return, net of fees, which exceeds the plan's long-term expected rate of return on investments for funding purposes.

The plan's long-term expected rate of return on investments for funding purposes is 7.75% as of March 31, 2017 (7.75% as of March 31, 2016). The current targeted investment allocation ratio is disclosed below. Actual allocations are allowed to deviate from target allocation percentages within a range for each asset class as defined in the investment policy.

d. Sensitivity analysis

Sensitivity is analyzed at the end of the period based on the movement of reasonably estimable assumptions. The sensitivity analysis assumes that actuarial assumptions other than those subject to the analysis are constant, but in reality, the movement of other actuarial assumptions may change.

The effect of the movements in significant actuarial assumptions used to determine the defined benefit obligations is as follows:

As of March 31, 2016

(U.S.)

The policy is to contribute the necessary amount to the plan in order to meet the minimum funding requirement, based on related regulations. The amount to be contributed to the plan for the year ending March 31, 2018 is expected to be ¥4,936 million ($43,997 thousand).

(b) Maturity analysis of the defined benefit obligation

(Japan)

As of March 31, 2017, the weighted-average duration of the defined benefit obligation is 8.9 years.

(U.S.)

As of March 31, 2017, the weighted-average duration of the defined benefit obligation is 15.2 years.

25. Financial instruments

(1) Capital management

Our policy is to realize and maintain optimum capital composition to maintain mid- and long-term sustainable growth and maximize our corporate value.

Major indicators used for our capital management are as follows:

- Equity capital
- Equity capital ratio

Note:

Equity capital is the amount of “Equity attributable to owners of the parent.” Equity capital ratio represents “Equity attributable to owners of the parent” divided by “Total liabilities and equity.”

Equity capital and the equity capital ratio are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)

The Company is not subject to regulatory capital requirements imposed by outside institutions other than general capital requirements under the Companies Act of Japan and other laws. Also, for details regarding our financial covenants related to interest-bearing debt, please see “(3) Financial covenants” in “Note 19. Interest-bearing debt.”

(2) Financial risk management

As we operate in a wide range of markets, the Company faces a variety of financial risks (foreign exchange risk, price risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk) in its operations. The Company manages its risks based on established policies to prevent and reduce these financial risks.

Derivative transactions entered into by the Company are conducted and controlled based on the Company’s internal rules and procedures for derivative transactions and are limited to the extent of actual demands.

a. Market risk

(a) Foreign exchange risk

The Company is engaged in international businesses through investments, financial contributions and the establishment of joint ventures. The Company undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies with foreign parties and, through lending to and borrowings from foreign subsidiaries. Consequently, there is foreign exchange risk that arises from changes in currency rates mainly in the U.S. dollar, Indian Rupee, and British pound.

To manage this risk, the Company continuously monitors exchange rates and manages exchange rate exposures. The Company also uses foreign currency forward contracts to hedge the risk.

i. Foreign exchange sensitivity analysis

Exposure to foreign exchange risk on financial instruments related to U.S. dollars and Indian Rupees, our major foreign currencies, for subsidiaries whose functional currency is Japanese yen is as follows:

U.S. Dollar (Functional currency: Japanese yen)

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017

Net exposure affecting income before income tax	¥214,290	¥116,169	$1,035,467
[in asset position]

Other than the tables presented above, major exposure to foreign exchange risk on subsidiaries whose functional currency is not Japanese yen is as follows:

U.S. Dollar (Functional currency: British pound)

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017
Net exposure affecting income before income tax	¥(386)	¥87,649	$781,255
[in (liability) asset position]

Net exposure affecting income before income tax comprises the foreign exchange risk exposures from monetary financial instruments denominated in a foreign currency (including those used in internal transactions) whose exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss and the foreign exchange risk exposures from derivatives related to forecast transactions.

Net exposure affecting other comprehensive income comprises the foreign exchange risk exposures from available-for-sale financial assets whose exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income and foreign exchange risk exposures from derivatives (cash flow hedge) related to forecasted transactions.

The table below presents the effect of a 1% appreciation of the Japanese yen on income before income tax and other comprehensive income (before tax effect) regarding the financial instruments with the above foreign exchange risk exposure, assuming that all other factors are constant. The analysis does not include the effect of translating assets and liabilities of foreign operations into the presentation currency, which is detailed in “Note 29. Foreign currency exchange rates.”

(b) Price risk

For the purpose of business strategy, the Company holds securities traded in active markets, including listed stock, and is exposed to market price fluctuation risk.

To manage this risk, the Company continuously monitors the financial condition of security issuers and stock market fluctuations.

i. Price sensitivity analysis

The table below presents the effect of a 10% decrease in market price regarding the securities traded in active markets on income before income tax and other comprehensive income before tax effect, assuming that all other factors are constant.

Also, the Company entered into a variable prepaid forward contract which is settled by Alibaba shares held by the Company. The contract includes a collar transaction that a cap and floor are set for the number of shares settled. The collar transaction is classified as a derivative instrument and its fair value is affected by the price of Alibaba shares. Derivative gain and loss, which occurred depending on fluctuation of the price of Alibaba shares, are recognized through profit or loss.

Fair value of the collar transaction is composed of intrinsic value and time value. The effect of a 10% increase in the price of Alibaba shares on income before income tax due to fluctuation of intrinsic value is a loss of $800,000 thousand, assuming that all other factors are constant. In case of consideration of time value, the impact of the loss is decreased.

Further, derivative gain and loss resulting from this collar transaction is fixed to a loss of $900,000 thousand during three-year period from initial recognition date of the derivative instruments, in June 2016, to settlement date of Alibaba shares.

The details of the variable prepaid forward contract and the collar transaction are described in “(2) Transaction for sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract” in “Note 19 Interest-bearing debt.”

ii. Option contracts

The details of option contracts are as follows:

(c) Interest rate risk

The Company raises funds through issuing interest-bearing debt. Certain interest-bearing debt is issued with floating interest rates, and is exposed to interest rate risk.

Interest-bearing debt with floating interest rates has the risk of increased interest expenses due to rising interest rates. In order to prevent and reduce interest rate fluctuation risk, the Company maintains an appropriate mixture of fixed and floating interest rate debt. For certain borrowings and bonds with floating interest rates, the Company also utilizes derivative transactions, such as interest rate swaps, in order to hedge interest rate fluctuation risk, converting floating interests into fixed interests. For floating interest rate debt, the Company continuously monitors interest rate fluctuations.

i. Interest rate sensitivity analysis

The table below presents the effect of a 1% increase in interest rates regarding the floating interest rate debt on income before income tax in the consolidated statement of income, assuming that all other factors are constant. The analysis does not include floating interest rate debt whose interests are fixed by interest rate swaps and other derivative transactions.

b. Credit risk

In the course of the Company's business, trade and other receivables, and other financial assets (including deposits, equity securities and derivatives) are exposed to the credit risk of its counterparties.

In order to prevent and reduce the risk, the Company does not expose itself to significant concentrations of credit risk for such receivables and financial assets. To manage its credit risk, the Company performs due date controls and balance controls for each customer in accordance with its internal customer credit management rules and regularly monitors major customers' credit status.

The carrying amount of financial instruments, net of impairment, which is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position, as well as the amount of lending commitments and guaranteed obligations, represents the Company's maximum exposure to credit risk on financial assets. The value of collateral held and other credit enhancements are not included. The details of lending commitments and guaranteed obligations are described in "(1) Lending commitments" and "(2) Credit guarantees" in "Note 46. Contingency."

There were no financial or non-financial assets acquired as a result of foreclosure of collateral or enforcement of other credit enhancements during the years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017.

2. Regarding Handset Sale-Leaseback Tranche 2 financing obligation that Sprint implemented in May 2016, the Company designated it as a financial liability that is measured at fair value through profit or loss. This is a transaction with MLS which is a joint venture of the Company. The terms and conditions of the transaction are negotiated and determined based on the market price and the content of transaction.

26. Fair value of financial instruments

(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy

Financial instruments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis after initial recognition are classified into three levels of the fair value hierarchy based on the observability and significance of inputs used for the measurement.

The fair value hierarchy is defined as follows in descending order of level:

Level 1: Fair value is measured using quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Fair value is measured using inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Fair value is measured using unobservable inputs.

If the fair value measurement uses different levels of inputs, the fair value is categorized based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the entire fair value measurement.

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are recognized as if they have occurred at the beginning of each quarter.

There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 during the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017.

The table below presents financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the fair value hierarchy.

The major valuation techniques for financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis are as follows:

a. Equity securities and bonds

Equity securities and bonds are measured using quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities if such prices are available, and are classified as Level 1. Where such quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities are not available, they are measured using quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, quoted prices of comparable companies and valuation techniques such as the discounted cash flow model. They are classified as Level 2 if all significant inputs such as quoted prices and discount rates that are used for the measurement are observable, whereas if inputs include significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as Level 3.

b. Derivative financial assets and derivative financial liabilities

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is measured using valuation techniques such as the discounted cash flows model. Derivative financial instruments are classified as Level 2 if all significant inputs such as foreign currency exchange rates and discount rates that are used for the measurement are observable, whereas if inputs include significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as Level 3.

c. Interest-bearing debt

The fair value of interest-bearing debt is measured using the discounted cash flows model. The model uses unobservable inputs, such as customer churn rates, customer upgrade probabilities, and the likelihood that Sprint will elect the Exchange Option¹ versus the termination option² upon customer upgrade, resulting in a Level 3 classification.

Notes:

1. The option to transfer the title in the new device to the borrower in exchange for the title in the original device upon customer upgrade, in order to continue the borrowings.
2. The option that Sprint terminates the borrowings.

(2) Fair value measurements of financial instruments that are categorized as Level 3

a. Valuation techniques and inputs

The following table shows information about the valuation techniques used and the significant unobservable inputs used in the Level 3 fair value measurements.

Equity securities

Valuation techniques	Unobservable inputs	Ranges of unobservable inputs
		As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017
Price of recent investment	Discount for lack of marketability	10.0% – 45.0%	10.0% – 35.0%
	Control premium	5.0% – 10.0%	5.0% – 10.0%
Discounted cash flow	Cost of capital	16.9%	—
	Perpetual growth rate	5.2%	—
	Discount for lack of marketability	15.0%	—
	Discount for non-control interest	17.0%	—

b. Sensitivity Analysis

Of the above unobservable inputs, perpetual growth rate and control premiums have a positive correlation with the fair value of equity securities, whereas cost of capital, discount for non-controlling interest, and discount for lack of marketability have a negative correlation with the fair value of equity securities.

c. Valuation processes

Fair value is measured by our personnel in the treasury and accounting departments based on internal regulations, using the most appropriate valuation techniques and inputs that reflect the nature, characteristics and risks of the financial instruments subject to fair value. The fair value of financial instruments that require a high level of knowledge and experience for the valuation is measured by external specialists if the amount of such financial instruments is material. The result of the measurement conducted at the end of each quarter, including the valuation by the external specialists, is reported to the Company's Board of Directors after the analysis of fair value changes and other contents are reviewed and approved by the head of the department.

d. Roll forward of financial instruments categorized as Level 3

Roll forward of financial instruments categorized as Level 3 is as follows:

(3) Carrying amounts and fair values of financial instruments

The table below presents carrying amounts and fair values of financial instruments.

Financial instruments whose carrying amounts are reasonably similar to fair values are not included in the table above. Financial instruments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis are also excluded because their fair values are the same as their carrying amounts.

The major valuation techniques for fair value measurements of the above financial liabilities are as follows:

a. Long-term borrowings

Fair values of the non-current portion of long-term borrowings with floating interest rates are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using observable inputs such as market interests, and the measurement is categorized as Level 2. Fair values of the non-current portion of long-term borrowings with fixed rates are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using an interest rate including the credit spread that would be used for a borrowing with the same terms and maturity. Those borrowings are categorized as Level 3.

b. Corporate bonds

Fair values of the non-current portion of corporate bonds are mainly categorized as Level 1 or Level 2. When the fair value is measured using quoted prices in active markets for identical bonds, it is categorized as Level 1. When the fair value is measured using quoted prices that are observable in markets that are not active for identical bonds, it is categorized as Level 2. The fair value of corporate bond categorized as Level 3 is immaterial.

c. Lease obligations

Fair values of the non-current portion of lease obligations are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using an interest rate considering the period until payment and credit risk, and are categorized as Level 2.

d. Installment payables

Fair values of the non-current portion of installment payables are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using an interest rate adjusted for the remaining repayment period and credit risks, and the measurement are categorized as Level 2.

27. Transfers of financial assets

The Company enters into securitization transactions involving trade and installment receivables.

The major securitization transactions involve the securitization of receivables related to wireless service charges due from subscribers and installment receivables recognized from the mobile handset sales business. For each transaction, the Company transferred receivables to financial institutions and acquired cash and subordinate interest in the transferred receivables for financing purposes. The receivables sold are not derecognized because in each transaction, the Company retains subordinate interest and, therefore, substantially retains all the risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred assets. Cash received from transferring the receivables are included in "Interest-bearing debt" under current liabilities and non-current liabilities.

The following table presents the carrying amount of financial assets and related liabilities that are transferred but do not meet the derecognition criteria, as well as the fair value where related liabilities have recourse only to the transferred assets:

	(Millions of yen)		(Thousands of U.S. dollars)
	As of March 31, 2016	As of March 31, 2017	As of March 31, 2017
Carrying amount of transferred assets	¥ 857,186	¥1,020,257	$ 9,094,010
Carrying amount of related liabilities	(624,563)	(735,205)	(6,553,213)

(Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities where related liabilities have recourse only to the transferred assets)

Fair value of transferred assets	¥ 857,186	¥1,020,257	$ 9,094,010
Fair value of related liabilities	(624,096)	(735,880)	(6,559,230)
Net position	¥ 233,090	¥ 284,377	$ 2,534,780

The difference between transferred assets and related liabilities is the subordinate interest which the Company retains on securitization.

28. Offsetting financial assets and liabilities

The following table presents the amount of financial assets and liabilities offset in the consolidated statement of financial position, as well as the amount of financial assets and liabilities that are under enforceable master netting agreements or similar contracts, but are not offset as they do not meet certain or all criteria of offsetting.

Rights to offset based on the enforceable master netting agreements or similar contracts are enforceable only in certain events such as bankruptcy or obligation default of the counterparty.

(2) Restricted stock unit plan

The Company adopts restricted stock unit (“RSU”) plans where the Company grants stocks, the transfer of which is restricted for a certain period until vested, and is accounted for as equity-settled share-based payment.

The details of the Company’s RSU plans for the years ended March 31, 2016 and 2017 are as follows:

a. Sprint

Sprint grants shares of Sprint Corporation as RSUs to its directors, employees and other service providers. The fair value of the RSU is generally measured based on the closing price of the stock on the date of grant. RSU generally has performance and service requirements or service requirements only, with vesting periods ranging from one to three years.

During the year ended March 31, 2017, Sprint granted performance-based RSUs that will be earned upon the achievement of certain market conditions, which are based on the Sprint share price. The fair value of these market-based RSUs is estimated at the date of grant using the Monte Carlo valuation methodology, which incorporates into the valuation the possibility that the market condition may not be satisfied. These market-based RSUs will vest 50% over four years from the grant date and 50% over five years from the grant date.

The number of RSUs granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was 54,729,219 units. The weighted-average fair value of RSUs granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was $5.64 per unit.

As Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc. has the option to settle by cash instead of Sprint Corporation shares, this RSU grant has been accounted for as an equity-settled share-based payment. The fair value of the RSUs is measured based on the stock price as of the date of the grant.

RSU vests equally each year over four years, with continuous service required through each vesting date.

c. Supercell

Supercell grants shares of Supercell Oy as RSU to its employees. The RSU plan is accounted for as an equity-settled share-based payment even though Supercell has the option to settle some of the RSU in cash when the options are exercised instead of Supercell Oy shares. RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was 12,000 units. The fair value of the RSU is intrinsic value measured using the discount cash flow method or guideline public companies method. The weighted-average fair value of the RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was €102.35 per unit.

RSU vests equally each year over four years, with continuous service required through each vesting date.

- License exchange gain resulting from the exchange of certain spectrum licenses, which is recorded as FCC licenses in intangible assets, with other carriers (non-cash transaction).
- Loss mainly resulting from the write-off of leased devices associated with lease cancellations prior to scheduled customer lease terms where customers did not return the devices to Sprint. In fiscal year ended March 31, 2016, ¥6,684 million of loss was recognized upon the sale of devices to Mobile Leasing Solutions, LLC under the Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction. Regarding the Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction, the details are described in "Note 14. Leases."

As impairment indicators existed, the impairment test was conducted on goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives. As a result, the recoverable amount of goodwill was less than its carrying amount, and therefore, ¥30,260 million ($269,721 thousand) of impairment loss on goodwill was recorded as "Other operating loss." Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and calculated by discounting the management-approved estimated future cash flow plan of the four cash-generating units by 10.97%-16.17%, the weighted-average capital cost before tax.
- As a result of revising the business plan of the Brightstar's Latin America region, the recoverable amount became negative and, therefore, the carrying amount related to the cash-generating unit was reduced to ¥0. Impairment loss on property, plant, and equipment was ¥8,070 million and impairment loss on intangible assets was ¥5,563 million. Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and calculated by discounting management approved estimated future cashflow plan by 22.11%, weighted average capital cost before tax.

Also, maturities of guarantee balance for credit guarantee are within 1 year because they are payable on demand.

(3) Litigation

SoftBank Group Corp. and certain subsidiaries are currently party to a number of pending legal and administrative proceedings. As it is difficult to reasonably estimate the final results of such matters, reserves have not been recorded. Based on the information currently available, we do not expect that the results of these proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position or results of operations.

a. Litigation in which SoftBank Corp. is involved as a party

(a) On April 30, 2015, SoftBank Corp. filed a lawsuit with the Tokyo District Court against Japan Post Information Technology Co., Ltd. (“JPiT”), claiming for payment of remuneration, etc., for additional services provided in connection with the installation of telecommunication lines, etc., that were ordered by JPiT in relation to a project to migrate the communication network connecting approximately 27,000 sites (postal offices, etc.) existing countrywide to a new network, the 5th PNET.

Pursuant to a contract dated February 7, 2013, SoftBank Corp. was requested by JPiT to carry out, among other services, installation services for telecommunication lines for Japan Post Group’s business sites existing countrywide. SoftBank Corp. performed such services, and upon JPiT’s request, SoftBank Corp. also performed services that exceeded the scope of services stipulated in the contract.

Although SoftBank Corp. negotiated with JPiT over an extended period regarding the remuneration, etc. (approximately ¥14.9 billion), for these additional services, SoftBank Corp. and JPiT were unable to arrive at a settlement. Accordingly, SoftBank Corp. duly filed the lawsuit, claiming for payment of remuneration, etc., for such additional services.

(b) On April 30, 2015, JPiT filed a lawsuit against SoftBank Corp. and Nomura Research Institute, Ltd. (“NRI”) as co-defendants.

In this lawsuit, JPiT alleges that SoftBank Corp. and NRI delayed performance, etc., of the ordered services related to the project for migration to the 5th PNET mentioned in (a) above, and alleges that such delay caused damages to JPiT (¥16.15 billion). JPiT made joint and several claims against both SoftBank Corp. and NRI for such alleged damages.

SoftBank Corp. intends to fully contest JPiT’s claims in this lawsuit.

The order to consolidate lawsuit (b) above with lawsuit (a) above was made on July 29, 2015. SoftBank Corp. modified the amount of claim from approximately ¥14.9 billion to approximately ¥20.4 billion on November 13, 2015, and also modified the amount of claim from approximately ¥20.4 billion to approximately ¥22.3 billion on October 12, 2016, as a result of a review of the remuneration etc. with respect to additional services regarding the lawsuit (a) above.

b. Legal and administrative proceedings to which Sprint and its subsidiaries are party

(a) In March 2009, a stockholder brought suit, Bennett v. Sprint Nextel Corp., in the U.S. District Court for the District of Kansas (the “Bennett case”), alleging that Sprint Communications and three of its former officers violated Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 by failing to adequately disclose certain alleged operational difficulties subsequent to the Sprint-Nextel merger, and by purportedly issuing false and misleading statements regarding the write-down of goodwill. The district court granted final approval of a settlement in August 2015, which did not have a material impact on our financial statements. Five stockholder derivative suits related to the Bennett case were filed against Sprint Communications and certain present and/or former officers and directors. The first, Murphy v. Forsee, was filed in state court in Kansas on April 8, 2009, was moved to federal court, and was stayed by the court pending resolution of the motion to dismiss the Bennett case; the second, Randolph v. Forsee, filed on July 15, 2010, in the state court in Kansas, was moved to federal court, and was remanded back to state court; the third, Ross-Williams v. Bennett, et al., was filed in state court in Kansas on February 1, 2011; the fourth, Price v. Forsee, et al., was filed in state court in Kansas on April 15, 2011; and the fifth, Hartleib v. Forsee, et al., was filed in federal court in Kansas on July 14, 2011. These cases were essentially stayed while the Bennett case was pending, and Sprint has reached an agreement in principle to settle the matters, by agreeing to some governance provisions and by paying plaintiffs' attorneys fees in an immaterial amount. The court approved the settlement, but reduced the plaintiff's attorneys fees; the attorneys fees issue is on appeal.

(b) On April 19, 2012, the New York Attorney General filed a complaint alleging that Sprint Communications had fraudulently failed to collect and pay more than $100 million in New York sales taxes on receipts from its sale of wireless telephone services since July 2005. The complaint also seeks recovery of triple damages under the State False Claims Act, as well as penalties and interest. Sprint Communications moved to dismiss the complaint on June 14, 2012. On July 1, 2013, the court entered an order denying the motion to dismiss in large part, although it did dismiss certain counts or parts of certain counts. Sprint Communications appealed that order and the intermediate appellate court affirmed the order of the trial court. On October 20, 2015, the Court of Appeals of New York affirmed the decision of the appellate court that the tax statute requires Sprint Communications to collect and remit the disputed taxes. Sprint Communications' petition for certiorari to the US Supreme Court on grounds of federal preemption was denied. Through the year ended March 31, 2017, Sprint Communications accrued approximately $200 million in association with this matter. The parties are now engaged in discovery in the trial court. Sprint Communications will continue to defend this matter vigorously.

Eight related stockholder derivative suits have been filed against Sprint Communications and certain current and former officers and directors. Each suit alleges generally that the individual defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Sprint Communications and its stockholders by allegedly permitting, and failing to disclose, the actions alleged in the suit filed by the New York Attorney General. One suit, filed by the Louisiana Municipal Police Employees Retirement System, was dismissed by a federal court. Two suits were filed in state court in Johnson County, Kansas, and one of those suits was dismissed as premature and five suits are pending in federal court in Kansas. The remaining Kansas suits have been stayed pending resolution of the New York Attorney General's suit.

(c) Sprint Communications is also a defendant in a complaint filed by several stockholders of Clearwire Corporation asserting claims for breach of fiduciary duty by Sprint Communications and related claims and otherwise challenging the Clearwire acquisition. ACP Master, LTD., et al. v. Sprint Nextel Corp., et al., was filed on April 26, 2013, in Chancery Court in Delaware. Plaintiffs in the ACP Master, LTD. suit have also filed suit requesting an appraisal of the fair value of their Clearwire stock. A trial related to those cases took place in October 2016 and November 2016; the parties have submitted their post-trial briefing, and oral argument was held on April 25, 2017. Sprint Communications, Inc. is awaiting a decision on such cases.

(d) Sprint is currently involved in numerous court actions alleging that Sprint is infringing various patents. Most of these cases effectively seek only monetary damages. A small number of these cases are brought by companies that sell products and seek injunctive relief as well. These cases have progressed to various degrees and a small number may go to trial if they are not otherwise resolved. Adverse resolution of these cases could require Sprint to pay significant damages, cease certain activities, or cease selling the relevant products and services. In many circumstances, Sprint would be indemnified for monetary losses that it incurs with respect to the actions of its suppliers or service providers.

(e) In October 2013, the FCC Enforcement Bureau began to issue notices of apparent liability ("NALs") to other Lifeline providers, imposing fines for intracARRIER duplicate accounts identified by the government during its audit function. Those audits also identified a small percentage of potentially duplicative intracARRIER accounts related to Sprint's Assurance Wireless business. No NAL has yet been issued with respect to Sprint, and Sprint does not know if one will be issued. Further, Sprint is not able to reasonably estimate the amount of any claim for penalties that might be asserted.

(f) Various other suits, inquiries, proceedings, and claims, either asserted or unasserted, including purported class actions typical for a large business enterprise and intellectual property matters, are possible or pending against Sprint or its subsidiaries. During the year ended March 31, 2017, Sprint recorded a $103 million charge associated with a state tax matter. If Sprint's interpretation of certain laws or regulations, including those related to various federal or state matters, such as sales, use or property taxes, or other charges, were found to be mistaken, it could result in payments by Sprint.

c. Legal and administrative proceedings to which Brightstar Corp. and its subsidiaries are party

Brightstar Corp. and its subsidiaries are party to various legal and administrative proceedings globally and particularly in Latin American countries, including disputes relating to tax, labor, contract, and other currently pending matters. This litigation mainly consists of five administrative proceedings initiated by tax authorities in Brazil against the subsidiary of Brightstar Corp. involving failure by such entity to pay a portion of taxes owed due to, e.g., differences in understanding between such entity and the tax authorities, for which such authorities have claimed an aggregate of $120 million. One of these five administrative proceedings has been filed; however, a subsidiary of Brightstar Corp. has filed an Annulment Action in October 2015 requesting that the case be returned to the administrative level.

47. Purchase commitments

(1) Conditional commitments on investment in WorldVu Satellites Limited ("OneWeb") and Intelsat S.A. ("Intelsat") and a conditional service purchase commitment with OneWeb

The Company had investments of $0.68 billion and $1.73 billion in OneWeb and Intelsat, respectively, as of March 31, 2017. Such investments are intended to support the construction of satellite communication systems and operations to provide affordable, high-speed, low-latency Internet to rural and remote communities around the world.

In accordance with a share purchase agreement between the Company and OneWeb with a total investment amount of $1 billion, the Company invested $0.32 billion in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, and further invested $0.15 billion in April 2017. With respect to the remaining conditional investment commitment of $0.53 billion, the Company will invest such amount upon OneWeb obtaining certain financing and approvals from relevant regulatory authorities.

The total investment of $1.73 billion in Intelsat was subject to the consummation of the merger between OneWeb and Intelsat (the "Merger") and the receipt of approvals from relevant regulatory authorities. As Intelsat was unable to reach an agreement with certain existing Intelsat bondholders on the terms of proposed debt exchange offers, which was a condition to the Merger, the Company's conditional investment commitment in Intelsat terminated and, consequently, the Company will no longer be investing in Intelsat.

In addition, the Company has a conditional purchase commitment of $4 billion for satellite communication service capacity to the OneWeb group as of March 31, 2017. The minimum payment of $4 billion is subject to OneWeb achieving certain service levels, which are set forth in two stages and include, among other things, the positioning of a particular number of satellites on prescribed orbital planes in operation. An initial payment of $0.5 billion will be made within 12 months of OneWeb completing the first service level, and the remaining $3.5 billion will be paid within 48 months of OneWeb completing the second service level.

(2) Commitment to acquire Fortress Investment Group LLC ("Fortress")

The Company will acquire 100% of the outstanding shares of Fortress for approximately $3.3 billion. The closing of the acquisition is subject to the satisfaction of customary conditions, such as certain regulatory approvals. The Company is planning to bring in partners for a portion of the investment following the closing of this acquisition.

With regard to the acquisition above, on June 12, 2017, the Company entered into a new credit agreement in relation to a 5 year $1.4 billion term loan facility and 4.5 year $90 million revolving facility with financial institutions. The shares of Fortress and the shares of subsidiaries (a holding company) that will hold the shares of Fortress will be pledged as collateral of the new credit agreement.

(3) Other

Except for the above (1) and (2), the Company had commitments to purchase services and goods of ¥1,613,695 million ($14,383,590 thousand) as of March 31, 2017 (March 31, 2016: ¥1,496,500 million).

Purchase commitments are mainly outstanding contracts related to purchases of telecommunications equipment, purchases of mobile handsets, connection with other telecommunications operators, and investments.

48. Subsequent events

(1) Investment in Xiaoju Kuaizhi Inc. (“Kuaizhi”)

An overseas subsidiary of SoftBank Group Corp. made a total investment of $5.0 billion in Kuaizhi, the operator of a taxi allocation service in China, as of May 26, 2017. Kuaizhi is not classified as a subsidiary or an associate of the Company after the investment.

The impact of this agreement on the operating results as of March 31, 2018, has not been determined at present.

(2) SoftBank Vision Fund’s First Major Closing

SoftBank Vision Fund (the “Fund”) established by an overseas subsidiary of the Company completed its first major closing on May 20, 2017 with $93.2 billion of committed capital (“Initial Closing”). In addition to SoftBank Group Corp., the investors in the Fund (the “Limited Partners”) also include the Public Investment Fund of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the Mubadala Investment Company of the United Arab Emirates, Apple, Foxconn Technology Group, Qualcomm Incorporated and Sharp Corporation, or their respective affiliates. The final closing of the Fund is expected to occur no later than six months following the Initial Closing. Under the Initial Closing, SoftBank Group Corp. has committed a maximum of $28 billion of capital, which includes the In-kind Contribution (defined below), and the other Limited Partners have committed a maximum aggregate amount of $65.2 billion of capital for the Fund.

a. Summary of the Fund

The arrival of the Singularity, the point at which Artificial Intelligence (AI) exceeds human intelligence, will redefine every industry, and is expected to greatly expand existing business opportunities and to create new ones. The Fund has been established to firmly grasp these business opportunities. The Fund will invest mainly in companies that have superior technologies or business models, and are expected to experience strong growth.

The Company will pursue maximizing returns in the Fund, while maintaining its own sustainable growth, as an investor in the Fund for a minimum of twelve years’ duration.

An overseas subsidiary of the Company will manage the Fund as its general partner, and it will be advised by another overseas subsidiary in the U.K. following that entity’s registration with the UK Financial Conduct Authority, (the “Investment Management Company”). The investment decisions of the Fund will be made based on the decisions of the Investment Committee, which is expected to be established at the Investment Management Company, and since the Company has control as stipulated in IFRS 10 “Consolidated Financial Statements” over the Fund through these subsidiaries, the Fund will be consolidated by the Company.

Therefore, the results of operations, assets and liabilities of the Fund will be included in the Company’s consolidated financial statements. The portfolio companies that the Company is deemed to control under IFRS are treated as subsidiaries of the Company and their results of operations, assets and liabilities are included in the consolidated financial statements of the Company. In principle, other investments in the Fund are measured at fair value at the end of each quarter, and the change is recognized in profit or loss.

b. Transfer of the partial shares of Arm

The Company will contribute approximately 24.99% of the total number of issued shares of Arm (the “Arm Shares”) to the Fund, by an in-kind contribution (the “In-kind Contribution”) in satisfaction of approximately $8.2 billion of the Company’s $28 billion commitment to the Fund.

When the Fund draws down a portion of its committed capital from its Limited Partners (a “Capital Call”), the Company will be obligated to contribute a portion of the Arm Shares with a value equivalent to the amount of the Capital Call issued to the Company. After (and to the extent that) the aggregate amount of Capital Call issued to the Company exceeds approximately $8.2 billion, the aggregate value of the In-kind Contribution, the Company will contribute cash in satisfaction of Capital Calls. The In-kind Contribution will be effected through the transfer of Arm shares to the Fund, subject to the satisfaction of preconditions related to regulatory approvals prescribed in the Fund documents. Such conditions include clearance from the Committee on Foreign Investments in the United States in respect of the transfer of the Arm Shares. Pending delivery of the Arm Shares to the Fund following satisfaction of such conditions, a relevant portion of the Arm Shares will be pledged in favor of the Fund.

After the completion of the In-kind Contribution of Arm Shares, Arm will continue to be a consolidated subsidiary of the Company.

c. Impact on the Consolidated Financial Results

The impact from the Transactions on the consolidated financial results for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 has not yet been determined.

49. Approval of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements have been approved by the Company's CEO, Masayoshi Son, as of June 21, 2017.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of SoftBank Group Corp. (formerly, SoftBank Corp.) and its subsidiaries as of March 31, 2016, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Emphasis of Matters

As discussed in Note 46 (1) to the consolidated financial statements, the Company executed a series of capital raising transactions which involve monetizing a portion of the ordinary shares of Alibaba Group Holding Limited held by its wholly owned subsidiary, SB China Holdings Pte Ltd.

As discussed in Note 46 (3) to the consolidated financial statements, the Company entered into a definitive agreement to sell all of its shares of Supercell Oy held by its subsidiaries, Kahon 3 Oy and SoftBank Group Capital Limited.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of these matters.

3. Significant accounting policies

Accounting policies the Company has adopted have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these consolidated financial statements.

(1) Basis of consolidation

a. Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity that is controlled by SoftBank Group Corp.

The Company controls an entity when the Company is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

The subsidiaries’ financial statements are consolidated from the date when control is acquired (“acquisition date”) until the date when the control is lost.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with those used by the Company.

Non-controlling interests consist of those interests at the acquisition date and any adjustments for subsequent changes in those interests.

Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is generally attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

All intragroup balances and transactions and unrealized gain or loss arising from intragroup transactions are eliminated on consolidation.

Changes in the Company’s ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Company losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Company’s interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their interests in the subsidiaries.

Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to owners of the parent.

When SoftBank Group Corp. loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is calculated as the difference between:

- the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest; and
- the net carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), liabilities, and non-controlling interests of the subsidiary when a control is lost.

Any amounts previously recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income in relation to the former subsidiaries are reclassified to profit or loss.

b. Associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which SoftBank Group Corp. has significant influence in the financial and operating policy decisions but does not have control or joint control.

A joint venture is an investment which parties including SoftBank Group Corp. have joint control based on the contractual arrangement that requires unanimous consent related to significant decisions of the business activities and have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

Investments in associates and joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method and are initially recognized at cost. The investment is adjusted thereafter to recognize the Company's interest of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date of acquisition to the date of loss of significant influence.

However, regarding preferred stock investment in associates, when the feature of preferred stock is substantively different from common stock, it is not accounted for using the equity method, and it is designated as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("financial assets at FVTPL"). Please refer to "(4) Financial instruments" under "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" for details.

When the losses of an associate and a joint venture exceed the Company's interest in the associate and the joint venture, long-term interests that, in substance, form a part of the net investment in the company are decreased to zero, and no additional loss is recognized except when the Company incurs legal or constructive obligations to or makes payments on behalf of the associate and the joint venture.

Unrealized gains or losses on intercompany transactions with associates and joint ventures are added to or deducted from the carrying amount of the investments only to the extent of the Company's interests in the associates and the joint ventures.

Any excess in the cost of acquisition of an associate and a joint venture over the Company's interest of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities recognized at the date of acquisition is recognized as goodwill and included within the carrying amount of the investments in associates and joint ventures.

Because goodwill is not separately recognized, it is not tested for impairment separately. Instead, the entire carrying amount of the investments in associates and joint ventures, including goodwill, is tested for impairment as a single asset whenever objective evidence indicates that the investment may be impaired.

The Company applies the equity method to the financial statements of Alibaba, an associate of the Company, on a three-month time lag, as it is impracticable to conform the reporting period of Alibaba due to the contract with Alibaba. Adjustments are made for significant transactions or events that occurred during the intervening period and which were publicly announced by Alibaba.

(2) Business combinations

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method at the acquisition date.

The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured as the sum of the assets transferred by the Company, liabilities assumed by the Company from the former owners of the acquiree, and the fair value at the acquisition date of the equity interests issued by the Company. Acquisition-related costs are recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognized at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and assets or liabilities related to employee benefits are recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 12 “Income Taxes” and IAS 19 “Employee Benefits,” respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 “Share-based Payment” at the acquisition date; and
- assets or disposal groups that are classified as held-for-sale are measured in accordance with IFRS 5 “Non-current Assets Held-for-Sale and Discontinued Operations.”

The excess of the consideration transferred and the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired at the acquisition date is recorded as goodwill. If the consideration transferred and the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree is less than the fair value of the identifiable net assets of the acquired subsidiary, the difference is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

On an acquisition-by-acquisition basis, the Company chooses a measurement basis of non-controlling interests at either fair value or by the proportionate share of the non-controlling interests in the recognized amounts of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Company’s previously held interest in the acquiree is remeasured at fair value at the acquisition date and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognized in profit or loss.

Amounts arising from changes in the value of interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognized in other comprehensive income are recognized in profit or loss.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the fiscal year, the Company reports in its consolidated financial statements provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. The Company retrospectively adjusts the provisional amounts recognized at the acquisition date as an adjustment during the measurement period when new information about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date and, if known, would have affected the recognized amounts for the business combination. The measurement period shall not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

Goodwill arising in business combinations that occurred before the date of transition to IFRSs is carried over at the carrying amount under the previous accounting principles (Japanese Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, “JGAAP”) as of the date of transition to IFRSs, and recorded by that amount after an impairment test.

(3) Foreign currency translation

a. Transactions denominated in foreign currencies

The financial statements of each company are prepared in their functional currency. Transactions in currencies other than the entity’s functional currency (foreign currencies) are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions.

Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates prevailing at the end of the fiscal year. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences arising from translation are recognized in profit or loss, except for exchange differences arising from non-monetary available-for-sale financial assets measured through other comprehensive income and cash flow hedges are recognized in other comprehensive income.

b. Foreign operations

For the purposes of presenting consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Company’s foreign operations (including goodwill arising from acquisitions and the adjustments of fair value) are translated into Japanese yen using exchange rates prevailing at the end of the fiscal year.

Income, expenses and cash flows are translated into Japanese yen by using the average exchange rates for each quarter. When the translated amounts do not approximate the amounts translated by the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions, the exchange rates at the transaction dates are used for the translation.

The exchange rates used in the translation are described in “Note 29. Foreign exchange rates.”

Exchange differences arising from translating the financial statements of foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income and cumulative differences are included in accumulated other comprehensive income.

These cumulative differences are reclassified from equity to profit or loss when the Company loses control or significant influence over the foreign operation.

(4) Financial instruments

a. Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contract provision of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at fair value at initial recognition. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and issuance of financial liabilities other than financial assets at FVTPL and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (“financial liabilities at FVTPL”) are added to the fair value of the financial assets or deducted from the fair value of financial liabilities at initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets at FVTPL and financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized in profit or loss.

b. Non-derivative financial assets

Non-derivative financial assets are classified as “financial assets at FVTPL,” “held-to-maturity investments,” “loans and receivables,” or “available-for-sale financial assets.” The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at initial recognition.

All purchase and sales of financial assets made in a regular way are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis. The purchase and sales made in a regular way refer to acquiring or disposing financial assets under a contract that requires the delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

(a) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as “financial assets at FVTPL” when they are held for trading purposes or designated as financial assets at FVTPL.

Financial assets other than derivatives, which are mainly acquired to be sold in the short-term, are classified as held for trading purposes.

The Company designates a financial asset as a financial asset at FVTPL upon initial recognition, if:

- the financial assets are managed in accordance with the Company’s documented risk management policy or investment strategy; and
- its performance is reviewed on the fair value basis by the Company’s management to make decisions about the investment plan.

Also, if the Company is required to separate an embedded derivative from its host contract, but is unable to measure the embedded derivative separately either at acquisition or at the end of a subsequent financial reporting period, the entire hybrid contract is designated and accounted for as financial assets at FVTPL.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value. Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value, dividend income and interest income are recognized in profit or loss. Fair value of financial assets at FVTPL is measured in the manner described in “(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy” in “Note 26. Fair value of financial instruments.”

(b) Held-to-maturity investments

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity dates that the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity are classified as “held-to-maturity investments.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, held-to-maturity investments are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment. Interest income based on the effective interest rate is recognized in profit or loss.

(c) Loans and receivables

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market are classified as “loans and receivables.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment. Interest income based on the effective interest rate is recognized in profit or loss.

(d) Available-for-sale financial assets

Non-derivative financial assets are classified as “available-for-sale financial assets,” if:

- they are designated as “available-for-sale financial assets”; or
- they are classified neither as “financial assets at FVTPL,” “held-to-maturity investments,” nor as “loans and receivables.”

Subsequent to initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value and gains or losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income. Fair value of available-for-sale financial assets is measured in the manner described in “(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy” in “Note 26. Fair value of financial instruments.” Exchange differences arising on monetary financial assets classified as available-for-sale financial assets, interest income calculated using the effective interest method relating to available-for-sale financial assets and dividends received are recognized in profit or loss.

(e) Impairment of financial assets

Among financial assets other than those at FVTPL, available-for-sale equity instruments are assessed for any objective evidence of impairment at the end of the fiscal year and at the end of each quarter, and the other assets are assessed for any objective evidence of impairment at the end of the fiscal year. Financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that loss events occurred subsequent to initial recognition of the financial assets and when estimated negative future cash flows of the financial assets from those events can be reasonably estimated.

For available-for-sale equity instruments, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below the cost is considered to be objective evidence of impairment. In addition, objective evidence of impairment of all financial assets could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or borrower;
- breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- high possibilities of borrowers’ bankruptcy or entering financial reorganization; or
- disappearance of an active market for the financial assets.

The Company assesses the existence of objective evidence of impairment individually for separately significant assets or collectively for assets with no individual significance.

When there is objective evidence of impairment on loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments, the difference between the asset’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the original effective interest rate, is recognized in profit or loss as an impairment loss. The impairment loss is recognized through the use of an allowance account, and the carrying amount of a loan and receivable is written off against the allowance account when it is considered uncollectible.

The carrying amount of held-to-maturity investments is reduced by the impairment loss directly. If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the financial asset does not exceed what the amortized cost would have been, had the impairment not been recognized.

When there is objective evidence that an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired, previously recognized accumulated other comprehensive income is transferred to profit or loss. Impairment losses on equity instruments classified as available-for-sale financial assets are not reversed.

(f) Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset.

c. Non-derivative financial liabilities

The Company's non-derivative financial liabilities include interest-bearing debt and trade and other payables. These financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, subsequent to initial recognition.

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when the Company's obligations are discharged, canceled or expired.

d. Derivatives and hedge accounting

(a) Derivatives

The Company is engaged in derivative transactions, including foreign currency forward contracts and currency swaps in order to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate and interest rate risks.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently measured at their fair values at the end of fiscal year. Changes in the fair value of derivative are recognized in profit or loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument. Derivative financial assets not designated as hedging instruments are classified into "financial assets at FVTPL" and derivative financial liabilities not designated as hedging instruments are classified into "financial liabilities at FVTPL."

(b) Hedge accounting

The Company designates certain derivative transactions as hedging instruments and accounts for them as cash flow hedges.

At the inception of the hedge, the Company formally designates and documents the hedge relationship qualifying for hedge accounting, along with its risk management objectives and its strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. At the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, the Company evaluates whether the hedging instrument is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the relevant hedged item during the underlying period.

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualifying as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity. Accumulated other comprehensive income is transferred to profit or loss through a line item relating to the hedged item in the consolidated statement of income, in the periods when the cash flows from the hedged item affect profit or loss. Any ineffective portion of changes in fair value of derivatives is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

When the hedged forecasted transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or a non-financial liability, the Company removes the associated gains or losses previously recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income and includes them in the initial amount of the cost of the non-financial asset or non-financial liability (basis adjustment).

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Company revokes the hedging relationship, when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised or when hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting.

When hedge accounting is discontinued, any gains or losses recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income remains in equity and is reclassified to profit or loss when the forecasted transaction is ultimately recognized in profit or loss. When a forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, the gains or losses recognized in accumulated other comprehensive income are reclassified immediately to profit or loss.

(c) Embedded derivatives

Derivatives embedded in non-derivative host contracts (“embedded derivatives”) are separated from the host contracts and accounted for as separate derivatives when their economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the whole financial instruments, including embedded derivatives, are not measured at FVTPL. If the Company is required to separate an embedded derivative from its host contract, but is unable to measure the embedded derivative separately either at acquisition or at the end of a subsequent financial reporting period, the entire hybrid contract is designated and accounted for as financial assets at FVTPL.

e. Offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset, and the net amounts are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts, and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

(5) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash, demand deposits and short-term investments with maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to cash and subject to insignificant risk of change in value.

(6) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventories mainly consist of mobile handsets and accessories. Their costs comprise all costs of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. The costs are mainly calculated by the moving-average method.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(7) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured on a historical cost basis, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Historical cost includes costs directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset and the initial estimated costs related to disassembly, retirement and site restoration.

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated mainly using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of each component. The depreciable amount is calculated as the cost of an asset, less its residual value. Land and construction in progress are not depreciated.

The estimated useful lives of major components of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings and structures
Buildings	12 - 50 years
Other	5 - 15 years
Telecommunications equipment
Wireless equipment, switching equipment and other network equipment	5 - 30 years
Towers	15 - 42 years
Other	5 - 40 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment
Leased mobile devices	2 - 3 years
Other	4 - 10 years

The depreciation methods, useful lives, and residual values of assets are reviewed at the end of each fiscal year, and any changes are applied prospectively as a change in an accounting estimate.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their estimated useful lives when there is certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term. However, when there is no certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term, assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term or their estimated useful lives.

(8) Goodwill

Please refer to “(2) Business combinations” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies” for the measurement of goodwill at initial recognition. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Goodwill is not amortized, and is tested for impairment when there is an indication of impairment in cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated, and annually regardless of any indication of impairment. Impairment is described in “(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

The Company’s policy for goodwill arising from the acquisition of an associate is described in “(1) Basis of consolidation” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

(9) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are measured on a historical cost basis at cost, less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost at initial recognition. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are recognized separately from goodwill at initial recognition and are measured at fair value at the acquisition date. Any internally generated research and development expenditure is recognized as an expense in the period in which it is incurred, except for expenditures on development activities eligible for capitalization (internally generated intangible assets). The amount initially recognized for internally generated intangible assets is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets all of the capitalization criteria to the date the development is completed.

There are intangible assets with finite useful lives and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives.

The intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over the estimated useful lives. Amortization of the customer relationships is mainly calculated by the sum-of-the-digits method and intangible assets with finite useful lives other than customer relationships are amortized by the straight-line method.

The estimated useful lives of major categories of intangible assets with finite useful lives are as follows:

Software
Software related to wireless equipment	5 - 10 years
Other	3 - 5 years
Customer relationships	4 - 24 years
Favorable lease contracts	3 - 23 years
Game titles	5 years
Trademarks (with finite useful lives)	34 years
Spectrum migration costs	18 years
Other	4 - 20 years

Amortization methods, useful lives and residual values of assets are reviewed at the end of each fiscal year, and any changes are applied prospectively as a change in an accounting estimate.

Favorable lease contracts are recognized as intangible assets based on the estimated fair value of the favorable portion of future cash flows if, at the time of business combinations, the terms of operating lease contracts in which the acquiree is the lessee are favorable compared to market terms.

Spectrum migration costs are the amounts that the Company incurred in connection with the costs arising from the migration of the existing users from the 900 MHz band, which SoftBank Corp. acquired, to the other frequency spectrum based on the termination campaign. Useful lives are estimated based on the actual utilization of the frequency spectrum in the past.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are as follows:

- Licenses using specific frequency spectrum granted by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (“FCC licenses”)
- Trademarks (with indefinite useful lives)

As long as the Company acts within the requirements of the regulatory authorities, the renewal and extension of FCC licenses are reasonably certain at minimal cost. Therefore, it is determined that FCC licenses have indefinite useful lives.

The Company determined that “Sprint,” “Boost Mobile” and other trademarks have indefinite useful lives as they can be legally used continuously as long as the business continues and management’s current plans are to offer service under these trademarks for the foreseeable future.

The intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and the intangible assets that are not yet available for use are not amortized. The impairment of these assets is described in “(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill” in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

(10) Leases

The assessment of whether an arrangement is a lease or contains a lease is made on a basis of all the facts and circumstances at the inception of the arrangement.

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets are substantially transferred to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases. It is determined that all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets are transferred to the lessee when the lease terms account for most of the economic useful lives of the assets, or the present values of the total minimum lease payments are almost equal to the fair values of the assets. The lease terms are the total of the non-cancelable period and the period which is deemed to be reasonably certain that the renewal option will be exercised at the inception of the leases.

a. Finance leases

(The Company as lessee)

At inception, the Company initially recognizes finance leases as assets and the lease obligation at the amount equal to the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments.

Subsequent to initial recognition, the accounting policy for assets held under finance leases is consistent with that of assets that are owned. Lease payments are apportioned between finance cost and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

b. Operating leases

(The Company as lessee)

Gross operating lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the relevant lease terms.

(The Company as lessor)

Gross operating lease incomes are recognized as revenues on a straight-line basis over the relevant lease terms.

(11) Impairment of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill

a. Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

At the end of the fiscal year, the Company determines whether there is any indication that property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may be impaired.

If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.

The intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and the intangible assets that are not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually regardless of whether there is any indication of impairment.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell or value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pretax discount rate that reflects the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is reduced to its recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

At the end of the fiscal year, the Company evaluates whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognized in prior years for assets other than goodwill has decreased or extinguished. If such indication of a reversal of an impairment loss exists, the recoverable amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is estimated. If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be higher than its carrying amount, a reversal of an impairment loss is recognized, to the extent that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the lower of the recoverable amount or the carrying amount (less depreciation and amortization) that would have been recognized, had no impairment loss been recognized.

b. Impairment of goodwill

At the end of the fiscal year and at the end of each quarter, the Company determines whether there is any indication that goodwill may be impaired.

Goodwill is allocated to each of the cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the business combination, and it is tested for impairment annually regardless of any indication of impairment, and when there is an indication that the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units may be impaired. If, at the time of the impairment test, the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the cash-generating unit or groups of cash-generating units and then to the other assets pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or groups of cash-generating units.

Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognized directly in profit or loss and is not reversed in subsequent periods.

(12) Retirement benefits

Defined contribution plans are post-employment benefit plans under which an employer pays fixed contributions into a separate fund and will have no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions. Defined benefit plans are post-employment benefit plans other than defined contribution plans.

The Company primarily adopts defined contribution pension plans.

SoftBank Corp. has frozen its defined benefit lump-sum plans since March 2006 and 2007. Liabilities for the frozen defined benefit lump-sum plans are recognized as defined benefit liabilities until they are paid in the form of a lump sum at the time of future retirement of employees.

Sprint has frozen its defined benefit pension plans since December 2005. Liabilities for the defined benefit pension plans are recognized as defined benefit liabilities until they are paid as pensions after the time of retirement of employees.

a. Defined contribution plans

Contributions paid for defined contribution plans are recognized as expenses in the period in which the employees render the related service. Contributions payable are recognized as liabilities.

b. Defined benefit plans

The liability recognized in respect of the defined benefit plans (the defined benefit liability) is the present value of the defined benefit obligation less the fair value of plan assets at the end of the fiscal year.

The defined benefit obligation is determined by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method, and its present value is determined by applying a discount rate based on the yield curve of high-quality corporate bonds over the approximate period of the benefit payments.

Defined benefit cost includes service cost, net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset), and re-measurements of the net defined benefit liability (asset). Service cost and net interest are recognized in net profit or loss. Net interest is determined using the discount rate described above.

The liabilities for the frozen defined benefit plans are calculated on the basis of retirement benefits vested at the time the plans were frozen. Therefore, service cost is not incurred for those defined benefit plans.

The Company's remeasurements, which comprise actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest), are recognized in other comprehensive income and transferred to retained earnings immediately from accumulated other comprehensive income.

(13) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions are measured using the estimated future cash flows, discounted using a pretax rate reflecting the time value of money and the specific risks of the liability, after taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation at the end of the fiscal year.

The Company recognizes asset retirement obligations, restructuring provision, provision for loss on interest repayment, and provision for onerous contract as provisions.

Restructuring provisions are recognized when the Company has a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and has raised a valid expectation to those who will be affected that the Company will carry out the restructuring by starting to implement the plan or announcing the main features of the plan.

Restructuring provisions are mainly related to network shutdown and backhaul access contracts. The details of the restructuring provision are described in "Note 23. Provisions."

Provision for loss on interest repayment is recorded based on an amount representing future expected claims in order to prepare for future claims by debtors and other, for repayment of interest paid in excess of the rate permitted under the Interest Rate Restriction Act.

(14) Treasury stock

When the Company acquires its own equity share capital ("treasury stock"), the consideration paid, including any directly attributable increments costs (net of income taxes), is deducted from equity. No gain or loss is recognized on the purchase, sale, or cancellation of the treasury stock. The difference between the carrying amount and the consideration on sale is recognized as capital surplus.

(15) Share-based payments

The Company grants stock options and restricted stock unit awards as equity-settled share-based compensation and cash-settled share-based compensation.

Equity-settled share-based compensation is measured at fair value at the grant date. The fair value of stock options is calculated using the Black-Scholes model and other, and the fair value of restricted stock units is calculated using the share price at the date of grant.

The fair value determined at the grant date is expensed over the vesting period, based on the estimate of stock options or restricted stock units that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity.

The Company regularly reviews the assumptions made and revises estimates of the number of stock options or restricted stock units that are expected to vest, when necessary.

Cash-settled share-based compensation is accounted for as liabilities and is measured initially at the fair value of the award. The fair value of the liabilities is remeasured on each closing date and the settlement date, and changes in fair values are recognized in profit or loss.

(16) Revenue

The Company's accounting policy for revenue recognition by major categories is as follows:

Domestic Telecommunications segment and Sprint segment

a. Mobile Communications service and sales of mobile handsets

The Company provides mobile telecommunications services, which consist of voice communications and data transmission to subscribers, and also sells mobile handsets and accessories to customers.

In the Mobile Communications service, revenues are mainly generated from basic monthly charges, telecom service (“revenues from the mobile telecommunications service”) and other fees. Also, revenues from the sale of mobile handsets (“revenues from the sale of mobile handsets”) are generated from the sale of mobile handsets and accessories to subscribers or dealers.

The business flow of the above transactions consists of “Indirect sales,” where the Company sells mobile handsets to dealers and enters into telecommunications services contracts with subscribers through dealers, and “Direct sales,” where the Company sells mobile handsets to subscribers and enters into telecommunications services contracts directly with subscribers. The revenues are recognized respectively as follows:

(a) Indirect sales

Revenues from the sale of mobile handsets are recognized when mobile handsets are delivered to dealers, which is when risk and economic value are deemed to be transferred. Commission fees paid to dealers related to the sales of mobile handsets are deducted from revenues.

The mobile telecommunications services are recognized as revenue when services are provided to subscribers. Discounts are deducted from revenues from monthly mobile telecommunications services as a discount of mobile telecommunications charges.

Activation fees are deferred upon entering into the contract and recognized as revenues over the estimated average contract period. Upgrade fees are recognized as revenues over the estimated average usage period of handsets with the subscribers. Direct costs related to activation are deferred to the extent of the activation fees and upgrade fees and are amortized over the respective same period.

(b) Direct sales

In direct transactions, as the revenue from the sales of mobile handsets and the mobile telecommunications services, including the fees, are considered to be one transaction, the total amount of revenues is allocated to mobile handsets and telecommunications service on the basis of fair value ratio.

When handsets are sold in installments, revenue from the sales of mobile handsets is recognized based on the fair value ratio when handsets are delivered to the subscribers. When handsets are sold in lump-sum payment, the maximum amount of revenues to be recognized by the sale of mobile handsets is set by the amounts to be received from subscribers at the sales of mobile handsets. The amount of revenue allocated to the mobile telecommunication services is recognized when the service is provided to the subscribers.

b. Fixed-line Telecommunications service

In the Fixed-line Telecommunications service, revenues are generated mainly from voice communications and digital data transmission services, Internet provider charges, ADSL service fees, IP telephony service fees, and the usage of the network (“revenues from fixed-line telecommunications service”).

Revenues from fixed-line telecommunications services are recognized as revenues when services are provided to subscribers, based upon fixed monthly charges plus the usage of the network.

Yahoo Japan segment

In the Yahoo Japan segment, revenues are generated mainly from sponsored search advertising, display advertising, e-commerce related commission fees, revenue from membership and product sales.

Sponsored search advertising revenue is recognized when a visitor of the website clicks the advertisement. Display advertising comprises premium advertising, Yahoo! Display Ad Network (“YDN”) and other. Revenue from premium advertising is recognized over a period in which related advertisement is displayed. Revenue from YDN is recognized when a visitor of the website clicks the advertisement on the page with the related content. Revenue from e-commerce related commission fees is recognized when the transaction occurs. Revenue from membership fees is recognized over an effective period of the membership. Revenue from product sales is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products are transferred to the buyer, the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement nor effective control over the products sold, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the costs incurred and the amount of revenue related to the transaction can be measured reliably.

Distribution segment

In the Distribution segment, revenues are generated mainly from distribution of mobile handsets to telecommunication service providers and retailers overseas, and sales of PC software, peripherals, and mobile handsets accessories in Japan. Revenue in the Distribution segment is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products are transferred to the buyer, the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement nor effective control over the products sold, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow into the Company, and the costs incurred and the amount of revenue related to the transaction can be measured reliably. For transactions conducted by the Company on behalf of third parties, revenue is presented on net basis by excluding payment to third parties from the total consideration received from customers.

(17) Sales commission fees

The Company pays sales commission fees when dealers sell the Company's mobile handsets to subscribers or acquire and retain engagement of telecommunications service between the Company and subscribers. Commission fees related to the sales of mobile handsets are deducted from the revenues from the sales of mobile handsets. Commission fees related to the acquisition and retention of engagement of telecommunications service are recognized as selling, general and administrative expenses.

(18) Income tax

Income tax expense is composed of current and deferred taxes, and recognized in profit or loss, except for taxes related to business combinations and taxes related to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities, using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences, net operating loss carryforwards and tax credit carryforwards can be utilized. The recoverability of deferred tax assets is reassessed at the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets are not recognized for temporary differences from initial recognition of assets and liabilities that do not arise from business combinations and that do not impact accounting profit or taxable income.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates when it is probable that the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and when there will be sufficient taxable profits against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax liabilities are basically recognized for taxable temporary differences, except for:

- temporary differences arising from the initial recognition of assets and liabilities, and related transactions other than business combinations, that affect neither the accounting profit nor the taxable profit;
- taxable temporary differences arising from the initial recognition of goodwill; and
- taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, where the Company is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and income taxes are levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

(19) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing net income attributable to owners of the parent by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares (after adjusting for treasury stocks) outstanding for the period.

Diluted earnings per share assume full conversion of the issued potential stocks having a dilutive effect, with an adjustment for net income attributable to owners of the parent and the weighted-average number of ordinary shares (after adjusting for treasury stocks) outstanding for the period.

4. Significant judgments and estimates

In preparing consolidated financial statements under IFRSs, management makes judgments, estimates, and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are based on management's best judgments, through their evaluation of various factors that were considered reasonable as of the period-end, based on historical experience and by collecting available information. By the nature of its estimates or assumptions, however, actual results in the future may differ from those estimates or assumptions.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are continuously reviewed. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised as well as in the future periods. Significant judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts recognized in the Company's consolidated financial statements are as follows:

- judgments of whether an entity is controlled by the Company in the decision making on the scope of consolidation ((1) in "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" and "Note 15. Major subsidiaries");
- significant judgments for the determination of joint ventures ((1) in "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" and (3) in "Note 14. Leases");

- estimates for impairment of financial assets measured at amortized cost ((4) in "Note 3. Significant accounting policies" and "Note 38. Other non-operating income and loss");

5. Segment information

(1) Description of reportable segments

The Company's reportable segments are components of business activities for which discrete financial information is available, and such information is regularly reviewed by the Company's board of directors in order to make decisions about the allocation of the resources and assess its performance.

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015, the Company had four segments, the Mobile Communications segment, the Sprint segment, the Fixed-line Telecommunications segment, and the Internet segment. However, from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016, in line with the transformation from a strong Japanese business with global assets to a global business that will strive to create sustainable growth over the long term, the Company changed its segments to four reportable segments, such as the Domestic telecommunications segment, the Sprint segment, the Yahoo Japan segment, and the Distribution segment.

The Domestic Telecommunications segment provides, mainly through SoftBank Corp. (formerly SoftBank Mobile Corp.), mobile communications services, sale of mobile devices, telecommunication services such as fixed-line telephone and data communications services for corporate customers, and broadband services for retail customers in Japan.

The Sprint segment provides, through Sprint, mobile communications services, sale and lease of mobile devices, sale of mobile device accessories, and fixed-line telecommunications services in the U.S.

The Yahoo Japan segment provides, mainly through Yahoo Japan Corporation, Internet-based advertising business, e-commerce business, and membership services.

The Distribution segment provides, mainly through Brightstar, distribution of mobile devices overseas, and through SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp., sale of mobile device accessories, PC software and peripherals in Japan.

The reportable segments for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 are presented based on the revised reportable segments.

(2) Net sales and income of reportable segments

Accounting policies for reportable segments are the same as the policies described in “Note 3. Significant accounting policies.”

Income of reportable segments is defined as “Operating income.”

The Company had defined the income of reportable segments as the amount after deducting “Cost of sales” and “Selling, general and administrative expenses” from “Net sales” until the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015. In connection with the revision of the segments, the Company defined its income of reportable segments as “Operating income” from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016.

Income of reportable segments for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 is also defined as “Operating income.”

Intersegment transaction prices are determined under the same general business conditions as applied for external customers.

The following is the information about the Company’s net sales and income by reportable segment.

The Company also discloses EBITDA (i.e., segment income and loss after addition of depreciation and amortization) and Adjusted EBITDA (i.e., EBITDA after deduction of gain from remeasurement relating to business combination and other operating income and loss) by each reportable segment.

Financial cost, income and loss on equity method investments, dilution gain from changes in equity interest, and other non-operating income and loss are not managed by each reportable segment and therefore these income and losses are excluded from the segment performance.

The amount of “Other” included in “Buildings and structures” for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 is recorded mainly due to the change in accounting estimate of asset retirement obligations in Sprint. The details are described in “Note 23. Provisions.”

The decrease resulting from “Disposals” in “Furniture, fixtures, and equipment” includes ¥222,750 million, which is a historical cost of certain leased devices sold from Sprint to Mobile Leasing Solutions, LLC, and ¥(59,730) million of accumulated depreciation and impairment losses for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. The details are described in “(3) Handset sale-leaseback” in “Note 14. Leases.”

The amount of “Transfer of accounts” in “Furniture, fixtures, and equipment” is mainly due to the transfer of leased devices from “Inventories” in current assets.

Impairment loss is included in “Other operating loss” in the consolidated statement of income. The details are described in “Note 35. Other operating income and loss.”

As a result of consolidating ASKUL Corporation as a subsidiary in August 2015, the Company recognized customer relationships of ¥40,680 million and trademarks of ¥20,130 million. The details are described in “(1) ASKUL Corporation” in “Note 6. Business combinations.”

As a result of consolidating Ikyu Corporation as a subsidiary in February 2016, the Company recognized customer relationships of ¥16,000 million and trademarks of ¥10,120 million. The details are described in “(2) Ikyu Corporation” in “Note 6. Business combinations.”

Decrease due to “Loss of control” for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 is as follows:

As a result of losing control of GungHo as a subsidiary in June 2015, game titles decreased by ¥21,610 million. The details are described in “Note 40. Discontinued operations.”

“FCC licenses” are licenses to use a specific frequency spectrum granted by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”). As long as the Company acts within the requirements of regulatory authorities, the renewal and extension of FCC licenses are reasonably certain at minimal cost. Therefore, it is determined that FCC licenses have indefinite useful lives.

The Company determined that the “Sprint” and “Boost Mobile” trademarks have indefinite useful lives as they can be legally used continuously as long as the business continues and management’s current plans are to offer service under these trademarks for the foreseeable future.

Customer relationships reflect excessive earning capacity in the future expected from the existing customers of the acquiree at the time of business combinations.

Favorable lease contracts are recognized as intangible assets based on the estimated fair value of the favorable portion of future cash flows if, at the time of business combinations, the terms of operating lease contracts in which the acquiree is the lessee are favorable compared to market terms at acquisition date. Reversal of favorable lease contracts is recognized as operating lease payments.

Game titles reflect excessive earning capacity in the future expected from the existing game titles of the acquiree at the time of the business combinations.

Spectrum migration costs are the amounts that the Company incurred in connection with the costs arising from the migration of the existing users from the 900 MHz band, which SoftBank Corp. acquired, to the other frequency spectrum based on the termination campaign.

Amortization is included in “Cost of sales” and “Selling, general and administrative expenses” in the consolidated statement of income.

Goodwill acquired as a part of business combinations is allocated to cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups that are expected to benefit from the synergies arising from the combination.

Amounts of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives allocated to cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups are as follows:

The recoverable amount of each cash-generating unit or cash-generating unit group is measured as follows:

Value in use: SoftBank, Yahoo, Marketing solution, Shopping, Settlement finance, Ikyu, Brightstar, Brightstar US and Canada region, Brightstar Latin America region, Brightstar Asia and Oceania region, Brightstar Europe and Africa region, and SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp.

Fair value less disposal cost: Sprint

Value in use is mainly assessed by discounting to the present value the estimated cash flows in the next five years based on the financial budget approved by the management, which reflects past experience and external information, using the pretax weighted average cost of capital of 5.12%-22.11% of the cash-generating unit or cash-generating unit groups (5.03%-21.08% for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015). The cash flows from after five years are assumed on the basis of the growth rate of 0%-3.81%.

The fair value less disposal cost is measured based on active market prices.

As a result of reviewing the business plan of Brightstar’s Latin America region, goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives were tested for impairment because there was an indication of impairment for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. As a result, the recoverable amount became negative and therefore the carrying amount of assets related to the cash-generating unit was reduced to zero. Impairment loss on property, plant and equipment was ¥8,070 million and impairment loss on intangible assets was ¥5,563 million. Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and calculated by discounting management approved estimated future cash flow plan by 22.11%, weighted average capital cost before tax.

Impairment loss of ¥6,086 million for goodwill allocated to cash-generating unit groups of Other is recognized for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016.

Other than the above, as a result of an impairment test of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, no impairment loss is recognized for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 (For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015: no impairment loss is recognized for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives allocated to any cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups).

The share price of Sprint as of March 31, 2016 is $3.48 and it is below the carrying amount per share price on a consolidated basis. The fair value is measured by not only the quoted market price of the share, but also other considerations such as a future business plan and an estimated control premium.

The determination of fair value requires considerable judgment and is highly sensitive to changes in underlying assumptions. Consequently, there can be no assurance that the estimates and assumptions made for the purposes of the impairment tests for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives will prove to be an accurate prediction of the future. Continued, sustained declines in Sprint’s operating results, future forecasted cash flows, growth rates and other assumptions, as well as significant, sustained declines in Sprint share price and related market capitalization could impact the underlying key assumptions and our estimated fair values, potentially leading to a future material impairment of goodwill or intangible assets with indefinite useful lives.

As for goodwill allocated to Brightstar, the value in use of the cash-generating units to which the goodwill is allocated is higher than the carrying amount. However, there is a possibility that the impairment loss will be recognized if the pretax weighted average cost of capital used in the calculation of the value in use increases by approximately 0.26% or the growth rate in the calculation of the value in use decreases by approximately 2.68%.

The Company determined that for cash-generating units or cash-generating unit groups to which the goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are allocated, other than the above, the recoverable amount is unlikely to fall below the carrying amount, even if major assumptions used in the impairment test change to a reasonably foreseeable extent.

(2) Operating leases

The Company leases towers, land and buildings for the placement of telecommunications equipment, frequency spectrum, and telecommunication lines under operating leases. Certain operating lease contracts have automatic renewal option and escalation clauses.

In addition to the non-cancelable period, an automatic renewal option is included in the lease term to the extent that, at the inception of the lease, it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. For operating leases with escalation clauses or a portion of which is free of charge, the total lease payment amount is amortized over the lease term by the straight line method.

Cell site leases

Cell site leases in the U.S. are generally provided by the cell phone tower operators who provide tower and ground space to place Sprint-owned antennae, radio, and related equipment. The contract terms generally provide for an initial non-cancelable term of 5 to 12 years with up to five renewal options for five years each. At the establishment of the cell sites leases, it is assumed that at least one renewal option is exercised for contracts less than 10 years.

Cell site leases in Japan contain only land or buildings for the placement of cell sites. Most of the contract terms are 10 years or 20 years. At the establishment of the cell site leases, it is reasonably certain that they will be used until the contract term expires.

Spectrum leases (U.S.)

U.S. leased spectrum agreements have renewal options. For those contracts, it is reasonably certain that, at the inception of the transaction, all the renewal options will be used and terms including renewal terms are up to 30 years.

The components of the future minimum lease payments related to non-cancelable operating leases are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)
	As of March 31, 2015	As of March 31, 2016
Within 1 year	¥ 376,134	¥ 434,831

Over 5 years	1,435,562	1,207,512
Total	¥3,071,679	¥2,888,874

Operating lease payments recognized as expenses for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 totaled ¥471,560 million (For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015: ¥430,977 million).

(As lessor)

Sprint provides a device leasing program to its qualifying subscribers in the U.S. and SoftBank Corp. provides device rental service to corporate customers in Japan. The Company classifies substantially all transactions as operating leases along with the device leasing program and device rental service. At the end of the lease term of the device leasing program at Sprint, the subscriber has the option to turn in their device, continue leasing their device, or purchase the device. Since device leases are provided on the condition that subscribers maintain telecommunication services with the Company, the amount of revenue from these transactions is separated into the amount of payments to be received for device leases and other elements based on the fair value of telecommunication service and lease.

The components of the future minimum lease payments receivable under non-cancelable operating leases are as follows:

	(Millions of yen)
	As of March 31, 2015	As of March 31, 2016
Within 1 year	¥104,551	¥292,923

(3) Handset sale-leaseback

In November 2015, Sprint conducted a transaction to sell and leaseback certain leased devices, which is mentioned above “(2) Operating leases (As lessor),” with Mobile Leasing Solutions, LLC (MLS).

MLS was established for leasing business by SBLS HD US, Inc. (SBLS), a wholly-owned subsidiary of SoftBank Group Corp. and JPLS HD US, Inc. (JPLS), a company formed by Japanese leasing companies. It is contractually agreed that significant management policy and operating decision of MLS require the unanimous consent of its board of directors designated by SBLS and JPLS. Accordingly, the Company accounts for MLS under the equity method as a joint venture.

Under this transaction, Sprint sold the devices and transferred the associated certain specified customer lease end rights and obligations to MLS in exchange for a total amount of $1.3 billion, consisting of proceeds totaling $1.1 billion cash which was received in December 2015 and a deferred purchase price receivable of $0.1 billion, the remaining amount of the total proceeds, which will be settled at the end of the agreement. Simultaneously with the sale of the devices and transfer of certain specified customer lease end rights and obligations, MLS leased back each device to Sprint pursuant to the Master Lease Agreement in exchange for monthly rental payments to be made by Sprint to MLS. In addition, Brightstar has a contractual agreement with MLS to provide reverse logistics and remarketing services to MLS with respect to the devices that are returned to MLS. The terms and conditions of the transaction are negotiated and determined based on the market price and the content of transaction.

Sprint derecognized devices from property, plant and equipment when they were sold to MLS. The $65 million (¥7,801 million) difference between the fair value and the carrying amount of the devices sold was recognized as “Other operating loss” in the consolidated statement of income.

The proceeds received in December 2015 totaling $1.1 billion (¥137,593 million) were recognized as “Proceeds from sales of property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets” in the consolidated statement of cash flows.

Total amount of the future minimum lease payments receivable recognized under the transaction is ¥73,410 million and the future minimum lease payments receivable during the period is ¥28,385 million.

Notes:

- The Company recognizes deferred tax assets related to the entities that recorded a loss in either the fiscal year ended March 31, 2014 or 2015, in the amount of ¥53,046 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015. This is mainly from the recognition of deferred tax assets as of March 31, 2015 related to net operating loss carryforwards of Ymobile Corporation, considering the fact that SoftBank Mobile Corp., SoftBank BB Corp., SoftBank Telecom Corp., and Ymobile Corporation conducted an absorption type merger with SoftBank Mobile Corp. being the surviving company, effective on April 1, 2015.
- The increase in deferred tax liabilities from “Temporary difference associated with investment in subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures” is mainly due to the recognition of deferred tax liabilities on temporary differences on investment which mainly arose from dilution gain from changes in equity interest and income on equity method investments related to Alibaba. The amount of deferred tax liability recognized as of March 31, 2015 is ¥238,448 million.

The restructuring provision consists mainly of a network shutdown provision and backhaul² access provision.

(Network shutdown provision)

The network shutdown provision resulted from Sprint recognizing lease exit costs mainly related to the shutdown of the Nextel and Clearwire platform. The majority of the remaining network shutdown provision is expected to be utilized within 5-7 years. The amount and timing of these costs are estimated based upon current network plans which are subject to modification.

(Backhaul access provision)

The backhaul access provision reflects exit costs related to payments that will continue to be made under Sprint’s backhaul access contracts for which it will no longer be receiving any economic benefit. The majority of the backhaul access provision relates to Sprint’s network modernization activities and is expected to be utilized by December 31, 2017. The amount and timing of these costs are estimates based upon current network plans which are subject to modifications.

Note:

- ² Backhaul is an intermediary network which connects the cell towers to the local switching center.

The amount of claims for the interest repayment might fluctuate from changes in market environment and other.

(2) Financial risk management

As we operate in a wide range of markets, the Company faces a variety of financial risks (currency risk, price risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk) in its operations. The Company manages its risks based on established policies to prevent and reduce these financial risks.

The table below presents the effect of a 1% appreciation of the Japanese yen on income before income tax and other comprehensive income (before tax effect) regarding the financial instruments with the above foreign exchange risk exposure, assuming that all other factors are constant. The analysis does not include the effect of translating assets and liabilities of foreign operations into the presentation currency, which is detailed in “Note 29. Foreign exchange rates.”

(c) Interest rate risk

The Company raises funds through issuing interest-bearing debts. Certain interest-bearing debts are issued with floating interest rates and are exposed to interest rate risk.

In order to prevent and reduce interest rate fluctuation risk, the Company maintains an appropriate mixture of fixed and floating interest rate debts. For certain borrowings and bonds with floating interest rates, the Company also utilizes derivative transactions such as interest rate swaps in order to hedge interest rate fluctuation risk, converting floating interests into fixed interests. For floating interest rate debts, the Company continuously monitors interest rate fluctuation.

i. Interest rate sensitivity analysis

The table below presents the effect of a 1% increase in interest rates regarding the floating interest rate debts on income before income tax in the consolidated statement of income, assuming that all other factors are constant. The analysis does not include floating interest rate debt whose interests are fixed by interest rate swaps and other derivative transactions.

ii. Interest rate contracts

The details of interest rate contracts are as follows:

The above interest rate swap contract is designated as a cash flow hedge.

b. Credit risk

In the course of the Company's business, trade and other receivables, and other financial assets (including deposits, equity securities, receivables and derivatives) are exposed to credit risk of its counterparties.

In order to prevent and reduce the risk, the Company does not expose itself to significant concentrations of credit risk for such receivables and financial assets. To manage the credit risk, the Company performs due date controls and balance controls for each customer in accordance with internal customer credit management rules and regularly screens major customers' credit status.

The carrying amount of financial instruments, net of impairment, which is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position, as well as the amount of lending commitments and guaranteed obligations, represents the Company's maximum exposure to credit risk on financial assets. The value of collateral held and other credit enhancements are not included. The details of lending commitments and guaranteed obligations are described in "Note 44. Contingency (1) Lending commitments and (2) Credit guarantee."

There were no financial or non-financial assets acquired as a result of foreclosure of collateral or enforcement of other credit enhancements during the years ended March 31, 2015 and 2016.

c. Liquidity risk

In order to prevent and reduce liquidity risk, the Company maintains access to diversified fund raising sources including both indirect financing, such as bank loans and leases, and direct financing, such as issuance of bonds and commercial paper and securitization, taking market conditions and current/non-current debt ratios into consideration. As for fund management, the Company invests its funds in short-term deposits and MMF.

The Company also continuously monitors its forecast and actual movement of cash flows and liquid funds.

26. Fair value of financial instruments

(1) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy

Financial instruments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis after initial recognition are classified into three levels of the fair value hierarchy based on the observability and significance of inputs used for the measurement.

The fair value hierarchy is defined as follows in descending order of level:

Level 1: Fair value is measured using quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Fair value is measured using inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Fair value is measured using unobservable inputs.

If the fair value measurement uses different levels of inputs, the fair value is categorized based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the entire fair value measurement.

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are recognized as if they have occurred at the beginning of each quarter.

There were no transfers between level 1 and 2 during the fiscal years ended March 31, 2015 and 2016.

The table below presents financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the fair value hierarchy.

These preferred stocks are designated as financial assets at FVTPL.

The major valuation techniques for financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis are as follows:

a. Equity securities and bonds

Equity securities and bonds are measured using quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities if such prices are available, and are classified as level 1. Where such quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities are not available, they are measured using quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, quoted prices of comparable companies and valuation techniques such as the discounted cash flow model. They are classified as level 2 if all significant inputs such as quoted prices and discount rates that are used for the measurement are observable, whereas if inputs include significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as level 3.

b. Derivative financial assets and derivative financial liabilities

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is measured using valuation techniques such as discounted cash flow models. Derivative financial instruments are classified as level 2 if all significant inputs such as foreign exchange rates and discount rates that are used for the measurement are observable, whereas if inputs include significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as level 3.

(2) Fair value measurements of financial instruments that are categorized as level 3

a. Valuation techniques and inputs

The following table shows information about valuation techniques and significant unobservable inputs used in the level 3 fair value measurements where unobservable inputs are used.

Equity securities

Valuation techniques	Unobservable inputs	Ranges of unobservable inputs
		As of March 31, 2015	As of March 31, 2016
Price of recent investment	Discount for lack of marketability	—	10.0% – 45.0%
	Control premium	—	5.0% – 10.0%
Discounted cash flow	Cost of capital	15.0%	16.9%
	Perpetual growth rate	3.5%	5.2%
	Discount for lack of marketability	—	15.0%
	Discount for non-control interest	—	17.0%

b. Sensitivity Analysis

Of the above unobservable inputs, perpetual growth rate and control premium have a positive correlation with the fair value of equity securities, whereas cost of capital, discount for non-control interest, and discount for lack of marketability have a negative correlation with the fair value of equity securities.

c. Valuation processes

Fair value is measured by our personnel in treasury and accounting departments based on internal regulations, using the most appropriate valuation techniques and inputs that reflect the nature, characteristics and risks of the financial instruments subject to fair valuation. Fair value of financial instruments that require a high level of knowledge and experience for the valuation is measured by external specialists if the amount of such financial instruments is material. The result of the measurement conducted at the end of each quarter, including the valuation by the external specialists, is reported to the Company's board of directors after the analysis of fair value changes and other contents are reviewed and approved by the head of the department.

d. Reconciliation of financial instruments categorized as Level 3

Reconciliation of financial instruments categorized as Level 3 is as follows:

Financial instruments whose carrying amounts are reasonably similar to fair values are not included in the table above. Financial instruments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis are also excluded because their fair values are the same as the carrying amounts.

The major valuation techniques for fair value measurements of the above financial liabilities are as follows:

a. Long-term borrowings

Fair values of the non-current portion of long-term borrowings with variable rates are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using observable inputs such as market interests, and the measurement is categorized as level 2. Fair values of the non-current portion of long-term borrowings with fixed rate are measured based on discounted cash flow using an interest rate including the credit spread that would be used for a borrowing with the same terms and maturities. Those borrowings are categorized as Level 3.

b. Corporate bonds

Fair values of the non-current portion of corporate bonds are mainly categorized as Level 1 or Level 2. When fair value is measured using quoted prices in active markets for identical bonds, it is categorized as Level 1. When fair value is measured using quoted prices that are observable in markets that are not active for identical bonds, it is categorized as Level 2. The fair value categorized as Level 3 is immaterial.

c. Lease obligations

Fair values of the non-current portion of lease obligations are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using an interest rate considering the period until payment and credit risk, and categorized as Level 2.

d. Installment payables

Fair values of the non-current portion of installment payables are measured based on the discounted cash flow method using an interest rate adjusted for the remaining repayment period and credit risks, and the measurement is categorized as Level 2.

27. Transfers of financial assets

The Company enters into securitization transactions involving trade and installment receivables.

The major securitization transactions involve the securitization of receivables related to wireless service charges due from subscribers and installment receivables recognized from mobile handsets sales business. For each transaction, the Company transferred receivables to financial institutions and acquired cash and subordinate interest in the transferred receivables for financing purpose. The Receivables sold are not derecognized because in each transaction, the Company retains subordinate interest and therefore substantially retains all risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred assets. Cash received from transferring the receivables are included in “Interest-bearing debt” under current liabilities and non-current liabilities.

The following table presents the carrying amount of financial assets and related liabilities that are transferred but do not meet the derecognition criteria, as well as the fair value where related liabilities have recourse only to the transferred assets:

	(Millions of yen)
	As of March 31, 2015	As of March 31, 2016
Carrying amount of transferred assets	¥ 751,468	¥ 857,186

 (Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities where related liabilities have recourse only to the transferred assets)

Fair value of related liabilities	(515,270)	(624,096)
Net position	¥ 236,198	¥ 233,090

The amount of difference between transferred assets and related liabilities is the subordinate interest which the Company retains on securitization.

28. Offsetting financial assets and liabilities

The following table presents the amount of financial assets and liabilities offset in the consolidated statement of financial position, as well as the amount of financial assets and liabilities that are under enforceable master netting agreements or similar contracts but are not offset as they do not meet certain or all criteria of offsetting.

Rights to offset based on enforceable master netting agreements or similar contracts are enforceable only in certain events such as bankruptcy or obligation default of the counterparty.

(2) Restricted stock unit plan

The Company adopts restricted stock unit (“RSU”) plans where the Company grants stocks, the transfer of which is restricted for a certain period until vested, and it is accounted for as equity-settled share-based payment.

The details of the Company’s RSU plans for the years ended March 31, 2015 and 2016 are as follows:

a. Sprint

Sprint grants shares of Sprint Corporation as RSU to its directors, employees and other service providers.

The fair value of the RSU is generally measured based on the closing price of stock on the date of grant.

RSU generally has performance and service requirements or service requirements only, with vesting periods ranging from one to three years.

During the year ended March 31, 2016, Sprint granted performance-based restricted stock units that will be earned upon the achievement of certain market conditions, which are based on Sprint share price. The fair value of these market-based restricted stock units is estimated at the date of grant using Monte Carlo valuation methodology, which incorporates into the valuation the possibility that the market condition may not be satisfied. These market-based restricted stock units will vest 50% over four years from the grant date and 50% over five years from the grant date.

The number of RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 was 27,602,692 units. The weighted-average fair value of RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 was $3.06 per unit.

b. Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc.

Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc. grants RSU to its director with the option to settle either by Sprint Corporation shares held by Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc. or cash. As Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc. has the option to settle by cash instead of Sprint Corporation shares, this RSU grant has been accounted for as equity-settled share-based payment. The fair value of the RSU is measured based on the stock price as of the date of grant.

RSU vests equally each year over four years, with continuous service required through each vesting date.

c. Supercell

Supercell grants shares of Supercell Oy as RSU to its employees. The RSU plan is accounted for as equity-settled share-based payment even though Supercell has the option to settle the some of the RSU in cash when options are exercised instead of Spucercell Oy shares. RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 were 907,050 units. The fair value of the RSU is intrinsic value measured using the discount cash flow method or guideline public companies method. The weighted-average fair value of the RSU granted for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 was €89.84 per unit.

RSU vests equally each year over four years, with continuous service required through each vesting date.

(3) Phantom stock

Notes:

- Loss was recognized due to the provision made by SoftBank Corp. for the excess of expected future cost of delivery for a contracted communication service over its contracted amount.
- Loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment consists of ¥30,348 million of loss on disposal that resulted from the write-off of leased devices associated with lease cancellations prior to the scheduled customer lease terms where customers did not return the devices to Sprint, and ¥6,684 million of loss recognized upon the sale of devices to Mobile Leasing Solutions, LLC under the Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction. Regarding the Handset Sale-Leaseback transaction, the details are described in “Note 14. Leases.”
- The details of legal reserves are described in (b) under “b. Legal and administrative proceedings to which Sprint and its subsidiaries are party” under “(3) Litigation” under “Note 44. Contingency.”
- Impairments are primarily related to cell site construction costs that are no longer expected to be used as a result of changes in Sprint’s network plans.
- Sprint made an amendment associated with the defined benefit pension plan to offer certain terminated participants, who had not begun to receive plan benefits, the opportunity to receive their benefits as an immediate lump sum distribution. This is the gain arising from the settlement.
- Cash-generating units of the Distribution segment are composed of five regions, Brightstar Global Group Inc.’s US & Canada, Latin America, Asia & Oceania, SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp., and Europe & Africa from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. Of these cash-generating units, as a result of reviewing the business plan of Brightstar Global Group Inc.’s Latin America region, the recoverable amount became negative and therefore the carrying amount related to the cash-generating unit was reduced to zero. Impairment loss on property, plant and equipment was ¥8,070 million and impairment loss on intangible assets was ¥5,563 million. Value in use was used as the recoverable amount and calculated by discounting management approved estimated future cashflow plan by 22.11%, weighted average capital cost before tax.

Goodwill of Brightstar Global Group Inc. is allocated to the entire Brightstar Global Group Inc. (a group of cash-generating units) which bundles five cash-generating units. As a result of the impairment test on entire Brightstar Global Group Inc., the recoverable amount exceeded the carrying amount, and therefore the impairment loss on the goodwill allocated to entire Brightstar Global Group Inc. is not recognized.

(3) Litigation

SoftBank Group Corp. and certain of its subsidiaries are party to a number of currently-pending legal and administrative proceedings. As it is difficult to reasonably estimate the final results of such matters, reserves have not been recorded. Based on the information currently available, we do not expect that the results of these proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position or results of operations.

a. Litigation in which SoftBank Corp. is involved as a party

- (a) On April 30, 2015, SoftBank Corp. filed a lawsuit with the Tokyo District Court against Japan Post Information Technology Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "JPiT"), claiming for payment of remuneration, etc., for additional services provided in connection with the installation of telecommunication lines, etc., that were ordered by JPiT in relation to a project to migrate the communication network connecting approximately 27,000 sites (postal offices, etc.) existing countrywide to a new network, the 5th PNET.

Pursuant to a contract dated February 7, 2013, SoftBank Corp. was requested by JPiT to carry out, among other services, installation services for telecommunication lines for Japan Post Group's business sites existing countrywide. SoftBank Corp. performed such services and upon JPiT's request, SoftBank Corp. also performed services that exceeded the scope of services stipulated in the contract.

Although SoftBank Corp. negotiated with JPiT over an extended period regarding the remuneration etc. (approximately ¥14.9 billion) for these additional services, SoftBank Corp. and JPiT were unable to arrive at a settlement. Accordingly, SoftBank Corp. duly filed the lawsuit, claiming for payment of remuneration, etc., for such additional services.

- (b) On April 30, 2015, JPiT filed a lawsuit against SoftBank Corp. and Nomura Research Institute, Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "NRI") as co-defendants.

In such lawsuit, JPiT alleges that SoftBank Corp. and NRI delayed performance, etc., of the ordered services related to the project for migration to the 5th PNET mentioned in (a) above, and alleges that such delay caused damages to JPiT (¥16.15 billion). JPiT made joint and several claims against both SoftBank Corp. and NRI for such alleged damages.

SoftBank Corp. intends to fully contest JPiT's claims in this lawsuit.

The order to consolidate the lawsuit (b) above to the lawsuit (a) above was made on July 29, 2015. On November 13, 2015, SoftBank Corp. modified the amount of claim from approximately ¥14.9 billion to approximately ¥20.4 billion as a result of a review of the remuneration etc. with respect to additional services regarding the lawsuit (a) above.

b. Legal and administrative proceedings to which Sprint and its subsidiaries are party

- (a) In March 2009, a stockholder brought suit, Bennett v. Sprint Nextel Corp., in the U.S. District Court for the District of Kansas (hereinafter referred to as “the Bennett case”), alleging that Sprint Communications and three of its former officers violated Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 by failing to adequately disclose certain alleged operational difficulties subsequent to the Sprint-Nextel merger, and by purportedly issuing false and misleading statements regarding the write-down of goodwill. The district court granted final approval of a settlement in August 2015, which did not have a material impact to our financial statements. Five stockholder derivative suits related to the Bennett case were filed against Sprint Communications and certain of its present and/or former officers and directors. The first, Murphy v. Forsee, was filed in state court in Kansas on April 8, 2009, was removed to federal court, and was stayed by the court pending resolution of the motion to dismiss the Bennett case; the second, Randolph v. Forsee, was filed on July 15, 2010 in state court in Kansas, was removed to federal court, and was remanded back to state court; the third, Ross-Williams v. Bennett, et al., was filed in state court in Kansas on February 1, 2011; the fourth, Price v. Forsee, et al., was filed in state court in Kansas on April 15, 2011; and the fifth, Hartleib v. Forsee, et. al., was filed in federal court in Kansas on July 14, 2011. These cases were essentially stayed while the Bennett case was pending, and Sprint has reached an agreement in principle to settle the matters, by agreeing to some governance provisions and by paying plaintiffs’ attorneys fees in an immaterial amount.
- (b) On April 19, 2012, the New York Attorney General filed a complaint alleging that Sprint Communications has fraudulently failed to collect and pay more than $100 million in New York sales taxes on receipts from its sale of wireless telephone services since July 2005. The complaint also seeks recovery of triple damages under the state False Claims Act as well as penalties and interest. Sprint Communications moved to dismiss the complaint on June 14, 2012. On July 1, 2013, the court entered an order denying the motion to dismiss in large part, although it did dismiss certain counts or parts of certain counts. Sprint Communications appealed that order and the intermediate appellate court affirmed the order of the trial court. On October 20, 2015, the Court of Appeals of New York affirmed the decision of the appellate court that the tax statute requires Sprint Communications to collect and remit the disputed taxes. Sprint Communications’ petition for certiorari to the United States Supreme Court was denied on May 31, 2016. The case will now proceed in the trial court with discovery and other pretrial proceedings. Sprint Communications has accrued $180 million during the year ended March 31, 2016 associated with this matter. Sprint Communications will continue to defend this matter vigorously.

Eight related stockholder derivative suits have been filed against Sprint Communications and certain of its current and former officers and directors. Each suit alleges generally that the individual defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Sprint Communications and its stockholders by allegedly permitting, and failing to disclose, the actions alleged in the suit filed by the New York Attorney General. One suit, filed by the Louisiana Municipal Police Employees Retirement System, was dismissed by a federal court. Two suits were filed in state court in Johnson County, Kansas and one of those suits was dismissed as premature; and five suits are pending in federal court in Kansas. The remaining Kansas suits have been stayed pending resolution of the Attorney General’s suit.

- (c) Sprint Communications, Inc. is also a defendant in a complaint filed by stockholders of Clearwire Corporation asserting claims for breach of fiduciary duty by Sprint Communications, and related claims and otherwise challenging the Clearwire Acquisition. ACP Master, LTD, et al. v. Sprint Nextel Corp., et al., was filed on April 26, 2013, in Chancery Court in Delaware. Sprint Communications’ motion to dismiss the suit was denied, discovery is substantially complete, and Sprint Communications’ motion for summary judgment is pending. Plaintiffs in the ACP Master, LTD suit have also filed suit requesting an appraisal of the fair value of their Clearwire stock. Discovery in that case was consolidated with the breach of fiduciary duty case and is substantially complete. Trial is scheduled to begin in October 2016. Sprint Communications intends to defend the ACP Master, LTD cases vigorously.
- (d) Sprint is currently involved in numerous court actions alleging that Sprint is infringing various patents. Most of these cases effectively seek only monetary damages. A small number of these cases are brought by companies that sell products and seek injunctive relief as well. These cases have progressed to various degrees and a small number may go to trial if they are not otherwise resolved. Adverse resolution of these cases could require Sprint to pay significant damages, cease certain activities, or cease selling the relevant products and services. In many circumstances, Sprint would be indemnified for monetary losses that Sprint incurs with respect to the actions of Sprint’s suppliers or service providers.

- (e) In October 2013, the FCC Enforcement Bureau began to issue notices of apparent liability (“NALs”) to other Lifeline providers, imposing fines for intracARRIER duplicate accounts identified by the government during its audit function. Those audits also identified a small percentage of potentially duplicative intracARRIER accounts related to Sprint’s Assurance Wireless business. No NAL has yet been issued with respect to Sprint and Sprint does not know if one will be issued. Further, Sprint is not able to reasonably estimate the amount of any claim for penalties that might be asserted.
- (f) Various other suits, inquiries, proceedings and claims, either asserted or unasserted, including purported class actions typical for a large business enterprise and intellectual property matters, are possible or pending against Sprint or Sprint’s subsidiaries. If Sprint’s interpretation of certain laws or regulations, including those related to various federal or state matters such as sales, use or property taxes, or other charges were found to be mistaken, it could result in payments by Sprint.

c. Legal and administrative proceedings to which Brightstar and its subsidiaries are party

Brightstar Corp. and its subsidiaries are party to various legal and administrative proceedings globally and particularly in Latin American countries, including disputes relating to tax, labor, contract and other matters currently pending. This litigation mainly consist of four administrative proceedings initiated by tax authorities in Brazil against the subsidiary of Brightstar Corp., involving failure by such entity to pay a portion of taxes owed due to, e.g., differences in understanding between such entity and the tax authorities, for which such authorities have claimed an aggregate of approximately $70 million. One case of these four administrative proceedings has been sent to suit, a subsidiary of Brightstar Corp. has filed an Annulment Action requesting that the case be returned to the administrative level.

45. Purchase commitments

The Company had commitments to purchase services and goods of ¥1,496,500 million as of March 31, 2016 (March 31, 2015: ¥2,190,404 million).

At the closing of the offering of the Trust Securities, June 10, 2016 (US Time), WRH LLC received the proceeds of approximately $5.4 billion from the Trust, which was generated from the issuance of the Trust Securities, excluding amounts in respect of the Trust’s expenses and amounts used to purchase U.S. Treasury securities, which will fund quarterly distributions on the Trust Securities.

The variable prepaid forward contract will be settled concurrently with the exchange of Trust Securities. At the exchange date, which is expected to be the first scheduled trading day after June 1, 2019, the Trust will exchange each Trust Security for a certain number of ADSs, determined by reference to the trading price of the ADSs at that time, or subject to WRH LLC’s election, cash or a combination of cash and ADSs. Under certain circumstances, including by WRH LLC’s election, the Trust Securities may be exchanged prior to the scheduled exchange date.

available for grant pursuant to Supercell's current equity incentive plans, excluding conversion options held by the Company. The same formula applies to the calculation of the portion of shares as set forth below.

2. The portion of shares is calculated based on data as of May 15, 2016.

a. Summary of the transaction

- | | |
|--|--|
| (a) Expected sales date | August 5, 2016 |
| (b) Expected sales price ³ | Approximately $7.3 billion |

Second payment (November 3, 2016): estimated 50% of sales price
Third payment (August 5, 2019): estimated 2% of sales price |

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT’S REVIEW REPORT

To the Board of Directors of SoftBank Group Corp.:

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position of SoftBank Group Corp. and its subsidiaries (the “Company”) as of December 31, 2017, and the related condensed interim consolidated statements of income and comprehensive income for the three-month and nine-month periods ended December 31, 2017, and changes in equity and cash flows for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2017, and notes to condensed interim consolidated financial statements, all expressed in Japanese yen.

Management’s Responsibility

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these condensed interim consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, “Interim Financial Reporting,” and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of condensed interim consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these condensed interim consolidated financial statements based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with quarterly review standards generally accepted in Japan.

A review of condensed interim consolidated financial statements consists of making inquiries, primarily of management and persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other quarterly review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan and, consequently, does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

We believe that we have obtained the evidence to provide a basis for our review conclusion.

Accountant’s Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of SoftBank Group Corp. and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2017, and the consolidated results of their operations for the three-month and nine-month periods then ended and their cash flows for the nine-month period then ended in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, “Interim Financial Reporting.”

Convenience Translation

Our review also comprehended the translation of Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts and, based upon our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that such translation has not been made in accordance with the basis stated in Note 2 (3) to the condensed interim consolidated financial statements. Such U.S. dollar amounts are presented solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan.

(2) The SoftBank Vision Fund completed the initial closing in May 2017. Accordingly, the Company adopted accounting policies for SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as follows.

a. Scope of consolidation for SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund business

SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund is managed by SB Investment Advisers (UK) Limited (“SBIA”), which is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority. Investment decisions for the various entities comprising SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are made by the Investment Committee established as a committee of SBIA. SBIA is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and, as such, the Company has control over limited partnerships and investment holding entities comprising SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as stipulated in IFRS 10 “Consolidated Financial Statements.” Accordingly, all entities that comprise SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are consolidated by the Company. Intercompany transactions such as management fees and performance fees to SBIA paid or to be paid from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are eliminated in consolidation.

b. Portfolio company investments made by SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

(a) Investments in subsidiaries

The portfolio companies that the Company is deemed to control under IFRS 10, “Consolidated Financial Statements,” are treated as subsidiaries of the Company. Accordingly, their results of operations, assets and liabilities are included in the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

(b) Investments other than those in subsidiaries

Investments other than those in subsidiaries made by SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, including investments in associates of the Company are managed in accordance with SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund’s documented risk management policy or investment strategy, and the performance of each investment is reviewed on a fair value basis. Performance evaluation and investment decisions are made by SBIA and the information is provided to the Company’s management; therefore, these investments are designated as financial assets at FVTPL upon initial recognition. Accordingly, these investments are measured at fair value at the end of each quarter with the change during the reporting period recognized in profit or loss. Such investments that SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund made are presented as “Investments from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund accounted for using FVTPL” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position. The payments for these investments are presented as “Payments for acquisition of investments by SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” under cash flows from investing activities in the condensed interim consolidated statement of cash flows.

(c) Investments made by the Company to transfer to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

Investments made by SoftBank Group Corp. or its subsidiaries with the purpose of transferring to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are presented as “Investment securities” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position. Payments for the investments are presented as “Payments for acquisition of investments” under cash flows from investing activities in the condensed interim consolidated statement of cash flows. Once the investments are agreed to be transferred from the Company to SoftBank Vision Fund or Delta Fund, and regulatory approvals to make the investments by SoftBank Vision Fund or Delta Fund are obtained (such investments, “Agreed Transferable Investments”), the Company retroactively changes the presentation of these investments and the payments for the investments to the presentation as described in the above “b. Investments except for subsidiaries” from the date when the Company initially made these investments.

In cases where the Company’s subsidiaries are investees and the Company is transferring those investments to SoftBank Vision Fund or Delta Fund, the investments are accounted for in accordance with the above “a. Investments in subsidiaries”, regardless of whether the investments are Agreed Transferable Investments.

c. Results from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

Income and loss arising from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund business are separated from operating income and loss arising from other segments, recognized as a component of operating income, and presented as “Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income. Gain and loss on investments at SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund (realized gain and loss on sales of investments, unrealized gain and loss on valuation of investments, interest and dividend income from investments, except for gain and loss on investments in subsidiaries) and operating expenses such as incorporation expenses of entities that comprise SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, investment research expenses arising from SBIA and other advisory companies, and administrative expenses arising from each entity, are included in “Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund.” The details are described in “Note 17. Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund.”

Gain and loss arising from investments, which are made by the Company to transfer to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, are classified to “Gain (loss) from financial instruments at FVTP” included in “Other non-operating income (loss)” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income. Once the investments become Agreed Transferable Investments, the Company retroactively changes the presentation of gain and loss arising from the investments as “Operating income from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” from the date when the Company initially made these investments.

d. Contribution from Limited Partners to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund

Uncalled committed capital from limited partners of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund other than the Company (“Third-Party Investors”) is not subject to IAS 39, “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement,” and therefore such amount is not recorded in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position.

(a) Contribution from the Company to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund Contribution from the Company to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund as a limited partner is eliminated in consolidation.

(Execution of contribution using shares of Arm)

The Company will contribute approximately 24.99% of the total number of issued shares of Arm (the “Arm Shares”), all of which are owned by the Company, to the SoftBank Vision Fund through an in-kind contribution (the “In-kind Contribution”) in satisfaction of approximately $8.2 billion of the Company’s commitment to SoftBank Vision Fund.

The In-kind Contribution will be effectuated through the transfer of Arm Shares to SoftBank Vision Fund subject to the satisfaction of preconditions related to regulatory approvals prescribed in SoftBank Vision Fund’s governing documents. Such conditions include clearance from the Committee on Foreign Investments in the United States in respect of the transfer of the Arm Shares. Pending the delivery of the Arm Shares to SoftBank Vision Fund following the satisfaction of such conditions, a portion of the Arm Shares has been pledged and, pursuant to future capital calls, the remaining portion will be pledged in favor of SoftBank Vision Fund.

After the completion of the In-kind Contribution of Arm Shares, Arm will continue to be a consolidated subsidiary of the Company.

(b) Contribution from Third-Party Investors

The interests attributable to Third-Party Investors are classified as financial liabilities, “Third-party interests in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position, due to the predetermined finite life (at least 12 years from the final closing) and contractual payment provision to each of the limited partners within SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund’s limited partnership agreements. The liabilities are classified as “financial liabilities measured at amortized cost” upon initial recognition. The amounts attributable to Third-Party Investors represent the amounts that would be distributed in accordance with the limited partnership agreement in a theoretical liquidation scenario, and are disclosed in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position as a liability. Changes in the interests of Third-Party Investors are recognized through net profit or loss and presented as “Changes in third-party interests in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund” in non-operating income and loss in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income.

Contributions from Third-Party Investors to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund are included in “Contributions into SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund from third-party investors” under cash flows from financing activities in the condensed interim consolidated statement of cash flows. The distribution to Third-Party investors and the redemption of investment from Third-Party investors are included in “Distribution/redemption from SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund to third-party investors” under cash flows from financing activities in the condensed interim consolidated statement of cash flows.

4. Significant judgments and estimates

In preparing condensed interim consolidated financial statements under IFRSs, management makes judgments, estimates, and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are based on management’s best judgments, through their evaluation of various factors that were considered reasonable as of the period-end, based on historical experience and by collecting available information. By the nature of estimates or assumptions, actual results in the future may differ from those projected estimates or assumptions.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are continuously reviewed. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised as well as in future periods.

Except as described below, significant judgments, estimates, and assumptions that affect the amounts recognized in the Company’s condensed interim consolidated financial statements are the same as those for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

- Note 3. Significant accounting policies – (b) Contribution from Third-Party Investors under (2) d. Contribution from Limited Partners to SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund
- Note 10. Income taxes – (2)
- Note 12. Financial instruments (2), (3)
- Note 18. Other operating loss – Notes: 6. and 9.
- Note 22. Other non-operating income (loss) – Notes: 2
- Assessment of useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

As a result of reviewing the efficiency of communications equipment in SoftBank Corp., it became highly probable that certain communications equipment will be disposed and removed, and therefore, the useful lives were revised. Due to this change, “Cost of sales” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2017 increased by ¥14,010 million ($123,982 thousand).

5. Segment information

(1) Description of reportable segments

The Company’s reportable segments are components of business activities for which discrete financial information is available, and such information is regularly reviewed by the Company’s Board of Directors in order to make decisions about the allocation of resources and assess its performance.

The Company has six reportable segments: the Domestic Telecommunications segment, the Sprint segment, the Yahoo Japan segment, the Distribution segment, the Arm segment, and the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment.

The Domestic Telecommunications segment provides, mainly through SoftBank Corp., mobile communications services, sale of mobile devices, telecommunications services such as fixed-line telephone and data communications services for corporate customers, and broadband services for retail customers in Japan.

The Sprint segment provides, through Sprint, mobile communications services, sale and lease of mobile devices, sale of mobile device accessories, and fixed-line telecommunications services in the U.S.

The Yahoo Japan segment provides, mainly through Yahoo Japan Corporation, an Internet-based advertising business, an e-commerce business, and membership services.

The Distribution segment provides, through Brightstar, distribution of mobile devices overseas, and through SoftBank Commerce & Service Corp., sale of mobile device accessories, PC software, and peripherals in Japan.

The Arm segment provides, through Arm, designs of microprocessor intellectual property and related technology, and the sale of software tools.

The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment conducts investment activities in a wide range of technology sectors. The SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment was newly established from the three-month period ended June 30, 2017, due to the completion of the Initial Closing for SoftBank Vision Fund in May 2017. The segment income of the SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund segment consists of gain and loss arising from investments, including subsidiaries, held by SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund or the Agreed Transferable Investments (gain and loss on investments at SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund), and operating expenses incurred in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund, SBIA and advisory companies.

Information on business segments which are not included in the reportable segments is classified in “Other.” “Other” includes mainly Fortress and Fukuoka SoftBank HAWKS-related operations.

“Reconciliations” includes an elimination of intersegment transactions and the corporate general expenses unallocated to each reportable segment. Expenses arising mainly from SoftBank Group Corp. and SB Group US, Inc., which manages and supervises investment activities in the Internet, communication, and media fields overseas, are included in the corporate general expenses.

(2) Net sales and income of reportable segments

Income of reportable segments is defined as “Operating income.” Intersegment transaction prices are determined under the same general business conditions as applied for external customers.

The Company also discloses EBITDA (i.e., segment income and loss after addition of depreciation and amortization) and Adjusted EBITDA (i.e., EBITDA after addition or deduction of unrealized gain and loss on valuation of investments in SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund and other adjustments (gains are deducted)) by each reportable segment. “Other adjustments” are special items, such as acquisition-related costs and impairment losses mainly included in other operating income and loss.

Income and losses, which are not attributable to operating income and loss, such as financial cost and income and loss on equity method investments, are not managed by each reportable segment and therefore these income and losses are excluded from the segment performance.

Discontinued operations are not included. The details of discontinued operations are described in “Note 23. Discontinued operations.”

6. Business combinations

For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016

(1) Arm

a. Overview of combination

On July 18, 2016 (GMT), the Company and Arm, located in the United Kingdom, entered into an agreement on the terms of a recommended all-cash acquisition of the entire issued and to be issued share capital of Arm by the Company for a total acquisition price of approximately £24.0 billion (approximately ¥3.3 trillion) by means of an English court-sanctioned scheme of arrangement (“Acquisition”). The Acquisition was approved at Arm’s general meeting of shareholders held on August 30, 2016, and at the English court hearing held on September 1, 2016, and came into effect on September 5, 2016.

As a result of the transaction, Arm became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

b. Purpose of acquisition

The Company believes Arm is one of the world’s leading technology companies, with strong capabilities in global semiconductor intellectual property and the “Internet of Things,” and a proven track record of innovation.

The board and management of the Company believe that the acquisition of Arm by the Company will deliver the following benefits:

- Support and accelerate Arm’s position as the global leader in intellectual property licensing and R&D outsourcing for semiconductor companies

The Company’s deep industry expertise and global network of relationships will accelerate adoption of Arm’s intellectual property across existing and new markets.

- Maintain Arm’s dedication to innovation

The Company intends to sustain Arm’s long-term focus on generating more value per device, and driving licensing wins and future royalty streams in new growth categories, specifically “Enterprise and Embedded Intelligence.”

- Increased investment to drive the next wave of innovation

The Company intends to support Arm’s multiple growth initiatives by investing in engineering talent and complementary acquisitions with the aim of ensuring Arm maintains an R&D edge over existing and emerging competitors. The Company believes such an investment strategy in long-term growth will be easier to execute as a non-listed company.

- Shared culture and long-term vision

The Company believes the two companies share the same technology-oriented culture, long-term vision, focus on innovation and commitment to attracting, developing and retaining top talent. These common values will be the foundation for a strong strategic partnership necessary to capture the significant opportunities ahead.

- Maintain and grow the UK’s leadership in science and technology

The Company is investing in the UK as a world leader in science and technology development and innovation and, as evidence of this, intends to invest in multiple Arm growth initiatives, at least doubling the number of Arm employees in the UK over the next five years.

The Company and Fortress entered into a definitive merger agreement under which the Company will acquire Fortress for $3.3 billion in cash in February 2017. The acquisition was completed on December 27, 2017 upon satisfaction of all necessary conditions defined in the terms of the merger agreement including approval of the transaction by Fortress shareholders on July 12, 2017 and receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals. Each outstanding Fortress share was converted into the right to receive $8.08 per share in cash, with merger proceeds to be distributed in accordance with payment procedures outlined in Fortress's Definitive Proxy dated June 7, 2017 and the merger agreement incorporated therein. Actual payment amounted to $3.2 billion as a result of adjusting the impact of distributions and other factors after the date of the merger agreement.

As a result of the transaction, the Company acquired all equity interests of Fortress and Fortress became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

10. Income taxes

Due to the enactment of the Tax Reform Act in December 2017 in the U. S., a deferred tax liability of ¥829,762 million ($7,343,027 thousand) at Sprint was reversed. Also income taxes in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income decreased by ¥818,342 million ($7,241,965 thousand) and other comprehensive income increased by ¥8,244 million ($72,956 thousand). The details are as follows.

(1) Reduction in the federal corporate tax rate

The federal corporate tax rate was reduced from 35% to 21% effective January 1, 2018.

Due to the reduction, ¥593,137 million ($5,249,000 thousand) of a part of deferred tax liabilities related to the FCC licenses and others, which was calculated based on the tax rate as of the acquisition date of Sprint in 2013, was reversed. Also, income taxes decreased by ¥591,773 million ($5,236,929 thousand).

(2) Abolition of time limit on use of future loss carryforwards

Net operating losses generated in tax years beginning after December 31, 2017 may be carried forward indefinitely. For Sprint, its tax year starts from April; therefore, net operating losses generated after April 1, 2018 may be carried forward indefinitely.

At Sprint, for certain deductible temporary differences where deferred tax assets could not be previously realized, it was likely to be recoverable because the taxable temporary differences from assets with indefinite lives, such as the FCC licenses, may be a source of future taxable income. As a result of this change, ¥236,625 million ($2,094,027 thousand) of deferred tax assets were recognized (offset by deferred tax liabilities). Also, income taxes decreased by ¥226,569 million ($2,005,035 thousand) and other comprehensive income increased by ¥8,244 million ($72,956 thousand).

- The details are described in “(2) Transaction for sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract.”

(2) Transaction for sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract

On June 10, 2016, West Raptor Holdings, LLC (“WRH LLC”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into a variable prepaid forward contract to sell Alibaba shares with a newly-formed trust, Mandatory Exchangeable Trust (the “Trust”), and received proceeds of ¥578,436 million ($5.4 billion) as advances received on the sale.

The Trust, on the other hand, utilized Alibaba shares scheduled to be transferred from WRH LLC at the time of settlement under the contract and issued $6.6 billion of Mandatory Exchangeable Trust Securities (“Trust Securities”), which are mandatorily exchangeable into American Depositary Shares (“ADSs”) of Alibaba. The proceeds from the sale received by WRH LLC from the Trust was $5.4 billion, which is after certain amounts from the $6.6 billion total of Trust Securities were deducted in order to purchase U.S. Treasury securities, which would fund distributions on the Trust Securities, and to cover expenses for the issuance of the Trust Securities.

The settlement of the Alibaba shares based on the variable prepaid forward contract is conducted concurrently with the exchange of Trust Securities. At the exchange date, which is expected to be the first scheduled trading day after June 1, 2019, Trust Securities are exchanged for a certain number of ADSs, determined by reference to the trading price of the ADSs at that time, and the number of Alibaba shares sold by the variable prepaid forward contract is determined by this number of ADSs. A cap and a floor are set for the number of shares to be settled, and the variable prepaid forward contract is classified as a hybrid financial instrument with embedded derivatives of a collar transaction.

The Company accounts for the variable prepaid forward contract by bifurcating the main contracts and embedded derivatives. The Company received ¥578,436 million and initially recognized ¥674,023 million as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares through the variable prepaid forward contract and ¥95,587 million as derivative assets. Subsequent to initial recognition, financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares through the variable prepaid forward contract are measured at amortized cost and embedded derivatives are measured at fair value; ¥729,234 million ($6,453,398 thousand) (¥715,448 million as of March 31, 2017) is recognized as financial liabilities relating to the sale of shares through the variable prepaid forward contract in interest-bearing debt (non-current liabilities) and ¥662,108 million ($5,859,363 thousand) (¥143,935 million as of March 31, 2017) is recognized as derivative financial liabilities (non-current liabilities) in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2017; ¥510,278 million ($4,515,735 thousand) (¥72,293 million of derivative losses for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016) is recognized as a derivative loss in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2017. The details are described in “(2) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy” under “Note 12. Financial instruments.”

WRH LLC has the option (“cash settlement option”) to settle the variable prepaid forward contract by either delivering cash or a combination of cash and Alibaba shares. If WRH LLC elects the cash settlement option, the cash equivalent to the fair value of the number of shares for the settlement, which is determined by the transaction price of ADSs, will be paid.

Also, WRH LLC has the option (“early settlement option”) to settle the variable prepaid forward contract prior to the scheduled settlement date. Settlement of the variable prepaid forward contract may be made prior to the scheduled settlement date if WRH LLC elects the early settlement option or under certain circumstances.

Alibaba shares held by WRH LLC are pledged as collateral. The Company applies the equity method to these shares and they are included in “Investments accounted for using the equity method” in the condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2017. The carrying amount of Alibaba shares pledged as collateral by the Company is ¥209,464 million ($1,853,664 thousand) as of December 31, 2017 (¥154,440 million as of March 31, 2017).

(2) Categorization by level within the fair value hierarchy

Financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis after initial recognition are classified into three levels of the fair value hierarchy based on the observability and significance of inputs used for the measurement.

The fair value hierarchy is defined as follows in descending order of level:

- Level 1: Fair value is measured using quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Fair value is measured using inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: Fair value is measured using unobservable inputs.

If the fair value measurement uses different levels of inputs, the fair value is categorized based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the entire fair value measurement.

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are recognized as if they have occurred at the beginning of each quarter.

There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016 and 2017.

The table below presents financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the fair value hierarchy.

The details of the variable prepaid forward contract are described in “(2) Transaction for sale of Alibaba shares by variable prepaid forward contract” under “Note 11. Interest-bearing debt.”

The major valuation techniques for financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis are as follows:

a. Equity securities and bonds

Equity securities and bonds are measured using quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities if such prices are available, and are classified as Level 1.

If such prices are unavailable, and if prices of recent arm’s-length transactions or equity financing are available, they are measured using recent transaction prices adjusting for market performance and company performance.

In the absence of a recent transaction, the enterprise valuation methodologies used to measure fair value include an income approach and a market approach. The market approach is used to the extent comparable guidelines for public companies are available. The market approach is a valuation method using figures from the financial statements of the subject companies and valuation multiple of comparable companies, such as Enterprise Value (EV)/Revenue and EV/EBITDA. The income approach is used when reliable cash flow projections are available. Under this approach, the present value is calculated by discounting estimated future cash flows, taking into consideration several assumptions including the revenue growth rate and the weighted-average cost of capital.

The enterprise value which is calculated by the above method is allocated to shareholder's value of each class of shares depending on the capital structures of the investments. For the allocation, an option pricing model, which values each individual security in the capital structure based on its unique rights and preferences, and a waterfall approach, which allocates value based on the seniority of each security in the event of a liquidation are mainly used.

The financial instruments are classified as Level 2 if all significant inputs, such as quoted prices and discount rates used for the measurement are observable, and they are classified as Level 3 when they are measured using significant unobservable inputs.

b. Derivative financial assets and derivative financial liabilities

The fair value of derivative financial instruments is measured using valuation techniques including a discounted cash flows model. Derivative financial instruments are classified as Level 2 if all significant inputs such as foreign currency exchange rates and discount rates used for the measurement are observable, and they are classified as Level 3 when they are measured using significant unobservable inputs.

c. Interest-bearing debt

The fair value of interest-bearing debt is measured using a discounted cash flows model. The model uses significant unobservable inputs including customer churn rates, customer upgrade probabilities, and the likelihood that Sprint will elect the Exchange Option¹ versus the termination option² upon customer upgrade, resulting in a Level 3 classification.

Notes:

1. The option to transfer title in the new device to the borrower in exchange for the title in the original device upon customer upgrade, in order to continue the borrowings.
2. The option that Sprint terminates the borrowings.

(3) Fair value measurements of financial instruments that are categorized as Level 3

a. Valuation techniques and inputs

The following table shows information about the valuation techniques used and the significant unobservable inputs used in Level 3 fair value measurements.

As of March 31, 2017

Valuation techniques	Unobservable inputs	Ranges of unobservable inputs
Equity securities
Price of recent investment	Discount for lack of marketability	10.0% – 35.0%
	Control premium	5.0% – 10.0%

As of December 31, 2017

For Level 3 fair value measurements as of December 31, 2017, the price of recent investments is mainly adopted considering the rights and preferential rights of shares. The following table shows information about the other valuation techniques used and the significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement.

Valuation techniques	Unobservable inputs	Ranges of unobservable inputs
Equity securities
Market comparable companies . . .	Discount for lack of marketability	20.0%
	Revenue multiple	X0.9

b. Sensitivity Analysis

Of the above unobservable inputs, revenue multiples and control premiums have a positive correlation with the fair value of the equity securities, whereas the discount for lack of marketability has a negative correlation with the fair value of the equity securities.

c. Valuation processes

Fair value is measured by the Company's personnel in the treasury and accounting departments and the valuation team of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund based on internal guidelines, using the most appropriate valuation techniques and inputs that reflect the nature, characteristics and risks of the financial instruments subject to fair value. The fair value of certain financial instruments require the assistance of external specialists with a high level of knowledge and experience if the amount of such financial instruments is material. Results of the measurements conducted at the end of each quarter, including the valuation by external specialists, are reported to the Company's Board of Directors after the analysis of fair value changes and other contents are reviewed and approved by management (or the Valuation and Financial Risk Committee for investments of SoftBank Vision Fund and Delta Fund) who are responsible for the valuation processes.

For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2017, mainly, ¥20,171 million ($178,504 thousand) of loss related to cell site construction costs that are no longer expected to be used as a result of changes in Sprint's network plans and ¥38,842 million ($343,735 thousand) of loss related to the write-off of leased devices related to lease cancellations prior to the end of the scheduled customer lease terms where customers did not return the devices to Sprint are recognized.

- Impairment losses at Brightstar. The goodwill of Brightstar is allocated to the entire Brightstar entity, which is made up of four cash-generating units (Brightstar's US & Canada, Latin America, Asia & Oceania, and Europe & Africa units). Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives other than goodwill are allocated to three of the cash generating units (Brightstar's US & Canada, Asia & Oceania, and Europe & Africa units).

The business plan of Brightstar was revised during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2017, and indicators of impairment were identified at all of the cash-generating units where intangible assets with indefinite useful lives were allocated as well as the entire Brightstar entity where goodwill is allocated; therefore, the impairment test was conducted on these cash-generating units and the entire Brightstar entity. As a result of the impairment test, an impairment loss was recognized because the recoverable amounts of Brightstar (the entire entity) and Brightstar's Europe & Africa cash-generating unit were less than the carrying amounts. Impairment losses on goodwill, intangible assets, and property, plant and equipment were ¥43,128 million ($381,664 thousand), ¥6,630 million ($58,673 thousand), and ¥739 million ($6,540 thousand), respectively.

Fair value less disposal cost is used as the recoverable amount and measured using the income approach and the market approach. Under the income approach, fair value is measured by discounting cash flows which are estimated based on business plans for the next 10 years while taking into account future cash flows that market participants would expect to receive in accordance with their assumptions, discounted to the present value using a post-tax discount rate of 10.5-11%. The cash flows from after 10 years are assumed on the basis of a 3% growth rate. Under the market approach, EV/EBITDA of similar companies which are comparable to Brightstar Global Group Inc. are used.

The fair value includes unobservable inputs; therefore, it is classified as Level 3.

7. Expenses arising from the business combination of Arm. The details are described in “(1) Arm” under “Note 6. Business combinations.”
8. Expense resulting from the resignation of Nikesh Arora from his position as a director. Expenses based on the share price are settled in two installments in June 2017 and March 2018. The payment amount is determined based on the share price in June 2017 and March 2018, respectively.

In addition to the entire expense for which payment amount is defined, the Company measured the expense based on the SoftBank Group Corp. share price as of December 31, 2016 and recorded an expense of ¥3,266 million during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2016. The expense is remeasured each quarter end based on the share price of SoftBank Group Corp. until the determination of the payment amount, and the changes are recognized through profit or loss.

27. Contingency

Litigation

- Sprint Communications is a defendant in a complaint filed by several stockholders of Clearwire Corporation (Clearwire) asserting claims for breach of fiduciary duty by Sprint Communications, and related claims and otherwise challenging the Clearwire acquisition. ACP Master, LTD, et al. v. Sprint Nextel Corp., et al., was filed April 26, 2013, in Chancery Court in Delaware. Plaintiffs in the ACP Master, LTD. suit have also filed suit requesting an appraisal of the fair value of their Clearwire stock. A trial related to those cases took place in October and November 2016; the parties have submitted their post-trial briefing, and oral argument was held on April 25, 2017. On July 21, 2017, the Delaware Chancery Court ruled in Sprint's favor in both cases. It found no breach of fiduciary duty, and determined the value of Clearwire shares under the Delaware appraisal statute to be $2.13 per share plus statutory interest. The plaintiffs have filed an appeal.

- (2) On April 19, 2012, the New York Attorney General filed a complaint alleging that Sprint Communications had fraudulently failed to collect and pay more than $100 million in New York sales taxes on receipts from its sale of wireless telephone services since July 2005. The complaint also seeks recovery of triple damages under the State False Claims Act, as well as penalties and interest. Sprint Communications moved to dismiss the complaint on June 14, 2012. On July 1, 2013, the court entered an order denying the motion to dismiss in large part, although it did dismiss certain counts or parts of certain counts. Sprint Communications appealed that order and the intermediate appellate court affirmed the order of the trial court. On October 20, 2015, the Court of Appeals of New York affirmed the decision of the appellate court that the tax statute requires Sprint Communications to collect and remit the disputed taxes. Sprint Communications' petition for certiorari to the US Supreme Court on grounds of federal preemption was denied. Sprint Communications has paid the principal amount of tax at issue, under protest, while the suit is pending. The parties are now engaged in discovery in the trial court. Sprint Communications will continue to defend this matter vigorously.
- (3) Sprint is currently involved in numerous court actions alleging that Sprint is infringing various patents. Most of these cases effectively seek only monetary damages. A small number of these cases are brought by companies that sell products and seek injunctive relief as well. These cases have progressed to various degrees and a small number may go to trial if they are not otherwise resolved. Adverse resolution of these cases could require Sprint to pay significant damages, cease certain activities, or cease selling the relevant products and services. In many circumstances, Sprint would be indemnified for monetary losses that Sprint incurs with respect to the actions of Sprint's suppliers or service providers. During the quarter ended December 31, 2017, Sprint settled several related patent infringement lawsuits and received payments of approximately $350 million.
